34 Bowlers Share in Sweepstakes

Bob Pahlen-Dean Joppru Duo Wins First Prize

Thirty-four bowlers participated in the Sunday night sweepstakes held at the Family Bowl lanes Sunday, Jan. 17. The tournament, which is a handicap affair, found the Bob Pahlen Dean Joppru duo, with an aggregate of 1177 pins, winning the first prize.

Jim Lee and Mrs. Jim (Teen) Berg, with a 1169, were the second place winners; while Joe Klein and Lorraine Kunze, with 1163, were in the third place. The fourth place money winners were Bob Carlson and Glenn Anderson, with 1137.

There will be another sweepstakes on Sunday night, Jan. 24 with bowling to begin at 10 p.m. Bowlers wishing to enter the competition should register with Al Brunelle at the Family Bowl.

TIMBERLANE ski resort near Red Lake Falls had its grand opening Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 16-17, and was visited by hundreds of spectators and skiers during the two-day celebration. The lodge shown here was crowded with many of the visitors who came to see the new facility, register for prizes, enjoy the sport and to use the refreshment bar. Equipment for rent is housed in the lodge and rest room facilities are provided.

Washington Leads Grade Hockey Play

St. Bernard's Team Holds Second Place in League

Grade School Hockey League

	W	L	T	Pts.
Washington	4	1	1	9
St. Bernard's	4	2	0	8
Northrop	3	2	1	7

Results of Saturday's Games: St. Bernard's, 1, vs. Knox, 0; Washington, 4, vs. Northrop, 3

Schedule Saturday, Jan. 23: St. Bernard's vs. Knox, 9:00 a.m.; Northrop vs. Washington, 10 a.m.

Coach George Schlieff's Washington Wildcats took over the top rung in the city grade school hockey league when, on Saturday morning in the Arena rink, they rallied to overcome a Northrop lead and defeat the Indians, 4 to 3.

In the other game on Saturday morning's two-game slate, the St. Bernard Broncos, by a 1 to 0 score, defeated the Knox Tigers. The win moved the Broncos into second place, one point behind the league leaders. The Northrop Indians hold down third place in their standings.

The vagaries of the league schedule calls for an encore of last Saturday's games to be played this Saturday, Jan. 23, with St. Bernard's meeting Knox at 9 a.m.; and Washington tangling with Northrop at 10 a.m. The Indians will be revenge-minded as they meet the Wildcats in a repeat game.

Junior Curlers to Organize Jan. 23

A junior curling league will be organized at the fair grounds rink Saturday afternoon, January 23, at 1 o'clock, it was announced today. All interested youths from seventh grade thru high school are invited to attend the meeting.

Numedal . . .

The men in this neighborhood, who have tried their luck at ice fishing over the weekend, would no doubt feel offended if we made no mention of their trips. Friday, Frank Hible, Lloyd Peterson and Leo Knutson drove to Leech Lake where they fished till Saturday evening when they returned home. Sunday Emil Swanson, Arnold Helgeseet and Wayne spent the day fishing on Lake of the Woods.

Mrs. Dennis Carpenter and children visited with Mrs. Barnard Kasprick at Viking Friday afternoon.

Wednesday evening callers at the Frank Hible home were Eddie Korbel of Thief River Falls and Martin Mau.

William Halbasch, Bruce and Wayne, were guests Saturday evening at the Ted Halbasch home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kolsness and family spent Wednesday evening at the Alton Kolsness home.

STEINER . . .

Steiner 4-H members enrolled in food preparation are reminded that they are having a project meeting in the court house kitchen Saturday starting at 11 o'clock.

The Steiner Community club is sponsoring a card party at the hall Friday evening, Jan. 29, which is the regular meeting date. In charge of arrangements are Floyd and Willie Mathieu, the Leonard Yonkes, and the Harold Halvorsons. A pot luck lunch will be served.

Our LAND

Appearing in newspapers of the Minnesota Editorial Association through the cooperation of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service and the University of Minnesota Institute of Agriculture.

A farm slough can be "for the birds" in more than one sense. Albert Tavelrne, near Ghent, had a 6-acre slough that he never could drain and farm. So he dug a farm pond, planted trees and shrubs around it, seeded the banks to grass, and built some straw wildlife huts there. It's now a first-rate wildlife area, according to George Holcomb, assistant agricultural agent in Lyon county. Fishing there should be good next year, too.

Hunters are usually welcome in Chisago county—at least if they get permission before going on a farmers' land. That was the finding of a recent survey by the Chisago soil and water conservation district board. What farmers objected to was setting fires, taking pheasants out of season, and breaking fences. But E. Howard Peterson, Rush City, district chairman, says the hunter who asks permission won't have much trouble in finding a place to hunt in the area.

Gullies and trenches no longer wreck machinery on the farm of Maurice Theleman, Le Sueur. Besides damaging equipment, the gullies were ruining fields. Crops were suffering. With help from Lynn Skaife, SCS worker at Le Center, and Roger Wilkowske, Le Sueur county agent, Theleman laid out 18 acres of contour strips on the 8-10 per cent slope land. He put terraces on the gentler slopes. The gullies and trenches disappeared. Water tended to stay where it fell—important in a dry year. Corn was uniform in maturity throughout the field.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Q—I may have to sell my GI house while there is still an unpaid balance on the loan. Can the new buyer take over the loan, and can I get clear of my liability to the VA?

A—Yes. Both are possible. If the buyer of your house will put in writing that he is assuming the unpaid balance, and is an acceptable credit risk to VA, the liability may pass to him and you can be released.

Q—I'm planning to start school this spring semester under the Korean GI Bill. Can I earn extra money while at school without having my VA school allowance reduced in any way?

A—Yes. You are permitted to earn as much money as you like outside of your regular school hours. Your allowance will not be reduced in any way.

Q—Is there a grace period for the payment of interest on a GI insurance loan?

A—No. Interest on money borrowed with a veteran's GI insurance as security is due on the loan anniversary date, and if not paid then, must be added to the amount of the loan.

Q—I was supposed to report to VA for a physical examination recently, in connection with a possible increase in my disability rating. I didn't report. What can I do about it now?

A—Since you did not appear for your physical examination, and apparently did not explain why you failed to appear, VA would automatically have to consider your application "abandoned." You should file another application if you still believe you are entitled to an increased rating.

Roseau to Stage Legume and Grass Seed Institute

Crop and Seed Show Also Scheduled for Friday and Saturday, Jan. 29-30

The Northern Minnesota legume and grass seed institute will be held Friday and Saturday, January 29 and 30, in the high school auditorium in Roseau, and the event this year will include a crop and seed show sponsored by the Roseau County Crop Improvement association.

Speakers Friday from the University of Minnesota will include P. M. Burson, professor of soils; H. L. Thomas, agronomist; L. C. Snyder, horticulture; W. F. Hueg, agronomist; and H. R. Agee, entomologist.

Friday evening there will be a special program on forage production. W. F. Hueg will discuss forage production methods and uses, and Mervin Syverson will talk about the wide-spread demand for forage crop seed.

Commercial and educational displays will be open for inspection during both days. There will be selected short presentations on fertilizer, agricultural chemicals, forage production and preservation on Saturday afternoon.

Prizes will be given for the top three exhibits of legume hay, mixed hay, and grass hay; corn silage and hay silage. These prizes will be the same for seed entries of red clover, sweet clover, alsike clover, timothy and bluegrass, but these prizes will be doubled if it represents a certified seed lot.

News of Co. D National Guard

On Monday, Jan. 18, Company "D" held its regular weekly meeting at the Thief River Falls Armory. In attendance were 83 enlisted men and seven officers. There was 2½ hours of training and instruction. It was broken down in the following manner:

2000 to 2030: Drill and Ceremonies, precision drill movements with the M1 rifle.

2030 to 2230: CBR training, or chemical, biological and radiological warfare.

During the past few weeks we have been in the process of receiving the new green uniforms worn by the Army. Last week the company wore this uniform for the first time—We welcome all who wish to come visit us for a closer look at these new uniforms.

The following men of our company received recognition for their many fine years of service. These men received the Minnesota State Service medal.

Service medals with ten-year clasp were awarded to 1st Lt. John L. Oven, 1st Lt. Charles R. Richards, CWO 3 Ivan R. Bundy, 1st Sgt. Chester S. Swanson, Sgt. Donald Myers.

Five year service medal: P. Sgt. LeRoy E. Bugge, Harvey R. Hanson, Leonard J. Swanson, Sgt. Ronald R. Anderson, Cresmond F. Bruggeman, Elton C. Cummings, Harlan C. Johnson, Oliver C. Swanson, Richard A. Swanson, Robert E. Walseth, Eugene R. Manning, Leland E. Nelson, Darol O. Sauve and Robert W. Smith.

Word was received that Chief Warrant Officer W-2 Ivan R. Bundy was promoted to Chief Warrant Officer W-3. Congratulations, Mr. Bundy.

Capt. Joe A. Forberg, 1st Lt. Richard A. Edlund, 1st Lt. Kenneth E. Haapaja and CWO 3 Ivan Bundy attended the Asst. Div. Commanders Promotion banquet at St. Cloud on the 16th of Jan.

If there are any question we can answer for you in this column, please send them to Co. D 136th Inf. Minnesota National Guard, Thief River Falls.

—Reporters, P. Sgt. Leonard Swanson, P. Sgt. Walter Franke and Sgt. Theodor Stokke.

County Campaign Opens for Winter Shows Structure

Workers Seek Donations to Assist in Financing New $400,000 Project

The Pennington county drive to secure pledges toward the construction of a $400,000 Winter Shows building at the Northwest School and Experiment Station at Crookston began Tuesday, Jan. 19, when drive captains met in the court house assembly room in Thief River Falls.

The meeting was led by William Strickler of Euclid, general chairman of the building fund drive, assisted by Andrew Skaar and James Engelstad, committeemen for the drive, and Don Knutson and Edgar Naplin, Pennington county chairmen of the Winter Show building fund.

Captains for the Pennington county drive and the townships in which they will supervise the pledge drive include: Martin Hanson, Deer Park, Hickory and Mayfield; Raymond Parnow, Kratka and Highlanding; Thomas Peterson, Wyandotte and Smiley; Gordon Hunt, Norden and Sanders; Frank Hible, Bray and Numedal; Albert Koop, Rocksbury and River Falls, and Ivar Scholin, Polk Centre and Black River.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Whom Does It Hurt?

One thing parents learn rather quickly is that children are quick to sense our attitudes and feelings. Even knowing this, however, we often are not aware of how obvious our attitudes are until we see them reflected in our children.

When today's children grow up, they will probably live in a quite different social world from the one in which we live. To live in a new kind of society they will need all the strength they can master, and they must be free to use it when the time comes.

No parent worthy of the name would do physical harm to or cripple his child in any way. And yet many parents are allowing their youngsters to be mentally and emotionally crippled by serious negative prejudice. Studies of children show that many "little" children, on first coming to school, have the words and sometimes the feelings of prejudice. How does this happen?

One most carefully controlled study, conducted in the late forties, showed that children developed prejudices largely because they felt it was "the thing to do" or the "way to act." That is, they were adopting the language and actions of the home and community in which they lived. Parents, teachers, and older children are the chief sources of negative attitudes toward other individuals and groups.

Often we think about the evil effects of prejudice, mainly in terms of those who are discriminated against. And this is as it should be, for there is clear evidence that members of minority groups are injured, and often very early, but the strong negative attitudes of others toward them. But we should not overlook the impact of severe prejudice on the persons in the majority. One writer, summarizing a number of studies of this problem, concludes that prejudice against other ethnic groups is associated with—in fact, may result in—interference with the healthy growth and development of the child holding the prejudice.

Many of our children will be somewhat crippled as persons, that is, they will not be able to live as adults in the world of tomorrow as they fight have been unless we make a greater effort to develop within them attitudes toward others which are positive, accepting and truly democratic.

Stores Are Closed Friday Evenings

Thief River Falls stores will remain closed Friday evenings until the end of the winter season, it was announced this week by the merchants committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Most areas of Minnesota have good soil moisture reserves, according to a joint SCS-University of Minnesota survey. Most fields had 5 inches or more of soil moisture at freeze-up time, according to Don Baker, soil climatologist. Areas below that level included counties along the western border of parts or all of Grant, Stevens, Pope, Swift, Kandiyohi, Chippewa, Renville, Lyon, Redwood and Murray counties. Lowest level was 1.7 inches at Beardsley in Big Stone county.

St. Paul Markets

South St. Paul Livestock Market Report — Monday

Steers and Heifers: A load of mostly prime 1,181 lb slaughter steers sold at $28.00, and there were several loads average to high Choice at $27.25-27.50. Included also at $27.50 was a package of high Choice and Prime 1,283 lb mixed steers and heifers. Most Choice steers were taken at $25.50-27.00, and average Choice 1,387 lbs at $26.00. There were more steers well in the Choice grade here today weighing between 1,200 and 1,325 lbs. than in some time but demand from shipper buyers and local buyers proved ample to absorb the crop. Good steers sold mostly at $21.25-00, Standard $19-23.00, and Utility $16-18.00. Two consignments high Choice 850 and 900 lb. heifers cashed at $27.00. Bulk Choice heifers moved at $25.50-26.50, Good 23.50-25.00, Standard $19-23.00, and Utility at $16-18.00.

Cows & Bulls: Odd head high-Commercial cow realized $16.50, bulk Utility and Commercial grades going at $11.50-16.00, Canners and Cutters sold largely at $12-14.00. Cutter and Utility bulls had a range of $19-22.00, Commercial and Good $20-20.50 and Canners $11-18.00.

Vealers & Calves: High-Choice and Prime vealers were taken at $33-36.00, Good and Choice grades bulking at $24-32.00. Standard grade sold at $17-23.00. Cull and Utility largely $13-16.00, although light Culls of doubtful health went as low as $11.00. Good and Choice slaughter calves moved at $21-26.00, Utility and Standard $15-20.00, and Culls $13-11.00.

Stocker and Feeder Cattle and Calves

In the stocker and feeder division there was a package of Good 600 lb. stock steers at $26.00. Good 810 feeder heifers sold at $22.50. Choice 388 and 497 lb. steer calves realized $29.50, and the heifer end of the latter group selling at $26.50 and weighing 471 lbs. There were several loads of Good steer calves at $26-28.00, while Good heifer calves went at $25-26.00. Medium and Good stock cows were taken at $14.00-15.50.

Prowler Six Tips Williams 16 to 0

Coach Gene Sack's hockey Prowlers evened a long streak by whipping Williams 16 to 0. The Wolves entered in a Region Eight conference game played at Williams on Tuesday night.

The Prowlers will play the Jacquette Bears in a Region Eight conference tilt on the Arena rink here on Saturday night; and on Tuesday, Jan. 26, the Prowlers will make the trip to Grand Forks for a game against coach Bergo Clubbouse's Central high school Redskins. The Grand Forks game will be played on the new Memorial Park sports building high on the UND campus.

On Tuesday's game, played on an outdoor rink and with the temperature at a below zero reading, the Prowlers piled up six goals in the first period, add-

Hanson Wrestles to Lighter Weights in Inter-district Match

Range Boy gets pin of Park Rapids' Bulmer in the 177 lb. class, giving coach Charles Dorsey's Prowler wrestling squad five points and a 28 to 23 win with but one match remaining in the Prowler schedule. The Prowlers have the latter part of the match held here Wednesday night, and the match is the heavyweight class. Park Rapids' Gary Sanborn is the foe of the Prowler eighth grade wrestler.

Ranger Boy Hanson moved up to the 165 lb. class to defeat Bulmer to 28 to 23.

Gary Walters, scoring heavily in the lighter weights, moved the pinning combination to five points and a win in the 103 lb. class, scored a decision, Dave Arndt 5-0, and Jerry Johnson, Arndt 5-0, scored five-point pins in their respective matches, and Jerry Lee Taylor 5-0 decision, scored six three points on a default.

Jeffrey Sanborn, 95 lb. Prowler, gave the Park Rapids' Dan Sanborn a 5-0 decision, Jerry Sanborn beat Park Rapids' Paul Kurtti scoring 5-0 in a draw, with each team getting a pair of points. Two decision wins, with Lyle Hinkley

Eagles' Initiates

The Ivan Eagle aerie, with Lowell (Mickey) Collins as chairman of the club's activities, is sponsoring and promoting a team "initiate" for the club.

The squad is composed of players who are not too young to participate in the VFW Midget hockey program. Some members of the squad are Jerry Johnson, a pair of wins over the Red Lake Nationals, one decision over the Crookston Bantams, 2 to 1, last Sunday.

The club is coached by Dennis Hanson, and Hanson has the services of his playing Coach Jason Cathcart, Beth Dakota U. Consolation Division, and the local Thieves during his active career, acting as an "advisor-assistant" is the Eastern club's way of saying that Hanson is helping in arranging for games, referee, etc.

The Eagles have permitted the four grade school hockey squads to participate in practices with the older players, given them hockey sticks, fifteen sets, and fifteen pucks, which the players from the squad were furnished the teams last season.

Progress

Three members of last season's Prowler hockey team, with Coach Gene Sack's squad for the 1960 season, have enough experience tournament — Jerry Jorgenson, Bruce Bannon, and Harold Hall — to see attending college this year and playing hockey for the Prowlers. Jerry is at Harvard, Bruce at Dartmouth, and Harold at St. Johns.

We received a facsimile reproduction of an item on the Boston Globe sports section, which states that the Harvard varsity hockey squad scored a 7 to 6 win over the Dartmouth freshmen. Jerry Jorgenson slapped home Tim Taylor's assist at the 19:19 mark of the second period, which was the winning goal. Chris Cook pulled for a sixth attacker, Dave Johnson assisted Jerry Jorgenson's goal in the third period, for the 2 to 1 win.

Harvard has been playing on the Boston Garden ice, which is used by the Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League, and Harvard has scored wins over Bates 10 to 7, Boston College 5 to 3, and Boston University 6 to 5.

Harold Dudley Peterle is a Sioux lover for the St. John's squad which is also a member of the MIAC.

Resident Duck Hunters

According to Ray Fortune, county chairman for the Ducks Unlimited organization, the DU drive for funds will be launched before the end of February. The meeting, which will be held in the meeting room of the Sea Cafe at the Rex Cafe will be called to order at 8 p. m. Invitations to attend the meeting, which is open to the public, will be extended to Bob Ward, who is the contact for Ducks Unlimited with the state game and fish department.

Ward, who has been prominent in Ducks Unlimited work, has also been instrumental in getting the organization's program off to a good start in Minnesota.

VFW Midgets to Play Roseau Twice During Week-end

The VFW Midget hockey squad will engage in a pair of important games this weekend, the contest tonight, with the Lowell Mickey Collins coached Eagles, and Saturday night when the VFW Midgets go to Roseau for a Saturday afternoon game with the Roseau Rangers.

The Eagles will be out to mark up a win over the Midgets, who have been practicing hard for the two games.

Regulations Issued on Marked Police Cars

A regulation covering proper identification and markings of traffic police cars has been announced by L. P. Zimmerman, commissioner of highways, following approval by Governor Orville L. Freeman. The regulation becomes effective on January 1, 1960 with the approval of the secretary of state.

The regulation covers all motor vehicles which are primarily used for traffic control and traffic law enforcement purposes, operated by the highway patrol, sheriff, police, conservation officers, and other officers, purchased subsequent to the effective date.

Two basic colors are provided for identification for the Minnesota police cars, but black or other opposites, as the case may be, may be substituted. A gold color with which bids have been received by the state highway department, is the only color approved at present.

Adult and junior leaders from Marshall county's 25 4-H clubs will attend a Junior Leaders Institute at Swedlehm school house Saturday, Jan. 23 at 10 a.m. 4-H club agent Harlean Sandberg announced.

Theme of the 1960 institute is, "Understanding Older Members."

Presiding the institute program will be Clarence Sundberg and Mrs. Lesley Johnson, adult leaders of Fairview club; Miss Barbara Wilson, Marshall Junior 4-H club; Mahlond Dale Strand, Junior leader, Riverside club; and Mr. Sandberg. Junior leaders attended the district leaders institute at Thief River Falls in January to be the North west seven counties.

The program will center around new features designed to interest older club members. Following a presentation on how to understand older members, the group will have the opportunity to plan their youth programs. Further information will be presented on the role of older members in recreation.

Possible solutions to increase the participation of older 4-H members in club activities will also be presented at the institute.

Y-type Truckers Must Bear Cards

Must Have Registration Cards on Their Persons

Joseph L. Donohue, Minnesota secretary of state, issued a reminder today that all Y-type truckers must have their cards of registration. Full compliance with the law is expected to be made during the 1960 season.

Penalties for failing to carry registration of motor vehicles, trailers, semi-trailers and motor buses which have not been issued a card of the registration card by September 15, 1959, and failure to display the registration plates as required by law, are subject to a fine of not more than $100 or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than 90 days, or both.

Owners of the registration cards may be secured from the Safety Division, Minnesota department of highways.

Winter Carnival at St. Paul Opens Jan. 29

Minnesota's biggest winter time attraction, the St. Paul Winter Carnival, will offer more than a dozen events during the 10 days of the festival, January 29 to February 7.

Fifteen pretty gowned Snow Queens from throughout the state and several other celebrities will officially launch the "Festival of Snows" Friday noon, January 29, when they arrive at the Union Depot in St. Paul. Following the inaugural ceremonies in front of the State Capitol will be a parade of floats, bands and marching units down Seventh street in front of the St. Paul Auditorium. Each of the Queens will be escorted by a float bearing the name of her home town.

Saturday, Jan. 30, XXIV, ruler of the mythical kingdom of Borealis, will crown opening Friday night in the Auditorium. A one-night Musical Jamboree featuring stars and guests from many radio-television fame will follow the coronation ceremonies.

Two major outdoor carnival events will be held Saturday and Sunday afternoons, January 30 and 31, when the Aquatennial Speed Skating Championships will be held on the Carnival Lake at Como park.

The biggest event of Thursday, January 28, will be the Ice Follies, a musical ice spectacular featuring stars of the Ice Follies of 1960 and a cast of 100 performers. Another 100 persons will gather in the warm Auditorium Friday night for the Aquatennial Jamboree.

Other key events include the Winter Carnival Ensign Contest on White Bear Lake Sunday, January 31, and the Festival of Nations Ball on Friday, Feb. 5; girls' basketball tournament, Feb. 2; Inter-Intercollegiate Debate Tournament, Feb. 3; Inter-Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament, Feb. 4; Inter-Intercollegiate Swimming Championships, Feb. 5; and Inter-Intercollegiate Wrestling Championships, Feb. 6.

Editorials . . .

"If a man will stand up and assert, and repeat and reassert, that two and two do not make four, I know nothing in the power of argument that can stop him." —Lincoln

Being Independent

Art Suel, publisher of the New Prague Times, is a Democrat of the old school. In his always-interesting editorial column he expresses his own views. As a result, all of his readers probably disagree with him a part of the time. But he isn't going to mend his ways and in justifying his independence he stated:

"Recently an ardent liberal made the criticism that The Times is too conservative and about the same time a staunch conservative opined that this newspaper leans too much toward the liberals. That's just the way we like to have it. If The Times can travel a sane, sensible middle-of-the-road course, that's the goal toward which we are striving."

We like that approach. The main function of a newspaper is news reporting, and reporting should be unbiased and factual. Each reporter, we think, should be encouraged to write a column of his own in which he has complete freedom to express his own views. A personal column is a good safety valve for a reporter and makes it easier for him to keep from projecting his own ideas into his news reports.

And each newspaper should have an editorial column, one purpose of which should be interpretation of news of general importance. Most of the news of general importance is controversial and for that reason most editorials properly deal with problems that are controversial. And for that reason many readers will be divided in their reaction to most editorial comment.

The best of editorial writers is going to be in error a part of the time. Any person who withholds his views until he has weighed all of the facts thoroughly and has given consideration to all of the conflicting arguments, isn't going to express many opinions. The important thing is that opinions be expressed. As long as those who do not agree have a fair opportunity to point out the errors as they see them, even faulty opinions serve a good purpose.

We recall some of the advice to young editors by a veteran who had many years of errors to look back upon. He admonished us never to become special pleaders for any group, political or otherwise. Remain apart from the groups and consider their problems and their conduct objectively, he urged. As much as possible remain independent.

We think Art Suel may have heard the same sermon and followed the good advice.

And now, will the congregation please stand while the pastor pronounces the benediction.

Hot Potato

Commenting on a proposal by the Robbinsdale school board that the University of Minnesota provide some college courses in its high school starting next fall, the St. Paul Pioneer Press thinks the suggestion has some merit and should receive serious consideration by the board of regents. According to the Pioneer Press the St. Cloud State College has been providing such a service in some of the high schools of that area.

The Pioneer Press concludes:

"Ultimately, some kind of higher education facilities will have to be developed in the suburbs. Even if the university expands its existing campuses according to present plans, they will not be able to handle the growing student population which is centered in the suburbs.

"Either a liberal arts junior college program supported by the various communities will have to be established or the university will have to set up two-year liberal arts branches. Some moves must be made soon toward solving these problems and the Robbinsdale plan seems like a modest way to start."

All of which points up the same old problem again, presented in a different form. We like the idea of more advanced courses being made available in high schools that are large enough to maintain efficient classroom size. We can see no good reason, however, why such advanced courses cannot be provided as a part of the high school curriculum rather than as a junior college operation.

But before we become further involved in "experiments" in higher education the whole problem should be referred back to the legislature for further study. And the legislature should accept responsibility for this problem. Our present drifting is due in large measure to the failure of the legislature to act. The failure to act has been due to the fact that the question has become a political hot potato. That is not a proper excuse for failure to act.

Welcome Dr. Wilson

We have listened-in on several discussions of the salary and "fringe benefits" that Minnesota taxpayers will pay to Dr. O. Meredith Wilson as President of the University of Minnesota. Some say it is too high and others justify it in comparison to what industry pays its top men. Our reaction has been that he may be worth what he gets and we hope he earns it. It may be that he will prove to be a good man from the standpoint of those who pay the bill.

It is impossible to judge university presidents by the same standards that are used in the judging of heads of industries. School heads deal more with intangibles and their contribution cannot be measured by the same yardsticks we use in determining whether the manager of a business operation is turning in a good performance. The manager of a business lives in a glass house. Inspiring speeches do not change the figures on a balance sheet. The volume of sales tells whether or not customers are happy. The annual statement reveals how efficient, or inefficient, the operation has been.

So at this time we will welcome Dr. Wilson to Minnesota and hope that he earns his pay. On this point it probably would be unfair to attempt to reach a conclusion until he has been exposed to several years of service under fire.

As one measuring stick of his performance, the relations of the University under his leadership with the legislature, and thru the legislature with the people, will be especially revealing.

In this relationship the new president inherits a difficult problem. As an independent branch of the government, the University has had an "it's-none-of-your-business" attitude toward the legislature as to how it operates. This attitude is typified by the recent decision to establish a branch at Morris. If the University decides it should establish a branch at Morris, or at any other place, it will establish a branch, so what?

University of Minnesota accounting, as far as the legislature is concerned, has not been informative. The report to the legislature always reveals that the balance of any appropriated funds are less than $250, and members of the legislature, who are interested in such matters, look upon the University accountants as a very adept group in the juggling of figures.

All of which tends to strengthen our conviction that our schools, at all levels, should be directed by men who, by training and experience, are administrators, interested in efficiency and economical production. We hope that Dr. Wilson will measure up to this standard.

Lottery Publicity

A Minnesota newspaper has been cautioned by post office department officials about lottery publicity. Maybe this means that the department's regulations governing the use of the mails for such purposes are going to be enforced, and that is good. The regulations should either be enforced as they are or amended. There have been and are many violations and such a condition should not be tolerated.

The Morris Tribune is the paper that was cautioned and Editor Ed Morrison passed the information along to the community in the following comment:

"We had a visit from a post office inspector recently concerning some publicity we donated to a promotion by a civic group. The promotion contained the elements of a lottery and lotteries are absolutely taboo as far as the post office is concerned. The inspector treated us rather kindly but firmly, as he says is postal policy on the first offense. Subsequent violations bring stiff penalties.

"Sometimes it is a bit difficult to throw cold water on what sounds like a good promotion by telling the group involved that we cannot mention it in our newspapers. The fact that certain organizations are permitted by law to engage in games of chance makes it even more difficult to explain to those organizations that such games still cannot be advertised in newspapers.

"There are three elements to any lottery: a prize or prizes, consideration and chance. What constitutes a prize is self explanatory. Consideration means any payment which is made in order to be eligible to win the prize. Chance means the awarding of the prize by lot and not based on the skill of the contestant.

"If it's a lottery, even for a worthy cause, we're sorry, but we cannot mention it."

Let's Stop Inflation

(Land O'Lakes News)

Did you ever have a most frustrating and inadequate feeling—a feeling of hopelessness?

Did you ever sit in the living room of an old retired farm couple and see the tears streaming down the face of the wife and a beat look on the face of the husband? You know that both of these were strong in years gone by. That they operated a good farm and raised a family. Why the tears and the look of despair?

The answer—INFLATION.

The couple like many had done well. They had retired with a good savings which they believed would last them during their lifetime. It would have too had not INFLATION robbed them. The savings which was thought to be more than adequate has nearly been wiped out because those dollars are worth less than 48 cents today in purchasing power in relation to what they were when this couple retired. This is not an isolated case. It is happening over the entire country.

You and I have a stake in this too. We cannot work forever. Our savings, insurance, social security and retirement become less adequate with each devaluation of the dollar as the result of inflation.

It is time to call a halt. It may not be popular to do so, but we must think of the future of our nation, the future of ourselves and the future of our children.

Those trying to stem inflation should be given all the support necessary to stop this creeping disaster. Disaster that affects not only our economy, but that of the entire free world.

You, Mr. & Mrs. private citizen; you, Mr. congressman; you Mr. labor leader, you, Mr. business manager; and Mr. President, all have a part in stemming inflation. Do you have the courage to face inflation and do what needs to be done?

"I know," retorted his son, "But what does she mean when she just says 'phooey'?"

Your Office in Washington

by Congressman ODIN LANGEN

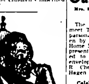
This is a unique and interesting time of year on Capitol Hill—Unique in the sense that in these opening days of a session, before committee and floor work pick up a full head of steam, a Congressman has more time to confer at length with representatives of the various departments and other groups concerning matters of significance to his particular Congressional District—interesting in the sense that there is an air of anticipation as to what the upcoming Presidential messages to Congress and subsequent Congressional action will bring.

Sugar Beets and School Lunch

In the realm of conferring with various departmental representatives and groups, I had the opportunity during the past week to hold meetings and conferences concerning the Sugar Act situation and the school lunch program.



As you know, the present Sugar Act expires on December 31 of this year, and the job facing Congress during this session is, therefore, to extend this act in the best possible manner. The situation in Castro's Cuba, which supplies about one-third of our total sugar needs, is providing the chief problem in considering this extension. So far, very little has been done, and I expressed my conviction at these conferences that the very least that should be considered in extending the Sugar Act is that the annual increases in consumption should be allotted in their entirety to domestic areas. This would mean approximately 60,000 tons of new beet quota annually in place of about 33,000 tons under our existing Sugar Act. As I emphasized in a statement to the House of Representatives during the last session the farm economy in our Red River Valley will be immeasurably strengthened by increased sugar acreage.

As to the school lunch program, our conferences gave us assurance that this year's budget, as compared to that for fiscal 1960, will provide a substantially increased appropriation for this purpose. A related program, that of school milk, is facing the possibility of an additional federal appropriation being needed to continue the program at its present rate through the remainder of this fiscal year and I am supporting efforts to obtain this additional grant.

That $4.2 Billion Surplus

Ever since the President, in his State of the Union message, announced that the Federal budget for the next fiscal year should show a surplus of $4.2 billion to be applied against our $290 billion national debt various individuals and groups in and around Washington have been figuring out ways to spend it. For my own part, I agree with the President that the overall guiding goal of the budget should be national need — not response to specific group local or political insistence. With a staggering debt of $290 billion, there can be, as the President stated, no real surplus. Any "surplus" in the sense of more income than expenditures, should be applied to reduce this debt, for every time you pay $1 for Federal tax, over 11 cents goes just to pay interest. And in view of the threat of still higher interest costs, a payment on the national debt becomes even more imperative. As President Eisenhower put it, "I prefer to think of such an item as a reduction on children's inherited mortgage."

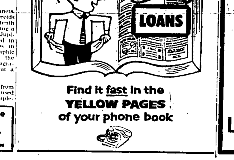
YOUR SENATOR REPORTS

from the Desk of SENATOR HUBERT H. HUMPHREY

Short Congress begins—Packed into a tight six months session this year will be much constructive legislation. To touch on just a few of the important bills in the next few weeks, we expect action on juvenile delinquency, aid to education, the protection of voting rights for our Negro citizens, and improvements in our welfare programs for workers and retired people.

Delinquency—The first order of business in the Senate was our bill to provide assistance to the states and local communities in developing their anti-delinquency programs. At the same time, my Youth Conservation Corps bill which we sent to the House last year has received important new supporters, including the Association of Juvenile Court Judges. It could do much to prevent delinquency among young boys 16-21.

Schools for our children — My federal aid for education legislation will also get a top priority. Our schools are flooded with 1,800,000 more boys and girls than they have capacity to handle, according to the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. We are short more than 130,000 teachers. We simply must have early action to help states and local communities build more classrooms and to raise salaries to attract and retain enough qualified teachers.



The right to vote—I expect action in February on my bill authorizing the President to appoint temporary federal election registrars when qualified citizens are denied voting registration rights in some States. There is no room in our country for second class citizenship, and we can no longer tolerate it.

Social Security changes—Many of our older citizens don't get enough income to buy the simple necessities — food, shelter, clothing. Also, the fear of sickness and disability is a tremendous pressure on them, for unexpected illness can wipe out overnight the savings of years. I have sponsored a plan to provide Social Security pensioners with up to 180 days on hospital and nursing home care a year. Other Social Security changes needed include a raise in the $1,200 earnings limit, and elimination of the 50-year age minimum for disability.

Minimum wage—We will make a strong effort to raise the minimum wage this year for the millions of American workers who have no trade union to bargain in their behalf. There should be action soon in Congress to extend wage and hour protection to 10 million new workers, and to raise the minimum wage gradually to $1.25 an hour.

Other priorities—Later in the session Congress must consider the improvement of the Labor-Management Reform bill, farm legislation, my Food for Peace proposal (which the President has now endorsed in theory at least), the continuance of the Mutual Security program, the missile gap and other defense problems, and scores of other important matters—all in a space of a few weeks.

MOOD QUESTION — A reader scanning the advertising columns of the Times is in the right mood to be sold.

HERE'S HOW "ELM RIDGE" CAN INCREASE YOUR MILK PROFITS

A fast way to increase your milk check and your profit is to increase your herd butterfat test . . . and "Elm Ridge" is an example of how good breeding can do that.

"H-108 Elm Ridge" (V.G. 87 score) is by an "Excellent" sire and out of an "Excellent" dam. Nine of his daughters on test averaged 665 pounds of butterfat. All 17 of his daughters on official classification scored good plus or better . . . proving his ability to transmit true type as well as high production . . Important factors if you are to receive top prices for your sale heifers and top figures on your milk checks.

And "Elm Ridge" is just one of the many profit-making sires at C.B.C. Call your C.B.C. technician. He'll help you pick a sire that's best for your herd . . . and he'll show you how its more economical to breed with C.B.C. than keep your own bull.

There's nothing like a new car—and no new car like a Chevrolet. This is the Impala Sport Coupe!

GO '60 GO CHEVY!

NOW—THE CAR THAT STARTS THE SIXTIES WITH SO MUCH THAT'S NEW, SO MUCH THAT'S DIFFERENT ...AND SETS THE PACE WITH LOWER PRICES!

Chevrolet speaks of the Sixties like no other car—with a broad accent on spaciousness, stirring new concepts in styling and strong emphasis on spirit and thrift.

Step inside this superlative '60 and look at the worlds of room around you: head room, hip room, shoulder-squaring room. Note how Chevrolet's engineers have further flattened and narrowed the transmission tunnel to give the middle man more foot room. Chevrolet's greater roominess is inside where you want it—not outside in useless body overhang.

You'll find economy teamed with performance in a new standard V8, engineered to deliver up to 10% more miles for every gallon, or the strapping Hi-Thrift 6.

And riding comfort in the new one is a never-ending treat, thanks to Full Coil spring suspension. There are also thicker, newly designed body mounts that filter noise and vibration to the vanishing point, more rigid frame and many other engineering advances.

But you'll have to drive the Sixty sizzler yourself—that's the clincher.

Why not see your Chevrolet dealer now—for a drive and the happy details on Chevy's new lower prices.

PLUMMER . . .

Mrs. Elmor Nelson of Fosston and Mrs. George Rewertz visited Monday at the John Hanson and Emil Larson homes.

The American Legion Auxiliary met at the Plummer auditorium Jan. 14 with 21 members present. "Thank you" notes from shut ins who received Christmas gifts from the unit were read and a "thank you" note from the district president Mrs. H. M. Johnson of Thief River Falls who attended the December meeting. Plans were made to have a Mother's March on Polio Jan. 28 at 7 p.m. All members are urged to participate. Jean Matt and Amelia Eskell reported on the fall conference which they attended in St. Paul in December. The charter was draped in loving memory of Mrs. Olga Hemly who passed away in November. Chaplain Anna Schumacher read the prayer. A film was shown on crippled children and the work of the March of Dimes. Serving on the program committee were Marie Kela, Idella Peterson and Elma Skatvold. Lunch committee members were Nadine Johnson, Agnes Hemly and Jean Carpenter.

STEINER . .

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Meyer were supper guests at the Bert Kron home near Rosewood Tuesday of last week. Their granddaughter, Laura Kron, who was six years old that day, was guest of honor.

Mrs. August Peterson and sons of Plummer were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jorde.

Richard Jorde and Robert Rausch attended the F.F.A. meeting at the Lincoln high school Monday evening.

FREE BOOKLET REVEALS THE TRUTH ABOUT HEARING AIDS

Here's wonderful news for the hard-of-hearing! The manufacturers of world-famous Tonemaster Hearing Aids have available for you a free booklet titled "True Facts About Hearing Aids." This booklet has no glowing, high-sounding and meaningless phrases or any miracle-performing claims. Instead, you will learn exactly what can be done for the hard-of-hearing in regard to your own particular hearing loss—and how, through the proper use of hearing aids, you can restore your own self-confidence and poise. You hard-of-hearing people must read this booklet—you owe it to yourself, to your family and friends. Write to Tonemaster, Box 0000, 128 South Monroe, Peoria, Illinois, for your free booklet, "True Facts About Hearing Aids."

Christmas Seal Sale Nets $2373 in County

Over 175,000 Minnesota school children were checked for tuberculosis this last year as the Christmas Seal organization conducted tuberculin testing surveys in schools, communities and industries.

These youngsters have been given the benefit of the most effective weapon in the fight against tuberculosis—the tuberculin test which detects the TB germ.

Detection of tuberculosis today constitutes the most critical problem facing the nation's TB fighters, to quote Dr. Arthur M. Olsen, specialist in chest diseases at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, and a member of the Minnesota faculty. We now know how to treat TB, he says, but we still have with us the big task of detecting new cases.

In Pennington county, Christmas Seal funds have paid for the testing of more than 1,100 school children during the past year, states Thomas F. Mulrooney, program director of the Minnesota Tuberculosis and Health association.

Through such surveys, we can inform children and their parents about the use, value and necessity of the tuberculin tests for early case finding in tuberculosis control and educate them on maintaining good health practices, points out Dr. D. S. Fleming, director of the division of disease prevention and control, Minnesota department of health.

The sale of Christmas Seals in Pennington county has so far brought in a total of $2,373.49, according to information received from state Christmas Seal headquarters in St. Paul.

Money now being contributed, as well as that previously contributed, is already earmarked for health education in our schools, for tuberculin tests that detect hidden TB, and for chest x rays of those who react to the tuberculin test, said Judge Herman A. Kjos, Thief River Falls, president of the Pennington County TB and Health association.

Deer Park 4-H

The Deer Park 4-H club met at the Juel Chervestad home Dec. 30 for the annual Christmas party.

Faye Stucy played a saxophone solo, accompanied by Mrs. Roman Radniecki on the piano. Renay Radniecki played a piano solo after which Christmas carols were sung by the group. Gifts were exchanged and candy treats were passed out.

Games were led by Karen and Romona Chervestad and lunch was served by Mrs. Chervestad.

—Keith Radniecki, reporter.

Mavie 4-H

The January meeting of the Mavie 4-H club was called to order by Rodney Wayne, president, at the Troska home.

Dale Svendsgaard, adult leader, discussed starting a dairy judging team. All interested were to meet at the Charles Svendsgaard home January 15 at 8:30 p.m.

Lon Szymanski, who had attended an electrical meeting, gave a talk on the information he had obtained.

Demonstrations were given by Judy Oski on How to Make Eggnog. Lon Szymanski showed How to Repair a Burned-out Cord, and Paul Troska demonstrated How to Put a Plug on a Cord.

Bruce and Brad Nelson sang. Funny stories were told by Margaret Wayne and Karen Svendsgaard and riddles by Paul Troska. The Lars Lindwick and Red Hanson families were on the program committee.

Lunch was served by the Oski and Troska families. —Bruce Hanson, reporter.

Silverton 4-H

The Silverton 4-H club held its monthly meeting Jan. 14 at the Silverton town hall. The meeting was called to order by president Milton Leiran.

The junior leaders were given their certificates. The meeting was adjournd. The program was as follows: Group singing led by Earl Leiran accompanied by Jeanette Nelson at the piano; demonstration by Gary Iverson on How to Bandage a Wrist; reading on The Demonstration Way, by Milton Leiran; and a project talk by Steven Harder on safety.

Lunch was served by the Gust Homme and Charlie Jones families. Games were played at the close of the evening.

The following girls attended a food preparation project meeting at the Bernard Myers home Jan. 9: Rosalyn Berger, Karen Berggren, Darlene Iverson, Arlene Joppru, Charlotte Meyers, Emily Nelson, Sandra Nelson, Carol Peterson, Joyce Peterson and Judy Rupprecht.

In the afternoon the girls, with their leader Mrs. Myers, enjoyed the lunch they had prepared.

—Annette Harder, reporter.

Steiner 4-H

The Steiner 4-H club held its meeting Friday evening, Jan. 15. A short business meeting, presided over by Pat Hornseth, preceded the program.

The club voted to buy a coffee pot for our kitchen. Patsy Vatsaas and Richard Jorde were appointed to serve on the Good Cheer committee.

The program included community singing led by Kathleen Torgerson, a project report on dairy foods by Ellen Jorde and one on health by Bruce Russell; a reading by Shirley Fuller, and a project report on grain by Richard Jorde. Two films dealing with polio and safety were shown by Bruce Russell.

Lunch was served by the Clifford Jorde and Art Moe families.

—Kathy Solem, reporter.

Canary 4-H Club

The Canary 4-H club met Saturday evening, Jan. 9, at the Grygla East school with 14 members and 6 parents present.

A short business meeting was held and projects chosen by all members. Barbara Magnuson, treasurer, reported $27 from sale of wreaths. The meeting was turned over to Oliver Newland. He explained how he could get help from the forestry and conservation office if we took conservation as a club activity. We all voted to take conservation. Mr. Newland explained the beef, lamb and tractor projects. He will lead the boys in their tractor projects.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Cleven and Mrs. Lusignon. —Glen Holthusen, reporter.

VA Issues Ruling on Rail Pensions

New Regulations Take Effect July 1, 1960

In answer to numerous inquiries the Veterans Administration today released information concerning the possible effect of the new pension law on eligible veterans who are receiving railroad retirement benefits are not considered as income for VA pension purposes after July 1, 1959. The same rule applies to railroad retirement benefits received after July 1, 1960 if the veteran continues to receive pension from the VA under the old law after that date.

Vinall pointed out that under the new law which goes into effect July 1 this year railroad retirement funds do count as income after the veteran's contribution to the Railroad Retirement Fund has been recouped.

He added that any VA office or county or post service office can furnish additional information.

Minnesota Death Rate in Traffic Is Lowest on Record

Minnesota's traffic death rate for 1959 was the lowest in the history of the state, it was announced today by the Minnesota Highway department. The year-end total of 656 deaths resulted in a rate of 4.8 fatalities per 100 million vehicle miles driven in Minnesota last year. During 1958 the 710 deaths resulted in a rate of 5.4 fatalities per 100 million vehicle miles.

The rate was below the previous low rate of 4.9 registered in 1955 when there 580 deaths.

The 656 deaths in 1959 were eight per cent below the 1958 figure and equal to the average of the previous five years. Despite the decrease in traffic fatalities, pedestrian deaths jumped from 107 in 1958 to 116 in 1959, an increase of eight per cent.

NEXT TO GODLINESS

Soap became a part of his daily life long before he understood its use. He's still more concerned with its bubbles than its cleansing properties—but he knows soap is mighty important.

And no one ever thought of postponing his bath until he was old enough to make decisions for himself!

Wise parents never postpone a child's religious training. Long before he is able to reason, he needs the character-building and guidance of the Church. Christianity should become important to him in his daily experience before its truths can be fully grasped by his mind.

We are fortunate that our churches are equipped to instill a vital Christian faith in the youngest child. Fortunate is the boy or girl whose parents begin his religious training in their church's Nursery or Beginners' Department.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Snack Time in Tokyo

Japan Information

The children of this Japanese family are enjoying an after-school snack of fresh fruit juice prepared in a blender-juicer. Japanese housewives are finding that modern electrical appliances such as washers, refrigerators, toasters, rice cookers and heaters have released them from much of the drudgery of daily household chores, thus affording them greater time for leisure and cultural pursuits. All of these appliances are now manufactured in Japan, some under licenses from American firms which receive dollar income through the payment of royalties.

SCANNING THE NEWS

WHY did New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller bow out of the fight for the Republican Presidential nomination? Rockefeller's withdrawal caught Washington "off guard." It came just as the Washington Rockefeller-for-President headquarters prepared to assume quarters under a four-month lease. Rockefeller "headquarters" elsewhere were apparently just as surprised. Political observers, who like to keep tabs on the motives behind political maneuvering, have advanced a number of "reasons" and theories for Rockefeller's "retreat."

One reason that has been cited is the fact that Rockefeller was the one candidate President Eisenhower would not approve, even if there was no Nixon on the scene and the nomination was "wide, open." One of the most proposed "theories" is that Republican leaders brought about Rockefeller's withdrawal because they desire the upcoming convention to be a smooth, well-organized vote of confidence for Nixon and the present administration. Another reason suggested is that Rockefeller himself decided that Nixon just couldn't be beat; that he had too far a lead to be caught.

Whatever the motive behind Rockefeller's withdrawal, however, most Washington observers seem to believe that one of the most important considerations was that Rockefeller saw for himself a greater chance in 1964 than in 1960. The concensus is, that Rockefeller shall return.

Mass education makes no provision for the development of "genius," a University of North Carolina psychologist believes, following a study of 20 generally admitted men of supreme ability in various lines, from political to literary.

In his study, Dr. Harold G. McCurdy found that all 20 subjects had superior intelligence to start with and this was supplemented by:

1. A high degree of attention focused on the child by parents or other adults, expressed in intensive educational measures and, usually, abundant love.
2. Isolation from other children, especially outside the family.
3. A rich efflorescence of fantasy, as a reaction to the other two conditions.

"It might be remarked," Dr. McCurdy concludes, "that the mass education of our public school system is, in its way, a vast experiment on the effect of reducing all three of these factors to minimal values and should, accordingly, tend to suppress the occurrence of genius."

Genius is generally a costly gift, he adds. "Superficially an enviable piece of luck, it is actually a fatality which exacts tribute from the possessor. Extreme absorption in very hard work, with sometimes broken health, is one of the penalties. Isolation from contemporaries, often increasing with the years, is another."

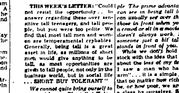
FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS — By C. D. Smith

Short Or Tall—What's The Difference?

THIS WEEK'S LETTER: "Could not resist the opportunity . . . to answer regarding these over sensitive tall teenagers, and tall people, but you were too polite. We find that most tall men and women are temperamental crybabies. Generally, being tall is a great asset in life, as millions of short men would give anything to be tall, as most opportunities are given to tall people, not only in the business world, but in social life . . . SHORT BUT TOLERANT."

We cannot quite bring ourself to agree with you, Short But Tolerant, when you say that the most opportunity in life goes to tall people. The prime advantage that we can see in being tall is that you can usually see over the heads of those in front when you stand in a crowd or sit in a movie. And, this doesn't always work. Sometimes someone just a bit taller sits or stands in front of you.



While we don't hold too much stock with the idea that "I felt bad about the loss of my fingers until I saw a man who had lost his arm" . . . it is a simple fact of life that no matter how rich we might be, or how poor, we are never in a class by ourselves. Someone is richer. Someone else is more destitute.

We must go back to what we said in the original column. The measure of a man is never from the top of his head to the soles of his shoes. The true measure of any person lies in the heart and in the mind. You can use a tape to measure a man for a suit, but this measurement gives you no indication whatsoever of his character, talent, courage or ability.

We agree that teenagers may be too sensitive about being short or tall, but we still do not think that being one or the other constitutes a serious handicap. "Little" men like Ben Hogan showed that size has nothing to do with becoming a "big" name in sports. It is the same in the world of business. Men short in stature, but long on ability and initiative have worked their way to the top in many fields. Tall men who make the grade in one activity or another never do it on size alone. Even in the game of basketball, where the emphasis is on height, that tall man won't play regularly unless he can dribble, run, shoot and score.

Being tall or short is a handicap only if one makes it so.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, NATIONAL WEEKLY NEWSPAPER SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

ACT OF DEFAMATION . . . Workman removes anti-semitic markings from the front of a Jewish store in Leeds, England. Six shops were defamed in the city.

Mothers Plan Annual March Here Thursc

200 Expected to Share in National Foundation Drive

Nearly 200 women vol representing clubs, lodg ladies aids, are expected to join Thursday, January 28, in the New Mothers March to be conducted in the residential areas of Thief River Falls to raise funds for the National Foundation in its fight against polio, as well as arthritis and birth defects.

Mrs. Frank Bond, who is serving as chairman of the Mothers March, announced that the solicitors will call at the Woman's club rooms in the city Auditorium before starting their canvass, and will return there for a cup of coffee after completing their rounds.

While most of the solicitors will go out in the evening, a few will make their calls during the afternoon.

Mrs. Henry Bothman, appointed by County Chapter Chairman C. W. Rodekuhr to direct the county campaign, pointed out the continuing need for liberal contributions.

Along with the new program areas, a big share of the 1960 New March of Dimes funds will continue to be used in polio work, both caring for patients and continuing research into aspects of the disease that are still unknown. Although the Salk vaccine has been available for four years, polio still remains a major concern because of patients stricken in earlier years and because millions of people still have not been vaccinated.

Solicitors have been appointed for all townships in the county, Mrs. Bothman said. No returns have been received from the Thief River Falls business district canvass.

Public Employes Credit Union Pays Four Pct. Dividend

Harry Hendrickson Is Named President and Henry Storhaug Secretary

A four per cent dividend was declared by the Pennington Municipal and County Employes Credit union at the group's recent annual meeting in the Eagles' hall.

Guest speaker of the evening was Martin Mahoney, a representative of the Minnesota League of Credit Unions. Mahoney spoke on the advantages of a credit union, both in the saving of money and for borrowing money. The talk was followed by a film.

Directors elected at the meeting are Charles R. Richards, Harry Hendrickson, Morris Owen, Henry Storhaug and Richard Mabey, all of Thief River Falls and Oliver McEnelly and John Kruse, Sr., St. Hilaire.

Members of the supervisory committee are Charles Rodekuhr, John Lynskey and Ellsworth Jorgenson, and members of the credit committee are Elton C. Cummings, Ralph T. Hunt and Telof B. Johnson.

Officers elected Jan 20 at a dinner meeting are Harry Hendrickson, president; Morris Owen vice-president; Richard G. Mabey, treasurer manager, and Henry Storhaug, secretary.

Red Cross Chapter to Meet Thursday

To Discuss Plans for March Fund Campaign

The Pennington county chapter of the American Red Cross will meet in the court house assembly room Thursday evening, January 28, at 8 o'clock.

All board members and all interested persons are urged to attend, Ralph T. Hunt, chapter chairman, stated today. Details of the 1960 fund campaign in March will be worked out at the meeting.

F. C. Bills, field representative for the Red Cross, who resides in Moorhead will be present to give help and guidance.

Jaycee Outstanding Service Awards to Be Presented Thursday

JERRY DORAN

Jerry Doran of Duluth, state president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be the principal speaker at the annual Jaycee Boss-Employe banquet Thursday evening, Jan. 28, in the American Legion clubrooms.

Two major awards will be given at the banquet, which will be preceded by a social hour beginning at 6:30. The outstanding young man of the community as selected by the Jaycees will be honored as will the outstanding boss.

Toastmaster of the banquet will be Doug Tegtmeier and dinner music will be provided by Jerry Joringdal at the organ.

The banquet will climax Jaycee Week in Thief River Falls which will feature a window display of organization activities and projects and the management of announcing duties Tuesday, Jan. 26, over station KTRF.

Dairy Day Group to Elect Six to Board Thursday

Lew Conlon of Minneapolis, originator of Northwest Dairy Day held each June in Thief River Falls, will be the guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Northwest Dairy Improvement association, sponsoring group, to be held Thursday afternoon, January 28, at 2 o'clock in the basement meeting room in the city Auditorium. Stuart McLeod, president, will conduct the business session, at which six members of the board of directors will be elected. Motion pictures of the 1959 Dairy Day also will be shown.

Arlene Terrian Winner in Betty Crocker Contest

Lincoln Senior Named Homemaker of Tomorrow in T. R. Falls School

The 1960 "Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow" at Lincoln high school is senior Arlene Terrian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Art Terrian, Route 4, Thief River Falls, according to an announcement by school officials.

She received the highest score in a 50-minute written examination on homemaking knowledge and attitudes taken by graduating senior girls. She already received an award pin representing the slogan, "Home is where the heart is." Her examination paper will be submitted for competition with other Minnesota high school winners to determine the state Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow.

The test, which was prepared and judged by Science Research Associates of Chicago, was taken by a record number of 379,018 girls in 12,597 schools, an increase of 29,868 girls and 337 schools over last year.

Each state Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive a $1,500 scholarship and an educational trip April 23-29 with her school advisor. The tour will include New York City and colonial Williamsburg and will end with the American Table Banquet in Washington, D. C., on April 28 at the Statler Hilton Hotel, where the All American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be announced.

St. John's Elects Church Officers

Annual Meeting Held Last Wednesday Night

The annual meeting of St John's Lutheran church was held Wednesday, January 20. The following officers were elected: Elder, Albert Koop; chairman, Maynard Mehrkens; vice chairman, Elmer Andersen; treasurer, Ken Onken; secretary, Arnold Anton; financial secretaries, Tom Fuller and Harvey Patten; additional board members, Herman Beiswenger and Art Knutson.

Head usher Norman Busse; auditor, Cliff Becker; organist and choir director, Mrs. Sherman Idso; assistant, Mrs. Max Jensen; Sunday school superintendent, Miss Ann Zinter.

An invitation was voted, the Redeemer church in Plummer and the Zion church in Mavie to attend Lenten services in St John's.

The treasurer Cliff Becker, reported that St John's met all its financial obligations for missions, current expenses and in its debt repayment program. Rev A. C. Seltz, pastor, reported a gradual increase in membership and in church attendance. Sunday evening, January 31, at 8 o'clock at St John's Couples' club will be organized.

The Bray Mutual Fire Insurance company of Pennington and Red Lake counties will hold its annual meeting and election of officers in St. Hilaire Wednesday afternoon, February 3 it was announced by Paul Thyren of St. Hilaire, president.

January 31 Is Deadline for '59 Crop Loans

February 1 Opening of Agricultural Conserving Signup

Patrick W. Culkins, manager of the Pennington County ASC office, announced today that the final date for securing CCC loans and purchase agreements for 1959 crops is January 31st of this year.

All Pennington county producers who have applied for CCC price support protection are requested to call at the county ASC office and complete their loans not later than the above date. Failure to comply with regulations will be cause for CCC to deny producers price protection for their 1959 crops.

The opening date for the Pennington county agricultural conservation program has been definitely established as Monday, February 1. All Pennington county farm owners and operators who intend to cooperate with the federal government under the 1960 ACP are urged to call at the county ASC office as soon as possible after February 1st and sign the request for federal cost shares for eligible conservation practices which they intend to perform during the program year.

The closing date for county office acceptance of requests for spring seeding conservation practices has been set at June 15."

Culkins stated further that due to budgetary limitations there would not be any sign up meetings held in rural areas. Therefore, all requests must be made at the county ASC office in the courthouse in Thief River Falls.

Draper Renamed as City Airport Commission Head

Honebrink and Alderman Hary Ranum Join Group at Meeting Saturday

The first meeting of the Thief River Falls airport commission since the appointment of two new members and reappointment of incumbents, was held Saturday morning at the Rex Cafe.

The commission was reorganized, with V. M. Draper again voted chairman, and Sam Honebrink, secretary, replacing Wallace Tunberg. The other new commission member is Alderman Harry Ranum, who replaces former Alderman Bob Carlson. The other incumbent members are Alderman Olaf Dahlen and Stan Pladson.

Daniel A. Illies, airport manager, also met with the commission to discuss various airport matters. The commission voted to recommend to the council that Illies' probationary status be ended and that he be placed on permanent status as manager.

Commission members voted to meet the last Saturday of each month to discuss airport affairs and problems that may arise from time to time. It was felt that regularly scheduled meetings with the airport manager in attendance, would result in more efficient airport operations and management.

Remodeling under Way at Lein's Shop

Larson's Style Center to Be New Name of Shop

Following a remodeling and redecorating project which began today, Lein's Apparel Shop will be renamed Larson's Style Center, it has been announced by Walter and Dorothy Larson, owners of the store.

Major items of work will include lowering of the ceiling, installation of a new fluorescent lighting system, remodeling and redecorating the fitting rooms and enlarging the balcony for office and storage space.

New display fixtures will be added and present fixtures being retained will be refinished in a light blonde shade. The new ceiling will be of acoustical tile and striated plywood paneling, and pastel colors will be used on the walls.

A. Thompson Heads New Grygla Group

Community Improvement Assn. Elects Officers

Amos Thompson was elected chairman of the Grygla Community Improvement association at a meeting Wednesday evening, Jan. 20, at Kjellberg's cafe in Grygla.

Other officers are Henry Holter, vice-chairman; Francis Haack, secretary, and Gordon Saul, treasurer. Clinton Knutson is the other member of the board.

Following the appointment of a skating committee in-charge of activities at the community, the first skating session was held Saturday, Jan 16. The association was recently given 60 pairs of skates by an anonymous donor. Members of the skating committee are Clint Knutson, Oliver Byklum and Walter Jelle.

Appointed to the park board are Ralph Rundell, John Lillevold and Palmer Holte. Finance committee members are Gordon Saul, Sofus Bjertness and Sam Brattell. Advertising committee members are Francis Haack, Mrs. Harry McLean and Mrs. Carl Dyrseth.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tunberg left Sunday to spend some time visiting and vacationing in Phoenix, Arizona and Pasadena, California.

BUILDERS exchange guest speaker at its annual banquet Wednesday evening, January 27, in the Elks club rooms will be Dreng Bjornaraa of Minneapolis, district director of public relations for the United States Steel Corp., and former editor of the TRF Times. The dinner will be served at 7 o'clock following the annual business meeting of the exchange at 6.

Mackinac Bridge Film at Builders Exchange Banquet

Dreng Bjornaraa to Show Movie Wednesday Night at Dinner in Elks Club

Those who attend the TRF Builders Exchange banquet Wednesday evening, January 27, at 7 o'clock in the Elks club rooms will witness an interesting motion picture depicting details of the huge project involving construction of the Mackinac bridge in Michigan, the world's longest suspension bridge, which was officially opened late in 1957.

Showing the film will be Dreng Bjornaran of Minneapolis, representative of the United States Steel Corp., which played a prominent role in constructing the huge span. Bjornaran, a native of this area, also will speak briefly.

Doug Tegtmeier will serve as toastmaster at the banquet, which will be preceded at 6 o'clock by a short business meeting and election of officers. Philip Prichard is the retiring president.

Mercury Hits—10 Here Early Today

Colder Temperatures Are Forecast for Tuesday

Sub zero night time temperatures which have hit the area the past six nights are expected to drop even further tonight, according to the KTRF forecast.

The prediction is for considerable cloudiness with scattered snow flurries today and variable cloudiness with a few light snow flurries tonight and tomorrow.

Colder readings are expected over the entire state today. Colder in the northwest part of the state and much colder in the eastern and southern sections is expected tonight and tomorrow. Predicted high and low temperatures for today and tonight were not available.

High temperatures over the weekend were 10 degrees registered during the daylight hours of Saturday and Sunday and the low was —10 early Monday.

Local Man Involved in Burglaries Here and in Marshall Co.

Two men suspected of the break-in at Phillips Auto Wrecking Co. here and robberies at three taverns in Holt and Middle River, confessed to the crimes at Milaca over the past weekend, according to police.

The men, Lester Duane Hermanson, 23, Rt. 2, Ogilvie, and Ernie Wm. Mostrom, 31, city, were arrested by the Mille Lacs county sheriff last week. He notified Sheriff Charles Richards, Marshall county Sheriff Oscar Erickson, and Police Chief Elton Cummings, who drove to Milaca to question the men.

Hermanson and Mostrom admitted the break-ins here and in Marshall county, as well as others in various counties. A considerable amount of stolen property was recovered, police said.

The two men are still in custody in Milaca awaiting further legal action.

Savings and Loan Association Has $6,589,000 Assets

S. R. Dahlen Reelected President at Annual Meeting on Wednesday

Assets of First Federal Savings and Loan association increased by a record $500,000, or 8% in 1959, reaching the all-time high figure of $6,589,438 at year's end, Stanton R. Dahlen, president, reported today.

Dahlen said in the institution's annual report that despite competition for savings and the tightest home credit market in many years, the association made important gains on the thrift and home financing fronts in 1959.

The following are the highlights of the association's 1959 operation:

A net increase in savings of $734,000, or 14%, bringing total savings at year's end to $5,877,000.

Record payments of earnings to savers for use of their funds. Dividends totaled $184,000 in 1959, 23% above the 1958 figure.

A rise of $621,000, or 12%, in the home mortgage portfolio, increasing the total of loans held by the institution to $5,400,000 at year's end.

At the annual meeting, Judge Paul A. Lundgren and Helmer A Baumann were reelected to the board of directors. Hold over directors are Stanton R Dahlen, Frank E Tunberg and W W Prichard. Dahlen was reelected president, Frank E Tunberg, vice president, Milton J. Relerson, secretary treasurer, Janice Melvie assistant secretary, and Janice Eggers, Mrs. Dorothy Morehouse and Eileen Rhodegard assistant treasurers.

MUNICIPAL BAND CALLS OFF TONIGHT'S MEETING

Because of conflicting dates the rehearsal session of the Thief River Falls Legion municipal band scheduled for this evening has been postponed to next Monday, February 1, it was announced today.

C. OF C. Speaker at its annual banquet Wednesday night at 6:30 in the Lincoln high school cafeteria will be J. N. Christianson, prominent St. Paul businessman. A graduate of the University of Minnesota, he received his law degree from the University of Wisconsin. He was a member of the legal staff of the Minnesota supreme court before becoming associated with Brown & Bigelow in St. Paul.

Fire Damages Dine-A-Mite Cafe Friday

Fire Department Is Called Twice to Extinguish Blaze

City firemen were called out twice Friday afternoon, Jan. 22, to the Dine-a-Mite Drive-In Cafe where fire near an electrical panel in the kitchen caused an undetermined amount of damage.

According to Roy Langevin, fire chief, the fire worked up into the wall and ceiling. The fire truck was first called by William H. Soeby, owner of the cafe, at 3:45 p.m. and it was thought that the blaze had been completely extinguished. Later in the afternoon when cleanup operations had begun, Soeby and others again noticed smoke and called firemen who found burning had begun in the attic.

The entire building was damaged by smoke and will need a thorough scrubbing and painting, the owner said. Damage to the kitchen was more extensive and some equipment may need to be replaced.

It is expected that repairs and remodeling can be completed in about a month.

Thursday evening, Jan. 21, firemen were called out at 8:08 o'clock to the Art Loftberg home at 603 Eighth st. E., where fire in a flooded oil burning water heater was extinguished. No damage resulted from the fire.

False Fire Alarm Turned in Sunday

Practical Joker Due for Trouble, Says Fire Chief

Some practical joker with a warped sense of humor may be in for serious trouble after turning in a false fire alarm at 11 p.m. Sunday in Thief River Falls.

Firemen rushed to the 1100 block on Knight ave. N. and found that there was no fire.

Roy Langevin, fire chief, issued a warning Monday morning on turning in the fake alarms. "With streets as icy as they are, someone could be injured or killed and serious property damage could also result," Langevin said. "In addition, fire equipment is taken away from the fire house and we would be delayed in answering a genuine call for help."

"We have a couple of leads to start on," Langevin said Monday morning as he consulted with city police. Conviction on a charge of turning in a false alarm is punishable by a fine, a jail sentence or both.

C.C. Banquet at High School on Wednesday

J. N. Christianson, St. Paul Business Leader, to Speak

Don M. Olson, proprietor of the Coast-to-Coast store in this city, will take over from Sig Quam the presidency of the Chamber of Commerce at its annual banquet Wednesday evening at 6:30 in the Lincoln high school cafeteria.

Dr. O. D. Beich will officiate as toastmaster, and will introduce the guest speaker, J. N. Christianson of St. Paul, vice president and national sales manager of the Quality Park Envelope company, a subsidiary of Brown & Bigelow of St. Paul.

Mr. Christianson's address will deal with the industrial potential of Minnesota and the role Thief River Falls can play in in attracting new industries to this community.

The dinner will be served by the ladies aid of St. John's Lutheran church, and reservations can be made by calling the Chamber of Commerce office, Phone MU 1-3720.

Lecturing to various civic, educational and business groups thruout the Northwest, Christianson entertains a sincere belief that confidence in one's self, faith in the morrow and a desire and conviction to succeed are, in essence, a major part of the formula necessary for the development of the individual and America.

Only in the framework of democracy with the voice of a better educated and more loyal citizenry, conscious of the power within itself, can we remain true to our destiny and to the American heritage — transposing the lessons of the past and the challenge of change in America today to the immediate needs of individual and group understanding are the core of his message.

Bill Svendsgaard to Travel Overseas as Youth Delegate

To Be One of Three State Youths Chosen under Farm Youth Exchange Program

Minnesota will send three young men to foreign countries this next year as ambassadors in blue jeans, under the International Farm Youth Exchange program.

William Svendsgaard, 20, of Goodridge, member of the Mavie 4-H club; August Williams, 21, Rochester; and Darryl Klukow, 20, Albert Lea, have been chosen International Farm Youth Exchange delegates for 1960, according to an announcement from Elizabeth Elliott, state 4-H club agent at the University of Minnesota.

The three delegates will spend about five months living and working with farm families in the countries to which they are assigned.

Klukow will leave in April for Venezuela. Svendsgaard and Williams have not yet received their assignments.

All three are attending college and have been active 4-H members. Svendsgaard is a student at Bemidji State college; Williams at Mankato State; Klukow at Austin Junior college.

Last summer Svendsgaard represented Minnesota youth at the American Youth Foundation camp in Shelby, Michigan.

Increasing international understanding at the grass roots level is the purpose of the International Farm Youth Exchange, which is one phase of the people-to-people program. IFYE delegates live and work with farm families in foreign lands, learning to understand their way of life but also introducing people of other countries to American customs and ideals.

In the return phase of the program, rural young people from overseas live with farm families in this country. Seven exchanges from six different countries were guests of Minnesota farm families this summer.

The IFYE program is conducted by the National 4-H Foundation and Agricultural Extension Service.

DUCKS were the main subject of conservation at a meeting in the Rex cafe Saturday afternoon, Jan. 23. In this informal discussion group are, from left to right: Marvin Mansfield, assistant manager of the Mud Lake game refuge; Russ Embury, who was elected chairman of the 13-county regional organization of Ducks Unlimited, and F. John Ward of St. Paul, state chairman of Ducks Unlimited. In addition to the election of regional officers, the group decided to intensify the drive for new members.

News about the Community Adult Education Program

Two typing courses are being offered to adults in the Thief River Falls area through the adult evening school program soon to get under way in the local schools.

"Typing for the Beginner" is a course specifically designed for those who have never had typing before, and "Intermediate Typing" is geared for those people who have learned to type at one time or another, but who feel the need for a refresher course in typing.

Franklin Skogen, pictured with three adult students from Warren, will be the instructor for both courses.

Additional information on these courses or on any other courses offered this session will be found in the adult evening school brochure, which all area residents should have at this time. If you did not receive your brochure in the mail, or if you desire further information, please call the Area Vocational School at MU 1-4588.

County Residents Buy $257,675 U. S. Bonds During 1959

Savings Bonds Purchased in Pennington Co. Amount to 116.6 Pct. of Quota

"The rising trend of savings bond sales in Minnesota, which has been apparent since the new 3¾% interest rates were approved late in September, continued during December with an increase of 12% over the previous year," J. M. Roche, savings bond chairman of Pennington county, announced today.

This brought the year to date sales to $70,669,000, of which $56,859,000 were Series E Bonds and $13,810,000 Series H Bonds.

Sales in Pennington county totaled $257,675 for 1959 and represented 116.6 per cent of the 1959 quota.

District 1 under the chairmanship of L. H. Everett of East Grand Forks, was high with 110.8 per cent of quota and District 4 under H. E. Swenson of Fergus Falls was second with 98.1%.

Marshall Tax Levy Average Is Lower

Rate for Warren Down 9.31 Mills to 281.35

Tax rates in Marshall county, in general, for 1959 are down slightly from the rates of 1958, according to a comparison of rate sheets for the two years as provided by J. W. Sands, Marshall county treasurer.

Slight increases were noted for both state and county governments. The state rate on non-homesteads and personal property this year will be 14.32 mills while last year it was 12.42 mills. The county rate was increased from 59.18 mills last year to 62.41 mills this year or up 3.23 mills.

Taxpayers in the city of Warren will pay taxes this year on a total rate of 281.35 mills, a reduction of 9.31 mills from last year when the total was 290.36 mills. This is on personal property and non homesteads. The reduction was permitted because of a reduction of 14.34 mills in the city rate. The school district rate is identical for the two years at 138.32 mills.

There are 18 townships listed with higher rates and 30 with lower rates this year, while five villages made increases, three decreases and three hold identical rates.

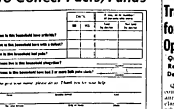
Marching Mothers to Collect Facts, Funds

"If you can answer no to the questions inside, be thankful! If you must answer yes, take hope!"

American mothers will carry this message to over 30 million homes this month. The mothers, volunteers in the annual Mothers' March for the New March of Dimes, will be seeking information and support for The National Foundation's fight against birth defects, arthritis and polio. These cripplers, initial targets in The National Foundation's campaign to prevent crippling disease, affect the lives of one of every four American families.

Two Million in March

An estimated two million women will join the nationwide mothers' appeal for facts and funds. In most communities the mothers will march Thursday evening, Jan. 28, bringing to a climax the New March of Dimes January campaign.



The mothers will present each household with a copy of "Door-Count," a concise fact-finding folder in which a family may indicate if any of its members has a birth defect, arthritis or polio and how many have had three or more Salk vaccine shots. Each family record will be confidential.

Salk Shot Reminder

The Mothers' March door count will focus family and community attention on the majority of Americans still without Salk shot protection against paralytic polio. It will remind the unvaccinated to start shots in time for summer polio protection and it will help communities plan local programs to further encourage the widespread use of Salk vaccine.

Although the house-to-house poll is in no way planned as a statistically valid survey, the sum of information taken in the door count will provide a working estimate of the number of persons suffering from arthritis; the number born with birth defects and the number who have been victims of paralytic polio. This tabulation will help guide National Foundation county chapters in formulating local programs to aid the disabled.

Mothers making the house-to-house door count will also seek contributions to the New March of Dimes for its attack on birth defects, arthritis and polio. The New March of Dimes is combating these disabling disorders with the same effective weapons used to conquer paralytic polio: medical scientific research to find causes, cures, preventives; patient aid for medical care; and training for medical workers needed to treat the sick and disabled.

This questionnaire will go to more than 30 million homes in every part of the country to provide information about three crippling diseases that affect one of every four American families.

Two million mothers like this one will conduct a house-to-house door count this month seeking information and support for the New March of Dimes campaign against birth defects, arthritis and polio.

Rites Conducted In St. Paul Jan. 23 for Mrs. J. Bishop

Was Prominent Resident of TRF Community During 40 Years Residence Here

Funeral rites for Mrs. Maude Beaver Bishop of St. Paul, who succumbed Wednesday to a lingering illness, were conducted in that city Saturday morning, with burial in Lakewood cemetery in Minneapolis. She was 85.

A pioneer resident of Thief River Falls, and the widow of the late Judge J. M. Bishop, who died in 1935, Mrs. Bishop left this city in 1960 to make her home with her daughter, Dr. Helen Miriam Bishop, in St. Paul.

Born in Pulaski, Indiana, she came to Thief River Falls in 1902, and for many years played a prominent part in local affairs. Mrs. Bishop was one of the early women leaders of the Minnesota Republican party following the adoption of women's suffrage; she was a member of the Republican state central committee and headed early Republican women's campaign activities.

She was president of the Minnesota department of the American Legion auxiliary in 1926-7 and was active in the Women's Christian Temperance union and the Order of the Eastern Star. She was a member of the Presbyterian church.

Following her husband's death, she operated the TRF Credit Bureau from 1935 to 1950.

Mrs. Bishop is survived by her daughter and a son, Morlan H. Bishop of Minneapolis, two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Final Rites For Henry Rye Were Held Saturday

Funeral services for Henry Rye of the Rosewood area were held Saturday, Jan. 23, at 2 p.m. at the Mission Covenant church at Rosewood. Rev. Walter Blackwood officiated at the ceremony with interment in Wildwood cemetery. Green funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Rye died at his home in New Solum township Tuesday, Jan. 19, at the age of 80. He was born Dec. 16, 1879, at Fertile, Iowa, where he attended school and grew to manhood. He moved with his parents to Granite Falls, where they lived for some time. In Dec., 1908, he married Julia Olson at Thief River Falls and lived at Goodridge for a year. They then returned to Granite Falls, where they lived until 1912 when they moved back to the Goodridge community until 1927. After living in Thief River Falls for a short time, they settled on a farm near Rosewood in 1931, where they had since resided.

Surviving are his wife, four sons, Oliver and Marvin of rural Newfolden, Clifford of Lorrence, Kas., and Ralph of Desota, Kans.; four daughters, Alice, Mrs. Walter Steinhauer, of Holt, Ella, Mrs. Lloyd Anderson, of Thief River Falls, Nora, Mrs. Louis Cloutier, of Spokane, Wash., Ilene, Mrs. Ivan Stitte, of Torres, Calif.; one brother, Ole of International Falls and two sisters, Tilda, Mrs. Julius Weflin, of Tioga, N. D., and Hazel, Mrs. Albert Lappegaard, of Thief River Falls; 19 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. He was preceded in death by one daughter, six brothers and four sisters.

Donald Gillespie Succumbs; Rites Set For Thursday

Donald F. Gillespie, a resident of Thief River Falls for the past 20 years, died Saturday, Jan. 23, at Northwestern hospital at the age of 63.

Funeral services will be held Thursday, Jan. 28, at 2 p.m. at the Sinding funeral chapel. Mr. R. H. Wettencamp will officiate at the rites with interment to be in the Greenwood cemetery.

The body will lie in state at the Sinding funeral home from Tuesday until the time of services Thursday.

Mr. Gillespie was born at Grand Rapids, Michigan, July 9, 1895 and grew to manhood at Bradley, Ill. In 1915 he came with his mother to Alvarado, Minn., and in 1916 he was married to Miss Edith Hallin at Warren. They lived in Alvarado until 1923 when they moved to a farm near Newfolden where they lived until 1940 when they moved to Thief River Falls. Mr. Gillespie was a piano tuner in the city.

Surviving are his wife, Edith; three sons, Orville, Francis and Ellsworth, all of Thief River Falls; one sister and two brothers, Mrs. Art Desmond of Chicago, Ill.; Claude of Chicago and Clyde of Chebanse, Ill. He was preceded in death by one son.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hendrickson and Keith were Sunday evening dinner guests at the home of Ing Gullickson at Middle River.

Nels Hagen, Local Resident 58 Years Dies Saturday

Nels Hagen, a resident of Thief River Falls for the past 58 years died Saturday, Jan. 23, at Northwestern hospital at the age of 74.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday, Jan. 26, at 2 p.m. at Green funeral chapel, with Rev. Reuben Wangberg officiating. Interment will be in Greenwood cemetery. The body will lie in state at Green funeral home from this evening, Monday, until the time of services Tuesday.

Mr. Hagen was born August 28 1885, at Fertile, where he attended school and grew to manhood. He came to Thief River Falls in 1902, working in the sawmill and was also employed by the Soo Line and Great Northern railroads for many years. In 1945 he was united in marriage to Mrs. Tonie Hanson at Sisseton, S. D., after which they continued to live at Thief River Falls.

Surviving are his wife, Tonie; three step-daughters, Mrs. Frederick Ebbighausen and Mrs. Arthur Nelson of Thief River Falls and Mrs. Norman Overby of Nashwauk, Minn.; and one sister, Mary, Mrs. Ole Hagen, of Minneapolis; and several nephews and nieces. He was preceded in death by two brothers and one sister.

John C. Thomas Succumbs; Rites Set For Jan. 27

John C. Thomas, a resident of Thief River Falls for many years, died at Northwestern hospital Friday evening, Jan. 22, at the age of 91.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 27, at 2 p.m. in Green funeral chapel. Rev. Joseph Swan will officiate with interment to be in Greenwood cemetery. The body will lie in state at the funeral home from today, Monday, until the time of services Wednesday.

John Christian Thomas was born Nov. 24, 1869, at Garwin, Iowa, where he attended school and grew to manhood. In 1896, he was married to Lotta May Steward at West Point, Miss., following which they moved back to Iowa and lived in various southern states before coming to Thief River Falls in 1919, where he had since resided.

Surviving are four sons, Evert of Thief River Falls, Stanley of Seattle, Wash., John of Fort Worth, Texas, and Clifford of St. Paul; and six granchildren. He was preceded in death by his wife, one daughter, two sons, two brothers and two sisters.

3 Minor Traffic Mishaps In City

Car Collision Sunday Results in $235 Damage

Three traffic mishaps, all of a minor nature, were reported over the weekend by city police.

The first occurred Jan. 21 at 8:43 p.m., when a car driven north on Main av. by Marlene Y. Torkelson, city, was struck by a car driven south on Main by Alfred A. Hamberg, city, who was making a left turn onto E. Third st.

There was no damage to the Hamberg car, $45 damage to the Torkelson vehicle. No tags were issued.

At 9:50 p.m. Friday John Russell Carlson, who was angle parked facing east on Davis av., attempted to back out and around so that he could go south on Davis. In maneuvering his car he struck another car parked on the opposite side of the street. There was only $5 damage to Carlson's car, $10 to the car belonging to James F. Almer, South St. Paul, but Carlson was tagged for improper turning.

At noon Sunday a car driven by Edwin P. Breznay, city, who was making a right turn off Conley av. S. to go east on Anne st. collided with another vehicle driven by Timothy L. Conners, city, who was turning north onto Conley av. from Anne st.

Damage to Breznay's car was estimated at $75, to Conner's, $160. No tags were issued.

Mutual Insurance Firms to Convene in Minneapolis

Beltrami Co. Man Held in Assault on Neighbor Woman

Donald Carey, 20, Charged with Criminal Assault by Beltrami Co. Authorities

A young Beltrami county farmer accused of assaulting a neighbor woman was arraigned in municipal court in Bemidji Thursday.

Donald E. Carey, was charged with criminal assault and the hearing was continued until Friday.

A woman in her early 30's told Sheriff John Cahill that she woke from a nap in her upstairs bedroom Wednesday and found a man standing over her with a knife in his hand.

The intruder, Cahill was told, threatened the woman with the knife and ordered her not to scream. The woman said she was then raped and her assailant left after plunging the knife into her back.

With no telephone in the house the woman lay for nearly three hours before her husband returned. He had gone to nearby Leonard, Minn., to buy a refrigerator—a surprise gift for his wife's birthday.

Her husband took the victim to a Bemidji hospital where her condition was described as fair. A physician said the knife hit one lung.

The woman identified her assailant as Carey. He was arrested at the home of his parents.

Carey asked that the court appoint an attorney to represent him. Bail was set at $10,000.

Leonard is about 20 miles northwest of Bemidji, in northern Minnesota.

Slow Down and Live!

Once Holt Pastor to Serve Church at Detroit Lakes

Rev. T. C. Hanson, pastor of the Breckenridge Lutheran church since 1953, and formerly pastor at Holt and Roseau, has accepted the call of the First Lutheran church of Detroit Lakes.

Rev. Hanson, who will assume his duties as senior pastor of First Lutheran in April, succeeds Rev. Norman Landvik, who has entered the home mission field at Brooklyn Park, a suburb of Minneapolis.

The new pastor will move to Detroit Lakes about April 20 and will be installed Sunday, April 24, by Dr. A. E. Hanson, Moorhead, president of the Northern Minnesota District of the Evangelical Lutheran church.

Local 'B' Quintet Takes EGF 49-35

Prowlers Pull Away in Second Half Friday Night

Coach Joe Mrkonich's Prowler 'B' team, after gaining a 20 to 8 lead over the East Grand Forks 'B' quint in the first period of play, were held to eight points in the second and had their lead pared to three points, 28 to 25, at the intermission. Playing a strong defensive game in the second half, and with Gary Kelly and Elton Hornseth connecting for five and nine points, respectively, the 'B' squad pulled away from the East Grand Forks 'B' squad to win by a 49 to 35 score.

Hornseth and Harvey Ebbighausen, with eleven points apiece, were the high scorers for the locals, while guard Don Coulter led the East Siders with nine points.

Results of Jan. 20th game: Knox, 11, at Northrop, 45
Schedule Wednesday, Jan. 27: Washington at Knox

Coach Phil Beadle's powerful and high-scoring Northrop Indians, exhibiting a well-balanced attack, trounced the Knox Tigers, 45 to 11, in a well-attended grade school basketball game played on the Northrop court Wednesday afternoon.

The Indians dominated the game from the opening tip-off, leading by a 12 to 0 margin score at the end of the first period, and by a 20 to 6 margin at the intermission. Coach Roger Dorn's Tigers made their strongest bid in the second period when successive baskets by Releraon, Dalzell and Dicken added six points to the Knox total.

With center Dennis Hanson and forward Tom Cummings controlling the rebounds, and with their diminutive and aggressive guard 4 ft. 2 inch Gary Hanway setting up the plays, the Indians were markedly superior to the slower Knox squad.

On Wednesday, Jan. 27, coach Al Staley will bring his Washington Wildcats to the East Side for a game against coach Roger Dorn's Knox Tigers. The game, which will be played in the Knox gymnasium, will start at 4:15 p.m.

Prowlers Overcome EGF Lead; Win 46-35

Trailing by a four-point margin, 22 to 18, at the half time intermission in their Northwest conference and district conference basketball game against the East Grand Forks team here Friday night, the Prowlers outpointed the Green Wave, 12 to 4 in the third period and 16 to 9 in the fourth period to register a 46 to 35 triumph.

The Prowlers will meet the Bemidji Lumberjacks here next Saturday night, Jan. 30, in a Northwest conference tilt.

In Friday night's important game, coach Harold Sullivan's squad, on some uncanny corner shooting by forward Joel Cleveland, outpointed the Prowlers, 14 to 10, in the second period to gain a 22 to 18 lead. The East Siders, shooting at the east basket, utilized a "weave" attack to control the ball and set Cleveland for his corner tosses. The slender forward looped in four field goals in the second period, dropping in three field goals from the left corner, and one field goal from the right corner.

Opening the second half of play, coach Hartley Story moved burly Don Ulferts into the Prowler lineup at forward, and the junior dropped in a field goal and a free throw in the opening minute of play, slicing the East Grand Forks lead to one point, 22 to 21. Ron Hanson, getting a fine pass from Ulferts, dunked in a goal, and the Prowlers moved into the lead. But not for long as Cleveland, on a jump shot, tallied a two-pointer. Ulferts tossed in a one-hander from the left side of the court, and then gave Hanson a pass that was handled well, with the lanky center scoring on a lay-up. Gary Vigen kept the East Side hopes alive with a field goal, only to have Hanson drop in a field goal and a free throw, giving the Prowlers a 30 to 26 lead entering the final period.

The Hanson-Ulferts combination continued to be effective in the fourth period, with Ron scoring five field goals, two on assists from Ulferts. The Prowlers opened up a nine-point spread, 38 to 29, midway in the quarter, and with their superior height advantage, which gave the locals control of the boards, had the game "in hand" to win by a 46 to 35 score.

Hanson, with 25 points on ten field goals and five free throws, and scoring seventeen of these points in the second half, was the game's high point player. Gaining runner-up honors, and leading the East Grand Forks attack, was Cleveland, who notched 18 points, getting twelve points in the first half.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Coach Stan Ostby's Roseau team won the Ninth District Midget hockey championship on Sunday afternoon when, in the second game of a two-game series with the Thief River Falls Midgets, they scored a 5 to 1 win over coach Morris Efteland's club.

On Saturday night, playing on the spacious ice sheet of the Roseau Arena, the Roseau club eked out a 2 to 1 win over the locals. For two periods, with goalie John Hellquist playing a sturdy game for the Thief River Falls club, the game was a scoreless tie. Early in the third period, lanky Jerry Klema tallied for Roseau, but the locals knotted the game when Elroy Frolland scored a minute later. With but three minutes of play remaining, Larry Skime scored to give Roseau a 2 to 1 win.

On Sunday afternoon the two teams resumed their series, playing on the Arena ice here. Skime, on a long shot that was partly screened, scored early in the first period for Roseau; but the locals, with Wayne Loeffler driving the puck into the south goal, equalized the game at 1-all, and that was the score at the end of the first period.

In the second period, Roseau's hustling Ricky Anderson, digging the puck out the locals' zone, scored a pair of goals to give the visitors a 3 to 1 lead. And in the final period, Skime and Bob Brandt added "insurance" tallies for the Roseau club, boosting game score to 5 to 1.

The Roseau club gave a fine exhibition of Midget hockey, skating well and passing crisply. Larry Skime and Gary Brandt, a pair of sturdy defensemen and strong rushers, were bulwarks for the Roseau club. And chunky Bob Brandt, a right winger who missed Saturday night's game because of illness, proved a "spark" in the Roseau attack.

Plenty of Action

Sports fans who are desirous of excitement, entertainment, and action can get these desires fulfilled by being in attendance when coach Charles DeCorsey's Prowler wrestling squad engages in an interschool match. On Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 27, at 2:45 p.m., the Prowlers will meet a highly-rated Mahnomen squad in a team match in the high school gymnasium. The Mahnomen squad defeated Greenbush last week.

If you can't be on hand for Wednesday's matinee performance, and it's an awkward time for the towns-people, the Prowlers will meet Greenbush here on Saturday night, Feb. 6.

Coach DeCorsey's squad has exceptional strength in the lighter weights, with Larry Anenson in the 97-lb. class; Dave Wilson (the squad captain, and who is undefeated in six matches) in the 105-lb. class; Mark Maldment in the 114-lb. class; and Arvid Lee in the 122-lb. class. This quartet picked up eighteen points in last Wednesday's match against Park Rapids, as the Prowlers moved into the win column with a 28 to 23 win. Other Prowler point-getters were Joe Taylor, a seventh grader who wrestles in the 129-lb. class; Ron Amundson who competes in the 140-lb. class; and rangy Don Hill, the locals' 177-lb. wrestler.

Who'll Beat Them?

We hope to be in the curling arena at the Fair Grounds when the Ardell Liden rink finally loses a match. To date the quartet—Curly Kezar, Donovan Liden, Duane Liden, and skip Ardell Liden—are undefeated. It's the manner in which they have been scoring their victories that is impressive. They come out there to curl.

Al Thompson and Phil Beadle, veteran members of Thompson's rink (the rink that Ardell Liden played with last season) have made a couple of scouting trips to the arena to watch the Liden rink in action. Al and Phil haven't been over awed by Ardell's rink, and the two maintain that the Thompson rink will beat the Liden rink.

"Behind the glass" observers claim that the Lloyd Halverson and Leo Nelson rinks will make trouble to Ardell and his boys, too. Well, it all makes for interesting curling.

Winnipeg Tobins Defeat Thieves in Arena Sunday 8-1

Visiting Team Racks up Four Goals in the First Period of Game

A strong-skating and smooth passing Winnipeg Tobins hockey club, with Larry Domanski, Bob Wasslin, and Jim Dorman scoring two goals apiece, defeated the senior hockey Thieves, 8 to 1, in an exhibition hockey game played on the Arena ice here Sunday afternoon.

The Tobins, who scored a win over the Emerson Canadians on Saturday night, racked up four goals in the first period, added a pair in the second period, and closed out the game's scoring with another two-goal cluster in the third period.

The Thieves, who were without the services of Glenn Carlson and Fred Dablow, held the Tobins to a 1 to 1 score midway in the first period, with Al Steenerson getting the tally for the locals at the 7:55 mark of the opening period. Center-ice player Domanski beat goalie Rod Collins with the tie-breaking goal at 9:34; and from then on the Tobins were in command of the game.

Prowler 6 Trims Baudette 11 to 1

The Prowlers had a "comfortable" game here on Saturday night as they met the Baudette Bears in a Region Eight hockey conference game, winning by an 11 to 1 score.

Tonight, Monday, coach Gene Sack will take his squad to Grand Forks for an inter-state game against the Grand Forks high school Redskins, the only club to hold a decision over the Prowlers this season. In the season opening game played here on December 15, coach Sergio Gambucci's Redskins registered a 3 to 2 win over the locals. Since that time the Prowlers have scored eleven wins and one tie.

On Friday night, Jan. 29, the ever dangerous St. Paul Johnson club will meet the Prowlers on the Arena rink.

Eddie Holmes started the Prowlers on their decisive win over Baudette on Saturday night when he flipped a backhand shot past goalie Bob Sinclair and into the north net at 0:36 of the first period. Wes Halvorson, who racked up four goals during the game, beat Sinclair at 2:58, and then added another tally at 3:21. Dale Wennberg's goal at 3:32 gave the Prowlers a commanding 4 to 0 lead.

With Archie Schneider in the penalty box, Baudette dented the scoring column at 9:16 with Van Stanley, on assists by Jack Nielson and Jeff Hanson, beating goalie Wayne Halvorson on a backhand shot from fifteen feet out.

The Prowlers, on goals by Wes Halvorson and Dennis Erickson, increased their lead to 6 to 1 in the second period. And in the third period, a pair of goals by Holmes and singles by Don Waldera, Halvorson, and Arlan Hjelle pushed the Prowler scoring total to eleven.

Problems of Failing Creameries Studied

Nearly half of Minnesota's creameries have gone out of business since 1938.

And those hoping to stay alive would do well to take a careful look at reasons for the failures, say University of Minnesota agricultural economists Victor F. Amann and E. Fred Koller. They report that creamery numbers dropped from 834 in 1938 to 460 in 1959. That's a 47 per cent decline.

Meanwhile, butterfat volume per plant went up. The average soared from 319,000 pounds in 1938 to 683,000 during the past year. Number annually receiving less than 400,000 pounds of butterfat decreased 70 per cent, while plants handling 750,000 pounds or more jumped from 42 to 122.

Amann and Koller recently studied 41 creameries which closed down in recent years. Major reasons for failure, they found, were low volume, high operating costs, poor financial condition and failure to keep up with the times.

They report the study in the current issue of "Minnesota Farm Business Notes," an agricultural extension publication.

During their last year of operation, the 41 plants averaged 126,780 pounds of butterfat receipts. Average volume for all state plants in 1955 was more than four times that much.

Processing costs for plants closed since 1950 averaged 9.71 cents per pound of butterfat. That was 2.41 cents above the state average in 1954.

The creameries were steadily losing patrons. Average number was 52 during the last year of business. In their best year of operation, the plants had averaged 128 patrons.

Thirty of the 41 plants received only farm-separated cream when they closed. Only 11 had shifted to whole milk. In other words, the economists say, the plants had failed to keep up with the times. Larger volume patrons who wished to sell milk were often forced to shift to larger plants which had milk receiving equipment. As a result, the creameries lost volume, suffered financially and finally closed.

Most of the plants were in poor shape financially. Their bank accounts were low. Buildings and equipment were run down.

Total assets of the plants averaged $30,760 at closing time. This was about a third as large as the 1950 state average. Total debt at closing averaged $13,287. Net worth averaged $16,384. This left $1.21 of net worth for each $1 per debt. Normally, a ratio of $2 to $1 debt is a much safer minimum.

Thirty-four of the plants were able to pay all commercial creditors in full when they closed. Five defaulted in part, and the other hadn't completed liquidations at the time of the study.

Sixteen plants were able to repay all preferred and common stockholders and holders of book credits in full. Stockholders received no repayment in 14 plants.

Considering economic condition of these firms, the economists say returns to creditors and stockholders weren't as poor as you might expect.

Amann and Koller conclude that creameries with declining volume have three main choices.

One is to improve operations to attract more volume. A second is to merge with other plants for higher volume and lower costs. And a third is to dissolve and sell off their assets.

Pipeline Company Profits Reported Higher Last Year

Interprovincial Pipe Line Company's unaudited consolidated net income for 1959 was announced at Edmonton, Alberta, last week by T. S. Johnston, president, as amounting to $15,604,000, equivalent to $3.08 per share on the outstanding common stock. The 1959 earnings represent an increase of $2,900,000 over 1958 when the earnings per share amounted to $2.51.

Crude oil deliveries by Interprovincial in 1959 increased approximately 12 per cent to 122,900,000 barrels. One of the company's pipelines passes thru Pennington county.

A quarterly dividend of 55 cents per share was declared today, payable March 1, to shareholders of record on February 5.

Firms Reminded of Unemployment Taxes

The Minnesota department of employment security today reminded the 27,000 employers liable under both federal and Minnesota unemployment insurance tax laws that they will not be eligible for the state offset against their three per cent federal tax unless their state unemployment tax for the calendar year 1959 is paid on or before February 1, 1960.

Employment Security Commissioner Frank T. Starkey pointed out that all employers who had four or more workers on their payroll for 20 or more weeks in 1959 are subject to a payroll tax of three per cent (federal unemployment tax) payable to the federal government on or before February 1, 1960.

"However," Starkey said, "Minnesota employers who have paid their state unemployment tax by February 1 to the Minnesota Department of Employment Security may claim this state tax as an offset against the tax due the federal government, in an amount equal to 90 per cent of the federal tax due." The department mailed an informational leaflet with the fourth quarter wage reports December 29 giving a detailed explanation of this offset feature.

"It is particularly important that their Minnesota payments are timely," Starkey explained, "because employers making this payment late are penalized by a provision of the federal law which makes them ineligible to claim the full 90 per cent credit against the federal tax. In addition, the Minnesota law provides for interest penalty on all overdue taxes."

Starkey reminds employers that this deduction is not automatic but must be claimed on Federal Form 940, and that employers of four or more employees who have not received this form should request it from the nearest office of the Internal Revenue Service.

"To insure proper credit for the unemployment tax paid to the state," Starkey added, "employers are urged to indicate their correct state identification number, assigned by the Minnesota department of employment security, in the proper space provided for this purpose on the Federal Form 940."

Tracking Station for Space Shots Due North of EGF

$500,000 Installation Six Miles North of City to Be Built This Year

A key link in the United States tracking system for all space shots will soon be added near East Grand Forks with construction of a half-million-dollar station.

The northwestern Minnesota station, small and inexpensive by the huge budget standards which have become common, is expected to become operational in late summer.

Located six miles north of East Grand Forks, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's newest tracking station will be a modest structure measuring only 100 by 30 feet in area and housing only 15 or so scientists and engineers. But it will be crammed with electronic equipment that will raise its total cost to about $500,000.

Harold L. Hoff, who has charge of NASA's field engineering activities, said the "phase interferometry radio tracking facility"—as the experts refer to such an installation—will track all space shots when it goes into operation. Those include not only ours but also the Russians' and those of any other country which gets into the business (Australia, for one, is expected to soon).

This means that vital information on satellites, deep space probes, moon shots and all sorts of space exploration vehicles will be filtered through the East Grand Forks station.

Hoff said the station could, but probably won't be used for tracking the flight of the Project Mercury astronaut when he is blasted off into space.

$1 Billion Losses by Fire Last Year

Fire damaged or destroyed an estimated $1,047,073,000 worth of property in the United States in 1959, the National Board of Fire Underwriters reported. This is 0.9 per cent less than that for 1958, when estimated monthly losses totaled $1,056,266,000.

According to Lewis A. Vincent, NBFU's general manager, estimated losses for December (1959) totaled $96,444,000, an increase of 22.7 per cent from losses of $78,582,000, reported for November and a decrease of 4.1 per cent from losses of $100,523,000 reported for December, 1958.

"My faith in the proposition that each man should do precisely as he pleases with all which is exclusively his own, lies at the foundation of the sense of justice there is in me. I extend the principle to communities of men as well as to individuals. I so extend it because it is politically wise, as well as naturally just; politically wise in saving us from broils about matters that do not concern us." —Abraham Lincoln

Tight Money

President Eisenhower has again asked congress to raise the interest rate limit on government loans, and as the 1960 political campaign progresses we will hear more and more about tight money and wicked bankers. This issue should provide us with many interesting arguments.

According to the experts, we have tight money because the demand of those who wish to borrow is greater than the supply. The easy money advocates have an easy solution for this. They would make more money available. Printing more paper dollars is a simple operation and the easy-money advocates would speed up the printing presses.

Unfortunately, printing-press money has a way of losing value as the public loses confidence in that value. Our country's credit is not as good as it once was due in part to inflationary government spending. During the seven years of Eisenhower's administration we have gone $15 billion further into debt and that is not an encouraging record. If the spenders had been given a free hand that record would have been much worse and our condition would now be more critical. If that trend continues we will soon be in serious difficulty.

United States Treasury Bonds are now selling at a big discount in the open market. One issue that will mature ten years from now could be bought Thursday for as little as $81.14. At this price the bonds, which pay 3½ per cent, will yield the owner a return of 4.69 per cent.

By going further into debt and putting more bonds on the market, Uncle Sam is competing with the state and local governments, and with individual borrowers, for these limited investors' dollars. If during the seven years of the Eisenhower administration the national debt had been reduced $15 billion then our government's bonds would now be in greater demand and interest rates would be lower.

A person does not need to be an expert on money to recognize the shortcomings of printing-press dollars as a solution for our problem. Most South American countries have resorted to printing-press currency in recent years. The results have been uniformly bad. Several European countries have had similar experiences. The German mark washed out completely after the first world war. France is now trying the hard way to restore the franc to its former value and Italy is struggling to regain confidence for the lira.

Our American colonies fought the war of the revolution with a printing press continental currency, and for many years in this country the expression "it isn't worth a continental" was one way of saying a thing had no value.

The lessons of the past are so clear that all should be able to understand them. We worry about the Communists, but our worst enemy is here at home. Our greatest weakness is our inability to manage our own affairs and our unwillingness to recognize a few of the simple rules of arithmetic.

Cheap money, the main cause of much of our present difficulty, is not the cure for the problem it has already created. More of the same is not the answer.

Japan A Partner

The signing of a new peace treaty with Japan could mark the beginning of a new era in the Orient. For the Japanese this means acceptance by the West as a partner. For our country, and for other western powers, it should mean an alliance that will greatly strengthen our position in the areas that are threatened by Chinese Communism.

So now we are partners in peace with a nation that only a few years ago was a hated enemy in a bitter war. Japan, like the countries of Europe, has made a remarkable recovery during the 15 years that have passed since that war ended. Japan is now one of the great industrial nations, and the people of Japan are enjoying comparative prosperity.

But equally important to Japan, and to the world, has been the establishment of a representative form of government that has encouraged, and to a large extent has made possible, that industrial redevelopment. The significant thing about that new government is the fact that it represents a nation that has broken its ties with backward traditions and now considers its problems in terms of modern and enlightened concepts.

Our war with Japan was not a war against the people of Japan. Our war was with the government of Japan, as our war with Germany was not against the German people but against the government of an Adolf Hitler. The war that ended in the defeat of Japan and Germany is now proving itself to have been a victory for the people of those nations.

President Eisenhower has announced that he will visit Japan later this year and that is good. He will be well received by the people of that country and his visit will make for better understanding between East and West and a will for permanent peace.

Our new treaty with Japan is a long step forward in our effort to secure peace with security.

We Need Action Now

That Roseau hockey game revealed how good a team we have this year and how inadequate our facilities are for hockey spectators. Whichever of the two teams goes to the state tournament, our region will be well represented. And if the awareness of our Arena shortcomings will bring about the needed expansion then that game with Roseau will have served us well in two ways.

Our failure to get better hockey facilities may be attributed largely to our inability to agree as to what should be done. There is strong support for extending the present building to First Street, adding 90 feet to its length, making possible good bleachers on both ends that will provide "seats" for an estimated 2,000 spectators. This idea is opposed by some who favor a new building of the field house type that would provide for both hockey and basketball.

The expansion of the present Arena would not be ideal but we are satisfied that it would be adequate. The big advantage is that such an extension can be had at a comparatively low cost. And there is reason to believe that such an improvement could come close to paying its own way with little cost to the taxpayers. We are sure that our failure to provide adequate facilities has already lost us many thousands of dollars of revenue in various forms.

Consideration should be given at this time also to the desirability of artificial ice. As we understand it this can now be provided at considerably less cost than formerly. Artificial ice would lengthen the skating season and increase the revenue potential.

But with that Roseau game still fresh in our memories, and the hundreds of spectators who could not be accommodated, along with the fact that none of the spectators was given good accommodations, let's get this improvement set up now as an immediate "must" to be completed before another season gets under way.

If we can afford the field house, fine. If we can't, then let's get the best there is, within our means. Needed right now are harmony and action.

Price Stability Needed

For a period of five months the government was out of the butter market and, in fact, out of butter. Now there is a little surplus again and the buying has been resumed, but on a small scale. The country's stock of butter is substantially lower than it was a year ago.

If the trend of recent years continues there will be a shortage of butter again next fall as there was last fall, which resulted in a rapid price increase — and a big decline in consumer demand. The price rise was too abrupt, according to butter men, and housewives rebelled. Some economists think that if there had been a more orderly marketing of the product, and a gradual price increase, the consumer demand could have been maintained. A jump of more than ten per cent in so short a time did the producers more harm than good.

One of the main objectives of John Brandt was price stability. Big fluctuations were good for the speculators but not for the producers, he argued, and it was this thinking that finally led to the Dairy Products Marketing Association in 1938. This organization, with Brandt as its president, was authorized by the government to buy up to 50 million pounds of butter at 75 per cent of parity, and to dispose of this supply as the market would absorb it. Under this program a stable market was maintained until World War II brought a temporary end to all food surplus problems.

But the Dairy Products Marketing Association was successful at that time and maybe something of that kind should be tried again, shifting the industry's marketing problems back to the industry where they belong. Now, with supply and demand fairly even again, and the surplus gone, would be a good time for the government to get out of this business.

The Forbidding Outlook

(Wall Street Journal)

In the midst of the joyful chorus that greeted the President's announcement of a possible $4.2 billion surplus for fiscal 1961, the Tax Foundation blows a realistic note that's sour.

The "outlook is forbidding;" why? Well, for one thing, spending pressures in an election year could easily obliterate that margin of safety. As for this fiscal year, the outlook for the taxpayer is already bleak. The total collection of Federal, state and local taxes for fiscal 1960—ending June 30 this year—will reach a new high of $126 billion. This figure represents spending of around $2,800 per family (in 1918 per family spending was only $1,190).

Since all governments, whether Federal, state or local, can only spend money they receive in taxes or go into debt, the outlook for the taxpayer is grim not only because of the tax burden, as the Foundation says, but because the upward trend of all government spending continues the "threat of really disastrous inflation."

The fact remains that unless government spending is brought under enough control so that the people's government does not compete with the people—and even with itself—for goods and services, inflation cannot effectively be halted.

And so far as the promise of a surplus goes, the philosophers of big spending in Congress are already busy writing promissory notes against it.

At Cross Purposes

(Cripple Creek, Colo., Gold Rush)

How wasteful can we be?

The Department of Agriculture earmarks $756 million to remove land from production.

The Commodity Credit Corporation budgets nearly $2.5 billion to remove surplus produce from the market.

The U.S. Department of Interior requests $216 million for dam building and irrigation programs to add more land to the productive capacity of the country.

And advocates of this philosophy seem to win votes by promising more of it.

Report from the Governor

Another Minnesota program is receiving national attention. Last fall, at the annual meeting of the American Public Health association in Atlantic City, there was presented a panel discussion of a survey of the school health program in one of Minnesota's most progressive small cities.

School Health Program Survey

This survey was conducted at the request of the school, through cooperation of the State Department of Health, the State Department of Education, the School of Public Health at the University of Minnesota, and all of the interested and affected groups in the community. The 200-page report that resulted has received very favorable community reaction.

The programs for health in both the school and community involved are probably better than those in most communities in the nation, yet there were many recommendations for improvement. Some of the findings will no doubt stimulate many other schools and communities to a self-survey to discover what they should do. A program of health education, in the school and for adults in the community, could be of great value.

Poor Nutrition

One condition which this survey revealed seems both paradoxical and unnecessary in a progressive and prosperous community in a food producing area, and that is the fact that about one fourth of the children had diets rated as "poor", a third had diets rated as only "fair", and only 42.2 per cent of the diets of these school children was rated as "good". This rating, incidentally, is regarded as better than that found in most of the upper midwest.

This situation is due primarily to faulty habits of eating and faulty education on the subject of good nutrition. Recommendations were made for publication of these findings regarding diet, for more public education as to the essentials of good nutrition, and for more adult education in home economics and more education on nutrition in the school itself.

Findings Indicate Needs

Much of the information brought to light by this survey in itself indicates programs needed. For example, when the survey found that one third of the school children whose eyes needed care or attention were not receiving such care, the recommendation for improvement was clear. When it was learned that only one third of the children entering school for the first time had been immunized for contagious diseases, another avenue for improvement was opened.

The survey revealed that is was only in the new school buildings that lighting met the recommended standards. Perhaps many of our older school buildings should be studied from this point of view.

Home and Community Cooperation

Some of the findings and recommendations have real meaning for parents and for the community. This particular school system has a good program for correction of speech difficulties. A survey of the difficulties of the children just entering school showed that the most common defect was "lisping and baby talk"!

Results of the Survey

The superintendent who took the lead in securing this survey reported in Atlantic City that many recommendations have already been put into effect, new lighting has been installed, and that a vigorous program for health education in the school is under way. He reported a growing interest in all levels of the school system in pursuing every avenue indicated by the health study.

This kind of leadership and cooperative effort is of great value to the school system and the community. As an example, it is of real value to other communities. We in Minnesota are proud of the nation-wide attention that is merited and received by such programs in our state.

Growing With Your Child

Institute of Child Welfare
University of Minnesota

Word vs. Deed

"What you are speaks so loudly that I cannot hear what you are saying." This oft-quoted line from Emerson pretty well sums up the matter of how children learn a large portion of their social attitudes. Even while we tell children to be understanding of others, to be accepting of others, and to judge others on the basis of individual merit; often we are doing things which contrast sharply with our preachments.

Of course, we live in a double standard in many respects; attitudes toward others is just one such area. Parents, for example, often try to develop courtesy and good manners in ways which in themselves are discourteous and ill-mannered. All our arguments about the importance and benefits of courtesy are likely to have little influence if we are not living demonstrations of it. Children who do not hear "please" and "thank you," who are given no feeling of self-respect and dignity, who see little or no considerateness of others, are likely to be quite unimpressed by most of our "talk".

Three places, the home, the church and the school, create in most children their basic attitudes toward others. In each case it is possible that there can be an "official" and an "unofficial" attitude—the "official" one being the one preached and the "unofficial," the one practiced.

Not long ago, I was talking to a man who has responsibility for the education of a large number of young people. This man and his school have a very proper "public" attitude toward minority groups, but it was not long before his real feelings, his "private" prejudices, became apparent. I suspect that if they were evident to me after just a brief visit they are more than obvious to his students.

Churches, too, make much of such high-sounding phrases as "brotherhood of man" and "Fatherhood of God," but sometimes quite unconsciously implant strong prejudices against others who do not believe or practice just as they do. As a result many church members are more able to tell you what it is they are against than what it is for which they stand.

How recently have we as parents spoken so loudly by what we did, that what we might have said has been quite thoroughly drowned out?

Public Opinion

Editor, Times:

The time has come to cease some of the back slapping and begin facing facts such as they are.

This is no laughing matter when both big and small business are moving out of our area. I do believe a city such as ours should be able to maintain what it already has achieved, but when losing that phase of it, it is high time something has to be done. Have we tried like other cities to bring in any new industry into our city? Other cities around this area are now proud owners of potato flaking plants, some have achieved other factories. This would bolster business, city and farm income.

The taxes and sewer and street assessments are exceeding the income of many people. The city's operation should have had a thorough study. These past few year, the economical operations have been forgotten. We all know debts must be paid and there must be an income to be able to do so, with some money left over to be spent for food, clothing, fuel, etc.

I am sure most of us will agree with the new mayor of Crookston when giving his first talk to the 1960 city council. He calls for economy and urges the council to live within the budget.

World Trade and State Farmers

Some of those soybeans Minnesota farmers raised last summer may easily wind up in India.

Products made from your milk may go to Colombia, South America. And wheat, if you raise it, might be sold in Southeast Asia.

These are only a few examples of what foreign trade means to Minnesota farmers.

We export about 4 billion dollars worth of farm commodities annually.

What does that mean to each farmer? It means that for the nation as a whole, production from one acre out of every seven or eight goes overseas.

Now look at Minnesota. In 1958, state farmers produced about $1.5 billion worth of produce.

According to national totals, Minnesota's share of farm exports would include about $15 million worth of soybeans, $30 million in livestock and livestock products, $19.2 million of corn, $13.8 million of dairy products and $9.7 million worth of wheat.

Where do these exports go? In 1958, about half of the total went to western Europe, largely as dollar sales. About a fourth went to Asia, mostly under public law 480. That's the plan for selling food to needy countries and getting paid in their currency, not ours. The currency then is loaned back to the country, to assist in their economic development.

About 14 per cent of our farm exports were sold in Latin America and about 10 per cent in Canada.

Almost 60 per cent of all farm exports were under some sort of government subsidy.

The export market is too big for Minnesota farmers to overlook. Any successful merchant knows he can't serve only part of his customers. The ones that are overlooked can mean the difference between a profit and a loss.

Chemicals for Milk Cows

If you're using antibiotic treatment for mastitis follow the label instructions to the letter.

Same thing applies to any other drugs, or for feed from fields sprayed with insecticides.

It's a matter of protecting milk quality.

Chemicals are helpful if used properly. But if misused, some of the chemicals can show up in milk. For example, milk from a cow whose udder was treated the same day with antibiotics will contain some of the antibiotic.

Chemicals in milk are "adulterants" and pose a serious public health problem. State and federal laws do not allow milk containing adulterants to be sold. Inspectors for the U. S. Food and Drug Administration and for the state and certain local governments are testing for adulterants in milk.

Milk containing adulterants—no matter how little—is subject to seizure. Offenders may face legal action.

Farmers are urged to do everything possible to produce high quality milk. Concentrate on good management. When using antibiotics:

1. Treat cows only when a diagnosis shows antibiotics are needed. They should be used only as part of a preventive program set up on advice from your veterinarian.

2. Do not market milk from cows for the first 72 hours or six milkings after giving the last dose of antibiotics for mastitis control. Follow all instructions and warnings on labels of these materials.

Also, use only insecticides approved for use on milk cows to control flies, lice and other pests. Do not use any systemic insecticides on milk cows, such as those for grub control. Systemics are only for beef cattle and young heifers—and even then the labels give you some precautions to follow.

Also, don't give cattle hay or feed that was sprayed or dusted with the incorrect insecticide or at the wrong time.

When radium breaks down it gives off a gas called radon. This gas can be put into tiny hollow "seeds" of gold and the seeds inserted directly into a cancerous tumor to relieve a patient's pain, stop the tumor's growth or sometimes cure the disorder entirely.

Legumes grow in rows on the Howard Hovde farm near Odessa. It was part of an answer to an old problem Hovde was unsatisfied with low production, poor pasture and crops on "tight" soils. One solution was pasture renovation. He seeded alfalfa and birdsfoot trefoil with a corn planter with a "scalper" ahead. He tells Big Stone county agent Howard Balk that the trefoil did well in 1959—in spite of drouth. And the soil holds more moisture. Cost of preparation and renovation was only about $1 per acre.

Grass waterways and drain tile go hand in hand, says Lloyd Larsen, SCS technician with the Hennepin soil and water conservation district. A waterway parallel to the tile takes excess surface water away without running it through the tile system. This way, farmer needs only minimum size — and minimum cost — drain tile. In fact Larsen says it's often impractical to build a tile system to handle both surface and internal water. On the Herb Jacobs farm near ... is now a broad shallow waterway ... necessary. The tile wouldn't take surface water off fast enough. Now, Jacobs says he gets good corn crops even after heavy rains like the 4 inch ... last June.

Even with 32,000 acres of water, Wright county has more livestock watering pits than ever. According to Orville Berry, SCS conservationist at Buffalo, ACP cost sharing and technical assistance is helping make construction possible. Dry weather, larger farms, controlled grazing and inadequate water facilities make the pits necessary.

Keeping water where it falls is the motto of Roger Moe, Springfield, cooperater in the Brown soil conservation district. He installed a terrace on a field with help from SCS technician Lester Schmidt, Sleepy Eye. "My best corn yields this year from the terraced field," Moe says.

Henry Munson and Norbert Wiwi near St. James find they can drain their cropland and take care of wildlife at the same time. They made a ditch outlet into a gravel pit on the Munson farm, to help provide wildlife cover. The water that collected in the ditch was formerly damaging crops on the Wiwi farm. Both farms are in the Watonwan soil conservation district.

Adding manure or plowing a green crop under may release free amino acids in the soil, University of Minnesota studies show. E. A. Paul and E. L. Schmidt, soil microbiologists, identified 21 different amino acids which were released thru adding manure or crop residue. The question now is whether adding such organic matter can increase protein content of plants —a question which only further research can answer. Amino acids are the components that make up complete proteins.

Trees and shrubs on small "odd" areas around the farm do more than improve the looks of the place. They also do wildlife some good, says Lawrence F. Lamberty, cooperator in the Upper Zumbro soil conservation district at Rochester. He planted a number of pine and spruce in odd places. His farm produced a good crop of pheasants and rabbits and even had more songbirds during the past year.

UNUSUAL WINTER WORK

Best reason for leaving Minnesota to go south for the winter time seems to be, not to escape the cold, but to escape the work! December found an Ada man painting his house, a Jackson man digging unfrozen carrots from his garden, Herman farmers raking hay, and a Glenwood farm finishing fall combining; while Spring Valley folks were both digging carrots and picking pansies.

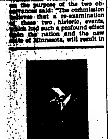
State Group to Plan Civil War Observance



Appointments to a 65-member advisory committee were announced today by Senator Leslie E. Westin, St. Paul, chairman of the Minnesota Civil War and Sioux Uprising Centennial Commission. The advisory group, composed of citizens representing all parts of the state as well as many organizations and a wide array of interests, will play an important role in formulating plans for the two centennials. The 100th anniversary of the Civil War is in 1961, and the centennial of the Minnesota Sioux Uprising will take place a year later.

Among those named on the committee from this area are T. R. Rowell of Baudette and Edwin Mittelholtz of Bemidji.

In making the announcement, Senator Westin said, "Minnesota was a very young state at the outbreak of the Civil War, but it possesses some of the most colorful and dramatic associations with the war. Not the least of these is the Sioux Uprising of 1862, an important chapter in the frontier story of the Civil War. The vivid memory of this Indian Uprising made a permanent impact on Minnesota which survives today.

"Second, the famous charge of the First Minnesota Regiment at Gettysburg, which many historians believe turned the tide of battle in favor of the Union. Further third, Minnesota was the first state to volunteer troops for the Union Army and was the home of the last surviving Union veteran."

Chairman Westin, in speaking on the purpose of the two observances said: "The commission believes that a re-examination of these two historic events, which had such a profound effect upon the nation and the new state of Minnesota, will result in a re-affirmation of faith in our system of government. The centennial observances will not occasion celebration or the opening of old wounds, but rather they will promote sober reflection on the issues of a hundred years ago in light of today's political, economic, and social problems."

Rose Favored as National Flower

Chosen by Wide Margin in Florists' Election

The voters of Minnesota have selected the rose as their choice for the official flower of the United States, according to results of the national flower election announced today by Florists' Telegraph Delivery association. The rose garnered 386,841 votes nationally in the election—more than twice the total of its nearest competitor, the carnation. Third place choice of the nation's flower voters was the chrysanthemum.

The rose swept all sections of the country, and was the most favored floral candidate in 48 of the 50 states. Only Colorado and Hawaii voters named the carnation as their top choice in the national flower election balloting. Already the state flower in New York, the varieties of the Carolina Rose in Iowa, the Arkansas Rose in North Dakota and the Cherokee Rose in Georgia have been acclaimed as official state blossoms.

The national flower election, conducted by the 11,000 FTD florists throughout last October, afforded every American citizen the opportunity to vote for his favorite flower as the official flower of the nation. An independent auditing firm reported that 1,065,629 ballots were cast at member shops in virtually every community of the United States.

The official returns will be submitted tomorrow to the appropriate Congressional committee chairman who can consider recommendations on legislation for an official flower.

BOWLING SCORES

Can some relationship of age to score be established, that the champ may be selected from this pair of junior keglers: Lorenz Dauer, 13, New Ulm, rolled a holiday game of 234. At Little Falls, John Graff, still six months short of five years, rolled a three game series of 412, with a high of 164. Probably a good many veterans in those communities have considerably curbed their bragging.

State Jr. Chamber to Honor Three at Faribault Jan. 30

Distinguished Service Awards to Be Presented to Young Minnesotans

Community service activities of three young Minnesotans will be recognized and cited at Faribault January 30 at the Minnesota Junior Chamber of Commerce distinguished service awards banquet.

The awards will be based on community service, leadership ability, and professional progress. Nominees are between the ages of 21 and 35, but are not limited to Jaycee membership, Jerry Doran, Duluth, state president, explained.

Recent international developments will be discussed at the banquet by Dr. Nicholas Nyardi, former finance minister of Hungary, and now on the staff of the Institute of International Studies at Bradley University. He and his family fled Hungary in 1948 under increasing Soviet pressure.

The banquet will climax the two-day all state meeting where representatives of the 107 chapters will hear progress reports on the state activities, exchange ideas on community service, and honor the nominees who will be guests at the meeting. An estimated 800 Jaycees and wives will attend.

The state executive board and the Minnesota Mrs. Jaycees will meet in conjunction with the all-state session.

14,385 More Jobs in State in 1959

910,625 Workers Held Non-farm Jobs Last Year

Minnesota nonfarm employment in 1959 averaged 910,625 workers, the second highest total on record, Frank T. Starkey, commissioner of the department of employment security, announced today. He said the previous high was in 1957 when an average of 912,575 workers were employed. Compared to 1958, nonfarm employment in 1959 was up 14,385 workers, or 1.6 per cent. The employment gains over 1958 were mainly in the manufacturing and construction industries, and government, Starkey indicated.

"Mining and transportation employment were down from 1958 because of the dispute in the steel industry," Starkey pointed out. "During the dispute, as many as 30,000 workers were idled in the mining, transportation and metal working industries." He said that all other major categories showed gains over 1958 except public utilities which was down slightly because of a trend towards convertion to automatic dialing systems in the telephone industry.

Unemployment in Minnesota averaged 73,500 in 1959, compared to 99,000 the year previous and 63,000 in 1957. The rate of unemployment was 5.4 per cent last year, 7 per cent in 1958, and 4.5 per cent in 1957.

Blue Shield Plan Quits Blue Cross

Medical Aid Plan to Be Operated Independently

The Minnesota Blue Shield medical plan is completing arrangements to serve its 865,000 subscribers and 3,100 participating doctors, independent of administrative and sales services formerly provided by Blue Cross, Dr. C. A. McKinlay, president of Minnesota Medical Service, Inc., announced.

Minnesota Medical Service, Inc., is the executive organization for Blue Shield, the doctor-sponsored, non-profit medical plan.

Dr. McKinlay said a Blue Shield division of enrollment and service has been created to offer specialized service through representatives who will concentrate their full attention on medical-care coverage.

"The new organizational program in no way affects the coverage and status of Blue Shield subscribers," Dr. McKinlay said, adding, "They will continue to receive the same broad medical-surgical-obstetrical coverage, plus the newly added extra coverage for diagnostic x-ray and laboratory services."

4-H CLUB NEWS

St. Hilaire 4-H Club

The St. Hilaire 4-H club met in the council rooms on Thursday, January 14. Gloria Haugen, president, presided.

Dairy demonstrations at the Winter Shows were discussed and club members decided in favor of a Valentine party to be held at the February meeting.

Motion was made and passed that a donation of ten dollars be given to the Red River Valley Winter Shows new building program.

The program consisted of a film, "European Cruise," showed by Doug Richardson, Navy recruiter at Thief River Falls. An interesting talk was given by Ray Bren of the Police Department in Thief River Falls on "Pedestrian Safety". A discussion period of questions and answers followed.

A team demonstration using dairy foods was given by Carol Yonke and Margie Haugen, Paulette Johnson and Vicki Pearson sang a duet. Sandy Wik gave a project talk on "Safety in the Home."

The program concluded with a demonstration on "Evening Snacks" by Linda Tollefson.

Lunch was served by Pietron, Peterson, and Olson families.

Half-done Job Is Not Enough, C of C Is Told

Chamber's Annual Banquet Wednesday Was Well Attended

The "goof-off era" of the half-done job is responsible for many of America's present ills, J. N. Christianson, speaker at the Chamber of Commerce annual banquet, said in his address before a near-capacity audience in the high school cafeteria.

Former mayor Dr. O. D. Beich presided at the banquet, with Rev. A. C. Seltz pronouncing the invocation. During the meal and prior to the introduction of guests, several musical selections were played by a high school ensemble under the direction of James Solsten. Dr. Beich introduced the speaker.

Christianson, vice president and national sales manager of the Quality Park Envelope Co., division of Brown and Bigelow, also told chamber members and their guests that no one man can offer a panacea to cure the ills or solve the problems of this or any other area. Only fresh ideas and hard work by all in concert can make area development possible, he said.

Christianson stated there is no substitute for hard work and that hard work is the foundation on which America was built. We are at present utilizing only 50 per cent of productivity and that Americans are prone to rest too much, he emphasized.

A return to the old moral values and virtues was also called for. When we lose our zest for hard work, building and productivity we are getting old and soft, he said.

Constant improvement is the key to success. Every community must have a program backed by the convictions of everyone in the community, and the community must be made attractive to industry, Christianson stated. He stressed what he called the five "P's" as a necessity for developing a community, as follows: planning of objectives, pooling of ideas, paying the capital risk, program promotion and profits through hard work to make the program a success.

Sig Quam, outgoing chamber president, reviewed the progress of the chamber in 1959 and after his short speech was presented with a plaque for meritorious service by incoming President Donald M. Olson.

"The Preface, 1960" was given by Robert A. Kammerer, chamber executive secretary. Kammerer said human resources are the greatest asset in development in our area.

Kammerer outlined, generally, the chamber's program for 1960 as one of preservation of present resources, work for a better tax structure, better profits, redevelopment of the highway program and more regional planning activities. He stressed area development.

President Olson also spoke briefly on the program for 1960. Following acknowledgements by Olson and the benediction, also given by Reverend Seltz, the meeting was adjourned.

The banquet was served by the Ladies Aid of St. John's Lutheran church.

Adventist Group Donates Clothing

Provides 250 Garments For Relief of Indians

The Dorcas Society of the Thief River Falls Seventh-day Adventist church has presented 250 pieces of clothing, including a number of winter coats to the Redby Lutheran Indian Mission.

The clothing was given Jan. 20 to Mr. Dudley, a member of the Lutheran Mission, for distribution.

Pastor J. H. Turner of the Adventist church, Mrs. Turner and Mrs. S. E. Pollman represented the Dorcas Society in taking the contribution to the Mission.

The Dorcas Society is the welfare group of the Adventist church and is active in helping the local needy, and preparing for disaster relief.

Mrs. R. W. Nelson returned Sunday after spending three days attending a cancer workshop at the Normandy Hotel in Minneapolis.

Mentor Liquor Store Robbed of $1,800 as Bystander Looks on

While 58 year-old George A. Lerfold looked on, two men broke into the Mentor municipal liquor store shortly before midnight Sunday and loaded their panel truck with 18 cases of liquor and a safe containing nearly $2,000 in cash.

Lerfold, employed and lodged in a nearby tavern, was without a telephone and afraid to leave the building, he waited until 7 a.m. Monday to report the burglary.

Then he contacted a passerby, Sam Jeller, who in turn alerted Mentor constable Sven Sveningson. Sveningson called in Polk county sheriff Carl N. Knutson and his staff.

One of the two men stood guard "with something that looked like a gun in his hand," Lerfold told Sheriff Knutson, while the second man did the looting. Occasionally, he said, the guard left his post to help his partner.

Taken were 18 cases of assorted whiskies and brandies and the safe containing $1,800 in cash, some checks, insurance policies and other valuable, but non-negotiable, papers.

Sunday night, Constable Sveningson stayed on duty until about 11:45 p.m., then went home and went to bed. Before he went to sleep, he told Knutson, he heard a vehicle go by his home.

Lerfold heard some pounding shortly before midnight near the building where he works and sleeps. He got up and looked thru the window to see a black panel truck backed up to liquor store.

Afraid to move, he watched while the two men, one of them a "tall, slim fellow," spent more than an hour cleaning out the Mentor municipal establishment. He could give no reason, other than fear of reprisal, for not notifying authorities until six hours after the robbers had escaped.

"If we had been contacted immediately," Sheriff Knutson said Monday, "we could have had cars on the scene within 15 minutes. They never could have gotten away."

Pennington Red Cross Chapter to Convene Tonight

Governor Freeman Here February 3

Tickets Now on Sale for Breakfast at Elks Club

In the course of a "Report to the People" tour of Minnesota, Governor Orville Freeman will speak at a breakfast meeting in the Thief River Falls Elks club next Wednesday morning, Feb. 3, at 7:30.

It was announced that attendance at the breakfast will be restricted to persons who buy tickets in advance. They are available at 75 cents at the Pharmacy, J&B Drug, Bjorkman's store and the Coast-to-Coast store.

The governor will spend Tuesday night in Thief River Falls, coming here after addressing an evening meeting at Fosston. Earlier in the day he will appear at Ada, Red Lake Falls and Bagley. From this city, he will go to Hallock for a luncheon meeting, followed by dinner at Roseau.

Lions to Hear of Course of Study by Dale Carnegie

George Hale, program chairman, announced at the Lions club luncheon meeting Wednesday noon that plans for a demonstration program for the projected Dale Carnegie course in public speaking and salesmanship to be instituted in Thief River Falls will be discussed at next Wednesday's meeting by Sam Carlson of Minneapolis, representative of the Carnegie system.

Mrs. George Gessner and Tommy of this city and Judy of Minneapolis will leave Monday for Mission, Texas to spend a month. They will join Mr. Gessner there.

Calvin Ripley New President of TRF Builders Exchange

Nearly 100 Persons at Group's Annual Banquet in Elks Club Wednesday

Nearly 100 members of the Thief River Falls Builders Exchange attended its annual banquet Wednesday evening in the Elks club rooms.

Doug Tegtmeier, KTRF sports announcer, who officiated as toastmaster, introduced Philip Prichard, retiring president, and his successor, Calvin Ripley, who was elected at a business meeting preceding the dinner. Both men spoke briefly.

Also elected was Reid Stromberg as vice president. The board of directors includes Ed Langlie, James Walker and Clarence Dicken.

Substituting on the program for Dreng Bjornaraa of Minneapolis, who was detained in that city, was Elmer A. Anderson, assistant construction manager of the American Bridge division of the United States Steel Corp.

Anderson, whose company built the superstructure of the five-mile-long Mackinac bridge in Michigan, showed interesting motion pictures dealing with all phases of the huge project, which he said had taken 70 years to bring to reality.

Free Church Gives Good Report for '59

Officers Submit Reports at Recent Annual Meeting

Reports presented at the annual meeting of the Evangelical Free church of Thief River Falls Jan. 12, indicated growth and stability in the various departments of the work.

The Sunday school, with an enrollment of 160, had an average attendance of 133 in 1959. David Martin was reelected as superintendent.

The Women's Missionary Society continued its growth under the leadership of Mrs. George Carlson. Mrs. Lester Gustafson is president for 1960. The White Cross workers have been active throughout the year on behalf of both home and foreign missions. The Youth Fellowship with Miss Merna Bjornlie as president had a successful year in 1959. Miss Elvida Sollom is president for 1960.

Contributions to the work of the congregation totaled $17,005, which, together with a loan for improvements brought receipts to $19,275. Disbursements amounted to $20,219.21, of which $2,230.01 was for foreign missions and $2,935.05 for home missions and benevolences. Clyde Christensen was reelected chairman of the church. Rev. Joseph Swan is the pastor.

FLOODED OIL BURNER BRINGS OUT FIREMEN

The fire department was called Tuesday shortly before 6 p.m. to the Clarence Skibicki home in Rustad's addition, where an oil burner became flooded, no damage resulting.

Lincoln PTA Unit Holds Discussion

Mrs. Kendall Gustafson Presides at Meeting

A small attendance was registered Monday evening at the January session of the Lincoln high school PTA unit. In the absence of Sidney Lieberman, president, Mrs. Kendall Gustafson, vice president, conducted the meeting, with Mrs. William Smith offering the PTA prayer.

Joseph Iverson, Arnold Larson and Frank Hamerlinck of the school staff shared leadership of discussion groups dealing with achievement grouping; the school lunch program and the noon hour schedule; and teacher-parent conferences and other methods of reporting.

Mrs. Robert Bredeson discussed a PTA pamphlet giving advice to parents in dealing with teen-age problems.

State, Canada Agree on Road to N.W. Angle

Highway Officials of State and Manitoba Reach Agreement

Minnesota and Manitoba highway officials agreed last week on the terms of a compact to be entered into by the state and the province, "covering the financial participation, design and construction of approximately 35 miles section of the Great River Road" that will join the Northwest Angle with the State of Minnesota, according to John H. Swanberg, chief engineer of the Minnesota highway department.

Under the terms of this agreement, the American federal government would participate to the extent of 50 per cent in the cost of design and construction of the highway from the border to a point west of the Northwest Angle. Manitoba would pay the other half of this cost and would pay all of the cost of the approximately 26 miles northward to the Trans-Canada highway. All of the maintenance will be a Manitoba responsibility.

Following the designation by the Minnesota legislature of a trunk highway from the River Road into the Northwest Angle, this stub will be built and maintained by the Minnesota highway department.

After formal approval by Minnesota and Manitoba officials, the compact will be submitted to Congress for its approval and an appropriation so that the project can be initiated and financed in the near future. It is hoped that this can be accomplished in the present session of Congress and construction started in 1961, Mr. Swanberg said.

Manitoba officials who were members of the viewing party which met north of the border Wednesday were L. W. Blackman, assistant deputy minister of public works; J. W. E. Brako, district engineer; J. H. McQuirk, assistant district engineer; C. J. Broughton, senior resident engineer; L. B. Waller and J. D. Scott, resident engineers; James G. Somers, provincial forester, and Walter Danyluck, chief of parks and recreation.

Minnesota highway department officials besides Mr. Swanberg were Walter Schultz, staff assistant; and Carl M. Larson, district engineer, and E. W. Johnson, assistant district engineer of Bemidji. Ralph Welte, northern district supervisor of the division of state parks, was also present.

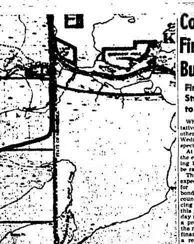
Maps showing the route that has been approved are published elsewhere in this issue.

Soil Conservation Aids Longren Farm

Alfred Longren Has Been Cooperating Ten Years

A steady increase in average crops harvested has been shown over the past 10 years by following a good conservation program on a North township farm.

Don Lawrence, Soil Conservation Service fieldman, reported this week on the success of Alfred Longren who farms 300 acres and has been a 10-year cooperator.



The first step in the program was drainage to remove surface water so that good stands of grasses and legumes could be established, according to Longren. Drainage was followed by using grasses and legumes in rotation to improve the soil.

Soil which is of heavy clay used to prevent rain from soaking in but the structure has now been improved after the drainage and plantings.

There are now more bushels in the bin and more tons of hay in the stack, Longren said. What is more, it takes less time and fuel to do the plowing.

G. Aakhus Pleads Guilty to Evading U.S. Income Taxes

Grundy Aakhus, proprietor of Grundy's Office Supply, appeared Monday in federal court in St. Paul and pleaded guilty to a charge of evading the tax on $15,000 in income during 1956. He had been indicted on the charge January 20. Judge Dennis F. Donovan ordered a pre-sentence investigation.

41 to Pay over $1,000 Personal Property Tax in County in 1960

Bad news for many Pennington county business firms and farmers is contained in the 1960 personal property tax list, recently completed in the office of County Treasurer Ellsworth Jorgenson and published in this issue of the Times.

The tax is due and payable before March 1, while amounts in excess of $10 may be paid in two installments, with the second half due before July 1.

Forty-one property owners are called on this year to pay amounts in excess of $1,000, including 37 in Thief River Falls, two in the Town of North, one in St. Hilaire, and Lakehead Pipeline company, by far the biggest taxpayer in Pennington county, which has a tax bill in five townships aggregating $38,431. In 1959 40 firms were assessed $1,000 or more.

Nine firms in Thief River Falls will pay more than $3,000 in personal property taxes this year. Again heading the list is L. B. Hartz Wholesale with $12,272, followed by Land O'Lakes Creameries, $11,230; Minnkota Power Co-op, $4,552; Gamble-Robinson Co., $4,040; Montgomery Ward & Co., $3,560; TRF Co-op Creamery, $3,512; and Bridgeman Creameries, $3,123.

Homemakers Will Study Furniture Here Wednesday

Local Women Invited to Attend Demonstration Meeting at Court House

Pennington county homemakers will meet Wednesday, Feb. 3, to observe demonstrations on furniture selection and arrangement. The meeting will be held in the court house assembly room starting at 1 p.m., according to County Agent Paul Stelmaschuk.

Mrs. Myra Zabel, extension specialist in home furnishings, will use furniture supplied by a local dealer. She will point out color schemes, texture selection, arrangement of furniture and proper selection of furniture types to get the most pleasing effects.

The information provided by the demonstration will be of special interest to all women. It is designed for use in arranging present furniture or any that may be purchased in the future. The program is sponsored by homemakers. All housewives, whether living in town or on farms, are invited, stated Mrs. Alton Carlson, home council president. This is not a leader training meeting, so all homemakers are urged to attend.

Mothers March In Residence Areas Set for Tonight

Women from More Than 20 Local Organizations to Take Part in Campaign

The New March of Dimes currently in progress in Pennington county will reach its climax this evening, Thursday, when nearly 200 women representing more than 20 local clubs, lodges and ladies aids will canvass the Thief River Falls residential areas in the annual Mothers March, under the direction of Mrs. Frank Bond.

The solicitors will be seeking contributions for the National Foundation to help finance its efforts to combat polio, arthritis and birth defects.

The solicitors will call at the Woman's club room in the Auditorium before starting their canvass, and will return there for a cup of coffee after making their rounds.

Mrs. Henry Bothman, county drive chairman, announced that up to Wednesday afternoon she had received incomplete returns from four townships, a total of $160.13 coming from Rocksbury, Sanders, Polk Centre and Wyandotte. She expressed the hope that considerably more would be received when the canvass in those townships is completed.

Also turned in was $156.50 representing collections to date from city employes.

Jaycees to Give Awards Tonight

Boss-Employe Banquet Slated at Legion Club

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, at its annual Boss-Employe banquet this evening, Thursday, at 6:30 in the American Legion club rooms, will present its distinguished service award to a man selected as the outstanding young man of 1959, as well as the outstanding boss.

Bruce Hall, president of the local chapter, announced that the guest speaker will be Jerry Doran of Duluth, state Jaycee president, and that Doug Tegtmeier, KTRF sports announcer, will serve as master of ceremonies.

Council Nears Final Action on Budget for '60

Finance Committee Studying Proposal to Refinance Bonds

What appears to be a final tentative budget for the city had another inspection and going over Wednesday evening, Jan. 27, at a special meeting of the council.

At present, the budget calls for the expenditure of $1,526,261 during 1960 of which $121,865 would be raised through taxes.

The budget is still $79,273 over expected income which will call for either additional revenue bond issues as proposed by some council members or the refinancing of bonds which come due this year. Indications at Wednesday night's council meeting show a preference for refinancing but the matter was turned over to the finance committee for study and a recommendation will be presented at the next council meeting.

The matter of pay raises as asked by the local Teamsters union will be taken up at some date after a union meeting Friday evening to consider the council's counter-proposal to a 20c-an-hour request.

Although the budget examination occupied a large amount of the time, several other matters preceded it. Kenneth Wendel appeared before the council to request permission to have a two-inch water service line installed at the present Fix-It shop at 110 LaBree ave. N. Wendel told the council that a second automatic laundry will be located in the shop and will have a minimum of 12 washers with plans calling for an expansion to 20 units. Permission was granted for the work.

The Thief River Falls Times was designated as the official newspaper for 1960 and the Union State bank and the Northern State bank were designated as the official depositories.

Subject to the granting of state aid which would pay for 2/3 of the work, the council accepted the bid of the Davidson Well company to deepen the airport well. The bid of $1,993 was for a 250-foot well which is deeper than is expected to be necessary and any reduction in the depth of the well would reduce its cost by $7 a foot.

Six city appointments were approved by the council. They are A. G. Jablinske as street commissioner, Tom Fuller as manager of

Rotary Views Film on Arctic Defense

Club to Meet Feb. 1 in High School Cafeteria

A film made during the construction of the distant early warning line of radar stations north of the Arctic Circle was the main feature of the Monday noon meeting of the Rotary club Jan. 25.

The DEW line, the northernmost outposts of American defense, was a joint effort of United States and Canadian governments and civilians. Al Bacon of the local Northwestern Bell Telephone company office arranged for the film's showing.

The Feb. 1 Rotary luncheon will be in the high school cafeteria and will be followed by a tour of the area vocational school, the Kiewel Products company and the Northern Woodwork company.

A nominating committee composed of Al Bacon, Dr. S. E. Pollman and Jim Winjum was announced and will select a slate of candidates for the posts of president, vice-president, treasurer, secretary and four directors.

Martin Gulbranson announced that competition between curling clubs from the Lions and Rotary clubs will take place for the first time Monday, Feb. 1, at 3:30 p.m. at the fairground rink.

Nearly $2,800 More in Fines Paid to City in Municipal Court in '59

Nearly $2800 more in fines in city cases was levied in municipal court in 1959 than 1958, while fees paid out to various agencies increased by $879.45, according to the annual report released by Court Clerk Patricia Thompson. The number of cases handled decreased from 2365 in 1958 to 2246 in 1959.

The court's 1959 summary is as follows: Fines for violations of city ordinances collected and paid to the city, $8328.50; fees collected and paid to the city for state and city criminal cases, $1936.39; fines collected on tickets and paid to the city $1451; fees in civil cases collected and paid to the city, $8.70; fees for transcript of docket, $1; fees for chemical analysis tests, $70.

The total paid to city treasurer was $11,795.59, compared with $9,044.43 in 1958.

Fees paid out were as follows: Stanley N. Mortenson, special municipal judge, $41; fines paid to state treasurer, highway patrol cases, $2152; fines collected and paid to county in state criminal cases, $2577.50; paid to county, refund of fees, $7; paid to county, library fees for civil cases, $2, fines paid to county, game & fish violations, $80; paid to sheriff, fees and mileage in state cases, $209.20.

The total paid to others was $5,068.70, compared with $4,189.25 in 1958.

The breakdown of cases is as follows: Number of cases handled for violations of city ordinances (exclusive of ticket cases) was 428; number of parking tickets handled including those where no fine was involved, 1549; and the number of state cases was 269. The reduced total for 1959 was 2,246 compared with 2,365 in 1958.

Ramona Sinding Is Wed To J. Hunziker Jan. 23

Miss Ramona Marie Sinding of Minneapolis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Sinding of this city, became the bride of Joel Hunziker of Minneapolis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hunziker of Willmar, Minn., Saturday, Jan. 23 in Minneapolis.

The double ring ceremony took place at 7:30 p.m. at St. Peters Lutheran church and was officiated by Rev. Ottar Jorgenson. Miss Sonja Kirkegaard of Minneapolis, friend of the bride, was at the organ with Miss Kathy Sinding of Thief River Falls singing "The Lord's Prayer" and "Bless This House," during the ceremony.

For her wedding the bride chose a street length dress of unfadeable green taffeta featuring long sleeves and a bouffant skirt. Her attire was accented with a green hat-veil, black shoes and gloves and a string of pearls. She carried a nosegay bouquet of pink roses surrounded by white and yellow roses.

Miss Barbara Sinding of Minneapolis, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of bronze changeable taffeta, similar to that of the bride with bronze and brown accessories and a corsage of pink and yellow roses.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was Walter Doelz of Minneapolis, his brother-in-law.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Sinding chose a beige brocade dress with matching accessories while Mrs. Hunziker was dressed in a black wool dress with matching accessories. Their corsages were of yellow and bronze roses. Both maternal grandmothers of the bridal couple were present at the ceremony and were presented corsages.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Doelz with Mr. and Mrs. Doelz and Mr. and Mrs. Sinding as hosts. The wedding cake, a traditional "Kransekake" (Danish and Norwegian wedding cake), was baked and decorated by the bride's mother. Miss Jo Hunziker, sister of the bridegroom, was in charge of the guest book and poured. Mrs. Walter Doelz, sister of the bridegroom, cut and served the cake.

Mrs. Hunziker is a graduate of Tyler high school and attended the University of Minnesota. She is presently employed by the J. C. Penney Co. in Minneapolis. The bridegroom attended the University of North Dakota and the University of Minnesota and is now associated in manager training with the J. C. Penney Co. Mr. and Mrs. Hunziker will be making their home in Minneapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Sinding and their family attended the wedding and spent the weekend with their daughters in Minneapolis.

Two Plead Guilty to Robbery Charge

Local Men Involved in Isanti Co. Burglaries

Two men who admitted to breaking into four concerns here and in Marshall county after their capture by the Mille Lacs county sheriff, pleaded guilty at Cambridge, Minn., to robberies in Isanti county and have been bound over to district court there for sentencing Feb. 2.

Lester Duane Hermanson, 23, Ogilvie, and Ernie Wm. Mostrom, 31, city, were charged with the crimes they committed in Isanti county, according to Isanti county Sheriff Lorne Erickson. Following their plea of guilty they were bound over for sentencing. Erickson said, in a phone call to Sheriff Charles Richards here.

In questioning at Milaca last weekend the two men confessed to burglaries in several counties and a considerable amount of stolen property was recovered. They admitted to Richards, Police Chief Elton Cummings and Marshall county Sheriff Oscar Erickson they had broken into Phillips Auto Wrecking here and had robbed three taverns in Holt and Middle River.

The Library Corner

By Mrs. Eleanor Olson

Even if Santa checks his list once, checks it twice, now and then there is a slip up in his efficiency. Such a mistake happened this year in the Dr. George Martin home. But ten-year-old Jodi Ann knew just what to do to set everything right.

When Jodi received two copies of Dr. Seuss's "The Cat in the Hat Comes Back," she turned around and played Santa herself, giving the second copy to the Carnegie public library. She knew that if she loved this book, written specifically by Dr. Seuss, a noted educator, for beginning readers to read to themselves, there were lots of other children in Thief River Falls who would like to read it too, and she was right.

Jodi's gift book, though the newest, is not the only gift volume added to the Library in the last few years. Some of the loveliest books there have been specially selected by the librarian at the request of friends or relatives to honor someone they wanted to remember. Often these books represented that person's life-long interest.

Two beautiful bird books were added to the reference shelves by friends of Mrs. Hazel Halgrim who knew she was a devoted "bird watcher." One of these is Audubon's bird biographies which he wrote to supplement the famous drawings he made while traveling through America's wilderness in the early 1880s. The biographies are filled with many fascinating revelations to modern readers who can only imagine, for instance, the sky darkened by flocks of the now-extinct passenger pigeon.

"Mixed Train Daily" by Lucius Beebe, given in honor of Philip Bryant, one-time superintendent of the Soo Line here, is an intriguing book for railroaders, model train fans and history students alike. Filled with beautiful photos, it tells about the many short-line roads that served small towns across the country with an engine and a combination mail-baggage-passenger car, picking up whatever freight there was: pulp wood, oil, oats or silver.

Blanche G. Korstad, who for years brought the city's youngsters through the baffling intricacies of higher mathematics, is appropriately enough remembered with "A Child's Story of the Nativity," filled with unbelievably delicate illustrations done with a Rennaissance flair. "A Tale of Easter," by Tasha Tudor bears the name of Minnie Leavitt, former high school librarian and English teacher here for many, many years.

Not all books given have been references. One of her good friends, knowing Mrs. Bragg was passionately fond of mysteries, thoughtfully asked the librarian to put two top-notch thrillers on the shelf in her name.

If you want to give a lasting memorial, three or five dollars can buy an individual book, smaller amounts can be added to a purchase fund on behalf of the special interests of someone you would like to remember.

Beltrami Co. Man to Face Trial for Criminal Assault

A young Beltrami county farmer accused of raping and knifing a neighbor woman waived preliminary hearing Monday and was bound over to February term of district court in Bemidji.

Douglas E. Carey, 20, rural Bemidji, appeared in municipal court on a charge of rape. He was represented by his court-appointed attorney, Thomas Hilligan of Bemidji. Carey was returned to Beltrami county jail in lieu of $10,000 bond.

Carey was identified by the woman as the man who attacked her and plunged a knife in her back in her upstairs bedroom Wednesday.

The woman is recovering in a Bemidji hospital.

Vacation Savings Plan at Union State

Promotion Opens Today to Continue Thru Feb. 12

An all out savings promotion built around the theme "Start Saving Now for Summer Vacation" is currently under way at the Union State bank.

This program, said J. J. Womack, president, was designed specifically for people who want enough money to finance vacations this year and also for those people who seem to miss out on vacations every year due to lack of funds.

The lobby of the bank has been decorated with displays resembling summer weather and summer activities which might lead one to believe that this was the middle of August instead of January.

The promotion began today and will continue thru Feb. 12.

Concordia Band on 2-state Tour

The Concordia College concert band of Moorhead, under the direction of Mr. Leif I. Christianson will travel through parts of Wisconsin and Minnesota during its annual winter tour. Following the opening concert at Park Rapids Feb. 1, the tour continues through Feb. 5 when the band performs at Barron, Wis.

The annual home concert will be presented Feb. 7 at Memorial Auditorium.

Problems of Aging to Be Topic at Bemidji

"The challenge of the additional years that medical science has added to our lives and how to meet it" will be studied in a one-day workshop in Bemidji Saturday, Feb. 27, it was announced today.

Governor Orville Freeman, Bernard Nash, Minnesota special consultant on aging and others in the field will be featured speakers at a regional conference on aging, to be held at Bemidji State college, under the co-sponsorship of the Bemidji branch of the American Association of University Women and the Governor's Citizens Council on Aging, according to Mrs. Jeanne Jahnke, president of the Bemidji branch of the AAUW and Mrs. Althea Atwater, chairman of the Governor's council.

"Professional social workers, clergymen, medical personnel and all organizations and individuals interested in gerontology are urged to attend," said Mrs. Jahnke.

The purpose of this workshop is to mobilize already existing facilities and to acquaint citizens with the vast knowledge that is developing in the field of the aging.

Some of the problems to be studied at the workshop are: Pastoral counseling of the aged, how to organize activities for the aged, individual services for elderly people, homemaker services and foster homes, and adult education for retired citizens.

The sponsoring organizations explained that this regional meeting lays the groundwork for the White House Conference on Aging called by the President of the United States to be held in Washington, D.C., January 1961. Each state has been asked to conduct local meetings in advance of this White House conference.

License Required of State Food Handlers

Every business in Minnesota engaging in the handling of food for human use is now required to be licensed. For the first time, according to Commissioner Byron G. Allen, Minnesota department of agriculture, dairy and food, each establishment which assumes any responsibility connected with the process, sale, serving or storage of food in any form must be licensed by the State.

In effect now is a new license known as the food handlers license which costs $5 annually. It replaces the oleomargarine and milk licenses which now are not required.

Hotels, motels, restaurants and the like which offer food service must also have a food handlers license, but the $3.50 payment made on the hotel and restaurant license constitutes part payment on the food handlers license. This enables licensed hotels and restaurants to obtain the food handlers license for only $1.50.

Exempted from the provisions of the food handlers license are establishments licensed as wholesale produce dealers; ice cream mix and frozen food; slaughter plant and sausage plant; frozen food processing plant; fur farm; egg; egg breaking; dairy plant or cream buying stations and cream grading and testing licenses.

Examples of food handling operations not previously licensed but which will be required now to have a food handlers license are bakeries, caterers, theatres with food service, fruit and vegetable markets, flour mills and food manufacturers or processors of all kinds. Exempt are small operations doing a total annual gross business of $400 or less and those who limit their sales strictly to pre-packaged foods.

Any questions regarding the food handlers license should be directed to the License section, Minnesota Department of Agriculture, 515 State Office building, St. Paul 1, or one of the inspectors of the department.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Smiley 4-H Club

The Smiley 4-H club held its monthly meeting at the Smiley hall January 12.

New business discussed was the radio speaking contest and the Winter Shows. Mrs. Norton Nelson reported on the 4-H institute and discussed the recreation program.

The program was presented by Sharon Knutson. Community singing was led by Ronald Philipp. An action song was directed by Gloria Philipp. Orrin Helgeland gave a project report on safety in electricity. A skit was presented by Sharon Rude and Diane Folkedahl, a new member of the club. Nancy Newton gave a project report on food preparation. On the recreation committee were Bobby McCrum, Howard Lee and Michael Kramer.

Those attending the electrification training session from the Smiley 4-H club were Orrin Helgeland, Arlo Rude, Bobby McCrum and Barry Lee. —Gloria Philipp, reporter.

Black River 4-H

The Black River 4-H club held its monthly meeting January 14, at the school house in District 180.

The meeting was called to order by Beverly Naplin. A demonstration was given by Bobby and Jon Hirst on the subject of sheep. Project reports were given by Barbara Olson on clothing and home furnishing by Roy Olson, Junior.

For recreation, two movies were shown and games were played. Lunch was served by Mrs. Carl Anderson and Mrs. Rudy Kopecky. Kenny Witt, reporter.

Our LAND

Appearing in newspapers of the Minnesota Editorial Association through the cooperation of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service and the University of Minnesota Institute of Agriculture.

Soil conservation reaped some unexpected benefits on two farms in the Winona soil and water conservation district. Fifteen years ago, Leo Heiden stripcropped about 45 acres. The watershed drained into a culvert through a road leading to the Robert Boehmke farm. Previously, floods from the watershed had overtaxed the culvert and would run over the road. Now, soil conservation has reduced the runoff to a point where the culvert easily handles the flow. A serious safety hazard has been ended.

Filling in gully heads in two waterways used to be a periodic chore for W. M. Heesch, Hatfield. The waterways emptied into a deep ditch along the railroad track. In 1958, Heesch took the problem to Lester Swanson, SCS technician. Swanson's advice: put in a concrete block "toe-wall" structure in each gully. SCS engineer Clarence Simonson did the surveys and design. Then Heesch, Pipestone SCD cooperator, installed the structures with ACP cost-sharing help.

News about the Community Adult Education Program

Sewing— Among the homemaking courses offered to adults in the Thief River Falls area during this session of the Adult Education program are "Beginning Clothing", a sewing course designed for the beginner; and "Special Sewing Techniques", which will concentrate on practice in using sewing machine attachments to apply decorative detail, zippers, pockets, etc.

The instructor for "Beginning Clothing" will be Mrs. Ruth Legvold, while "Special Sewing Techniques" will be taught by Mrs. Adeline Storey. Mrs. Beth Pound, pictured above with two adult sewing students from last session, will be teaching a course in "Millinery", or hat making this session.

Additional information on these courses or on any others offered this session will be found in the Adult Evening School brochure, which all area residents should have at this time. If you did not receive your brochure in the mail, or if you desire further information, please call the Area Vocational School at MU 1-4588.

OVER THE BACK FENCE

By STAN PETERSON

A Bad Tax

Ever since men gathered in groups for their mutual defense and benefit, they have found it necessary to contribute something for the operation of the governing bodies.

With few exceptions, everyone expects to pay his fair share in the form of taxes. Only when the tax burden becomes too heavy or is unfair do those who pay the bill feel that they, like Dr. Frankenstein, have created a monster capable of destroying them.

The amount of news and editorial space which has been devoted to the growing tax burden is immeasurable. Taxes which are unfair have always taken a secondary role.

There is one tax, with which most of us will soon come in contact, which is unfair, unequal, archaic and impossible to administer. Recent legislation in Minnesota has made it optional by counties and the household property tax has become a thing of the past in some places.

At a recent meeting in Thief River Falls of a legislative committee with township and county officials, it was admitted by some county officials that the matter of assessment was an impossible situation. As stated, the opposition to assessment was that it is impossible for any one person, no matter how diligent or honest, to be capable of appraising the value of household goods.

Put yourself in the shoes of an assessor when he examines the goods in any household in this city. To carry out his job, he must be an expert on the evaluation of a multitude of things including the worth of electronic equipment, he must be able to recognize valuable antiques in contrast to aged but worthless furniture, he must distinguish between good but undistinguished pieces of furniture in contrast to less expensive but more eye-catching units and whether draperies and carpeting were bought for a few dollars or are more valuable than most of us would even imagine.

Added to his burdens this year is the addition of boats and motors to the tax list. Here he must consider materials, size, age and original cost — a task in itself, especially in boating country.

It goes without saying that any assessor who can do a good job under these circumstances must have the wisdom of Solomon and the patience of Job. He would have to have both to make the personal property tax both fair and workable.

How can any one man be expected to set a value on an old but valuable piece of furniture in contrast to a new, unmarred model? A few pieces like the former may be worth more than all the belongings in another house.

A television antenna on the roof certainly indicates that a set is in the house but is it a used $50 model or a $600 color job?

I am in full sympathy with those who defend the household goods tax as one which will include both those who rent and those who own homes but any tax which is subject to so many errors and omissions is not a good one.

If the income from the household goods tax is as necessary for the operation of some of our lower governmental echelons as its defenders claim (and there is no reason to doubt either their intentions or sincerity) then a substitute tax should be put into effect which would be equitable, more easily administered and less likely to be in error.

The new tax list will soon be out. In examining it, we will all do so in the same way. First, we will look at our own and then we will compare it with the assessment of others, including those whose holdings are common knowledge in the community.

Well?

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor Times:

Yesterday I was approached by a few men who had under discussion the proposed new Winter Show buildings to be erected near the Northwest School at Crookston. A 3-year finance pledge program is now under way to raise $400,000 which will be necessary to erect suitable quarters for the show and allowing for an ever-increasing attendance; and further to more adequately house livestock while on exhibit and for sale. Then too, it becomes imperative to allow for ample and proper quarters for industrial exhibits.

Here are some facts:

(1) It is absolutely impossible in those antiquated barns to do justice to livestock breeders bringing livestock for exhibit and sale. The barns cannot be properly ventilated, a fact which is a serious hazard in housing these valuable animals while on display and sale. The regular complaints by cattle exhibitors and patrons because of the unsanitary conditions are fully warranted.

(2) Industry is now an important link in the yearly program of the Winter Show. Within the past 30 years industries have come from practically no participation in the animal show, to more than a hundred individual business firms displaying their wares in more than 1500 lineal feet of floor space, and if granted a desired amount, they would display double this space for display purposes.

(3) For the past 50 years the public has been kind to the Winter Show. Regularly they have attended in justified numbers, sufficiently to spur enthusiasm in the Winter Show board of managers to the extent that this new building program is an absolute need if the Winter Show is to have a continued future.

(4) Parking facilities in Crookston during the show week have been a headache for all concerned. An apology to out of town patrons would be proper, but that alone would not remedy the difficulty. Moving out of town will settle that problem.

An institution like the Winter Show, with its enviable 50 years of continuous show operations, certainly will not need to go begging for the necessary funds to bring the show structure up to date. The Red River Valley people will join in one coordinated effort in raising this necessary money so the Red River Valley Winter Show, which is acclaimed by all of us our own show, when relocated will rest on our state land right next to our Northwest School and Experiment station, two miles north of Crookston.

Value of Fertilizer Application Shown in Pennington Tests

Fertilizer trials in 1959 on the Martin Hanson farm, four miles west of Thief River Falls revealed that fertilizer yields profits. The trials also answered the questions of how much and what kind of fertilizer was best, stated County Agent Paul Stelmaschuk.

In 1958 and 1959 three trials were conducted on the Hanson farm. In 1957 they were on the Jens Kierk farm operated by Andrew Skaar. The results of the 1959 trials which were on sandy loam (Rockwell) soils, follow:

The soil tested: 7.6 in pH; OM was 2.9 per cent (low); P, 10 lbs. (low); K, 90 lbs. (low).

The cropping practices were: 1955, summer fallow; 1956, barley; 1957, flax; 1958, oats; and 1959, oats underseeded.

The first 20 lbs. of nitrogen applied gave a nine bushel increase in barley. The second 20 lbs. of nitrogen increased the yield only 3.6 bushel. The first 20 lbs. of nitrogen gave the farmer $3 back for $1 spent. The second 20 lbs. $1.20 for $1 spent. In addition there was a 3.7 per cent increase in plump kernels.

The first 20 lbs. of phosphorus gave a 5.3 bushels increase in yield, the second 20 lbs. a two bushel increase. One dollar spent on phosphorus returned $2.65 with the first 20 lbs. application. There was no profit on the second 20 lbs. application.

Potash gave a 3.3 bushel increase in barley for the first 20 lbs. application and only 0.2 bushel increase when another 20 lbs. were added. The first 20 lbs. of potash returned $3.30 for $1 spent on fertilizer. The second 20 lbs. gave no increase.

The test showed a definite need for fertilizer. The best application on barley on sandy loam soil with the soil test readings shown above was 20 lbs. of nitrogen, 20 lbs. of phosphorus and 20 lbs. of potash.

Farmers need to take a soil test to determine the soil needs. Then the fertilizer application can be figured on the basis of plot work in the county plus the soil test analysis. Both are needed. Both substitute knowledge for guess work and insure better crop production, said Stelmaschuk.

Council Nearing Final Action on Budget for 1960

the liquor dispensary, Roy Langevin as fire chief, Ole Ness as superintendent of the sewerage treatment plant, Oscar Bakke as superintendent of parks and Henry Thorson as building engineer. The appointment of Daniel Illies as airport manager and Charles Dostal as sports arena custodian were delayed until letters of recommendation from the airport commission, and the recreation board are received.

Aldermen Milton Relerson and Roy Lee were appointed by Mayor Orin Green to serve on the city-county civil defense council.

Robert Wurst, city attorney, was directed to prepare a proposal on behalf of the council to be sent to officials of the Soo Line railroad in regard to the purchase of land on which it is expected the new one-million-gallon underground storage tank for water will be installed.

The matter of repairing the roof on the municipal liquor store was again brought up. Tom Fuller, manager of the store, has urged that work be done as soon as possible to prevent damage to the interior of the store which may be caused. The matter was turned over to the building committee.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Q—I am a Korea veteran with GI term insurance which I took out several years ago. I understand I may exchange this old term policy for a new kind which costs less. Please give me the details.

A—If your policy has the initials "RS" before its number, you may exchange it for a term policy with a premium about two-thirds less in cost. This new type term gives the same protection, but cannot be renewed after age 50. You may convert this policy to permanent type GI insurance at any time before the last renewal period runs out.

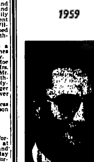
Q—I served in Korea and am just getting around to using my GI school privilege. I start school the spring semester. Will I get a GI allowance check soon after I start school?

A—You must expect to wait about two months after school starts before you receive your first check. VA is not allowed to pay you until after you have completed your first month of school, and it may take up to a month after that before your check arrives. Have enough money with you to tide you over the first two months.

Q—May I take on-the-job training under the War Orphans Education program?

A—No. The law limits War Orphans education to training conducted in a school, although a wide variety of school training is permitted. Job training is definitely prohibited.

S—There is a rumor that the state I live in is going to pay us a bonus. Can you give me any information which would confirm or deny this?



A—The VA does not administer state bonuses. They are administered by the individual states, and information concerning them is available only from the state paying the bonus. Write directly to the department in your state most concerned, or ask a service officer in one of the veterans' organizations.

THE TEEVEE CORNER

By LYN CONNELLY

CONNIE FRANCIS (nee Franconera), teen-age record idol and currently, the hottest guest star on TV (in two weeks she was on Perry Como's, Sid Caesar's and Dick Clark's shows), is as friendly as an English sheep dog and as easy to talk to as the girl next door . . . In fact, possibly easier—depending on the girl next door . . . Connie played her first engagement at Chicago's famous Chez Paree recently, and Joy Layne, 18-year-old recording star from the suburbs wrote her a congratulatory note on her assignment.

Connie immediately called Joy, suggested they meet over a home-cooked dinner — an invitation which Joy extended to Connie's charming mother as well—and startled the sleepy town of Brookfield by actually showing up for the promised dinner . . . Connie is 20 and travels everywhere with her mother . . . Her songs are chosen for her by her father and so far he has done well by his famous daughter . . . She's petite, sweet and—in hep jargon—quite all reet.

THE RECORD WHIRL

WARNER BROS. — The next year brings a rash of good albums from this company . . . One is "Dancing by the Firelight" featuring the Keith Textor Singers . . . The group weaves a romantic web for in-love couples and those with sentimental streaks with soft and lovely renditions of such favorites as "A Lovely Way to Spend an Evening," "Moonlight Cocktail," "Isn't It Romantic?" "3 O'Clock in the Morning," "The Nearness of You," "Dancing on the Ceiling" and other romance builders.

News of Co. D National Guard

The 19th of January, the men received their quarterly pay checks for training attended from Oct. 1 to Dec. 31, 1959. This payroll amounted to over $5000. Most of this money is in circulation right in the Thief River Falls area. As a matter of information to you ex-servicemen; this is how you could be making some extra money without too much time involved.

If you were discharged from the Army as a sergeant with over two years service you can join the National Guard with your sergeant rating and draw $6 for every meeting attended. For a Sunday, you would receive pay for two days or $12. Does your job pay this well? Think it over you ex-servicemen.

Here is another example: 1st Sgt. Chester S. Swanson has completed a combined total of 13 years of service active and National Guard. When he has served only seven more years he will receive a retirement pay at age 60 of $62.70 per month. To equal this monthly income, Sgt. Swanson would have to have $20,000 in the bank drawing interest. Stop in at the armory and talk it over with us.

The following men will leave for six months active duty training on Jan. 30, to receive their training at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri: Recruits Jerome K. Henning and Ronald P. Anderson, Middle River; and LeRoy E. Johnson, Goodridge.

Four men reenlisted in our company. They are Sgt. Leland E. Nelson, Sp4 James H. Winjum, Sp4 Lyle A. Stokke and S.Sgt. Robert E. Walseth.

If you have any questions we can answer for you in this column please send them to Co. D 136th Inf. Minnesota National Guard, Thief River Falls.

Correction

I would like to correct this error made in the news last week. It was not Kevin Skjerven, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Skjerven, baptized a week ago Sunday at the Percy Stokke home, but Randy Vail Skjerven, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Skjerven. The Gordon Skjervens, Randy, Terry and Kathy were luncheon guests among others present. Sorry this mistake happened.

Homemakers Met Monday

The Viking Homemakers met Monday afternoon, Jan. 18, at the school lunch room. It was a fair turn-out. The lesson was on good grooming given by Mrs. Raymond Halvorson and Mrs. Earl Erickson. A dessert lunch was served by Mrs. Axel Gustafson and Agnes Halvorson.

A number of young people enjoyed an ice skating party Saturday evening given by the young people of the Stephen Covenant church. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sackett, Dale Anderson, Arnold and Arlene Melvie, Bob Blackwood, Paul Tangquist, Carol Dau, Rose Osborne, Ruby Drotts, Ione and Larry Gustafson and Janice Carlson.

4-H to Meet Feb. 3

The Viking 4-H club will meet Feb. 3 at the school house. The topic will be "Farm and Home Shop and Tractor". There may be a guest speaker. Gaylord Grandstrand and Erwin Melvie will have demonstrations. Ernest Melvie will give a project talk. Leaders and junior leader are reminded to bring the yearly program books if they have not done so. Program and recreation committee members are Janice Carlson, Darlene Melvie, Jerome Peters and Jon Sorenson. Lunch committee members are John Peters and Alvin Grandstrand families.

Notice

The Viking-New Solum Farmers Union local will meet Thursday, Jan. 28, at 8 p.m. in the school gym. There will be a business meeting, program, report on the St. Paul convention, special music, door prizes and lunch. Everyone is welcome.

The following visited the Good Samaritan Home in Warren on Wednesday: Rev. T. J. Weltzin, Mr. and Mrs. Axel Gustafson, Mrs. Albert Peterson, Mrs. Carl Gustafson, Mrs. Olger Foss, Mrs. Morris Halvorson, Mrs. Hjalmer Stokke, Mrs. Art Windahl, Mr. Egbert Malberg, Mrs. Paul Erickson, Agnes Halvorson and Mrs. Melvin Grandstrand. Devotions were given by Mrs. Foss. Special music was furnished by Mrs. Morris Halvorson and Agnes Halvorson and a talk by Rev. Weltzin. A gift of money was left for a treat for the home.

St. Paul Markets

South St. Paul Livestock Market Report - Monday

Steers and heifers: In the absence of many long-fed steers, there were not many sales above the $27.00 mark. A few head high-Choice and Prime 1,100 lb. steers brought $28.00, and two loads average-Choice 1,082 lb. weights sold at $27.25. Bulk Choice steers cashed at $25.50-27.00, with Good at $23.50-25.00. Standard steers had a spread of $19-23.00, and Utility $16-18.00. A load of Prime 930 lb. heifers cashed at $27.25, high Choice and Prime 1,037 lb. weights going at $27.50. A load weighing 969 lbs. brought $27.25, while average to high-Choice 938 lb. offerings sold at $26.75. Choice heifers were taken at $25.50-26.50. Good $23.50-25.00, and Standard $19-23.00, and Utility $16-18.00. There was the usual assortment of Canner and Cutter steers and heifers at $14-18.00.

Cows and bulls: The increased supply of cows gave buyers a leverage in weakening prices on beef grades. Most Utility and Commercial cows sold at $15-16.50, while Canners and Cutters cashed at $12-14.50. Cutter and Utility bulls cleared mostly at $19-21.00, a few weighty Utility bulls making $21.50. Commercial and Good grades went at $19-20.25. Canners $14-18.00.

Vealers and calves: Most high-Choice and Prime vealers cleared at $35-37.00, bulk Good and Choice grades $26-34.00. Standard grade went at $18-25.00, Cull and Utility $14-17.00. There were a few Culls down to $13.00. Good and Choice slaughter calves bulked at $22-26.00, Utility and Standard $15-21.00, and Culls $13-14.00.

Stocker and Feeder Cattle and Calves:

The meager supply of stocker and feeder classes sold at generally steady prices. Some Good and Choice 575 lb. yearling stock steers cashed at $27.50, the heifer end going at $25.00. Good 560 lb. heifers went at $24.00, and Medium 578 lb. weights $22.00. Medium and Good 908 lb. feeder steers were taken at $21.50. Medium and Good steer calves sold at $23-27.00.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR PROPOSALS

The City Council of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, will receive sealed proposals for the installing of filter equipment and piping for the City's Water Treatment Plant until eight o'clock P.M., February 10, 1960, at the office of the City Clerk, Thief River Falls, Minnesota, at which time all bids will be publicly opened and read aloud.

Copies of the contract documents, including plans and specifications pursuant to which the work shall be done, are on file at the office of the City Clerk, P. G. Pederson, Thief River Falls, Minnesota, and at the office of D. H. Stewart & Associates, Consulting Engineers, 321 East Second Street, Thief River Falls, Minnesota. Copies of said documents may be obtained by depositing $5.00 with the Engineer. The amount of the deposit will be returned to those submitting a bona fide bid and who return the documents in good condition within five days after the date set for opening bids.

The work consists of the installing of filter equipment and piping in an existing filter tank and the making of minor structural changes in the existing filter tank.

Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check or cashier's check acceptable to the City in an amount equal to at least five percent (5%) of the total amount of the bid, payable without condition to the City Clerk of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota. In case the successful bidder fails to enter into a contract or to provide a performance bond as required by law within the specified number of days after the award of the contract, such check shall be forfeited to the City as liquidated damages.

The City Council reserves the right to hold all bids for a period of 30 calendar days after the date set for opening bids and to waive any irregularities, and to reject any or all bids, as they deem to be in the best interest of the City.

Dated this 19th day of January, 1960.

Axel Burman, 77, Dies; Rites Thursday in Salem

Funeral services were held for Axel Burman, a long time resident of this community, at Salem Lutheran church last Thursday. He was a resident of Equality township and died unexpectedly at his home Friday at the age of 77 years, 10 months and 21 days.

Axel Siefried Burman was born to the late Carl and Maria Burman at Bureau Westerbaten, Sweden. He was baptized in Sweden and confirmed at the Salem Lutheran church in 1901. He came to the United States with his parents at the age of eight months and settled in Crookston. His parents moved to McIntosh and in 1902 homesteaded in Equality township. Later Axel homesteaded in Equality township. He moved to his present farm in 1932 where he lived to the time of his death.

On June 4, 1925 he was united in marriage in Salem Lutheran church to Bertha Nelson of Hill River township. To this union two sons and five daughters were born. He was a member of the town board for 14 years and was a deacon of Salem Lutheran church and taught Sunday school for several years.

Left to mourn are his wife Bertha; one son, Marvin of Minneapolis; four daughters, Mavis (Mrs. Arlie Brekke), Ethel (Mrs. Otto Johnson), both of Oklee; Marie Ann and Faith at home; 13 grandchildren; one brother, Carl, of Coco, Mont.; four sisters, Annie (Mrs. Oscar Johnson) of Wisconsin; Wilma (Mrs. Ben Pendahl) of Duluth; Mrs. Alf ___ssum of Duluth; several nieces and nephews. He was preceded in death by one daughter, Betty Lou, and one son, Alvin, who was killed in the Korean war; his parents; one half-sister and three half-brothers.

Funeral Services Held for Ole B. Egeland

Ole B. Egeland, well known Chester township resident, died unexpectedly at his home about noon Wednesday, presumably from a heart attack. He was 72 years old. He was born in Norway July 24, 1887. Seek to End Tie in Grade Hockey Loop

Washington Wildcats to Face St. Bernard's Six

Grade Hockey League

	W	L	T	Pts.
Washington	4	1	2	10
St. Bernard's	4	1	2	10
Northrop	2	2	2	8

Results of Saturday's games:
St. Bernard's 3, vs. Knox, 1
Northrop, 2, vs. Washington, 2.

Schedule, Saturday Jan. 30
Northrop vs. Knox 9:00 A.M.
St. Bernard's vs. Washington, 10:00 A.M.

The grade school hockey league competition will reach a climax on Saturday morning when, at 10:00 A.M., coach Dennis Sullivan's St. Bernard's Broncos and coach George Schlieff's Washington Wildcats attempt to break their first-place tie.

The two teams, with ten points apiece, share the top rung in the league standings. Not since Dec. 12 have the two teams, the Broncos and the Wildcats, met in an Arena rink game, and on that occasion the Wildcats, by a 4 to 1 score, were the victors.

In the first game on Saturday morning's slate, the Northrop Indians, who have a strong second place with eight points, play the Knox Tigers.

In last Saturday's play the St. Bernard's team defeated the Knox, 3 to 1. That goal was the first score by the Knox club in Arena play. The Washington and Northrop clubs played to a 2-all tie.

Prowlers Tip G. Forks; to Play St. Paul Johnson Six

The hockey Prowlers avenged the lone defeat on their season's record on Monday night when, in a game played on the ice sheet in the winter sports building on the UND campus in Grand Forks, they defeated the Grand Forks Central Redskins, 6 to 2. In the Prowlers' schedule-opening game in December, the Redskins recorded a 3 to 2 win over the locals.

On Friday night the Prowlers will meet coach Rube Gustafson's St. Paul Johnson squad on the Arena ice, with the face-off slated for 8:00 P.M. In last season's encounter between the clubs, the game resulted in a 5-all draw.

On Monday night the Prowlers flashed at their brilliant-best as they marked up period leads of 3 to 1, 4 to 1, and 6 to 3 over coach Sergio Gambucci's North Dakota state high school champions.

The Prowlers lit the lamp behind the west goal at the 0:30 mark of the first period when Dale Wennberg and Eddie Holmes combined on a goal, with Wennberg flipping the puck over the prostrate Dave Moen after the Grand Forks netminder had kicked out a pair of on-goal tries. And at the 8:17 mark the Prowlers moved into a 2-to-0 lead when Arlan Hjelle's back-handed lift from just inside the blue-line, eluded goalie Moen.

Grand Forks, during a melee in front of the east goal, and with the Prowlers being somewhat careless in clearing the puck, scored on sophomore Ken Mellem's shot from in close, the tally coming at the 9:52 mark. The Prowlers regained that tally when, at 12:40, Jim Wegge dug the puck out of the end zone, behind the Grand Forks net, sent a pass to Larry Poole, who in turn fed the puck to Wes Halvorson, who hit the corner of the cage for a "picture" goal.

In the second period, which was the finest of the game, the two teams treated the crowd to excellent brand of high school hockey, and it was not until the 11:52 mark that a score was marked up. Wennberg rushed the puck down the ice, carrying along the south side-line, swept around the defense and beat goalie Moen with a shot that trickled past goalie Moen.

The Prowlers added a pair of tallies in the third period to take a 6 to 1 lead before the ever-trying Redskins, in the final minute of play, scored twice to pare the locals lead to 6 to 3. Archie Schneider, playing at the left point, took a pass from Wennberg and scored at 11:26 on a partially screened shot. And at 13:41, Schneider lofted a clearing pass to Arlan Hjelle, who gained control of the puck in center ice near the Redskins' blue-line and then skated in on the Grand Forks net, deked Moen to the left and dunked the puck into the cage.

The Redskins, with a one-man advantage as the Prowlers' Wennberg and Holmes and Grand Forks' Dave Palm were serving penalties, scored when Mellem, taking a pass from Gary Granum, banged a fifteen-foot shot past goalie Wayne Halvorson. And half-a-minute later, at 12:50, Craig Simmons scored on a twenty-foot shot that was screened from Halvorson's view.

POINT WINNER Mark Maidment, Prowler co-captain, facing camera, moves out of a predicament in his 114 lb. class wrestling match with Mahnomen's Larry Elfering at the high school gymnasium on Wednesday afternoon. Maidment won the match on points to add three points to the Prowler total. The Mahnomen squad won the team match, 36 to 16.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

A "Big" Week-end

Local high school sports fans will have a choice bill of fare this week-end, with the Prowlers playing St. Paul Johnson in hockey on Friday night, and the basketball Prowlers meeting the Bemidji Lumberjacks on Saturday night. Both games being played here.

On Friday night, coach Rube Gustafson and his ever-welcome St. Paul Johnson hockey squad will meet coach Gene Sack's spectacular Prowlers on the Arena ice sheet, with the face-off billed for 8:00 P.M.

The hockey rivalry between the Governors of Johnson high school and the Prowlers is of recent origin, having started in 1951. In a state tournament game, a first round tilt, played that year, Johnson defeated the Prowlers, 6 to 2. In 1952, also in a state tournament game, the two teams met in a consolation round game, and the Prowlers marked up a 5 to 1 win. In mid-season of 1955-56, in a game played here, Johnson surprised the Prowlers, who went on to win the state championship that season, by scoring a 3 to 1 win. It was the only loss that the Prowlers of coach Dennis Rolle suffered that season. Last season, in a game played here, Johnson, after trailing by a 4 to 1 score early in the second period, rallied to gain a tie with the Prowlers, 5 to 5, in an overtime tilt. Of the ten Johnson players who saw action in that game, seven — Nick Gabriel, Jerry Erickson, Dave Peterson, John Olson, Louis Torinus, Craig Falkman, and Jim Palumbo — are available for Friday night's game. The hockey Prowlers will have to play at their best, and if they do the locals will mark up a win.

Lumberjacks Coming

On Saturday night, on the high school gymnasium floor, coach Clarence (Bun) Fortier will send his Region Eight basketball champion Lumberjacks against coach Hartley Story's Prowlers.

Fifteen days ago, in a game played on the 94-foot long BSC court, the Prowlers, after playing the Jacks to a 15 to 12 score at the end of the first period, trailing by three points, were guilty of nine mechanical errors in the second period and faded to an eleven-point deficit, 32 to 21, at the half. And then continued to play erratic ball to lose by a 63 to 40 score.

From that performance the Prowlers have only one way to go, and that's up. If the Prowler defense can keep the sturdy Bemidji guards, Bob Glas and Lee Fakbush, fairly well in hand on their drive-ins; and if Ron Hanson can get possession of the ball for his tip ins and lay up shots, the Prowlers may surprise the Jacks.

Rebounds

We are in receipt of statistics of the six-team Provencher hockey league (southern Manitoba) and they reveal that player coach, Jerry Lavergne of St Pierre, is the league's scoring leader with ten goals and ten assists in six league games.

Lavergne, of course, is well-known here for he played with the States-Dominion Thieves in the late 1940's. Jerry, who played here as Jerry Marcoux, was one of the finest stick-handlers to perform for a local club. His agility with a hockey stick compared to that of Mark McCaffrey, George Beverly, and hometalent Bob Baker. We have a vivid recollection of a Thieves vs. Grand Forks Amerks game when Lavergne, carrying the puck toward the north goal, was met by Cliff (Fido) Purpur, who was playing at defense for the Amerks. Purpur, fresh from his playing in the National hockey league, had intentions of checking Lavergne into the second row of seats. But it wasn't to be, for Jerry gave him a shuffle or two and Fido and his check went banging into the boards. It was most embarrassing.

Warroad Lakers Busy

The Warroad Lakers of the OMHT hockey league will have a busy schedule this week. On Saturday night the Lakers travel to Fort Frances for a league encounter against the Canadians. On Sunday afternoon, Jan. 31, the U. S. Olympic team, with Roger and Billy Christian in the lineup, will play the Lakers at Warroad; and on Thursday night, Feb. 4, the Czechoslovakian Olympic hockey team will invade the Warroad arena for a game against the Lakers.

This past week-end, in a two-game series played at Green Bay, the Lakers defeated the Bobcats, 9 to 4 and 7 to 4.

Newfolden Cagers Win Two, Lose One

Baudette Faces Nordics at Newfolden Saturday

Coach Jack Junker's Newfolden Nordics posted a pair of wins and absorbed one loss in the three basketball games played during the week. Playing at Karlstad last Tuesday, the Nordics dropped a 39 to 34 decision to the Rabbits; and in a game played at Warroad, the Nordics defeated the Warriors, 39 to 33. Playing the Roseau Rams at Newfolden on Tuesday night, coach Junker's squad defeated Roseau, 51 to 42, to even the two-game series between the two clubs this season.

Don Engelsrud, the Nordics' high-scoring forward, paced the Newfolden Nordics scoring in the three games. In the Nordics losing effort against Karlstad, Engelsrud scored 24 points; and then, against Warroad, he hit for 15 points. In the Nordics' winning performance against Roseau, Engelsrud scored 19 points to maintain his 19.7 average.

The next game for the Nordics will be against the conference-leading Baudette Bears. Baudette will play Newfolden at Newfolden on Saturday, Jan. 30.

Dostal-Samuelson Win Sweepstakes

Take Top Honors in Match at Family Bowl Sunday

In bowling activity at the Family Bowl lanes on Sunday with a sweepstakes match and an all-stars vs. Fosston match, high scores were posted by the winners. In the sweepstakes, Emil Dostal and Lloyd Samuelson with an aggregate of 1163 won first place. Bess Lang and Duane Jensen with an 1152, held second place; and Gene Leslie and Kermit Kemnitz, with an 1122 gained third place honors.

In the team match, the locals with Gene Leslie having a 527, Emil Larson a 529, John Jaranson a 549, Jesse DuChamp a 526, and Wally DuChamp a 589, defeated the Fosston team by 217 pins in total pins encounter.

The local squad had games of 927 915 888, for aggregate of 2730, while the Fosston team posted scores of 877 842-794 for a 2513 total. In a match between the two teams several weeks ago, the Fosston squad defeated the locals by 58 pins.

Mahnomen Wrestling Squad Takes Lincoln

Coach Les Kertscher's strong and well balanced Mahnomen wrestling squad defeated coach Charles DeCorsey's Prowler squad in an inter district match held here Wednesday afternoon, 36 to 16.

The Prowler grapplers scoring points were Dave Wilson, who pinned Mike Kimball in 3:12, Mark Maidment, who scored a decision over Larry Elfering; Ken Leiran, who gained a decision over Robert Jokumson; and Don Hill, who pinned John Benson in 5:40.

The Mahnomen squad, holders of a decision over the Greenbush squad, gained five point pins in the 97, the 122, the 129, the 135, the 167, and heavyweight classes. And had decisions worth three points apiece, in the 140 and 147 pound classes.

Winter Shows Plan Soils and Fertilizer Program February 23

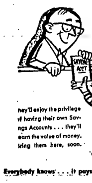
The latest facts in fertilizer needs and soils research will be presented and discussed by experts at a soils and fertilizer short course to be offered on Tuesday, February 23, the second day of the 1960 Red River Valley Winter Shows, Crookston.

Carl Ash, county agricultural agent of West Polk county, will preside at the morning session. The subject of "Nitrogen Needs for the Red River Valley" will be discussed by Olaf C. Soine of Northwest Experiment Station, Crookston, and Ralph Young of North Dakota State college, Fargo.

Phosphate facts will be presented by Merle V. Halverson, A. C. Caldwell, and Lowell Hanson of the University of Minnesota, St. Paul.

All those attending are invited to a "dutch treat" lunch meeting with the Crops and Soils association of the Red River Valley at 12 noon in the dining hall of the Northwest School.

At the noon lunch meeting, E. R. Clark of the U. S. Department of Agriculture will speak on "Seed Import Regulations".



Frank Forbes, district supervisor of county agricultural extension agents of Northwestern Minnesota, will preside in the afternoon. Curtis P. Klint will lead off discussing "Cost and Observations Under Multi-Fertilizer Treatment." Paul M. Burson will discuss "The Fertilization for Grass and Legume Seeding". Curtis J. Overdahl will present the latest general fertilizer recommendations for Northwestern Minnesota.

The subject of "Soil Compaction and Drainage" will be introduced by Dr. W. P. Martin, head of the soils department of the University of Minnesota. The subject of "Land Forming" will be discussed by Dr. Lee Hermsmeier of the ARS Research Station at Morris. Compaction problems will be discussed by Dr. G. R. Blake. Ample opportunity will be provided for questions and answers.

All farmers and fertilizer dealers interested should mark their calendar for February 23. Registration starts at 9:30 a.m.; the morning session will begin at 10 o'clock, and the afternoon session will begin at 1:30. The meetings will be held in the livestock pavilion at the Northwest School and Experiment Station, Crookston.

POLL REPLIES FLOOD LANGEN OFFICE

Congressman Odin Langen is handed part of the first day's replies to his legislative questionnaire by staff assistant David Stenseth in Washington last week. Langen stated that over 1,000 completed questionnaires were returned the first day, with hundreds more coming in on succeeding days. He anticipates that this will continue for weeks, and stated, "Once we receive all the returns, we will tabulate and publicize the results, and as time allows, answer all those who added extensive remarks of their own." The poll was sent to 85,000 Ninth District residents and covered eight National issues.

Livestock Judging Contests Planned for Winter Shows

Team Entries Are Due at Crookston Office Not Later Than February 12

The annual Winter Shows livestock judging contests will be held on Monday, February 22 according to Ed Frederick, dairy husbandman at the Northwest Experiment Station and manager of the livestock judging activities at the 1960 Winter Shows. Red River Valley Winter Shows week, Crookston, is February 22-26.

The judging contests are open to 4-H club and farmer club teams of northwestern Minnesota and to subcollegiate teams of Minnesota, North and South Dakota, and Manitoba Canada.

Two separate contests have been planned—a dairy and a general livestock judging contest. In the dairy contest, the contestants will place three to six classes of dairy animals and give oral reasons for their placing on two classes. In the general livestock contest the contestants will place two rings of hogs, two rings of beef, and two rings of sheep and give oral reasons on one ring of each class of stock.

Plaques or trophies will be awarded to the top teams. The winning team members and runners up will receive ribbons and livestock canes. Awards are donated by the Red River Valley Livestock association, Red River Valley Dairymens association, and Central Livestock association.

Team entries for the contest should be submitted on or before February 12. Official entry blanks may be obtained from the contest manager, Edward C. Frederick, Northwest School and Experiment Station, Crookston. Rudy Gustafson, Otter Tail Power company, Fergus Falls, is the assistant manager.

Social Security Man Here Tuesday

Taxes to Pay Costs of Service Went up Jan. 1

A representative of the Grand Forks district office of the Social Security administration will be in Thief River Falls at the city Auditorium Tuesday, Feb. 2, at 10 a.m. He will answer questions about social security and accept claims for benefits.

"Remember, there is an increase in your social security tax this year," stated Walter D. Kistler, manager of the Grand Forks office, in discussing the financing of the social security program.

Beginning Jan. 1, 1960, the social security contribution rate is 3 per cent each for wage earners and their employers, and 4½ per cent for the self-employed. These rates will apply to the first $4800 of earnings. The district manager pointed out that rates of 2½ per cent each for the wage earners and employers and 3¾ per cent for the self employed were effective through Dec. 31, 1959.

The bureau of old-age and survivors insurance provides protection for most Americans against the hazards of retirement, disability, and death. Today over 13 million beneficiaries are receiving over eight hundred million dollars each month in social security benefits, and the beneficiary rolls are increasing with each passing year.

To assure the financing of the program on a sound actuarial basis, Congress, in August 1958, approved the contribution schedule which provides for the increased rate which began January 1, 1960.

"Happiness is much more dependent on the mental attitude than on external resources. This would be an absurdly obvious platitude, were it not for the fact that 99 out of a 100 persons do not believe it. —William Lyon Phelps

Exhaust Fumes

One American authority who blames both cigarettes and automobile exhaust fumes as causes of lung cancer, makes this comment, "a chain-smoking city taxicab driver runs a chance of lung cancer 20 to 40 times as great as a non-smoking farmer." That offers some encouragement for those who become skeptical about the advantages of rural life. If farming ceases to be a good way to live it may still be looked upon as a good way to survive."

Automobile exhaust fumes are getting more attention as a serious menace to human health in the large centers of population. Carbon monoxide has long been recognized as a killer. In congested automobile traffic people inhale large quantities of this known poison and it is easy to understand why it is looked upon with considerable suspicion.

One estimate guesses that 70 million cars in the United States last year belched out 85 million tons of carbon monoxide, 100 million tons of organic vapors called hydro-carbons and 40 million tons of oxides of nitrogen. We don't know what these things are but they all have evil-sounding names.

What to do about it? We doubt that the politicians will come up with a solution but maybe the scientists can. In a few years we may find our city cousins wearing gas masks. But it isn't likely that we will quit driving cars.

A Growing Industry

The Province of Manitoba was visited by 1,200,000 tourists last year, according to a report by province officials published in the Winnipeg Tribune. These tourists spent an average of $28.80 each, according to the official estimates, or a total of $35,000,000.

The tourist business is a big industry north of the border and is growing bigger fast. The government and private agencies are expanding their tourist facilities and publicity activities and look forward to another record year in 1960. The government's activities are looked upon as self-supporting, the province having collected an estimated $1,500,000 from the visitors through various taxes. We may expect a steadily increasing volume of traffic to and from Canada thru this area, and all of Minnesota will benefit as the Manitoba and western Ontario wonderland of lakes and forests is made accessible.

Of special interest to us is the agreement that has been reached by Minnesota and Manitoba highway officials on the building of the highway into Manitoba on the west side of Lake of the Woods. The plan as agreed upon will now go to Congress for approval of that portion of the highway that will connect the Northwest Angle with the rest of Minnesota. Our government is expected to participate in the cost of this portion of the road. Manitoba will build the rest of the road to the Trans-Canada highway west of Kenora, completing the loop around the lake as the north terminal of the Mississippi River Road.

Nikita Snarls Again

Premier Nikita Khrushchev is starting to talk hard again so maybe the honeymoon is over for a while. He wants total disarmament and quick, and he talks of a "fantastic" weapon now in the "hatching stage" that will soon give his fighters greater-than-ever fire power. He must be under the impression that with such bluster he will be in a better bargaining position at the coming summit meetings.

Such talk, if continued, may have the contrary effect. It has been said that only a madman would start another war. We have no assurance that there never will be another madman. Another war must therefore be looked upon as a possibility. And it may be that Khrushchev is a madman.

There is no reason to hope that Communists have become reconciled to the idea of peaceful coexistence and have abandoned the original program of world conquest. They approach their objectives by devious ways, and perhaps we are in greater danger when they smile than when they frown.

It is understandable that the recent outbreak of Anti-Semitism is attributed by many to the Communists. The fact that all of a sudden an estimated 1,000 "incidents" have occurred in 34 countries throughout the world gives strength to the conclusion that they have been planned that way. Under the circumstances the Communists, and Nikita Khrushchev, naturally become suspect.

Fortunately there is little danger that the Russian premier is going to get what he wants at the Summit meetings. The first meetings are to be largely exploratory, according to the press releases, and there is little likelihood of more Yalta mistakes.

We Liked His Answers

Vice Admiral Hyman G. Rickover told a Meet-the-Press radio audience Sunday afternoon that our hopes for survival depend first and foremost on our schools, but it isn't likely that his answers to the questions directed at him by the reporters will be hailed as a victory by our educators. This authority on atomic submarines may not be an authority on education, and the things he said are not necessarily true because he said them. It was nevertheless interesting to get his views, and these educators who look upon their work as a mission in life, rather than just a job, will give careful consideration to the charges he made.

We were impressed with his insistence on the importance of standards, and his belief that the federal government could make an important contribution to education by establishing high standards for achievement. The high school diploma in our country has little meaning, he pointed out, and is little more than a certificate of attendance. He favored a national standard that would serve as a measuring device on achievement for both students and schools. He thought that we then might develop a system of education that would compare favorably with the schools of Europe.

It is significant that all of his criticism was directed at education at the elementary and secondary levels. In all of his answers he seemed to stress the importance of proper preparation for higher education. Too many high school graduates who are going into higher education are not prepared for it, he said.

Admiral Rickover said several other things that suggested that he might have spent some time checking on our operations here in Thief River Falls, but we concluded that his criticisms applied to us only to the extent that our shortcomings are more or less typical. We liked his answers.

Let's Not Be Hasty

There seems to be increasing support for the idea that the government should buy outright the agricultural lands that are being retired from production under the soil bank program. It is pointed out that under the present rental program the government is coming close to paying the full value of the lands and that without additional cost the rented acres could be taken out of production until they are needed, when they could be put back into production by selling them to the highest bidders.

There are some reasonable objections to such an approach. Taxes are still paid on soil-banked lands and government-owned lands do not pay taxes. And most of the present owners of soil-banked lands maintain their residence at their farm homes, using the roads and the schools and the other local public services that their tax dollars support.

Taking lands off the tax rolls for public purposes is seldom an unmixed blessing. This procedure too often creates hardships that more than offset the benefits, and that would be especially true in this area.

This is a proposal that we should approach cautiously.

"Teen-Agers Go Home"

A Denver, Colorado, municipal judge wrote an open letter to teen-agers some time ago and it has been widely quoted. We are happy to pass it along to Times readers. Here it is:

"Always we hear the plaintive cry of the teen-ager: What can we do . . . Where can we go? The answer is GO HOME!

"Hang the storm windows, paint the woodwork. Rake the leaves, mow the lawn, shovel the walk. Wash the car, learn to cook, scrub some floors. Repair the sink, build a boat, get a job.

"Help the minister, priest or rabbi, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army. Visit the sick, assist the poor, study your lessons. And then when you are through—and not too tired—read a book.

"Your parents do not owe you entertainment. Your city or village does not owe you recreational facilities. The world does not owe you a living . . . You owe the world something. You owe it your time and energy and your talents so that no one will be at war, in poverty, or sick or lonely again.

"In plain, simple words, GROW UP; quit being a cry-baby. Get out of your dream world and develop a backbone, not a wishbone, and start acting like a man or a lady.

"You're supposed to be mature enough to accept some of the responsibility your parents have carried for years. They have nursed, protected, helped, appealed, begged, excused, tolerated and denied themselves needed comforts so that you could have every benefit. This they have done gladly, for you are their dearest treasure. But now, you have no right to expect them to bow to every whim and fancy just because selfish ego instead of common sense dominates your personality, thinking and requests.

"In Heaven's Name, GROW UP and GO HOME!"

The Only Way

(Toronto Globe and Mail)

The cost of running Canada keeps going up. How can we meet that cost without increasing the burden of taxation? Only by increasing our production of wealth. But to increase production, we must have markets—20% of them abroad, as Mr. Fleming points out. To have those markets, our prices must be right, which in turn means our costs must be right.

Increased productivity, stabilizing and lowering costs, is the only way we can meet all our obligations, our dangers and our opportunities. Whoever takes up this matter in the coming session of Parliament, whoever argues that productivity is at least as important as tariffs, quotas, trading blocs and all the rest, will be serving Canada as it urgently needs to be served.

"Economists can't tell you where you're going. They can only tell you where you've been six months after it happened." These words might well have been spoken by some liberal-minded rebel from conformity but instead the quotation is attributed to none other than that arch conservative of conservatives, George H. Humphrey, former Secretary of the Treasury and one of the country's leading steel manufacturers. Probably what it all boils down to is: listen to what the experts may have to say but think and plan for yourself. —Art Suel in The New Prague Times.

'60 CHEVY! ONLY WAY YOU CAN BUY A CAR FOR LESS IS TO BUY A LOT LESS CAR!

The more you look around the more you'll find to convince you that no other low-priced car has so much to show for your money as this new Chevrolet. Here's the kind of styling sophistication and subtle detail that only Fisher Body craftsmanship can create. Here's the kind of Full Coil comfort that neither of the other two leading low-priced cars—and only some of the smoothest riding higher priced ones—build into their suspension systems. Here's more room inside (where you want it) without an inch more outside (where you don't want it). And with all these advances Chevy has managed to hold the price line! Your dealer will be delighted to fill you in on all the facts.

Why settle for a cut-down compact when Dart gives you everything you want for just a few dollars more? Price? Dart prices start with the lowest in the low-price field. Economy? Dart delivers up to 400 miles of cruising on a tankful of "regular" gas. Room? For a crew of six —with full cargo. Maybe that's why so many people who have priced the compact cars are buying Darts!

Dart: The smart way to get economy!

You can always buy a car that's low in price if you're willing to sacrifice room and comfort and performance and styling. The Dodge Dart gives you low price without the sacrifices. It is a fine car by every standard. Dart's all-welded one-piece Unibody is stronger and more spacious than "bolt-together" bodies. It virtually ends squeaks, rattles and rust—keeps Dart new far longer. And Dart's Economy Slant "6" gives V-8 pep with 6-cylinder savings. Is it any wonder Dart sales are soaring?

The Dodge Dart is priced-headed for model with other low-price cars

Questionnaire Sent out by Rep. O. Langen Draws Big Response

When Ninth district Congressman Odin Langen and his staff arrived for work January 18, they thought for a minute they had been barricaded out of their office. Large heavy sacks were piled high in front of their door so as to make entry impossible.

A closer look, however, revealed the lettering "U.S. Mail" on the sacks, and an examination of the contents revealed the first returns—over a thousand in all—of Langen's legislative questionnaire.

This questionnaire is an eight-part poll dealing with national issues which Langen wrote and mailed to 85,000 residents of the Ninth congressional district—one to each of the approximately 48,000 rural boxholders in the district and one to each of the 37,000 persons listed in the district's phone books. Langen and his staff addressed the latter by hand.

Issues covered by the poll's 8 questions include the government's fiscal policy, agriculture, foreign aid, Social Security, federal aid to education, and labor-management relations.

Congressman Langen stated that the replies, after the first day's deluge, have tapered off to an average of about 200 a day, and he anticipates that this will keep up for weeks. "When the returns are all in, the lawmaker said, "We will tabulate the results and make them public. We don't know exactly what percentage of returns to expect, but they tell me that about 18 per cent is considered very good."

Posing a special problem for Langen and his staff are the large number of replies which include elaborations on specific answers, as well as requests, inquiries and opinions on subjects not included in the questionnaire. "Our policy," Langen said, "is to answer or acknowledge all letters on the day of their receipt whenever possible. The volume of correspondence occasioned by the questionnaire, however, means that we will have to answer these items as time permits."

"We are certainly appreciative of these comments, as well as the opinions expressed in the poll itself. They will be of great benefit to me as we consider the important matters before the Congress this year."

State Traffic up Two Pct. in 1959

An overall increase of two per cent in statewide traffic for 1959 was reported today by the Minnesota highway department.

In computing the monthly totals for the year from the department's 27 automatic traffic counters located throughout the state, the increase was due mainly to a sharp upswing in traffic volume in December. Favorable weather resulting in unusually good driving conditions contributed to the late increase.

The traffic count normally shows a decline during the winter months, but December showed an increase of about four per cent over the same month of 1958.

Significant increases in traffic volume were noted on T. H. 2 west of Bagley, T. H. 16 west of Albert Lea, and T. H. 60 southwest of St. James.

ROAD TO ANGLE The map above shows where the new Great River Road to be built west of the Lake of the Woods will be located between the border northwest of Warroad to a point west of the Northwest Angle. From the connection with the present highway east of Middlebro to the junction with the road that Minnesota will build into the Angle is a distance of about 35 miles. The Manitoba road will be extended northward by the province to connect with the Trans-Canada at Falcon Lake west of Kenora.

Minnesota and Manitoba highway officials agreed last week on the terms of a pact that will provide for American and Manitoba participation in the cost of building the road from the border to the Northwest Angle.

Forgot to write my column and must leave town immediately. So, in desperation, I am turning the job over to my wife. This may be a foolish thing to do because wives have a way of taking advantage of opportunities.—Jim Kimball.

Accomplished husbands may have their advantages but we wives must not concede that they excel in everything. We must not be daunted by the fact that husbands may make better speeches, are more deadly with a shotgun, or play a sharper game of ping pong. Any little victory experienced by us weaker females must never be forgotten. In fact, any little boner pulled by friend husband or any of his learned friends must be filed away in our memories to recall for stimulus when we need a lift.

Now that I have the chance to write Jim's column, what better opportunity to tell everybody in Minnesota about a few incidents when Jim or his wildlife friends pulled a few boners that I can laugh at, and perhaps you can too.

In our courting days, when Jim was an eager student in wildlife management at the University, he prided himself on being an expert at fishing. I took him to a lake near our summer cabin where I could show him some really good fishing. Of course, Jim got several long casts out before I was even ready to start. This bit of showing off didn't bother me much, but what happened next really did. I had just hooked a nice northern when Jim threw one of his fancy long casts right over my line. Result—tangled lines, weeds, a snagged deadhead, and no fish. The very thought of it makes me wonder why I ever married the guy.

After we were married, we spent a summer in California while earning our keep in the United States Forest Service. One day, Jim and three of the local loggers were shooting their pistols at a target consisting of a thumb tack inserted in the center of a piece of paper. After they had practiced for quite a while, I came out of the ranger cabin, up to my elbows in flour from the biscuits I was making, to see how they were doing. Upon a polite but skeptical invitation from the men to try my luck, I fired one shot. The thumb tack disappeared and the paper drifted to the ground. I just turned quietly and re-entered the cabin to put the biscuits in the oven I caught a look on my husband's face of true amazement and near admiration. I often think of that day with silent exultation.

Some of Jim's friends know nothing about wildlife or hunting or fishing But not many. Some are more skillful at these sports than others. When it comes to these talents, whether one has a doctor's degree should matter little. But really, you would think that a man who has devoted all his life to wildlife and has a doctor's degree in same, would know how to get into a boat, now wouldn't you? I stood as a witness when this learned friend, skilled in all things of nature, leaped from our dock in a very careless manner into our boat in such a way that he and the boat both sank to the bottom. Nobody ever again can convince me that a Ph.D. can't be all wet.

I think an incident I shall cherish with great glee until a better one comes along is our great ice fishing triumph. Jim and some of his fishing cohorts made elaborate preparations to go on an ice fishing trip up north. They polished their gear, made lists of supplies, made many telephone calls, and left with the greatest confidence in their indubitable success. When they returned three days later, empty handed, one of the wives and I decided to try our luck right here at home. Neither of us had ever ice fished before. We took the left-over minnows and borrowed a fish house. We re-opened the holes in the fish house without even losing the ice chisel. Our hands got pretty cold pulling in the lines because we weren't blessed with the official ice-fishing poles our husbands had, but we got pretty adept at pulling, as we had about 25 fish in two hours. Our husbands had little to say, but ate the fish meekly.

This article may not be highly educational, but I'll bet it will teach one man a lesson. In fact, I may now list this as my greatest triumph.

Beware Groundhog Day, Drivers Told

Highway Safety Chief Says Much of Winter Remains

If the lowly groundhog sings, his tune on February 2 may be, "Me and My Shadow." And if he sees his shadow on that date, a proverb says we can expect the winter to be a long one.

"But whether or not the groundhog sings next Tuesday, there'll be at least another six weeks of occasionally severe winter weather hazards for motorists," warned Harry A. Sieben, director of the state highway safety division.

"In Minnesota, some of the days and nights in February and early March are likely to be marked by severe snowstorms and dangerous sleet," he warned. "Continued careful maintenance of vehicles and cautious driving habits are the best means of preventing traffic tie-ups and avoiding auto accidents.

"Motorists must continue to watch out for pedestrians, too, during the dark days remaining. Traffic regulations require pedestrians to walk to the left, facing traffic, on rural highways. But some pedestrians make mistakes which endanger themselves and the drivers."

CHAINS

These hands might have painted the world's greatest masterpiece. These hands might have played faultlessly the most difficult concerto. These hands might have mixed a compound that would destroy disease. These hands might have been raised in blessing over a trusting mankind.

Instead they are chained. Somewhere, somehow, they failed. Perhaps they reached over a counter and stealthily snatched a jewel. Perhaps they searched a safe and took what other hands had worked for. Perhaps they held the gun that wiped out a life. Somewhere they went wrong. Somewhere they failed.

Hands do not act by themselves. Personalities control them—personalities swayed by impulses and convictions, good and bad. The Church, your Church, is waiting to guide hands, minds, hearts and lives. Here good impulses, right convictions are born and nurtured. Here, in God's House, hands learn to move aright to find life's work, unchained and triumphant.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

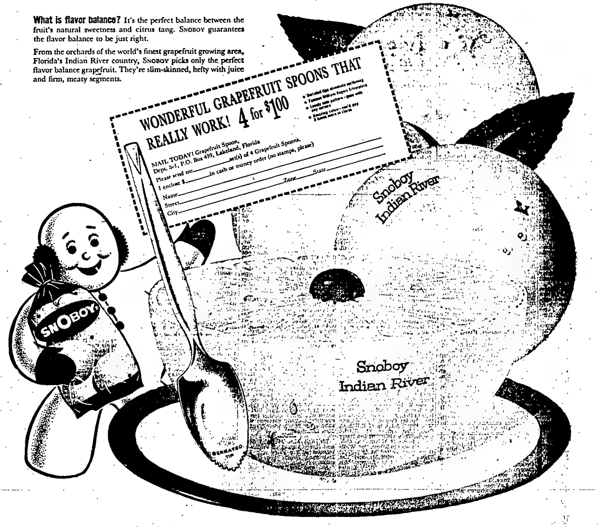
SNOBOY Ideas to spark any meal



Oh Boy, SNOBOY FLORIDA GRAPEFRUIT

with flavor balance guaranteed! Never too sweet, never too tart!

Of course you enjoy grapefruit in the familiar ways; now try out these new SNOBOY ideas on your family. (And remember, when you do, you're giving them a big healthy helping of natural Vitamin C—the vitamin your body can't store and needs every day.)

What is flavor balance? It's the perfect balance between the fruit's natural sweetness and citrus tang. SNOBOY guarantees the flavor balance to be just right.

From the orchards of the world's finest grapefruit growing area, Florida's Indian River country, SNOBOY picks only the perfect flavor balance grapefruit. They're slim-skinned, hefty with juice and firm, meaty segments.

for Breakfast

Broiled Grapefruit

Sprinkle each prepared grapefruit half with 1 tbsp. sugar and a dash of cinnamon, mace or nutmeg, if desired. Dot with 1 tsp. butter. Place grapefruit on broiler rack 3 in. from heat. Broil slowly 15 to 20 min., or until grapefruit is slightly brown and heated through.

Or top with honey, brown sugar, maple syrup or molasses; dot with butter, broil as above.

Sunday Fruit Cup

Combine grapefruit sections with sliced bananas, diced SNOBOY apple. Leave red peel on for color.

for Lunch

Fish Fillets with Grapefruit Sections

- 1 pound fresh or frozen fish fillets
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon Tabasco
- ⅛ teaspoon poultry seasoning
- 3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
- Paprika
- 1 SNOBOY grapefruit, sectioned
- 1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley

Place fillets on aluminum foil on broiler pans. Add salt, Tabasco and poultry seasoning to butter; brush fish with half the mixture. Sprinkle with paprika. Place in preheated broiler 2 inches below medium heat. Broil until fish is easily flaked and moist, about 10 to 12 minutes. During last 3 minutes, place grapefruit sections on top; brush with remaining butter mixture. Broil until fish is cooked. Garnish with parsley. YIELD: 4 servings.

Grapefruit Tossed Salad

Refreshing and appealing, this grapefruit tossed salad, topped with bleu cheese dressing, will attract special attention. Add well-chilled grapefruit sections to mixed salad greens. Pour generous amount of bleu cheese dressing over combination; toss well. Serve at once.

for Dinner

Southern Salad

Put grapefruit sections on greens. Add spoonful of cottage cheese to which onion juice or chopped chives have been added. Serve with French dressing.

Sarasota Salad

Mold tomato aspic in individual ring molds. Unmold and fill center with grapefruit sections. Serve with mayonnaise.

Grapefruit Alaska

- 3 SNOBOY grapefruit
- ⅛ teaspoon salt
- 3 egg whites
- 6 tablespoons sugar
- ¼ teaspoon vanilla
- 1 pint vanilla ice cream

Halve grapefruit; core, cutting out more of the center than usual. Cut around each section with a sharp knife, sprinkle lightly with sugar. Chill thoroughly. When ready to serve, preheat oven to very hot (500°F.) Add salt to egg whites, beat until stiff; gradually add sugar and beat until very stiff. Add vanilla. Remove grapefruit halves from refrigerator; place spoonful ice cream in the center of each half. Cover with meringue. Place in preheated oven until lightly browned, about 1 minute. YIELD: 6 servings.

Why there is no grapefruit like a SNOBOY.

Deep in the Florida Indian River country, grow grapefruit without equal . . . SNOBOY. A unique combination of soil, soft ocean breezes and welcome sunshine nurtures the grapefruit's natural fruit sugar and acid, brings the flavor balance into perfect harmony. This flavor balance produces grapefruit that's tangy yet sweet . . . never flat, never bitter.

When this flavor balance reaches its fulfillment, when the thin-skinned fruit is heavy with juice and plump meaty segments, SNOBOY picks the cream of the orchard's yield. These are the grapefruit, the only grapefruit picked for flavor. Even with all this attention, there are more steps to insure your getting the best.

Once the fruit is picked, SNOBOY's painstaking care continues. Now it is washed, graded by hand, sized and then packed . . . also by hand. Nothing is spared in the matter of handling when it comes to protecting the flavor and quality of SNOBOY grapefruit!

Now the fruit begins its trip to your store. Cooled trucks carry it on its way . . . steadily . . . to make sure every SNOBOY grapefruit arrives in the same top condition it left the orchard. And under SNOBOY's watchful care, you can be sure it does. You can prove it when you taste SNOBOY grapefruit!

FOR BETTER HEALTH

By C. A. Dean, M.D.

MEDITORIAL: Almost every time the subject of mumps is brought up someone will mention that he had the disease "only on one side" and is concerned about getting it on the other. This is a common fallacy, and I would like to correct it with a few facts.

Mumps is an infectious disease (usually contracted in childhood) caused by a virus. It affects the whole body, giving rise to fever, sickness, occasional vomiting, weakness and swelling of several glands. The parotid glands, which lie at the angle of the jaw in front of each ear, are most often involved. The ovaries, testicles and pancreas may also be affected.

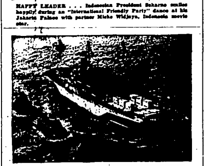
A moderate or severe case of mumps will result in permanent immunity in most cases. It is unusual to get mumps a second time. A great deal of confusion centers around this fact, however, because there is no way to prove a patient has mumps. It is only an assumption in most instances, especially in very mild attacks. The parotid glands may swell from other causes.

If anyone wishes to know if he is immune to mumps, a skin test is available which is accurate. If the results are positive, the person can be almost sure he will not contact mumps.

It should be emphasized that mumps rarely affects both testicles in the adult male, so sterility is not likely. Since mumps is generally more severe in the adult, it is best to avoid contact after puberty.

If a person is exposed to mumps and if the skin test indicates lack of immunity, a vaccine offers considerable protecting. Its effectiveness is not 100 per cent, though.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Engh and family of Warren visited Sunday at the Klemens Gigstad home.



Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gigstad of St. Paul visited Thursday evening with Mrs. Hilda Gigstad at her home.

Return from West Coast

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Corbet and Mrs. H. R. Allen returned home Saturday afternoon from a month trip to the west coast. They left Christmas Day for Moorhead where they visited at the Wendell Corbet, Jr., home until Sunday evening. They took the train to Vancouver, Wash., where they visited at the Mr. and Mrs. Ed Johnson home, son-in-law and daughter of Mrs. H. R. Allen. They also visited at the home of Mrs. Allen's brother, Herman Thom, and a sister, Mrs. Esther Shaw in addition to many other friends in Vancouver. At Tacoma they visited at the home of another sister of Mrs. Allen's, Mrs. Emil Stassart. From there they visited Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Allen of Puyallup, Wash., former residents of Hazel and well known in Thief River Falls. They sent greetings back to their many friends. While in that part of Washington, they called Mrs. Fred Carlson at Kirkland. She stated that her husband was not very well. At Bremerton the Corbets and Mrs. Allen visited at the Mrs. Fern Ewing home. She invited the Olness, Alyce Collins, Denn Ewing and Bob Huffs, all former St. Hilaire people, over to her home. They all send greetings to their friends in St. Hilaire. One Sunday they visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson of Hillsboro, Ore., also former St. Hilaire people. They visited at the Harry Thom home at Milwaukee, Ore., on their way to Salem, Ore. While there they visited at the Percy Thom home, with Mr. and Mrs. Jay Griffin (the former Mrs. Charlie Huff of St. Hilaire), also with Edith Dahl, former St. Hilaire resident. They spent a day at the Pacific ocean where they viewed points of interest. On the way home from the Coast they visited Mr. and Mrs. Fred Biskey at Sheridan, Ore. On returning home they visited at the Wendell Corbet, Jr. home at Moorhead Friday until Saturday morning and arrived here Saturday afternoon after a wonderful trip with relatives and friends.

Strandquist . .

Mrs. Ed Stennes, Strandquist

John Vagle, now of Frazee, had his second misfortune by fire in less than two years time last week when a well-equipped, three story brooder house was completely destroyed. Mr. Vagle was attending a turkey growers' convention at Minneapolis at the time of the fire and upon his return called the Thompson Bros. at Karlstad, asking them to construct a brooder house which must be completed within two weeks in order to house a large order of poults which are expected to arrive by that time. The Thompson Bros. quickly mustered a crew of construction men and are now hard at work on the new building. Mr. Vagle had some insurance on the property but it did not come close to covering his loss.

Mrs. Ed Stennes, the Strandquist correspondent, became a patient at the Warren hospital last Thursday where she is being treated for blocked circulation in one leg. Her pinch-hitting old man is anxiously awaiting her recovery and return home.

Mr and Mrs O Nyflot of Lake Bronson called on Mrs A C Kimbrough last Monday afternoon. Friday evening, the Leroy Andersons were callers at the Ted Kimbrough home.

Minnie Carlson sponsored a whist party at Carlson's cafe last Sunday evening which was well attended and guests reported an enjoyable evening. Earl Lindahl, local band instructor, was an invited guest.

Gilbert Kolberg won a $2 prize for the high score while LaVerne Lindahl won the booby prize of $1. He did not fully appreciate the honor so promptly returned the dollar to the uniform fund. A cafeteria style lunch was served to wind up the evening's entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Sjostrand visited at the Ed Carlson home last week.

Mrs. Lars Barstad of Thief River Falls and her daughter, Myrtle Flowers, were callers at the Ted Kimbrough home last Friday.

McLeod [illegible] Elected [illegible] of Dairy [illegible]

Paul Rossi Named to Board Succeeding W. E. Dahlquist

The annual meeting of Northwest Dairy Improvement association was held at the court house in Thief River Falls Thursday afternoon. Reports on last year's 10th Northwest Dairy Day were made by the officers, and there was discussion of possibilities making the second decade of this annual program even more successful.

Directors elected to succeed themselves were James Salveson of Goodridge; Paul Stelmaschuk, Thief River Falls; Walter Schon, Fosston; and Sam Hauge, East Grand Forks. Paul Rossi of Thief River Falls was elected to succeed W. E. Dahlquist and Conrad Swenson of Gully succeeds Vern Evenson of McIntosh.

Following the regular meeting the directors organized for the coming year, reelecting the following officers: Stuart McLeod, president; Walter Schon, vice president; J. M. Roche, interim secretary; and J. J. Womack, treasurer.

The reports of the secretary, J. M. Roche, and treasurer J. J. Womack, were read and approved. The treasurer's report indicated contributions last year were well up to the usual totals but because of extra costs due to the celebration of ten years of progress, a deficit of $1,696.14 had been incurred. The organization closed the year with a cash balance of $5,276.78.

County agents present besides Paul Stelmaschuk were Harley Shurson of East Polk, Carl Ash of West Polk, Arnold Heikela of Clearwater and Abel Anderson of Red Lake. Shurson reported that

$2,800 Damage Caused in Six Collisions in City Since Thursday

Over $2800 was conservatively estimated to have resulted from six accidents in the city since Thursday, one of which was a spectacular 5-car affair which caused an estimated $1103 damage to the vehicles involved.

The first mishap occurred Thursday at 11:55 a.m. when Sterling R. Thom, city, going east on Zeh st. was struck by another car driven north on Knight by Gerald Dean Bakken, rt. 1, city.

Damage to Thom's car was estimated at $250, to Bakken's, $175. No tags were issued.

At 1:45 p.m. Thursday a station wagon owned by John Pahlen, Euclid, and driven by Nick Pahlen, same address, stopped at Main av. but did not yield the right-of-way to traffic on Main av. A truck driven south on Main av. by Marion J. Augustine, rt. 2, struck Pahlen's vehicle, pushing it into three others parked on the north side of the Gustafson garage.

Damage was estimated as follows: to Pahlen, $600; to Augustine, $30; to parked car owned by Charles Mondry, Ardoch, N.D., $303; to a parked car owned by Elmer Zachar, city, $140; and to a parked car owned by Rodger Sackett, $30. According to police, Augustine tried to avoid the Pahlen vehicle but was unable to do so.

Pahlen was tagged for failure to yield the right of way.

The third mishap Thursday occurred at the intersection of Horace av. and Sixth st. when cars driven by Oliver Fladeland, city, and Geo. H. Rasmussen, rt. 1, Strandquist, collided.

Fladeland was going south on Horace, while Rasmussen was going east on Sixth, and the damage estimate gave $150 for the

Steiner Girl Wins 4H Radio Speaking Contest Saturday

Kathleen Torgerson, 15, of the Steiner 4-H club won the county 4-H radio speaking contest Saturday, and will compete in the district contest at Crookston, February 22, County Agent Paul Stelmaschuk said today.

Kathleen will speak over station KILO in the afternoon of February 22 on the topic, "Why I Am Concerned with the World Refugee Problem." She won the county contest in competition with 10 other 4-H members. Reserve champion in the contest was Milton Leiran of the Silverton 4-H club.

Winners from seven other northwest counties will also participate in the district event. The contest is one of 17 being held throughout the state in February.

Winner of the district contest will receive a cash award and an expense paid trip to the Twin Cities to compete in the state finals March 11 and 12. The reserve champion will also receive a cash award.

The statewide contest has been sponsored by the Jewish Community Relations Council of Minnesota in cooperation with the University of Minnesota Agricultural Extension Service for 18 years. This year's topic was chosen because of World Refugee Year. Fifty-two nations have set this year aside as a time to help solve the world problem of more than two million refugees.

Culkins Tells of ASC Outlay in Pennington

$1,047,693 Was Paid out in 1959 under Soil Bank Program

Patrick W. Culkins, manager of the Pennington county ASC office reported today on program activities in Pennington county during 1959.

546 producers participated in the agricultural conservation program in 1959 and received $50,485 for carrying out conservation practices on their farms. In addition to this $2604 was paid to the Soil Conservation Service for its work in performing the technical service required on the pit and ditching practices.

119 producer farm storage facility loans were serviced by the county office during 1959. Under the program federal funds invested are $153,674. Borrowers are charged 4 per cent interest on these loans.

One thousand four hundred thirty-seven 1957 and 1958 resealed farm stored loans were serviced and 178 new 1959 loans were made by the county ASC office during 1959. Federal funds invested under this program was $1,872,912. The amount outstanding as of January 31 is $1,016,175. This money is loaned to producers at 3½ per cent interest.

$19,372.90 was charged borrowers for servicing these loans. Sixty per cent of this is allocated to the county for administration expenses.

$1,047,693 was paid under the soil bank program to 736 producers who have all or part of their land in the soil bank. Of this amount, $19,321 was paid to 17 producers who reside outside of Pennington county.

$17,477.91 was paid to 291 wool producers under the wool incentive program.

Total county administrative expenditures for the 1959 calendar year was $33,472.22. This includes all salaries paid to office help, field employes, loan inspectors, office rent, telephone, supplies, etc.

Gov. Freeman Speaks Feb. 3 at Breakfast

To Speak at Elks Club Wednesday on State Government

Gov. Orville L. Freeman, continuing the fourth week of his 1960 "Report to the People" tour, Wednesday, Feb. 3, will visit three northern Minnesota communities, including a breakfast stop in Thief River Falls.

The 1960 Report series continues a tradition which Gov. Freeman inaugurated in 1956 to inform the people in Minnesota in their home communities about the problems, needs and achievements or the departments of state government.

The breakfast meeting will be at 7:30 a.m. in the Elks club, and its sponsored by a local "Report to the People" committee.

Following the Thief River Falls appearance, Freeman will speak at a luncheon in Lancaster and a dinner in Roseau.

Freeman described the report series, which will take him into 54 Minnesota communities between Jan. 11 and Feb. 10, as an exhaustive effort to bring state government to the people.

The backbone of this year's report is a 36-page document giving information on the operation of state government. It is broadly categorized into human resources, natural resources, economic growth and integrity in government. Copies are available at each meeting or on request from the Governor's office.

The breakfast meeting is open to those who buy tickets at 75 cents in advance. They are available at the Pharmacy, J&B Drugs, Bjorkman's and the Coast to Coast store.

"The more questions asked, the more information will be acquired to create better public wareness of state government," Freeman said.

James Clark, commissioner of business development, will accompany the governor and report on his department activities.

HONORED as the outstanding young man of the city by the Jaycees at the annual award banquet Thursday evening, Jan. 28, was Ken Onken, center, vice president and cashier of the Union State bank. Onken is shown as he was congratulated by Jerry Doran of Duluth, right, state Jaycee president, who was the guest speaker and by Mayor Orin Green, left, who made the presentation. Green, a former Jaycee, was the winner of this award last year.

Onken & Don L. Olson Honored by Jaycees

Given Tribute for Their Leadership at Annual Banquet

Kenneth Onken, vice president of the Union State Bank, was named the community's outstanding young man and Donald L. Olson, manager of radio station KTRF was awarded the "Boss of the Year" citation at the fifth annual Junior Chamber of Commerce Boss-Employe banquet Thursday evening, Jan. 28, in the Legion clubrooms.

In making the award, Mayor Orin Green read a list of Onken's accomplishments for the community and the Jaycees which are too numerous to list but which have, as the mayor said, contributed greatly to the betterment of the community, state, nation and the organization.

The "Boss of the Year" award was presented to Don Olson by Dr. Orlon Beich, former mayor of the city, for his "unselfish cooperation in community projects, his service and his civic achievements."

Both the present and former mayors were former recipients of the "Outstanding Young Man" awards and members of the Jaycees.

The banquet was opened with the invocation by Lt. Robert Burkhardt of the Salvation Army and the Jaycee creed was led by Bill Sharp of Moorhead, regional vice-president of the organization. The welcome was given by Bruce Hall, local Jaycee president, and Don M. Olson, president of the senior chamber, gave the response for the bosses.

113 Women Collected $1,087 in '60 Mothers March Last Thursday

A total of $1,087 was collected by 113 women volunteers in the Thief River Falls residential districts during the Mothers March held Thursday evening under the direction of Mrs Frank Bond. With five solicitors not yet reported, it is anticipated that the toal will reach nearly $1,200, slightly more than the $1,121 collected last year.

It was announced that a considerable number of people were away from home when the solicitors called, and that these persons may mail their contributions to Mrs. Henry Bothman, county chairman of the drive in behalf of the National Foundation.

Mrs. Bothman stated that all together a total of $1,705 has been collected up to Saturday in the 1960 campaign. Included is $367 from portions of six townships, $267 from workers in the business district, $15 from local clubs, and $25 from an elderly donor who asked that his name not be revealed. Only about one sixth of the reports from the business district have been received to date, said Mrs Bothman.

A3c CHRIST KLEFSTAD IS STATIONED IN KOREA

Airman third class Christ K. Klefstad, son of Mrs. Lilas Klefstad, Thief River Falls, recently arrived at Osan Air Base, Korea. He will be assigned to the 621st Installations Squadron. Before coming to Korea, Klefstad was stationed at Norton Air Force Base, California.

Sponsoring Family Is Sought for Foreign Student Coming Year

The local American Field Service chapter announced this week that it is interested in hearing from families who might like to consider serving as "AFS foster families" during the next school year.

The necessary funds for sponsoring another AFS student have been secured and the most important matter now facing the local AFS chapter is finding a home for the student.

AFS students live with a single family throughout the year—living as a member of the family, sharing equally in the pleasures and duties of the home. The parents have the same authority over them as they have over their own children, and therefore have the same responsibility for giving them care and affection.

Local families desiring to be considered as an AFS foster home next year, or those wishing more information about this program, are urged to contact Joe Iverson, president of the local AFS chapter, immediately. During office hours, call MU 1-1553. After office hours call MU 1-1857.

The AFS is a private, non-profit, educational organization whose purpose is the furthering of understanding and good-will among the peoples of the world.

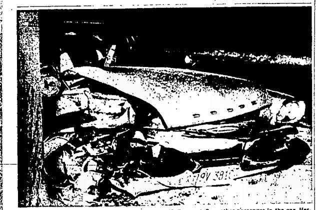
2 TRF Men Injured in Auto Accident

E. B. Benson, W. E. Smith in Mishap Near Kelliher

Two local men were hospitalized in Bemidji and another was uninjured as the result of a traffic mishap four miles west of Kelliher Saturday afternoon.



Reported in fair condition today was Walter Smith, 69, 326 Markley av. N., who sustained a fractured right knee-cap and internal injuries. He underwent surgery this morning, Bemidji hospital administrators reported.

City Alderman Elmer B Benson, 61, 902 Main av. N., was said to be in good condition and will be released from Lutheran hospital at Bemidji today. He suffered severe head cuts and bruises. Uninjured in the crash was A. F. Berge, city.

According to the highway patrol, the Smith car collided head-on with another vehicle driven by Jerry Winas, Blackduck.

Winas was treated and released but Mrs. Winas, his passenger, is listed in critical condition in a Bemidji hospital.

The local men were reportedly enroute to Upper Red Lake on a fishing trip when the crash occurred.

INJURED when this car travelling east on Third st. hit a tree Monday morning at 12:10 o'clock on the northeast corner of Third st. and Duluth ave. N., were two local men. Howard E. Sorenson, city, owner of the car, and Arnold Hoffman, rt. 2, were treated at Northwestern hospital and released and Raymond Herman, 21, city, driver of the car, was not treated but received chest injuries. Uninjured was June Hoffman, rt. 2, another passenger in the car. Herman was charged with having no driver's license and being under the influence of an intoxicant, Arnold Hoffman was charged with drunkenness and Sorenson was charged with having an open bottle in a car, permitting the unlawful operation of a motor vehicle and being drunk on a city street. Damage to the 1960 Dodge was estimated at $800.

Party Pies for Buffet Dining

CHOCOLATE CHEESE PIE is an ideal dessert choice for a large party buffet. This recipe makes two rich, delicious pies. Top them with whipped cream and dribble your favorite chocolate sauce over each.

CHOCOLATE CHEESE PIES

Pastry for two 8-inch pie shells
2 eggs
1 cup sugar
3 packages (3 ounces each) cream cheese
1½ cups whipping cream
2 to 3 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
½ cup sifted flour
Pinch of soda
¾ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

Line two 8-inch pie pans with the pastry and flute edges.

Beat eggs until thick and fluffy. Add sugar, a tablespoon at a time, beating after each addition until blended. Beat cheese and 1½ cups cream together until smooth and of the consistency of whipped cream. Add melted chocolate and stir until blended. Fold egg mixture into the cheese-chocolate mixture.

Sift together flour, soda, and salt. Add to the cheese mixture. Add vanilla; blend. Pour the filling into the pie shells and bake at 325° F. for 45 minutes, or until cake tester will come out clean. Serve with whipped cream and chocolate sauce, if desired. Makes two 8-inch pies.

Biggest bargain in Thief River Falls. A year's subscription to the Times, only $4.00 a year in Northwestern Minnesota; $4.50 a year elsewhere.

Public Opinion

Editor, The Times:

A campaign to raise funds for the expansion of the Red River Valley Winter Shows is underway in a fourteen-county area of Northwestern Minnesota. This building program is the result of several developments. The 40-year-old buildings used at present are no longer an asset to the shows as they limit attendance because of cramped space which creates hardship for exhibitors and visitors alike.

The board of managers have made the decision to expand the facility at a new location outside the City of Crookston near the Northwest School and Experiment Station. This building program was undertaken only after meetings were held in the fourteen counties to learn if there was interest in a building program. Pledges, both of money and time were made by 90 per cent of those attending these meetings.

A building program was mandatory. Forty years ago farmers and businessmen in the fourteen counties cooperated to build the facilities we are using today and since the show was and is an area-wide project it is only to be expected that when these buildings needed replacement that the support for such a program should come from the people out in the area.

It is reasonable to assume that if every farmer and businessman would pledge $10 or more per year over a three-year period that this mid-winter exposition can continue to be an asset to the future of the Valley.

Seek Enlistments in 'Space Age Navy'

Feb. 1 to 24 Signup Period Is Proclaimed by Mayor

Mayor Orin J. Green has proclaimed the "New Space Age Navy Sign up Period" in Thief River Falls for February 1 to Feb 24.

Mayor Green said during the period U.S. Navy recruiters will seek qualified young men for a "Special Great Northern Company." He urged all eligible men to visit the recruiting station in the Auditorium at Thief River Falls and discover what they can do "to further their education while serving their city, state and country."

Men between the ages of 17 to 31 years are eligible.

The Special Great Northern Company will train at San Diego, Calif., says Chief Richardson, local recruiter, as part of the special company program to "Join Together—Train Together."

Chief Richardson further says the U.S. Navy is interested in young men with high standards and ability to man the new "Space Age Navy."

Lt. Lloyd Melvie Wins Instructor Honor in Florida

Lieut. j.g. Lloyd R. Melvie, aviation instructor at the Milton unit of the Pensacola Navy Air Force Base in Florida, was honored recently by being named Instructor of the Month for December.

A point system is used in making the selection, taking into consideration the amount of flying the airman does during the month, as well as other factors, including qualities of leadership.

Lieut. Melvie entered the flight program in March, 1957, and has flown a total of 1,000 hours. He is the son of Mrs. Olga Melvie.

St. John's Men's Club Sets Annual Meeting Tonight

St. John Lutheran Men's club will have its annual meeting this evening, Monday, at 8 p.m. in the church parlors. The annual reports will be read and officers will be elected. Don Pream is president. Main project of the club in 1959 was sponsoring the erection of the 50-ft. free standing steel cross at the church entrance. A Bible study on the "Brief Statement," a doctrinal confession of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, will be led by the pastor, Rev. A. C. Seltz.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER

TIME TO THINK

THE turmoil (it is a regret to use the word) of the Christmas season and the events that crowd each other around the New Year seem to demand a rest and time to think, to reflect. A full month after the year's beginning may be long enough to enable us to take a wise view of the past year and to evaluate the things that marked it.

Prominent among these was the visit of the Russian premier to our Country and the travels of our President in three continents of the world, to chief countries and cities therein. In the long run of history, certainly, but we may hope in the days near at hand, we shall see the value of these visits to mankind

JUST A THOUGHT:

An eye examination may bring a "fuzzy" world into focus; but it takes a thorough examination of self and conscience to set things right for the man who thinks all the world is "out of step" but himself.

They may contribute to the peace of the world is a "consummation devoutly to be wished." These and other events marked on the calendar of 1959 may lead us to expect that a better day will soon dawn upon a distressed world.

As we reflect upon the year that is gone, let us thank God for its good and humbly supplicate him to bring us to better things in the present year.

Homemakers to View Demonstrations of Furnishings Feb. 3rd

Homemakers in Pennington county will witness demonstrations on home furnishings Wednesday, February 3, at 1 p.m. in the courthouse meeting room. Selection of furniture covers, furniture arrangements, colors, buymanship, and other topics will be discussed by Mrs. Myra Zabel, extension specialist in home furnishing. All housewives are urged to attend the meeting, stated County Agent Paul Stelmaschuk.

MRS. MYRA ZABEL

Information to be presented is designed to be useful in making the most of present furniture in homes and also in any future buying of furniture.

Mrs. Zabel is an assistant professor at the University of Minnesota. She trains home agents and local leaders in Minnesota counties in the field of home furnishing.

Until she came to Minnesota in 1954, Mrs. Zabel was extension specialist in home furnishings at the University of Kentucky. Previous to that time she was a teacher of vocation home economics in high schools in Detroit, Almont and Lake City, Michigan. From 1943-45 she was a member of the WAC.

Mrs. Zabel holds a B. S. from Michigan State College and a master of arts degree from the University of Minnesota with a major in related art.

She is a member of the American Home Economics association, Omicron Nu, national honorary home economics society and Pi Lambda Theta, national honor society for women in education.

Parcel Post Rate Hike Takes Effect

Increase Amounts to Average of 17 Per Cent

Parcel post increases boosting postoffice revenue by $88,000,000 a year went into effect at midnight Sunday.

The increases average 17.2 per cent on fourth class mail, including parcels and catalogs. The higher rates were authorized by the interstate commerce commission (ICC) Nov. 20 on the request of Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield. He said the increases were needed to offset higher costs for this service.

The ICC regulates fourth class mail. All other mail rates are legislated by congress.

A five-pound package sent from Washington to New York city will require 53 cents postage. The old rate for this distance was 44 cents.

Vocational School to Form Tailoring Class on Tuesday

With Mrs. Leslie Matts as instructor, the first meeting of the class will be held Tuesday evening, Feb. 2, in Room 111 of Lincoln high school.

Federal Aid for Education Topic Here Wednesday

Officials of National and State Groups Urge Support of Proposal

Dr. Clayton Seeber of Washington, D. C., assistant secretary of the National Education association legislative committee, addressed a meeting of 15 area educators in the Rex cafe Wednesday evening, Jan. 27, in regard to support of federal aid to education.

Dr. Seeber met with the educators to encourage support to federal bills which would provide for school construction and supplement teacher's salaries.

Dr. Seeber was accompanied by A. L. Gallop, executive secretary of the Minnesota Education association, who said that the state funds are about $4 million short for this biennium and will be $16 million for the next biennium. According to Gallop, federal funds would be $25 per pupil determined by the state census and the state would have to meet a minimum standard of expenditures to be eligible. He declared that the national government is more efficient in collecting funds than are state or local governments.

The meeting was called by Supt. David Brown of Goodridge, Ninth district legislative representative for the National Education association, and was attended by representatives from Thief River Falls, Fergus Falls, Goodridge, Plummer, East Grand Forks, Climax, Warren, Detroit Lakes and Roseau.

R.L. Falls Fireman Is Injured in Fall

Leo Bendel Escaped Serious Hurts at Fire

Leo Bendel, member of the Red Lake Falls fire department, was injured Monday afternoon while fighting a blaze in the Wavra-Lizotte welding shop at the south edge of the city.

Bendel was on the second floor of the building when he broke through the ceiling and fell 10 feet to the floor below. He landed on some debris and suffered minor injuries and was taken to the hospital where his condition was found to be not serious. Apparently, he suffered no broken bones, but the fall was a hard one.

Firemen had the blaze under control in fairly short order and poured quite a bit of water. From the outside, no apparent damage was done to the building although it will be some weeks before the damage can be cleaned up and rebuilt over the front part of the structure.

Former State Auto Company Head Dies

S. C. Pandolfo, 85, Dies Last Wednesday in Alaska

S. C. Pandolfo, remembered as the man who said he would make St. Cloud the "motor metropolis of the world," died in Fairbanks, Alaska Wednesday.

Pandolfo, 85, reportedly was in Alaska attempting to organize an investment firm. He suffered a stroke shortly before Christmas and had been hospitalized in Fairbanks since.

A total of 737 "Pan" motor cars were built by Pandolfo's St. Cloud factory in 1917 before the company, organized that same year, went out of business.

Pandolfo was charged with mail fraud in an action brought in connection with stock sales for the Pan Motor Company. He was convicted and served 3½ years in Leavenworth Penitentiary beginning in 1918.

FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS — By C. D. Smith

How To Have A Personality

THIS WEEK'S LETTER: "Please help me with my problem. I am 14 years old. Please tell me how I can have a personality."

A personality, of course, is not something that we can buy at the corner grocery store. Yet, when we say that a certain person has "no personality", we aren't speaking the truth. Everyone has personality, of a sort. It's just that we have developed a habit of saying that a dull or uninteresting person has "no personality."

If a teenager is to grow naturally and in good health, then body needs must be supplied by the proper kind and the proper amount of food. An improper diet will bring on listlessness, indifference, and, if carried far enough, even death.

Just as we keep our bodies alert and healthy through the right choice of food so also must we develop the inner self—our mind, our personality, our appearance. To be healthy, we must eat right. As diet affects physical growth, so it is that our thoughts and actions have strong influence upon our "personality."

Here are some ideas relative to developing a good personality:

THINK RIGHT: No one can read your thoughts but, "you are what you think you are." Put "bad" thoughts aside and think about the good things in life.

BE INQUISITIVE: There is so much to learn about the world, about people, and about things, that no one shall ever live long enough to know it all. Don't accept everything at its face value. Take advantage of opportunities to learn something new, to meet new people, to see what makes things "tick."

LIKE PEOPLE: Look for the goodness that is to be found in even the worst of friends and associates. Don't be an ostrich with your head in the sand, but do always try to balance the "bad" that you see with the "good" that is often more difficult to recognize. If you don't like people, people won't like you.

BE HONEST: Try never to deceive yourself or those about you. Look the world in the eye and let your conscience be your guide.

BE PATIENT: Don't expect too much of others—or of yourself. Never compare yourself to others. Think right, do right, act right—and a winning personality will be your reward.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, NATIONAL WEEKLY NEWSPAPER SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

16 Communities Are Served by Hospital's Rehabilitation Unit

Patients from 16 northwestern Minnesota communities received full rehabilitation service and outpatient physical therapy during the first year facilities were available at Northwestern hospital, a recently-released report by Norman Peterson, hospital administrator, discloses.

The rehabilitation service, which has 18 beds, actually started receiving patients Sept. 4, 1958, and has admitted 50 full rehabilitation patients who spent a total of 1,055 patient days and others who stayed 840 non-rehabilitation days. Patients remained in the unit an average of 21.1 days.

Patients were from Argyle, Bemidji, Erskine, Gatzke, Goodridge, Grygla, Holt, Karlstad, Middle River, Newfolden, Oklee, Plummer, St. Hilaire, Strandquist, Thief River Falls and Warroad.

From the report, it is learned that patients have fallen into six classes with an average age ranging from 47.5 years to 74.8 years. Of the 50 cases, hip fractures accounted for 15, with patients having an average age of 74.8 years; the 18 cases of cardiac disability had an average age of 71.5; two bursitis cases had an average age of 61.5 years; eight cases of fractures of the arms and legs had average age of 51.2 years; the four back sprain patients had an average age of 47.5 years and three multiple sclerosis and muscular dystrophy cases had an average age of 57.3 years.

Physical therapy treatments were given to 161 acute in-patients, 85 out-patients and 48 rehabilitation cases. A total of 2,093 treatments were ordered by physicians for acute in-patients, for 1,407 out-patients and 742 for rehabilitation cases.

Modes of treatment included exercise, range of motion, gait training, massage, diathermy, ultrasound, whirlpool, hot packs, traction, paraffin bath, electrical stimulation and ultraviolet.

Most frequent among the conditions treated were back conditions and fractures of the extremities, but a total of 14 types of cases were listed in the report.

Frank Hargen, a registered physical therapist, is in charge of the department and the services of one other non-registered therapist are used on a part-time basis. Another full-time registered physical therapist will be added when the case load warrants.

Nursing services for the department are supervised by Mrs. Alice Wold, a registered nurse who, for several years, was the nursing supervisor at the Oakland Park Nursing home. Her training and experience also include attending several of the rehabilitation centers in Minneapolis and St. Paul.

Approximately $20,000 granted by the Ford Foundation has been spent to equip the rehabilitation and physical therapy departments and the facility has worked in cooperation with the state vocational rehabilitation department, the area vocational school, and the four welfare agencies of the area.

Long range plans of the Northwestern hospital board of trustees call for constructing a separate building adjacent to the present acut hospital to provide services of a chronic disease unit. When this unit is constructed, the rehabilitation service will be expanded into the new quarters.

Sponsor Family Sought for 1960 Foreign Student

It carries out this purpose by bringing teen-age students from abroad to study in American high schools and preparatory schools and to live in American families and communities for a year. On the other hand, American teen-agers are sent abroad to spend the summer in homes abroad.

This year marks the fifth consecutive year that Thief River Falls has hosted an AFS foreign student. Last summer, Judith Wold, currently a senior at Lincoln high school, spent the summer in Sweden under the auspices of the AFS Americans Abroad. The local AFS chapter has submitted three applications for this summer's program and it is anticipated that announcement will be made from the New York headquarters soon as to whether or not another Lincoln high school student will be selected to participate and spend next summer in a foreign country.

Mochammed Sjachrani, better know as "Rani", this year's AFS student, is making his foster home with the George Mostues. In June, Rani will return to his home in West Java, Indonesia, after spending eleven months in Thief River Falls.

Onken, Olson Are Feted by Jaycees at Award Banquet

Principal speaker of the evening was Jerry Doran of Duluth, state Jaycee president. His speech was formed around the statement of President Eisenhower that "foreign affairs are no longer foreign, they are local."

Doran elaborated on the statement, relating personal experiences during his trip to and from the world congress of the Jaycees in South America. The situation in Cuba was brought to his attention by a Peruvian who asked what the United States was going to do about trade and its promises. A Puerto Rican felt that our salvation was the devaluation of the dollar and there was a general feeling of "Yankee go home—but leave your dollars."

The decreasingly favorable position of United States goods in South America was pointed out by one native of that continent who showed that a ton of iron ore could be shipped to this country to the mills for less than a ton of Mesabi ore.

"Young men must and will change the world for the better," Doran said. "Today, we must interest ourselves in our own nation and the affairs in the world to make the world a better place in which to live and to preserve our American heritage." He used the contrast between our own diplomatic service in South America and that of Russia.

In Montevideo, Uruguay, the focal spot of Russian espionage in South America, the large Russian staff is well trained in the history, language and affairs of that continent's nations while our diplomats come as complete strangers who must be trained for three years of the total four years of duty.

Music during the banquet was presented by Jerry Joringdal at the organ and the meal was served by members of the American Legion auxiliary.

McLeod Renamed as President of Dairy Day Group

during the ten years of Dairy Days, East Polk had 171 different exhibitors with the number of animals exhibited totaling 425, many of the exhibitors having participated several years. He stated that the interest in East Polk was growing. Reports from other county agents were also encouraging.

Lew Conlon, Minnesota manager of the American Dairy association, and Howard Ryan, publicity director of that organization, reported on their activities and the progress of Dairy Days throughout the state. Mr. Ryan estimated that the dairy industry had received well over a million dollars worth of free publicity in Minnesota as a result of the Dairy Day program throughout the state.

The meeting closed with a lunch and a re-run of the movies of the first Dairy Day.

The last accident in the city occurred at 12:10 Monday morning, when a car driven by Raymond Herman, city, struck a tree at the intersection of W. Third st. and Duluth av. Details are published elsewhere in the Times under a photograph of the damaged car.

Final Rites For William Horejsi Set For Tuesday

Funeral services for William Horejsi will be held Tuesday, Feb. 2, at 2 p.m. at the Sinding Funeral chapel with Rev. Henry Friedman officiating. Interment will be made in Greenwood cemetery with the Sinding Funeral Home in charge of the arrangements.

Mr. Horejsi died Friday, Jan. 29, at his home at 106 So. Tindolph at the age of 68. He was born in Walsh county, N. Dakota, Jan. 21, 1892 and came with his parents to Thief River Falls in 1900. In 1914 they moved to Brocket, N. Dakota, and there farmed with his parents and in 1918 moved to Whittman, N. Dakota, where he farmed. In 1948 he moved back to Thief River Falls, worked for Land O' Lakes and recently was employed at the Mint Cafe. He lived with his uncle Jim Horejsi in this city.

Surviving are three nieces and one nephew; Wesley Horejsi of Petersburg, N. Dakota; Rose Marie, Mrs. Charles Hamann Jr. of Loma, N. Dakota; Millie, Mrs. Joe Novak of East Grand Forks; Henrietta, Mrs. Fred Gobhardt of Euclid and a number of uncles and aunts.

Ingvard Peterson Dies Sunday at 61

Ingvard M. Peterson, a resident of Excel township for many years, died Sunday, Jan. 31, at Northwestern hospital at the age of 61.

Funeral services will be held Thursday, Feb. 4, at 1 p.m. at the Silver Creek Lutheran church with Rev. Lowell Jacobson officiating. Interment will be in the church cemetery.

The body will lie in state at the Green Funeral Home from Tuesday afternoon until 11 a.m. Thursday and at the church one hour before time of services. A complete obituary will be published in the next issue of the Times.

Snapshots: Famous Spots In America

Historic La Villita (little village) of romantic San Antonio, Texas, is located just a few blocks from the "Heart of the Alamo City." The 200-year old square block of history encloses the original places of business and humble homes of early Texas settlers. La Villita is an excellent example of the Spanish influence in architecture which lends a charm all its own to San Antonio. The plaza in this "little village" is named Juarez Plaza in honor of Benito Juarez, the Mexican liberator, signifying the relationship between this historic city and Mexico. La Villita is just one of many famous and historic attractions in the "City of Contrasts," also known as the "City of the Sun."

AMERICANA — Cities to See

Savannah, Georgia

Savannah, Georgia's ocean gateway and second-largest city, is located in the heart of the "Coastal Empire," encompassing a trade area of 27 Georgia and 11 South Carolina counties. Founded in 1733 by General James Edward Oglethorpe, Savannah is a city rich in history. A statue of the city's founder is found in Chippewa Square and the streets in the original part of the city still follow the plan laid out by Oglethorpe when construction of the city was begun.

Georgia was the last of the thirteen colonies to be settled and Oglethorpe's arrival to begin a community at the present site of Savannah was due to a combination of motives: England's desire to throw up a bulwark between her colonies in South Carolina and Spanish settlements to the south; commercial expansion of English markets; and Oglethorpe's desire to help reputable families in England victimized by the debtor's law. The colonization of Georgia was turned over to a board of trustees in England, with power to control the new colony and to select the settlers.

Savannah is literally Georgia's gateway to world commerce, as it is located where the big Savannah River flows into the Atlantic Ocean. The river itself is navigable upstream a distance of nearly 200 miles. Savannah's population increased 24.0 per cent from 1940 to 1950 and 16.8 per cent from 1950 to 1958. Current estimates place population within the city near the 140,000 mark and 200,000 in metropolitan Chatham County.

Savannah has many things to do and places to see. Landmarks include Christ Episcopal Church dating from 1733, where John Wesley founded one of the first Protestant Sunday Schools in North America; General Sherman's headquarters, now the Parish House of St. John's Episcopal Church; Pulaski National Monument, fully restored. One of the last of the "great forts," Fort Pulaski in 1862 fell under the impact of new rifled cannons brought to bear by Federal troops. The Pirate's House—in Colonial times a seamen's grog shop, now restored as one of America's most unique restaurants.

Paul LaVoie Succumbs; Rites Set For Feb. 3

A solemn requiem high mass will be held Wednesday, Feb. 3, at 10 a.m. at St. Vincent de Paul church at Plummer for Paul LaVoie of Crookston, former resident of the Plummer community. Rev. Daniel Noah will be the celebrant with Rev. Henry Carriere and Rev. Timothy T. Noah as deacons. Interment will be in St. Joseph's cemetery at Plummer.

The body will lie in state at the Petterson Funeral home at Red Lake Falls from Tuesday afternoon until Wednesday morning with a rosary to be said Tuesday evening at 8 p.m.

Mr. LaVoie died Sunday, Jan. 31, at a Crookston hospital at the age of 70 from burns he received in November, when his home in Crookston burned. He was born Aug. 26, 1888, at Ste. Anaclet, Quebec, Canada, coming to Brooks, Minn., with his parents when a small child.

He was married in 1913 to Blanche Corneau at Brooks. They lived there until 1929 when they moved to Plummer and in 1958, following his retirement, they moved to Crookston. Mr. LaVoie was employed on the Soo Line for 48 years and was a member of the Woodmen of the World.

Surviving are three sons: Willard of Indonesia, Orban of Crookston and Clarence of Akron, Ohio; one daughter, Ann, Mrs. Teddy Jaeger of Plummer; 16 grandchildren and one brother, Adelore of Bemidji. He was preceded in death by his wife and two sons.

Ole K. Moen Dies Sunday At 84; Rites Wednesday

Ole K. Moen, a resident of this community for many years, died Sunday morning, Jan. 31, at Northwestern hospital at the age of 84.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday, Feb. 3, at 2 p.m. at the Evangelical Free church with Rev. Joseph Swan officiating. Interment will be in the Spruce Valley cemetery.

The body will lie in state at the Green Funeral Home from Monday evening until 11 a.m. Wednesday and at the church one hour before time of services. A complete obituary will be published in the next issue of the Times.

Candid Comment

Sitting in my favorite chair back by the far corner of our living room I can look out the picture window toward the river bank without the view being hindered by other houses.

It's a peaceful scene these cold, crisp winter days when the sun beams down from an azure sky; the feeling I get as I look at the bare trees is one of peaceful solitude.

There's a kind of raw beauty even to leafless trees and from where I sit the trees are so thick I can just conjure up in my mind Sleeping Beauty's gleaming castle towering above the tangled branches. The scene takes me back to childhood days when I used to do the same kind of day dreaming at another sky, another woodland patch.

Trees are a great blessing to humanity, much more so than many of us realize. Even the lowly popple (more formally known as quaking aspen) has its uses; I suspect that research would reveal a great many more ways it could be used besides cheap lumber and pulpwood.

Without thick forests on the slopes of our mountains these would soon erode away, leaving a wasteland unfit for farming or any other use. We can all be thankful the practice of "mining" forest lands was brought to a halt. Had not our remaining large forests been declared off-limits to indiscriminate lumbering in the early 1900's there might be very little left now for us or our children to enjoy.

Down in Virginia, North Carolina and Tennessee are several national forest preserves where one still can see the natural beauty of the land much as the pioneers saw it; yet the area is accessible by car, thanks to the famous Skyline Drive and its extensions.

This excellent roadway is relatively uncluttered by signs and hot dog stands, due to the fact most of it runs through government land. The Great Smoky Mountains and other national parks in the high Appalachians accommodate more tourists than any others in the United States, a fact that will probably surprise a great many people who believe Yellowstone National Park held this distinction.

Here in these eastern parks are the largest stands of virgin hardwoods left in the U. S. As I understand it, most of these will never be cut. There are trees standing here that were hundreds of years old when John Sevier and General Evan Shelby led their long-rifle toting backwoodsmen over the ridges to defeat Ferguson at Kings Mountain.

In our own northwest Minnesota area we need drive only a few miles to see the transition from woodland to plain; starting at Lower Red Lake one can see the transformation at a glance from a high-flying airplane on a clear day. (Why not try it some day?)

There's a certain majesty to the sweeping, treeless plains, especially in spring, but for real honest-to-goodness scenery one must have trees. They are the frosting on the cake, literally speaking.

Sitting in my rocking chair looking out the window I share the feeling Joyce Kilmer must have had when he wrote the poem, "Trees". What would Kilmer have to say if he were able to see the way we indiscriminately bulldoze down whole forests to make way for "progress" nowdays?

Harley Kelly to Go to Convention

It's mid-winter outside, but February 7-10 it will be spring inside at the Minneapolis headquarters of the 620-store Our Own Hardware company.

Those are the days when more than 1,400 member-dealers and their employes from towns in Minnesota and eight other states will assemble in Minneapolis for their annual convention and "spring" buying session. Harley Kelly, of Kelly's Hardware will leave Saturday for the sessions.

More than 6,000 new hardware, gift, outdoor and sports items will be on display as the dealers decide what products to put on their shelves when the grass is green again.

Co. Agent Reports on Soybean Tests

Says Wide Spacing of Rows Didn't Affect Yield

Soybean row spacing had no effect on yield in county trials conducted last summer. County Agent Paul Stelmaschuk reports that almost identical yields were obtained from 18-inch and 36-inch spacing between rows of soybeans. The yield under both treatments was 18.3 bushels.

The trials were conducted on the Silas Hanson farm, four miles east of Thief River Falls on sandy loam soil. Flambeau soybeans were planted on June 2. A rotary hoe was used on all of the strips on June 13, then on June 22 the beans received one cultivation.

On four out of 10 strips, Randox was applied without any evident weed control. It was used at one pound per acre.

The soybeans were fertilized with 6-24-14 fertilizer at the rate of 150 lbs. per acre. They were harvested on October 21 with a two per cent dockage. The overall appearance of the beans harvested was good.

Soybeans are not too tolerant of high pH in soils and any soil ranging over 7.5 in pH should be avoided for bean planting, said Stelmaschuk.

PHYLLIS SIMON ON DEAN'S LIST AT 'U' M., DULUTH

The Dean's List for the fall quarter at the University of Minnesota Duluth Branch shows that 195 students achieved such honor roll recognition. Academic Dean Thomas W. Chamberlin said that nine UMD students had straight A grades and 186 had grades of B or better in all courses while carrying a full load of college work. In the latter group was Phyllis A. Simon of Thief River Falls.

Laff Of The Week

"Quick! . . . I wish to reserve a single room and a bassinet!"

The World Outdoors

THE buffalo would have disappeared completely long ago had not protective laws put an end to the buffalo hunters who slaughtered thousands for their hides and left their carcasses to rot in the sun.

Because they traveled in great herds, and fed peacefully on the open plains, buffalo were easy targets. Other creatures of the wild not so "trusting" have managed to survive and even flourish without protective laws.

Two interesting and wily examples are the coyote and the fox. Neither has ever been in peril of extinction and if they were, they are probably so disliked and despised (and in a few instances, admired as a challenging adversary for the hunt) that enforcing any protective law would be difficult!

The coyote is a creature of the West, and out there he tops the list of "undesirables," being considered the Prince of Predators. Yet trappers, hunters and bounty-seekers have not been able to eliminate him from the scene. In fact, the coyote has extended his territory from the wilds of the West to outlying sections of the more densely populated East. So silent was his invasion that no one knows exactly when or how he slipped into Vermont, New York and Massachusetts. But he has set up permanent housekeeping in New York.

The fox, a creature one-third the size of the coyote, is the larger animal's peer in the matter of self preservation. The fox has three great enemies: the farmer, the trapper and the dog. One can get an argument as to whether the fox belongs on the credit or debit side in nature's handbook. His diet is made up of meadow mice, rodents, small mammals, eggs and insects, but, like the coyote, he eats whatever is handiest.

Across the Desk — Ideas from Other Editors

From The Valley Farmer, Bay City, Michigan: For many years, each Congressional session has seen the introduction of legislation designed to help smaller businesses. Much of it, obviously, has been impractical; some has been hare-brained, and none has been found generally acceptable.

Now, however, the situation may be changing. According to the American Retail Federation, "there is a growing sentiment in the Congress for the 'reinvestment of earnings' principle to stimulate the growth of small business." Under that plan, businesses, within prescribed limits, would be able to retain and reinvest more of their earnings. Support has come from many members of Congress, representing both of the parties.

There is no question but what the tax laws are the principal barrier to the growth of the small business with modest financial resources. A small or medium-sized retailer, for example, just doesn't have enough money left after the tax bite to go ahead at better than a snail's pace.

The current proposal, it is true, would somewhat reduce the government's tax revenues in the beginning. But, in the long run, it would increase them. For as business—large or small—grows and its profit picture improves, the public treasuries are always the greatest beneficiaries.

From the South Pasadena Review, South Pasadena, California: There are some that state, that they do not agree with the editor. An editorial policy is only to get the readers to make up their own minds on a subject. It matters not whether an individual agrees with what a newspaper says editorially; it does matter a great deal as to whether the reader, through the medium of the editorial, gives thought and consideration to the subject at hand.

If a reader strongly opposes a newspaper's opinion, it is all for the best, since it indicates that he has read and considered the subject and has found it to be contrary to his own ideas. We will never complain as we have accomplished our real purpose in getting our readers to make up their own minds as to whether they shall be for or against something.

Results of Jan. 27th game: Washington, 34; at Knox 23
Schedule, Thursday, Feb. 4th: Northrop at Washington

A second half rally that found the Washington team outscoring Knox, 20 to 7, gave coach Al Staely's Wildcats their first win of the season as they defeated the Tigers, 34 to 23 in a grade school basketball league game played on the Knox floor on Wednesday afternoon.

Knox, with Mark DuChamp and Ricky Relerson scoring a pair of field goals apiece moved ahead quickly in the first period of play. Washington narrowed the first period lead of the Tigers to trail by two points, 16 to 14, at the intermission.

Washington tallied 12 points in the third period while holding the Tigers of coach Roger Dorn to but one lone free throw point. Tommy Johnson and Danny Brouse led the Wildcats' third period splurge with six and four points respectively. In the final quarter, Washington outpointed Knox, 8 to 6.

Relerson, with four baskets and a free throw, all scored in the first half, led the Knox scorers with nine points. Johnson with six field goals and a free throw, was the game's scoring leader with 13 points.

The next league game will find the league-leading Northrop Indians invading the lair of the Washington Wildcats on Thursday afternoon, Feb. 4. Tip off time is slated for 4:15 p.m.

Bemidji Edges TRF in Overtime

Ron Hanson's right handed hook shot from off to the right of the basket with four seconds of play remaining and the Prowlers trailing the Bemidji Lumberjacks by two points forced an overtime period when the ball after a bounce or two on the rim, dropped through the west basket to knot Saturday night's drama the basketball game here at 55 all.

In the three minute overtime period, the Prowlers gained a two-point lead when, in the opening seconds, Darrell Nelson was fouled by Bemidji's John Phillips and scored two free throw points. Bob Glas, who performed up to his all-state tournament reputation, swished in a long high arching shot to even the game at 55 to 55.

Moments later, when fouled by Steve Embury, Glas stepped up to the east free throw line and dropped a pair of left-handed gift shots into the basket, providing the Lumberjacks with their 57 to 55 win. In the final minute and 50 seconds of the overtime period, Bemidji resorted to ball-control tactics to protect their lead and stall out the time.

This week's schedule will find the Prowlers meeting the Crookston Central Pirates in a 31st district and Northwest conference game here on Friday night. On Saturday night, Feb. 6, the Prowlers will travel to East Grand Forks for a game against the Sacred Heart high school Eagles.

In Saturday's thriller, the Prowlers revealed fine spirit as they refused to wilt under the pressure applied by the Lumberjacks, who on several occasions moved into a commanding lead. The Prowlers held the Jacks to a 14 to 14 score in the first period and trailed by four points, 31 to 27, at the intermission. In the third period Bemidji outpointed the Prowlers, 11 to 5 and increased their point lead to ten, 12 to 32, as the two teams entered the fourth quarter.

Opening the final eight minutes of the play, Hanson, on a pass from Ed Lietzow looped in a field goal. Phillips hit on a shot from the left side of the court. Darrel Nelson scored a field goal for the Prowlers, and Hanson, recovering from a free throw try, tipped in a rebound shot. Hanson and Price exchanged free throw points, and the Bemidji lead had been pared to six points. Bob Pearson found the net on a shot from the side of the court, and after Glas had marked up a free throw point, Pearson, on a drive-in, scored on a lay-up shot. Price, from the lane dropped in a field goal. Hanson, with 3:30 to play, scored twice from the free throw line; but Glas, on Lietzow's fifth personal, marked up two points for the Jacks. Pearson, scoring his third basket of the period, scored on a rebound shot. Glas, from the lane, lofted a one handed toss into the basket. Hanson, with 1:50 to play, scored on a left handed hook, and at the 0:48 mark, when fouled by Larry McDowell, Hanson added two points from the free throw line and the Prowlers trailed by one point, 50 to 19. Price, with 21 seconds to play, scored a Bemidji free throw, setting the stage for Hanson's game-tying basket and forcing an overtime period.

Hanson with eight field goals and 11 free throws (he didn't miss a free throw) was the game's high point player with 27 points. Glas who played a stellar all round game for Bemidji, had five field goals and nine free throws for 19 points.

Prowlers Win 8-4 over St. Paul Johnson Six

A spectacular double "hat trick" performance, six goals, by center Dale Wennberg featured the Prowlers 8 to 4 win over coach Rube Gustafson's St. Paul Johnson squad in a high school hockey game played on the Arena ice on Friday night.

The Prowlers, with an unbeaten string of fourteen games will play the Hallock Bears in a Region Eight conference game here on Tuesday night, Feb. 3. And on Feb. 6 the Prowlers will travel to Roseau for a game with coach Oscar Almquist's Rams, with the result of the game determining the number one and number two positions for the regional tournament pairings. On Friday, Feb. 12, the Prowlers will conclude their 1959-60 schedule by playing the Warroad Warriors on the Arena ice.

In Friday night's high-scoring tilt with the Governors of St. Paul Johnson, the Prowlers bounced into a 1 to 0 lead in the opening seconds of play. With the Prowlers driving toward the north goal, Wennberg gained the draw on the opening face-off, picked up the puck, side-stepped the Johnson defense and, from ten feet out, flipped a backhand shot from the left that found an opening between goalie Bob Johnson's pads and the left goal-post, scoring in eight seconds.

Wennberg, at the 6:46 mark, rammed in a rebound, after Jack Goulet had made a blue-line try, to give the Prowlers a 2 to 0 lead. In the first period of play, the Prowlers were markedly superior in all-round play, with St. Paul Johnson's goalie having 12 stops, while Wayne Halvorson was called on for but two stops.

Larry Poole, after 2:02 of the second period elapsed, poked in a rebound shot after Wes Halvorson had taken a shot from off to the left of the south net, and the Prowlers had a 3 to 0 lead.

Johnson, on Louis Torinus' long shot from the right point, scored at 2:54. After the Wennberg-Arlan Hjelle had racked up a Prowler goal at 5:46, St. Paul Johnson, on a goal by John Olson, that dropped into the net off goalie Halvorson's back, the shot being a high bouncer that came from behind the Prowler net, cut the Prowler lead to 4 to 2. And when Olson, scoring on a ten-foot rebound shot, tallied at 9:31, the Governors were within a goal of the locals. Wennberg, with Hjelle assisting, boosted the Prowler lead to 5 to 3 at the 10:36 mark.

In the third period, burly Archie Schneider, on an off-balance shot from the left point, scored at 0:36 when the puck caromed off the goalie's pads and into the north net. Wennberg, taking a pass from Schneider, waltzed in for a tally at 1:18. St. Paul Johnson's Dave Peterson, intercepting a clearing pass in the Prowler zone, hit the far corner of the south net from twenty feet out at 4:15. The game's final tally came at the 6:08 mark when Wennberg, on a pass up the ice by Jerry Larson that enticed the St. Paul Johnson goalie to skate out of his net in an effort to freeze the puck, nudged the puck "through" the goalie as he tried to cover the disc. The goal gave the Prowlers' nifty all state center his sixth tally of the game.

The Lamplighter

Dale Wennberg, the Prowlers' smooth-skating center-ice player and an all-state tournament selection last season, scored two goals in each period of Friday night's game here as coach Gene Sack's club marked up an 8 to 4 win over the St. Paul Johnson squad. Wennberg, who has been the cause of numerous backaches by goalies in this area, from digging the puck out of the net after Dale has drilled a goal into the cage, joins such stellar Prowler hockey greats as Jack Erickson and Al Steenerson, and team-mate Eddie Holmes in racking up a six-goal game.

In January of 1951, in a game played on the Arena ice here against the Hibbing Bluejackets, the Prowlers scored an 8 to 5 win, and Erickson, twice an all-state choice, scored six goals. In December of 1951, in a game against Grand Forks Central, also on local ice, and which was won by the Prowlers by a 12 to 5 score, Steenerson hit the mesh for six goals. In January of 1952, also against Grand Forks Central, but played at Grand Forks, Erickson tallied six goals as the Prowlers won a 7 to 3 decision.

Ten days ago, in a Region Eight conference game played on the outdoor ice sheet at Williams, hustling Eddie Holmes, getting two goals in the first period, three goals in the second period, and a singleton in the third period, had a six-goal game.

And on Friday night, Wennberg joined this group.

In the fourteen games played to date by the Prowlers, Dale has scored 27 goals and been credited with 21 assists, for an aggregate of 48 points. It's doubtful if Dale will reach the school record set by Erickson during the 1950-51 season when, in nineteen games, Jack scored 42 goals and had 26 assists for 68 points. In his five years a member of the Prowler varsity hockey squad, Erickson scored 114 goals and had 54 assists.

The Arena

In answer to numerous queries as to the size of the ice sheet in the Arena rink we'll report that a measurement reveals that the ice sheet is 79 feet wide and 174 feet long. That's not too far from the recommended size for ice hockey.

A hockey rink should be 85 feet wide, and the local rink's width of 79 feet is acceptable. The recommended length of a hockey rink is 200 feet, and that's the size of the rink in the St. Paul Auditorium. For high school play, this length is a bit strong. Roseau's fine ice sheet is 185 feet long and 85 feet wide, and that seems ideal. If the Arena rink was extended to provide for a length of ice 185 or 190 feet long, the defensive and offensive zones could be brought out sixty feet from the goal lines. Much of the play in hockey is concentrated in these zones, and with more ice than is available at present in the Arena there would be fewer off-side calls and more open play.

And the Arena could be enlarged quite easily. There is 95 feet of space from the south wall of the Arena to the sidewalk, and if the building was extended to the sidewalk, the ice sheet could be extended into a rink having a length of 190 feet. This would permit the placing of two thirty-foot bleachers in each end of the rink.

These end zone bleachers would provide seating space for about a thousand fans. And there are a number of fans who would attend hockey games if they could be provided with a seat. As it is, the fans must stand throughout the game.

With all the discussion that is going on, and with the interest in hockey on the increase, we hope that some plans will be made.

The Villain

From the standpoint of the basketball Prowlers, and their adherents, the "villain" in Saturday night's overtime loss to Bemidji, 57 to 55, was the Lumberjack's poker-faced guard, Bob Glas.

Glas scored 19 points to lead coach Bun Fortier's scorers, but it was the "clutch" scoring of the stocky guard that killed off the Prowlers' chances at victory.

In the first half, Glas tallied but one field goal and four free throws. In the second period Bob converted on only one try in six attempts from the free throw line. But it was in the second half that his value to the Bemidji scheme of victory became apparent. He scored four field goals and notched five of six tries from the free throw line, and accounted for all of Bemidji's overtime points. In addition, he was the "quarterback" directing the floor play of the Jacks.

It was an all-state performance, and the Jacks needed an all-state performance from Glas to score a win over the ever-trying Prowlers.

FIRST EVENT The Cliff Jorde rink, left to right, Len Furuseth at third, May Jahr at second, Richard Jorde at lead, and skip Cliff Jorde, defeated the Charlie Smith rink, 9 to 7, in a nine-end (an extra end match) to win the first event title in the three day, thirty-two rink mixed bonspiel held here. The finals were played on Sunday evening.

Prowler 'B's Take Bemidji 'B's 41-39

Harvey Ebbighausen, with 15 Points, Leads Scoring

Harvey Ebbighausen, with a field goal and a pair of free throws, acounted for all of the Prowler 'B' team points in the fourth period of the preliminary game played here Saturday night against the Bemidji 'B' team, but those four points maintained a two-point lead and gave coach Joe Mrkonich's squad a thrilling 41 to 39 win over coach Jack Luoma's Lumberjack 'B'.

Ebbighausen scored 15 points for the Prowlers, for high point honors. Elton Hornseth added five goals to the 'B' team cause. Bob Kennedy, with five field goals and four free throws, led the Bemidji scoring.

Local Rinks Winners of Bonspiel Sunday

Local rinks monopolized top honors in the 32 rink mixed bonspiel that was completed at the Fairgrounds curling arena Sunday night, gaining the finals in the three events.

In the first event competition the Cliff Jorde rink — Richard Jorde, lead, May Jahr, second, Len Furuseth, third, and Jorde, skip — defeated the Charlie Smith rink, 9 to 7, in an extra end match to win the finals. Jorde defeated the Ardell Liden in a first round match, sidelined the Eveleth quartet in a second round match, defeated Winnipeg's Don Trakala a third round encounter, and bested Harold Halvorson to gain the finals.

In the second event play, which also was an extra end match, Ray (Elks Club) Olson, throwing a take-out rock with his last try, bounced out Ardell Liden's "shot" rock and left his own rock for a counter and a win, 8 to 7. The Olson rink dropped their first match to Lloyd Halvorson, and then moving over into the second event scored wins over Henry Thorson, Al Thompson, and Otto Saugen before meeting the Ardell Liden rink. The Olson rink had Beverly Olson at lead, Vi Jaranson at second, John Jaranson at third, and Ray as skip.

The Harland Knutson rink — Ruby Langlie lead, Bob Homme at second, Clebert (Bud) Molstad at third, and Knutson as skip — won the third event title by scoring a 7 to 2 win over the Curtis Johnson rink.

Participating in the 'spiel were rinks from Winnipeg, Canada; Drayton, N. D.; Eveleth, Duluth and Bemidji in Minnesota.

The scores of the event finals:

First event—
Cliff Jorde	024	001	002—9
Charlie Smith	200	110	210—7
Second event—
Ray Olson	021	003	101—8
Ardell Liden	100	210	030—7
Third event
Harland Knutson	211	200	01—7
Curtis Johnson	000	000	20—2

Real success is more of an inward feeling than an outward show.

Farmers Reminded of Necessity of Paying Social Security Tax

A self-employed person has an obligation to file a yearly tax return and pay the social security tax on his net earnings. He also has an obligation to himself and his family to build the protection that correct and regular reporting affords.

Walter D. Kistler, district manager of the Grand Forks social security office, makes this statement as a reminder to all people who work for themselves of the importance of filing their 1959 tax returns on or before April 15, 1960.

Many people, he said, do not realize that failure to make a yearly report is a violation of the law and can result in penalties and interest charges on unpaid social security taxes. Many more do not understand that delay in filing can cause loss of valuable social security credit and so cut down their old-age, survivors and disability insurance protection. His office, and every social security office in the country, he said, can cite examples where failure to report has resulted in the wiping out of social security insurance protection altogether.

As an example, he gives the case of a self-employed farmer. Farm operators, and certain other self-employed people first came under social security at the beginning of 1950. With the filing of their 1959 tax returns they will have five years of work credit under the law. To get disability protection under social security, five years of work out of the ten years before disability begins are necessary. A farmer who has filed a tax return every year beginning with 1955 now has that protection.

The farmer he had in mind recently became totally disabled. A friend advised him to apply for social security benefits as he is over 50 and, as his friend said, "has been in work covered by social security 5 out of the last 10 years." He applied, but he was in for a shock. The reason? He had neglected to file a return and pay the social security tax for 1955. The law says that your earnings must get on the record within three years, 3 months and 15 days after the taxable year in which they were earned. For the year 1955, that time was April 15, 1959. This man's earnings for 1955 can never be credited to his social security account. As he is too disabled for further substantial gainful work, another year of earnings can never be credited to his social security account. He remains one year short of the work requirement of the law. He and his dependent wife and minor children have lost the protection his compliance with the law would have given them.

If you are a self-employed person, Mr. Kistler said, guard against the possibility of this happening to you. Report your net earnings correctly and regularly year after year. For information about reporting, get in touch with the District Director of Internal Revenue; for information about old-age, survivors and disability insurance—what it is, who it protects, and what it pays—come to the Grand Forks social security office, Kistler advises.

ASC Meetings Slated for Marshall County

Eleven meetings designed to bring information on Agricultural Conservation Program practices to all interested farmers in Marshall county, will be held from Feb 1-15 at various points in the county, according to Edward A Johnson chairman of the Marshall county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

Farmers will be given an opportunity to request the federal government to share the costs, if needed, to aid in carrying out eligible practices on their farms during the 1960 program year. The 1960 program year began in the fall of 1959 and continues through December 31, 1960.

The period for filing requests for cost sharing opens February 1 and continues throughout 1960 with forms to be available at the meetings or at the ASC county office after the series has been completed.

"The future prosperity of the nation necessitates the protection and maintenance of our land and water resources," Mr. Johnson said. "This Agricultural Conservation Program is entirely voluntary. Any farmer who believes he can do the needed conservation job on his farm without the aid of the limited funds available under the ACP program is urged to do so."

Meeting place, date and townships involved include the following:

Viking school, Thursday, Feb. 4, Viking and New Solum;

Strandquist, Carlson's Cafe, Friday, Feb. 5, Lincoln, East Park, West Valley, Nelson Park and Wright;

Holt Cafe, Feb. 8, Holt, East Valley, Agder and Excel;

Middle River, city auditorium, Tuesday, Feb 9, Huntley, Como, Thief Lake, Spruce Valley, Cedar and Whiteford.

Gatzke, Sportsmen Lodge, Wednesday, Feb 10, Moose River, Linsell, Rollis and Veldt;

Grygla, Soil Conservation Service office, Thursday, Feb 11, Eckvoll, Valley and Espelie, Newfolden school Friday Feb 12, Marsh Grove, Newfolden, New Maine and West Valley.

All meetings will be all-day meetings from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., Mrs. Johnson added.

RED LAKE FALLS NAVY LIEUTENANT AT MEMPHIS

Navy Lt. (j g) Ralph M. Helm, son of Mrs Laura M. Helm of Red Lake Falls, and husband of the former Miss Arline Ezell of Waverly, Ohio, reported to the Naval Air Station, Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 15, and has been assigned as ground control aviation officer controller.

Brigadier General Archibald Henderson, USMC, often called the "Father of the Marine Corps," served as the Corps' leader from Oct. 17, 1820, until Jan. 6, 1859.

Potato Industry Featured at RRV Shows Feb. 22-26

Exhibits to Include Certified Seed and Open Classes of Potatoes

A bronze sweepstakes plaque, donated by the Red River Valley Potato Growers' association will be awarded to the top potato exhibit, in the amateur or professional class at the 1960 Red River Valley Winter Shows, Crookston, February 22-26.

The certified seed growers class will receive entries of any certified potato variety. Certified seed potatoes will be displayed this year in one-half bushel baskets. The certified seed tag should accompany each entry. Cash awards are available in all divisions of the certified seed class with awards going through fifth prize in each of nine lots.

The Red River Valley Potato Growers' association will also have an educational booth and display, featuring the potato growing and potato processing industry.

A commercial potato pack exhibit, which was a part of the 1959 Winter Shows, will again be featured at the 1960 event. Booth space will be available to commercial packing plants to display five-pound, 10-pound or 25-pound packs of potatoes as normally prepared for supermarket outlets.

Potato growers interested in the open class exhibiting or commercial potato packing concerns desiring to display their samples should contact B C. Beresford, Northwest Experiment station at Crookston, who is superintendent of the potato show.

A potato judging and identification contest for vocational agriculture students, FFA groups 4-H club members and schools of agriculture students will be held Monday, Feb. 22, at Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston in the Hill building.

Crookston Liquor Store Wins Case

Employes Found Innocent of Liquor Sale to Minor

Three employes of Crookston's municipal liquor stores were found innocent of selling liquor to a minor and the same charge against another employe were dropped during trial in Crookston municipal court Thursday.

The defendants Ed Miller, Ann Bushie, Bert Pierce, manager of both stores, and Leonard Vigness were charged with selling liquor to Robert Hagen, 20, Grand Forks, on Oct. 3. The city dropped charges against Miller during the trial.

In less than 20 minutes the ten men and one woman jury reached their decision in what was the city's biggest trial — spectator-wise, at least — in many years. Extra chairs were placed in the courtroom to handle the overflow crowd.

The eleven-member jury was decided upon after the 12th juror, Mrs. Stanley Anderson, asked to be excused. She said it was imperative that she return home to care for her baby.

Both the defense and the prosecution agreed to settle for an eleven-member jury, rather than select another member.

$1.3 Billion State Share U. S. Tax Bill

State Taxpayers Assn. Estimates Cost to State

Minnesota taxpayers will be required to pay out approximately $1,386,000,000 as their "share" of the $84 billion total of estimated net budget receipts in the fiscal year which begins on July next, according to Norman A. Borgen, executive secretary of the Minnesota Taxpayers association.

"This $1,386,000,000 estimate, compiled from figures prepared by Tax Foundation, Inc., is based upon the premise that Minnesotans in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1961, will pay 1.65 per cent of the tax burden of the nation," Borgen stated. "Reduced to a per capita figure, this means that the share of every man, woman and child in the state of Minnesota would be $407.77 (using the latest estimated population figure of 3,399,999), or $1,427 for an average family of 3.5 individuals.

"This is a huge burden upon the taxpayers of the State, particularly when piled on top of ever-increasing state and local taxes," Borgen declared, "and Congress, the administration, and citizens should be alert to possibilities for reducing it."

The fiscal 1961 budget estimates total federal expenditures at $79.8 billion and receipts at $84 billion, with a resulting surplus of $4 billion.

"The greatest thing a human soul ever does in this world is to see something and tell what it saw in a plain way. Hundreds of people can talk for one who can think, but thousands can think for one who can see. To see clearly is poetry, prophecy and religion, all in one." —John Ruskin

Seven Miles Down

An American under-water ship has now penetrated the ocean to a depth of 7 miles at a point said to be the deepest known ocean trench. The successful descent of this miniature submarine and its crew of two officers is looked upon as a long step forward in the exploration of the lower depths of the sea. At the bottom the spherical cabin of the ship is said to have withstood a pressure of more than eight tons per square inch.

Now that the ocean floor has been reached at its greatest depth we may expect rapid progress in the exploration of this strange new world. Our own oceans are of far greater immediate imortance to us than the lands of some distant planet, and as we learn more about them we probably will develop a better understanding of some of the things above the surface that have been confusing to us.

Circus Days Again

Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey are opening their 1960 circus in Alabama this week and that is another sure sign that spring is on the way. One interesting thing about the new show is the fact that after three years of travel by bus and truck convoys, the greatest show on earth is going back to the rails and the New York Times reports that in about eight weeks it will come clattering into town "for an opener March 31 in Madison Square Garden" where it will play until May 15.

But while the new circus has gone back to railroad transportation it has forsaken its tents. It now is strictly an indoor show. During the 1960 season it will travel 24,000 miles and show in 75 cities.

Passenger car operators will be glad to know that this great show will not be cluttering up the highways as it "clatters" along on the rails.

Remember The Promises?

At their annual convention in Cincinnati recently, members of the American Road Builders Association called on Congress to make funds available to proceed with the construction of the Interstate Highway System and other roads dependent upon federal aid funds as they had been scheduled "in 1956 and 1958 Highway Acts."

As we see this problem it appears that the failure to proceed with this program as scheduled is due mainly to the now-obvious fact that the construction program as adopted has been far too ambitious. The new system of interstate super highways was sold to the public on the strength of the assurance that construction would proceed only as funds would be made available from specific road-user taxes. The progress of other intra-state trunk roads was not to be adversely affected by this new system of federal roads.

Those who gave leadership to the drive for support for the new federal interstate road system have not kept their word. In our state, for instance, and no doubt in others, the development of our primary and secondary systems of trunk roads is being delayed because of the top priority that is being given to the interstate program. Highway department officials justify this by the 90 per cent contribution from the federal government for the federal roads, and no doubt our state's share of 10 per cent buys more roads on such a basis. But it is not in keeping with the promises that were made when the program was presented.

We will go along with those who support the concentration of work on the new federal system in the large centers of population rather than in the outstate areas. It is in and around the large cities that the need for the federal expressway type of road construction is most urgent. There is little immediate need for the expressway type of construction that has been adopted for new highways through sparsely settled areas that would be better served if the federal money were made available to speed up the improvement of existing roads. In such areas the new program is stupidly unrealistic and wasteful.

Under present conditions there is no justification for pressure on Congress for increased spending. There is justification for a lot of table pounding in the insistence that the promises that were made by the advocates of this new road system be kept. The development of the new system should be only as rapid as tax collections make it possible. There was to be no borrowing and we were to curtail the program if at any time the burden became oppressive. And the program was not to be advanced at the expense and to the detriment of our other roads.

Let's slow down on the construction and start keeping the prom ses that were made.

Presidential Primaries

The 1960 presidential campaign is now well along and the more ambitious candidates are appealing for delegate support in the nominating conventions that lie ahead. State primary contests will give the rank-and-filers an opportunity to express themselves in a limited way. In seeking support in these primaries the candidates will discuss some of the national problems and some of these speeches may be informative. To this extent they may serve some useful purpose.

We will not have a presidential primary here in Minnesota this election but we will save the dollars that such a primary would have cost and that is a net gain. The Minnesota primary was set up originally to provide Harold Stassen with a national sounding board but Stassen probably would have been better off politically if we never had had a primary. He actually came out second best in the 1952 race when Eisenhower's name was written in by many Republican voters.

The main shortcomings of presidential primaries is the fact that the voters are limited in their choice only to those candidates who seek the office and are not given an opportunity to effectively support others whom they may favor. The primary ballot probably would be more effective as an indicator of voter sentiment if each voter had to write in the name of the man of his choice.

But a presidential primary as we now have them has little effect on convention results. Public opinion polls are not always accurate but they probably are more informative than the few scattered elections that are held. We are sure we will get along quite nicely without a presidential primary here in Minnesota.

Too Many Crutches

Now and then we see the flicker of a light through the darkness of the political scene that indicates there still are people among us who think straight and who have the courage of their convictions. Such a light burned brightly late in January when the members of the National Association of Home Builders, meeting in Chicago, rejected a proposal by the Democratic leadership that a government pump-priming appropriation of a billion dollars be made available to finance the building of homes.

The program was opposed because of its inflationary aspects and the organization went along with Norman P. Mason, head of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, who said the administration wanted no part of the plan. Eventually, we are sure, there will be a return to sanity and a realization that as we lean more and more upon government agencies to do for us the things we should do for ourselves, and can better do for ourselves, the weaker we become as individuals.

Our forward progress is already restrained because we are handicapping ourselves with too many crutches.

Moscow's Note to Tokyo

(New York Times)

The Soviets have sent a threatening note to Japan, demanding rejection of the new mutual security pact with the United States (just signed in Washington), the withdrawal of American troops from Japan and the "neutralization" of the country under a separate peace treaty with Russia. They accuse Japan of "capitulating" to the United States in an aggressive design against Soviet Russia and Communist China and warn of the possibility of an "atomic catastrophe." As a final touch, they declare that as long as the pact exists they cannot honor their promise to return two islands close to the Japanese shore seized during the war.

The note is quite in line with similar Soviet notes sent to many of our other allies. And, as in the case of Germany, the Soviets have special means of putting pressure on Japan: they occupy a tiny but important part of Japanese territory; they can curtail Japan's fishing rights; and they have just fired a rocket to the Pacific close to, or over, Japan, which must now be interpreted as a warning shot. In view of all this, the Government of Premier Kishi deserves credit for its firm and dignified rejection of the Soviet note as incompatible with Japan's sovereignty and an intervention in its domestic affairs.

The Soviet note is obviously directed not only against Japan but also against the United States, the other party to the pact. In these circumstances our Government should not hesitate to express renewed solidarity with Japan.

Jail for Drunk Drivers

(Huntsville, Alabama, Times)

Some sense is being put into Huntsville law enforcement by City Recorder Horace Garth. He announced this morning that persons convicted of drunken driving a second time will not receive the customary fine of $100 and costs. They'll go to jail.

Fines, even of $100, mean little, to many people in times of prosperity, but a jail term is another story. Drivers knowing they will face jail on second conviction, whatever their name might be, will think twice before combining driving and elbow bending.

There'll be pressures to reduce charges, and there'll be the most tearful pleas to make exceptions, but if police officers remain firm with their charges, and the judge stands equally fast in his policy, we should see immeasurably safer streets and highways in Huntsville.

And if the policy were to spread to other courts, the area of increased safety would spread with it.

Nobody wants to go to jail.

Borrowed Nonsense . . .

"So you think you can dress a window to attract a woman, eh?" the shop manager said to the young applicant. "How would you start?"

"Well, sir, I'd put a large mirror in the window, then . . ."

"The job's yours!" beamed the manager.

When the mother found her infant daughter eating handfuls of sand from the sandbox she was frantic. She rushed the child into the house and made her drink lots of water then called the doctor.

After explaining what had happened and what she had done, she asked the doctor what she should do next.

"Just don't give her any cement," the doctor admonished.

During the late Christmas shopping rush a customer in a New York store had the misfortune to be hit by a small piece of store decoration which was dislodged while he was passing beneath it. He was escorted to the store office, where a report of the accident was filled out. Curious, he took a look and read that he had been "scratched on the face by a fallen angel."

—Capper's Weekly.

Everyone is in favor of safety. It would seem that measures designed to further highway safety would be among the most non-controversial. Yet experience shows that bitter controversies arise in this field, and conflicting opinions have been strong enough to prevent effective action in many cases. Let's look at a few examples.

Driving "Under the Influence"

I believe that all who have studied the problem would agree that drunken driving is responsible for far too many accidents. I know of no one who would assert that people ought to be permitted to drive who are under the influence of liquor. Yet all measures proposed to strengthen the enforcement of our laws that prohibit driving under the influence seem to meet with bitter opposition.

I know that some of this opposition arises because we do not all agree on what is the most effective way to enforce these laws. Some seems to arise because of a fear that certain proposed enforcement measures might interfere with individual freedom. I cannot agree with this kind of opposition, because I believe no one ought to be free to endanger other people's lives by violating the law.

It has even been suggested that some oppose new measures to strengthen the enforcement of laws against drunken driving because they are afraid that they might "get caught" and be subjected to punishment, although this is not an argument they express openly. Let me suggest that every driver has one sure guarantee against never "getting caught"—and that is the simple practice of never driving after he has been drinking.

"Let's Be Realistic"

Some people argue, "Let's be realistic" and recognize that many people are going to drink too much and then drive. I would answer, yes, let's really be realistic, and recognize the price we pay, in property loss, in physical injury, in loss of life, from this practice. No one has to drive after he has been drinking. And no one has to drink before he is going to drive. This is not one of the freedoms that we should uphold.

Strengthening Enforcement

I have repeatedly propsed that chemical tests should be instituted as a method of enforcing the law against drunken driving. These are working in some states, and have been upheld as constitutional. I hope to propose this method again. It will pass if people believe that it would be an effective method by which we could decrease the serious toll of highway accidents.

I have also suggested that the figure of 0.15 percent that is now accepted as the percentage of alcohol content in the blood that proves intoxication be lowered to 0.05 per cent, because I am convinced that scientific evidence shows that the latter figure indicates the point beyond which a driver becomes too reckless for safety.

Public Opinion

I hope that the people of Minnesota will study the evidence and the arguments, and that they will then conclude that we should take all steps available to prevent accidents resulting from drunken driving. It is not too early for citizens to mobilize such public opinion to be effective in the next session of the legislature.

I hope to suggest and support other measures that I believe should be enacted into law to further this non-controversial goal of safety, even if the measures themselves arouse controversy.

Words, Words, Words

Today, there is much interest in the education of children. Our increased birth rate as well as our struggle for scientific and technical proficiency have made America very aware of its schools and the learning ability of its children. But our interest in the school and the learning process will not be matched by understanding unless we are more "at home" with the language of the educator and the psychologist.

Teachers, school psychologists, guidance counselors, and others use a language that is not always understood by parents. It may be helpful to discuss a few of them in this and a few following articles.

What is I.Q.? Today, this has become a family word, but I am sure that it means many different things to many different people. Actually, the I.Q. is one way of saying how well a person performed on a certain test of intelligence or mental ability. It is not some magic number with which every child must be "labeled." I.Q. means "intelligence quotient" and is so called because at first it was always obtained through a process of division. At present, the way the I.Q. or score is obtained depends on the particular test. The term "intelligence quotient" is not a very helpful one, but, especially in its shortened form—"I.Q."—it is probable that it will be with us for a long time.

Many school people prefer to reveal intelligence test results in terms of percentiles rather than I.Q.'s. This is a good practice as long as this concept is explained. A percentile score tells us where a child's performance on a test stands in relation to the performance of other children his age on the same test.

When in the course of a conference we are told that our eight-year-old's intelligence test score was at the 50th percentile, this tells us that 50 per cent of eight-year-old children make lower scores on that test and 50 per cent make higher scores than our child. If we had been told that he was at the 95th percentile, it would have meant of course, that he had scored considerably higher. In this case only four per cent of children his age do better than he does on this test.

Notice how we have always referred to "this test" or a "particular test." There are many intelligence tests and a child will not score the same on all of them. We should know something about the test which was used, if we wish to understand more fully what the school is trying to tell us.

More "words, words, words" next time.

LIFE ON $200 A MONTH—HOW TO MANAGE IT

WHAT follows here will be of some satisfaction to people who like to scold me.

Always they're asking how a couple can live in retirement on $200 a month. And they scoff at the notion that it can be done.

This is intended to spell the matter out.

Couples who retire on $200 a month will spend, in the main, about $2.50 a day for food—or $75 a month. They will spend about $50 for housing, and about $8 for utilities. The remaining $67 they will spend by ear—a little this month for clothes, hairpins, and razor blades; a little next month for doctors and pills, and maybe a movie.

These figures are for people with no property or investments, and who live in rented city quarters.

Most economic studies show that living costs will vary between different parts of the country, and between big cities and small cities. These studies usually deal with families. Retired couples on a small income—as best I can determine it—live about as cheaply in one place as another. Except that in some rural areas in the southern states they can live on $200 a month and have a bank account. It's a low standard, but it's living.

A budget for a retired couple doesn't make much sense. The reason it doesn't is that there is such a wide range in the tastes, customs and circumstances of every couple. Here is a rundown of the range:

FOOD. This is the biggest item in the budget. And the best way to reduce it is to produce some of your food with your own hands. You can do this by hunting, by fishing, and by planting a garden.

Any of these can reduce the $2.50 a day spent for food, and give extra money for housing or hairpins.

A couple that drinks $1.50 worth of coffee a week, and goes for steaks instead of vegetables will not get by on $2.50 a day and thus will have to find housing for maybe $40 a month, or put patches on clothes. A couple that chooses to buy packaged convenience foods, instead of stringing the beans themselves, probably will have to do the same.

On the other hand, the couple that can remain healthy on two meals a day instead of three can pay $60 or $70 a month for housing.

HOUSING. The couple must balance its desires in housing and type of neighborhood against its desires in food, always keeping about $50 flexible to apply where other needs arise.

CLOTHING. The concern of a couple over the appearance they make to other people is the major factor here—and each person must assess his own vanity. Other factors are the wife's talents in keeping clothes in repair, and the couple's habits in taking care of clothes.

LOCATION. Strictly on the basis of economics a couple can get by about as well on $200 a month in a big city in the North as it can in a small city in the South because of the wider choice in housing.

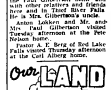
THE GRAPHAPHONE

In 1900 people paid admission to hear the "graphaphone" or talking machine invented by Thomas Edison in 1877.



Despite Edison's protests that the talking machine was not a toy, it was impossible to get well known artists to "lower" themselves to make musical recordings. Consequently most of the entertainment recorded on the cylindrical records of early days, consisted of jokes and talking.

Edison perfected the diamond needle that never needed sharpening or replacing. Then in 1907 he put his phonograph in a case resembling a piece of furniture. In 1910, Edison switched to the flat record and sold millions of them.

Appearing in newspapers of the Minnesota Editorial Association through the cooperation of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service and the University of Minnesota Institute of Agriculture.

Research on Strontium-90 is urgently needed in state soils, University of Minnesota soils scientists says. A. C. Caldwell feels the problem is one for concern among the fertilizer industry, farmers and the public in general. Strontium-90, a product of radioactive fallout, is a close relative of calcium. If taken up by animals or human beings, it can replace calcium in the bone structure.

Grade 'A' Milk Output Increasing in State

Minnesota dairymen are producing more grade A milk than ever, University of Minnesota agricultural economists report.

But they add that farmers need more out-of-state markets before any further increase in grade A milk will pay off.

Richard J. Goodman and E. Fred Koller recently surveyed all grade A plants in the state. And they found that grade A milk receipts jumped 64 per cent from 1955-58. At the same time, total milk receipts went up only 28 per cent.

Of all grade A milk received in 1958, about 65 per cent was bottled or packaged. About a third went into surplus uses which lead to lower prices to producers.

In 1958, nearly 1.6 billion lbs. of grade A milk was received from more than 7,000 farmers by 181 Minnesota dairy plants. Only 18 million pounds, or 1.6 per cent of the total, was sold in bulk for bottling or other grade A uses in other states.

Goodman and Koller found the seasonal pattern of milk production working against Gopher state farmers. Most surplus grade A milk from here is available in spring when out-of-state demand is lowest. In late summer or fall when demand from other states is up, Minnesota has a smaller grade A surplus.

Most grade A milk available for out-of-state shipment is produced in the eastern half of the state, the survey showed. Nearly 80 per cent of the grade A milk diverted to manufacturing was in southeastern plants and 20 per cent was in northeastern plants.

Grade A milk diverted to manufacturing is what economists usually refer to as "surplus"—above local bottling needs.

Goodman and Koller found that about 54 per cent of the state's total grade A milk is received by plants serving the Twin Cities market. The entire southeastern section, which includes the Twin Cities, receives about 75 per cent of the state's grade A milk supply.

Minnesota had 181 grade A plants in 1958. Of these, 139 got all or part of their milk directly from farmers. The rest bought from other grade A plants.

Most grade A plants bottled all or part of their milk. Of the total, 107 bottled all their milk. Another 46 bottled in combination with some other processing activity—such as butter making, milk drying or cheese making.

In 28 plans, grade A milk was sold in bulk whole milk or cream to other dairy plants.

Grade A plants bottled or packaged about 65 per cent of all grade A milk received in the state in 1958. About 1.6 per cent was sold in bulk for bottling or other grade A uses in other states. The rest—33.4 per cent—was diverted into manufactured dairy products.

Goodman and Koller say these surpluses — such as diverted grade A milk—lower profits from grade A production.

Big Barley Show In Prospect for RRV Winter Shows

Prizes Totaling $249 Are Offered to Winners in Various Divisions

One of the many features of the grain section of the Red River Valley Winter Shows at Crookston this year will be the barley show. There has been a steady increase in the number of exhibits in this show in the past two years and all indications point to a record number this year. The Winter Shows dates are Feb. 22-26.

Prize money totaling $269 will be available for the barley producers of the Red River Valley. The first premium in the open malting division will be $25 in cash. A sweepstake award of $25 is being given the best sample of barley in the show. This means that a person could win both awards and take home $50 in prize money.

The three classes in the open division of the barley show are malting, feed, and barley varieties not adequately tested. The samples must be field-run from the 1959 crop and must not be cleaned or hand picked. The sample must be one-half bushel in size and becomes the property of the management of the show.

A division for 4-H and FFA exhibitors is also divided into three classes of malting, feed and varieties of barley not adequately tested. The young people in this division must be enrolled in a 4-H or FFA barley project. The prize money here is equally good.

The varieties of barley eligible for the malting class are Kindred (L), Traill, and Parkland. Each sample should be clearly labeled as to variety, name and address.

Donors of prize money, plaques and ribbons for the barley show will be the Red River Valley Crops and Soils association, the Malting Barley Improvement association, and the Minnesota Brewers' association.

THESE WONDERFUL PEOPLE

Have fun kids. Mom and Pop don't really mind because they remember their teenage days.

In our community we have a wonderful group of teenagers going to school, learning, having fun, approaching adulthood. They are a wonderful part of the community and life wouldn't be worth much without them. It's the same with our local merchants and hospitals and churches and fund drives—we can't do without them. For growth and prosperity, support your community and its institutions.

State Medics Give Facts on Eye Care

Say Eyes Are Too Often Neglected or Abused

Have you learned to appreciate the wonder of vision? Few persons really learn to appreciate this precious possession until eyesight has been lost or impaired. Seldom is any other part of the body more neglected or abused than the human eye.

The Minnesota State Medical Association lists the following facts about vision and eye care:

The condition commonly called "tired eyes" is usually the result of fatigue or over-strain of the eyes. Other causes include faulty vision, improperly fitted glasses or improper use of them. Remember that a tired eye, like any other part of the human body in a fatigued condition cannot function properly. More important, forcing the use of a tired eye may cause an irritation which could become inflame and infected.

Additional factors which may produce eyestrain include dietary deficiencies, improper focusing of the eyes, failure to wear glasses as prescribed, as well as poor lighting conditions.

Continued eyestrain can result in poor vision headaches, dizziness, twitching of the eyelids and even physical fatigue.

Most cases of "spots before the eyes" can be corrected with a pair of properly fitted glasses provided the individual is in an otherwise good state of health.

National Winners in Wool Garment Event Announced

Teen-agers from Ohio and Texas Are Awarded Summer Trips to Europe

Where there's a wool there's a way! Two teenage sewing queens proved it Tuesday in San Antonio, Texas, at the Gunter Hotel by winning a two-week summer holiday in Paris, London and Rome—the top award in the national finals of the "Make It Yourself With Wool" homesewing contest.

Elizageth Bennett, 17, of Salem, Ohio, and Paula Obrecht, 19, of Claude, Texas, both had their hearts set on the European trip, and their fingers crossed, when they entered the contest in their states last fall. Elizabeth, a junior at Andrews School for Girls in Willoughby, Ohio, skillfully sewed her way to the top honors in her state, making for herself an all-wool gold, brown and gray plaid skirt, coordinated with a short, brown collarless jacket. She added a dash of color excitement with a yellow wool jersey blouse with large shirt collar.

Paula entered a Paris design by Lanvin-Castillo, a lightweight beige wool crepe dress in the popular blouson silhouette. The fabric of the bodice is softly draped to simulate the look of a jacket with three-quarter length kimono sleeves. Paula, a sophomore at Harding college in Searcy, Arkansas, plans to pursue a career in fashion designing.

The two young ladies led 38 other state finalists in the "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest. They plan to make their trip in June or July via Pan American World Airways.

Several thousand girls between the ages of 13 and 22 enter the contest each year in 20 western and midwestern states. The contest, which is designed to show young girls how easy it is to sew with wool, offers prizes totaling $15,000.

M.P. Pvt. Ronald Ebbighausen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ebbighausen of TRF, has just been transferred to Fort Gordon, Ga., from Fort Ord, Calif. where he took his basic training. At Fort Gordon, he will be attending military police school.

Electric Co-ops Hold Conference

Sessions Held Last Week in Minneapolis Hotel

The eleventh annual Minnesota electric cooperative and municipal utility workshop was held at the Pick-Nicollet Hotel, Minneapolis, on January 27, 28 and 29.

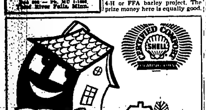
Over 300 employes of electric cooperatives and utilities from all parts of Minnesota participated in this training session sponsored by the trade and industrial unit of the state department of education in cooperation with the Minnesota Electric Cooperatives and Minnesota Municipal Utilities association.

Subject areas covered in the three day workshop included foremanship training, blueprint and map reading, operation of governors, urban distribution problems, metering problems, and rural distribution problems.

The instructional staff for this workshop was composed of outstanding authorities in the subject, representing twelve states as well as the University of Minnesota, St. Paul area vocational school, and Washington, D.C.

State Group Backs Freedom Crusade

State Legion Auxiliary to Assist in Campaign



The Minnesota American Legion auxiliary will participate in the annual, nation-wide Crusade for Freedom drive for funds in support of Radio Free Europe, it was announced today by Mrs. Eugene Lindquist, state president.

Radio Free Europe beams truth broadcasts behind the Iron Curtain to Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria. All funds collected during the drive will be used to help continue RFE's broadcasts of undistorted news and information to these Communist-dominated countries where free radio and press are unknown.

Truth dollars contributed to the Crusade for Freedom are uhed to maintain RFE's 28 powerful transmitters and relay stations that broadcast almost 3,000 hours of news, information and feature programs a week to the target countries. All boadcasts are beamed simultaneously on several frequencies to outwit Soviet jamming efforts.

TWO MIDDLE RIVER GIRLS SHARE IN QUEEN CONTEST

Eleven University of North Dakota coeds have been nominated by women's housing units to compete for the title of King Kold Karnival Kween. The winner will preside over events Feb. 12-13, including University basketball and hockey games, winter games and a dance. Among the candidates are Sylvia Folden and Judith Stardig, both of Middle River.

County Board Releases Fun for New Park

Board Had Voted $1,500 in 1958 for Wayside Pk. on No. 1

The way was cleared for financing the proposed acquisition of the site for a wayside park on Highway 1 east of the Eighth st. bridge and adjoining Red Lake river when the Pennington county board voted at its February session Tuesday to release $1,500 appropriated for the purpose in 1958, the statehood centennial year.

The money will be combined with other funds supplied by the city of Thief River Falls and the Junior Chamber of Commerce to make up the purchase price. The state highway department has promised to develop and maintain the park.

Action was taken by the board in response to an appeal from the local park board and Jaycee chapter, represented respectively by R. J. Dryden and Stan Gibson.

Robert Farmes, wild game biologist, submitted revised plans for the proposed Goose Lake refuge in Bray township in West Pennington county and part of Polk county. The project, he stated, has been reduced in size, and options have already been secured from owners of part of the 2,600 acres of private land in the area. Also involved are 1,200 acres of state trust fund lands 960 acres of tax-forfeited lands.

The board suggested that Fames secure options on the remaining privately held tracts, and then appear before the board again to obtain approval. It was announced that, owing to the many Goose lakes in Minnesota, the name of the project had been changed to the Pembina game refuge and public hunting grounds.

The board authorized County Engineer Joseph Seidel to advertise for bids for grading and bituminous treatment of a four-mile section of state aid highway south to the county line to connect with a highway north from Oklee.

Bids also were called for to be opened March 8 on the year's supply of Diesel fuel and gasoline for the county highway department.

Both local banks were designated to continue as county depositories.

A TICKLISH situation developed Monday afternoon, Feb. 1, when members of the Rotary club visited the area vocational school cosmetology department after their lunch in the school cafeteria. Banker E. O. Peterson is shown as he received an ultraviolet ray treatment from Miss Louise Andrson, left, instructor in the department, and Judy Schlechter of Thief River Falls, a student in the department.

Cosmetology Course of Vocational School Inspected by Rotary

Rotarians held their Monday noon luncheon meeting at the high school cafeteria and enjoyed a program presented by Miss Louise Anderson and a group of her area vocational school cosmetology class. Following the school program the Rotarians visited the plants of the Northern Woodwork Co., and Kiewel Products Co.

Miss Anderson outlined the subjects taught during the 1,500 hours of training required for graduation, pointing to a well rounded development of "skill, skull and attitude." She and her sister, Miss Susan Anderson, are the instructors of the classes that are limited to 40 students.

There is a waiting list of applicants for the course which continues the year around. Students are admitted as vacancies occur and graduate whenever they have completed the required studies and hours of training. Several of the Rotarians left the program with cleaner scalps and hands than they had when they arrived.

The area vocational school now has an enrollment of 202 students besides Lincoln high school students taking vocational school courses. Thirty of these are from Thief River Falls and 172 are from 73 communities in Minnesota, the Dakotas, Montana and Wisconsin.

The visits to the Northern Woodwork and Kiewel Products Co. plants were interesting, both of these operations having expanded recently and the story of these growing industries will be told in succeeding issues of the Times.

Rosengren, president, announced today. He urged the attendance of all persons interested in preserving and recording the pioneer traditions and history of this area.

Drotts Heads TRF Drive for Heart Fund in February

Solicitors to Canvass This Community on Heart Sunday, February 28th

Plans for conducting the 1960 Heart Fund drive in Thief River Falls were nearing completion this week as February, traditional month for raising funds to fight heart disease, arrived.

David Drotts, Pennington county chairman, announced the highlight of the drive would be Heart Sunday, Feb. 28, when a corps of volunteers will collect contributions from door to door throughout the community to support the work of the Minnesota Heart association.

Dollars collected here will be credited to the county drive which has a goal of $1750. Official Heart Fund campaign depository for the county is the Union State bank.

"We hope to give everyone an opportunity to join the fight against heart diseases," said Drotts. "Such diseases cause more death and disability than all other ailments combined. Hardly a single family has not had personal experience with one of the many forms of heart disease. The need is obvious."

Additional volunteer leaders appointed in the county are: Doug Odegaard, Thief River Falls, chairman; Mrs. George Sook, St. Hilaire, chairman; and Mrs. Irene Ellingson, Goodridge, chairman.

Funds raised in Minnesota will be invested in Minnesota Heart association programs of heart research, education and community service.

Area Bankers to Convene in City Saturday, Feb. 13

To Share in District Meeting with Officers of State Association

Thief River Falls will be the site of a meeting between the top bank executives of this area and officials of the Minnesota Bankers association. The meeting will be held at the Legion club Saturday, Feb. 13. The top banker from each bank in Beltrami, Clearwater, Kittson, Lake of the Woods, Marshall, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake, and Roseau counties has been invited to attend.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss informally all phases of banking and business as well as the projects and programs of the state association.

President Harold L. Hanson, Baudette banker, will preside over the meeting. Other MBA officials present will be George N. Reppe, Grand Meadow banker and vice president of the association; Kent S. Rogstad, Detroit Lakes banker and a member of the council of administration, the governing body, from this area; and Kenneth A. Wales, executive secretary of the MBA.

J. J. Womack, president of the Union State bank of Thief River Falls, has organized the meeting. This is the tenth of a series of 15 meetings to be held during January and February.

Some Salaries Raised by TRF School Board

Most of Staff of Administrators Are Given Pay Increase

Salaries for school administrators in Thief River Falls were set by the school board Tuesday evening, Feb. 2, as part of the matters taken up at the regular February meeting.

The salary of Irwin T. Mickelson, superintendent of schools, was raised to $12,500; Ray Henderson, director of elementary education, will receive $8,250; Art Aune, acting co-director of the area vocational school, will receive an additional $400 for the extra duties; Arnold Larson, Lincoln high school principal, will receive $8,800 and Frank Hamerlinck, acting assistant high school principal, will get a salary of $7,500. No action was taken on the salary of Joe Iverson, director of secondary education.

No action was taken on the employment of a director of the area vocational school for next year. Both Aune and Hamerlinck have been given permission to earn extra educational credits during the summer to qualify them for their higher positions.

In other action, the board decided to continue with replacement insurance rather than with the co-insurance clause, and to get estimates from several auditing firms to audit the school district books.

A lengthy list of possible members of a lay committee to study future building requirements in the Thief River Falls school district was presented to the board but no decision was reached. Each board member will examine the list and a decision will be made at the March 7 meeting.

Permission was given to Superintendent Mickelson to attend the Feb. 13-17 meeting of the American Association of School Administrators in Atlantic City. The board also approved the attendance of at least one of its members at the National School Board Association conference in Chicago April 24-27 but no decision was reached on who will attend.

A report on the elementary schools was presented by Ray Henderson, elementary director. Henderson told of the progress and results of achievement grouping; the federal aid which has provided science materials and elementary school equip-

Home Councils of District to Meet in TRF February 9

Eleanor Gifford, Home Extension Agent at Large to Address Group at Rex

Pennington county Home Council chairmen and members will attend one of ten district leadership meetings to be held throughout the state during February, County Agent Paul Stelmaschuk said today.

The meeting will be held at Thief River Falls in the Rex cafe Tuesday, Feb. 9, starting at 9:30 a.m. The purpose is to help council members understand the decision-making process as it relates to program planning.

Eleanor Gifford, extension home agent at large at the University of Minnesota, will help council members see the broad field of subject matter within her area. The session will show that by looking at many possibilities in one field, members can do more critical thinking about their own concerns. Thus, they are better able to decide which possibilities apply to their particular needs and interests.

Elks Fathers and Sons Dine Feb. 17

The annual Fathers and Sons banquet sponsored by the Thief River Falls Elks lodge will be held in the club rooms Wednesday evening, Feb. 17, at 6:30, Gordon Relerson, exalted ruler, announced this week. Entertainment will be provided for the boys following the dinner.

$2,267 Collected in March of Dimes

With only one-third of the Thief River Falls business district and one-half of the townships reporting, collections to Wednesday afternoon in the New March of Dimes in Pennington county aggregated $2,267, it was announced by Mrs. Henry Bothman, chairman of the campaign.

Final returns on the Mothers March conducted last Thursday in the Thief River Falls residential districts brought receipts up to $1,299.44, slightly more than a year ago.

Other receipts include the township, $567; TRF business district, $316; St. Hilaire, $98; and clubs and other special gifts, $57.

The 1958 campaign brought in contributions of $3,848, and Mrs. Bothman expressed the hope that this figure would be approached when the current canvass is completed.

JUNIOR CHAMBER MEETS TONIGHT IN ELKS CLUB

Directors to Be Named at Association's Annual Meeting to Be Held Mar. 2

The fifth annual meeting of the Tri-county Sugar Beet Growers association will be held Wednesday, March 2, at 2 p.m. in the Thief River Falls city Auditorium, J. M. Roche, secretary, announced today.

Speakers will include George Campbell, manager of the Minnesota Pea and Bean Co. of Crookston, who will discuss area benefits from the St. Lawrence Seaway; C. Einar Johnson, president of the Minnesota-North Dakota Sugar Beet association; and Arnt Aune of the Thief River Falls area vocational school, who will speak on farm records.

The nominating committee has selected the following candidates for posts as directors from the various counties:

For Eastern Marshall county, Clarence Lian of Gatzke and Nilo Rantanen of Middle River.

For Red Lake county, Walter Turgeon of Oklee and Clarence Vatthauer of Red Lake Falls.

For Pennington, Archie Wilson and George Horachek, Goodridge.

For Clearwater county, Calvin Knolling of Gully.

Bray Mutual Fire Insurance Firm Renames Officers

Policies in Force Show Substantial Increase in Past Year, Report Shows

A. G. Hallstrom and John Steiger, both of rural Red Lake Falls, were reelected to the board of directors of the Bray Mutual Fire Insurance company at its annual meeting Wednesday afternoon in St. Hilaire.

At the organization meeting of the board, Paul Thyren of St. Hilaire was renamed president; Alfred Longren, Thief River Falls, vice president; Edgar A. Naplin, rural Red Lake Falls, secretary; and A. G. Hallstrom, treasurer.

The annual report revealed that insurance in force increased from $14,473,714 on December 31, 1958, to a new high of $15,656,653 at the end of 1959. Receipts during the year were $30,848.45, while disbursements were $36,203.33.

A total of 23 fire losses aggregating $22,600.46 were sustained in 1959, while there were 21 losses by lightning amounting to $1,068.75. The year closed with assets of $44,565.28, mostly in the form of cash or certificates of deposit.

TRF Postoffice to Be Renovated

Ken Onken, vice president of the Chamber of Commerce in charge of governmental affairs, today reported that he has received word that the General Services Administration of the United States postoffice department will shortly begin making repairs on our local Post Office. These repairs which are scheduled for accomplishment in the first quarter of fiscal year 1961 will consist of interior and exterior painting, and floor and masonry repairs. Onken reported that Rep. Odin Langen had been contacted during his recent visit to Thief River Falls relative to this matter.

CONFERENCE Governor Orville Freeman, left, talks with Mayor Orin Green, Donald L. Olson and H. O. Chommie before he delivered his "Report to the People" in Thief River Falls Wednesday morning, Feb. 3, to an audience of 175 people. The talk was one of 54 which the governor is giving throughout the state to inform the people of the problems, needs and achievements of the state government.

Governor's Breakfast Here Attended by 175

Freeman Defends Action in Closing Albert Lea Plant

Farmer-selected groups and government to manage the affairs of agriculture were proposed by Gov. Orville Freeman as a necessary part of the mechanism necessary to control farm income and to give farmers a fair share of the national income at a breakfast meeting in Thief River Falls Wednesday, Feb. 3.

The governor spoke to an audience of 175 persons on his "Report to the People" tour which will include addresses in 54 communities. His talk was prefaced by the introduction of county and state officials, a greeting by Mayor Orin Green and his introduction by Judge H. O. Chommie.

"State government, at times, is relegated to second place in the people's interest and 'sits in between' although it touches all of our lives," Freeman said. "Stockholders should ask 'how is business going' in regard to our state government." He called his talk non-partisan but added that it could not all be non-controversial.

Speaking on the subject of human resources, the governor quoted figures showing $5 is returned to Pennington county for state aid to education for every $1 collected in income tax. Property taxes would be about $27 more for everyone each year without this aid, he said.

Congratulating the area for its interest in higher education, Freeman said that it was his hope that more equal opportunities in higher education will be provided for western Minnesota. "You have not had it," he said, "and the need for equalization is now being studied. What type of education and where the facilities would be located has not

Adult Night Classes Are Well Attended as New Term Is Started

Adult evening classes, in general, are being well attended this session. Only a few courses have been dropped so far because of lack of registrations (Rhythms Around the World, Beginning Shorthand, French, Speech and How to Enjoy Reading), and in some courses the enrollment is so large that groups must split (Knitting, Cake Decorating).

Rudy Mehlhoff's class in Beginning Bridge was started on schedule and he stated that it is not too late to register if interested in learning Bridge. However, after the second session, which is next Monday, it will be too late to register for this course.

Bryant Ulseth reminds the public that his course in Choral Conducting is still open for registration, and he emphasized the course is fundamental and is strictly geared for amateur choral group workers. He said, "Don't stay away because you feel you don't have a background in music." Next meeting of the class

Issue New Garden Valley Phone Book

Patrons Urged to Throw Away Old Directories

Garden Valley's latest directory is being mailed out this week and according to Carl M. Ostby, company manager, the number of directories being sent this year exceeds last year's delivery by 394 books. There are now 7,180 telephones in service as compared to 6,786 at this time last year.

The new directories, besides carrying the numbers of nearly 400 added subscribers, also contain approximately 400 other number changes.

Company officials emphasize that continuing to use old directories after the new ones are issued will result in confusion and poor service. They, therefore, urge that everyone destroy their old directories as soon as the new ones are received.

1st Lutheran Church Notes Youth Sunday

More than 70 junior and senior high school youths of the First Lutheran church participated in the worship service Sunday morning, when during the 11 o'clock service, Jan. 31, according to Rev. Melvin Lindemann, the youths took the places in the church.

The Old Testament lesson was given by Wallace Larson and Linda Sue Hanson, and the New Testament by Marcia Martin and Mary Ann Mathison. Neil Loberg and Barbara Hoff read the announcements and the offering by David Ellingson and Linda Rutland.

For the first time, their youth delivered the sermon, at this service. Those participating were Gerald Carlson, Jerry Lee Nelson, Neil Loberg, Gary Anderson and Benjamin Martin.

Taking part in the two morning services, the Junior choir sang "Peace of Heart" and "Lord, Keep Us Safe This Night," Jan. 31, at the 9:30 service, and "Peace of Heart" and "Lord, Keep Us Safe This Night" at the 10:50 service by Shirley Peterson.

Paul Peterson was chairman of the evening service. Those participating were Judy Anderson, Sharon Lee Nelson, Carol Ann Ellingson, Carole Stevens and Susan Kranz.

The Library Corner

By Eleanor Clees

In 1960, the community celebrates centuries of Thief River Falls very proudly. Many books have been published every year, but we find ourselves doing the same thing all the time. Books are being removed from room to room around the town and we are not keeping up with money raised by subscription.

Thanks to 1959, the library building was erected with the help of a generous gift of approximately $18,000, of which $12,500 was given by Mrs. Clarence Lee.

That library was designed to carry a maximum number of volumes. Shelves are narrow, and there is room enough for only a few books. Lack of space only for teen-agers has even taken to the windowsills, which severe windows no longer can be used.

The annual addition of 800 books is not enough to keep the library up to date. Many books are "thinly-full" level and results in the library's shelves containing nothing of the impossibility of obtaining books for the people. The supply is rapidly overflowing the present capacity of the library and the librarian is unable to find room for them.

Every day an average of 250 books are loaned out. Many times there are 45 to 50 people in the library and there is no room for them to sit down. Present building was designed for only eight every spot is filled. Librarians many actual projects require reference matter. Many times they are unable to find room for it and need books because they simply was no room for them at all.

But don't get me wrong! We are thankful to have such a nice, luxury how else will they be able to? Still we children don't have room to play. Where else will they be able to?

Let's build on three rather than two floors. Let's expand and modernize. Every years sign our library had 5,000 books and 42 periodicals. Today the same library has 6,000 books and 125 periodicals and serves 200 people a day.

My, how our town has grown! Does today's library still has one thing in common with the original one? Yes, it is free to all citizens, as a service to the community, well-to-do or poor, adult or child, as long as it's free.

A committee of four was appointed to draw up a 4-H club constitution for the organization. The committee is to outline those duties that have not been specified. Appointed to the committee will be Elaine Hall-strom, Mary Ann Dahl, Mrs. Ed Dahl and Mrs. George Bowray.

Mrs. Ed Dahl is the adviser of the group and Mrs. Bowray is assistant adviser.

Today demonstrations going to the Winter Shows were discussed. Those who will be going to the shows are urged to attend the meeting. Judging & Exhibition Rules are available at the office. Demonstrations at the Winter Shows will be on Tuesday, February 23. Also on February 23 is the Public Speaking contest and the Livestock judging at Crookston will be on Monday, February 22 and Saturday, February 27 will be held at a banquet that evening. Monday, February 29 is the county tour and identity of the woman who is to be the adult leader and who is not injured due to lack of identity of participants.

The grain clinic will be on Wednesday, February 24, in the afternoon. Tuesday, February 23, is the deadline for the 4-H Record Books. Tuesday, February 23, is the deadline for the Achievement Banquet. Tuesday, February 23, is the only report meeting for the 4-H Clubs.

Mrs. Ed Dahl and Mrs. George Bowray will be in charge of the 4-H Style Show. Mrs. Dahl will be in charge of the 4-H Style Show. Mrs. Dahl will be in charge of the 4-H Style Show.

More Than 20 Cases Handled Past Week in TRF Municipal Court

A sharp upswing in municipal court cases was registered this week over last week's single tally, with over 20 cases recorded Monday and three days last week in special sessions. Judge H. O. Chommie presided.

All but one of the cases were brought by city police. The highway patrol had Ronald D. Bodell, rt. 4, Warren, in court on a charge of careless driving, to which he pleaded guilty and was fined $30.

On January 28 Wayne Erickson, city, charged by city police with buying beer as a minor, pleaded guilty and was fined $10, suspended.

On January 29, John R. Carlson, city, charged with making an improper turn by city police, which resulted in a minor accident, pleaded guilty and was fined $20.

On January 30 Oliver Fladeland, city, pleaded guilty to failure to yield the right-of-way, which resulted in an accident, and was fined $10.

All other police cases were brought to court Monday. Truman O. Mattson, Grand Forks, charged with driving under the influence of intoxicants, forfeited $125 bond.

James W. Hutchinson, Goodridge, pleaded guilty to going through a red traffic light and was fined $25.

Carl A. Luhe, rt. 4, pleaded guilty to serving beer to an 18-year-old minor and was fined $50. Nick Pahlen, Euclid, pleaded guilty to failure to yield the right-of-way, which resulted in last Thursday's spectacular five-car crash at Fourth and Main, and was fined $20.

Howard E. Sorenson, city, pleaded guilty to having an open bottle in a car and was fined $10. A guilty plea for drunkenness resulted in a $15 fine. For permitting unlawful operation of his car he was fined $50.

Raymond J. Herman, city, pleaded guilty to driving under the influence of intoxicants and was fined $100. For driving without a license he was fined an additional $50, after pleading guilty.

Sorenson was the owner of the car driven into a tree at Third st and Duluth av. by Herman early Monday morning.

The following cases resulted in forfeiture of bond for nonappearance: Irwin W. Brantner, Mahnomen, improper U turn, $10; Roger G. Olson, Bemidji, possession of beer by a minor, $15, drunk, $15; David M. Florek, Bemidji, possession of beer by minor, $15; LeRoy D. Seydal, Phoenix, Ariz., speeding, $15; Olaf Johnson, Rugby, N. D., through red light, $15, and Jerome R. Boucher, Crookston, open bottle, $25 forfeited.

Three cases of drunkenness were also handled by the court.

Some Salaries Are Raised Next Year by School Board

ment; the development of a curriculum in social sciences, health and language; the development of the physical education program; films for audio-visual instruction through federal aid and the results of the fall Iowa tests.

The tests, given in grades three through six, show that the pupils are, at the lowest point, at about the 70 percentile point with a composite score at or above the 85th percentile.

The school district should have received $183,469 more in aid in December, according to the state department of education, but funds were not available to pay this amount. The board was told that this money will perhaps be received in March or April. An additional $20,281 is also due in March for the foundation program.

Aids for the 1958-59 school year were pro-rated at 97% and if the legislature appropriates this deficiency, the district should receive an additional $12,840, Mickelson said.

Gov. Freeman Is Breakfast Guest Here Wednesday

yet been determined but there is a very real need."

Not enough of the new industries of Minnesota have been located in northern Minnesota, according to the governor, and securing these industries will need much community support. Very real opportunities for the growth of industry in the state within the next 10 years were predicted.

Turning to agriculture, Freeman pointed to the drop of income from 17% to 10% and said that the solution was better adjustment of production to markets. "The economy of the nation will not grow until this problem is met," he declared.

The 2½ hour breakfast session was concluded with a question and answer period which touched on the subjects of conservation, state debt, the sales tax and the situation in Albert Lea.

In answer to a question of state debt, Freeman declared that there has been none in the last five years except to increase the capital goods that will be used for the next 75 years. "We will pay for these goods as we use them but, as far as current operating costs are concerned, there has been no debt," the governor said.

Turning to the subject of state taxes and industry, Freeman said that he had not been able to discover any industry which has left the state or has refused to come here because of high taxation. "That doesn't mean that we can't improve the tax structure."

Basically, the personal property tax is an unfair one, the governor said. Unfortunately, there are those who will not allow doing away with it unless it is replaced by a sales tax. He called the sales tax "unfair and bad economics" and one which would drain away the purchasing power of those who need the money most for necessities.

The Albert Lea meat packing strike was the climax of "a long history of bad relations between the company and that city," said Freeman. Violence was set off by letters from the company to individual workers ordering them back to work unless they wanted to lose their jobs. After investigating, he found the sheriff's office unable to control the situation. The sheriff, mayor, chief of police and others agreed that closing the plant was the only way to avoid violence and he did so that the people "could gain their self control".

Those interested in any of these courses may sign up in the area vocational school office. For further information, refer to the evening school brochure or call MU 1-1588.

Mayor Peterson of Minneapolis in Governor Race

Announces Tuesday His Intention of Seeking Republican Nomination

MAYOR P. K. PETERSON

Mayor P. K. Peterson of Minneapolis Tuesday became the second announced candidate for the Republican nomination for governor of Minnesota.

Unlike the first aspirant, Elmer L. Andersen, former state senator, he said he has not yet made up his mind about running if he is not endorsed by the state party convention in early June.

Early formal announcement of two serious candidates testifies to the eagerness with which Republicans are looking ahead this year to a contest that was not so attractive in 1958.

The GOP believes DFL Gov. Freeman is vulnerable because of disagreements with the legislature over fiscal policy and because of his summoning the militia to close the Wilson and Co. plant during strike violence at Albert Lea.

Peterson mentioned these as prime issues in his upcoming campaign. He listed also Freeman's "personal involvement" in the Minneapolis election and other local contests.

Drainage Situation Discussed at Grygla

A development committee meeting was held in Grygla Tuesday, Jan 26, to discuss progress on the Mud River Watershed application for flood control and improved drainage. Fred L. Heck, Marshall county soil conservation agent reported.

Interested groups represented at the meeting were the Marshall Beltrami Soil Conservation district board of supervisors, the farmers living within the area, businessmen of Grygla, Marshall and Beltrami boards of county commissioners, and the Red Lake Drainage and Conservancy district.

Mention was made of the legal ditching done years ago in the area which the group agreed were poorly installed and were primarily put in to furnish roads on the spoil banks. The tax debt of these ditches plus improper engineering caused a great hurt to the area. Water didn't flow properly, and in some cases actually ran the wrong direction. Yet these ditches had to be paid for.

A meeting had been held in Grygla December 7 to see if people were still interested in getting federal aid through Public Law 566. This would be a complete survey and eventual plan to develop the watershed area of the Mud River which runs through Grygla. A vote taken showed 57 in favor and 5 against the watershed idea, indicating high interest even though the original application for assistance had been approved four years ago.

Herb Halvorson, representing the Soil Conservation Service, said "We are not pushing this watershed development. It has been four years since your group applied for help on this watershed. We have plenty to do right now. If we had been looking for work we would have been here knocking on your door."

Some misunderstanding came out of the December 7 meeting. One misunderstanding was that Ditch 20 and 200 are planned to be cut at the eastern end and routed through Mud River. This is not true Halvorson said. "Until a preliminary survey is completed, no one knows what a planning party will recommend. This is only a misunderstanding. In a watershed program, the local people are always in the driver's seat and can always change their mind."

"At present, the Mud River Watershed group is still trying to get a planning party, so there are no plans at all," said Mr. Halvorson. He also stated that Mr Hauswirth, area engineer, has gathered considerable data on the watershed area and has made an estimate in one way which a plan could possibly be developed. This, however, is only a rough idea.

Sofus Bjertness, Marshall county commissioner, mentioned that in the past several years approximately $133,000 has been spent on ditches in eastern Marshall county. Ditch 20 has cost approximately $63,000; Ditch 200 has cost approximately $40,000 and Ditch 27 has cost about $30,000.

These ditch improvements in recent years would no doubt contribute a considerable share from the local people to an overall watershed plan cost. At present, the federal government has made the major contribution to these project including all the costs incurred in flood control. In addition practices put on the land by local people are counted as contributions on their cost share.

Delmar Hagen representing the Red Lake Drainage and Conservancy district, summed up the meeting: "If people in the area want a survey," he said, "they will have to support a request for such a survey and planning party which can come up with a plan subject to local people's wishes." At this point the group adjourned and most members indicated they would write their congressman and senators a letter indicating the area's wishes. They also plan on visiting friends and neighbors in the area to discuss the watershed development situation.

Public Health Nurse Named in Marshall

Mrs. Arthur Rud of Viking Was Appointed Tuesday

Mrs Arthur Rud, Viking farm resident, was appointed to the position of Marshall county public health nurse by the Marshall county board in session in Warren Tuesday. Her services will start immediately if the appointment is accepted.

Mrs Rud is a former public health nurse in the county, having served from July 1, 1951, to June 30, 1952, before her marriage. She is the former Viola Williamson. Her husband farms northwest of Viking.

The contract offered to Mrs. Rud by the commissioner includes a starting salary of $400 per month plus 7½ cents per mile for travel. After six months of duty her salary will be automatically raised to $425 per month, said Levi G. Johnson, county auditor.

School officials throughout the county have petitioned the board to revive the office of health nurse, feeling that it would be of great benefit for the maintaining of health among children in the schools.

Tips on Furniture Selection Given

74 County Homemakers Hear Mrs. Myra Zabel

Seventy-four homemakers witnessed furniture selection demonstrations put on Wednesday at the court house by Mrs. Myra Zabel, extension specialist in home furnishings at the University of Minnesota. Mrs. Zabel used three different styles in explaining furniture groupings and textures.

The French Colonial rocker, with flowing curves, was matched with a china lamp carrying a silk shade and an end table.

An Early American grouping and modern grouping were also used. Furniture lines need to be kept in mind when purchasing a piece to match a grouping already in the room, as well as the type of wood, color of the wood, and general texture of all pieces of furniture in the grouping ought to harmonize, Mrs. Zabel pointed out.

Furniture should be of good construction to provide lasting service. The legs on chairs need to be braced, drawers dovetailed and grooved before gluing to give the most utility.

A discussion on selection of drapes and rugs, explaining textures, colors and materials was presented.

Knowledge of woods is important in proper furniture selection, Mrs. Zabel stated. Furniture for the demonstrations was provided through the courtesy of Solheim & Overum.

The next homemakers lesson will be April 6, according to County Agent Paul Stelmaschuk.

Icy Streets Cause But One Collision

Despite icy streets resulting from freezing rain, only one traffic mishap has been reported in the city since Monday by the police department.

This collision occurred at 12:03 p.m. Wednesday when a car driven west on Nora st. by Arthur F. Monroe, rt. 1, Radium, struck another vehicle driven north on Tindolph av. S. by Floyd S. Hageman, rt. 3.

Damage to the Monroe car was estimated at $55, to Hageman's, $35. No tags were issued, police said.

Grygla Men Take Soundings on Red Lake Road Route

Oliver Howland and Sam Brattell of Beltrami county east of Grygla, are taking soundings along the route of the proposed road extending east from Thorhult north of the Red Lakes. This area was visited recently by a party headed by Dr. George Selke, Minnesota commissioner of conservation, now accessible by car only over frozen forestry trails. The visitors were favorably impressed as to the need for a road because of the large area of mature trees that should be harvested.

News of Co. D National Guard

On February 1 the entire company spent the first half hour on drill and ceremonies training. During the remaining time the men were instructed on communications equipment. This instruction, which was given by Sgt. Manning, covered several types of radios and how they can be used in combat.

The annual Camp Rucker reunion party will be held Saturday, Feb. 6, starting at 8 p.m. Following the business meeting, there will be dance music, refreshments and a smorgasbord served at midnight. Present Guard members and Camp Rucker veterans are reminded that this is one they shouldn't miss.

The reunion party will be held at the Armory.

Answer Questions on New GI Pension Law

From the thousands of questions asked about the new pension law slated to go into effect July 1, 1960 the Veterans Administration has selected the most pertinent together with the appropriate answers. This is one of a series.

* * *

Q—When will the new system of pension payments go into effect?

A—On July 1, 1960. The first checks under the new system will not be mailed before August 1, 1960.

Q—Who will be affected by the new system?

A—All veterans of World War I, World War II and the Korean Conflict and their dependents who qualify and begin to receive non-service pensions after June 30, 1960, will be under the new system. Those already on the pension rolls on June 30, 1960, will not be affected unless they choose to come under the new system. They can make this choice at any time, but once the election is made, the pensioner can never revert to the old system.

Q—How does the new law affect those drawing compensation or service connected benefits?

A—The new law does not affect benefits paid for service connected disabilities.

Q—Does the new law affect service pensions?

A—No. Service pensions are paid only to Indian War, Civil War and Spanish American War veterans. These pensions are not affected by the new law.

Q—Does the new law change the eligibility requirements for pensions paid to veterans?

A—Not basically. Ninety days active wartime service and an honorable type discharge are required. The veteran must also be permanently and totally disabled. There are important changes in the income limits under the new system as well as some changes in the methods employed to compute the pensioners annual income. Under the new law the veteran's estate or "worth" will become an eligibility factor.

Q—Let's go into this a step at a time. What are the criteria for establishing permanent and total disability?

A—The degree of disability may vary according to the age of the veteran. Generally he must have a disability which at his age prevents him from getting regular, full time employment. This disability must be such that doctors do not expect it to improve materially.

(Another in this series will appear at an early date.)

Groundhog Says Winter Isn't over

Six Weeks More Due as Creature Sees Shadow

Not that it will make much difference in this northern part of Minnesota but Brer Groundhog saw his shadow on Feb. 2 and we are in for another six weeks of winter, according to the old belief.

Unless he ran for his burrow, the groundhog at a rat wet for a trace of rain fell Tuesday followed by 29 inch the following day. Freezing rain Wednesday put thick coats of ice on windshields and covered roads and highways with a slippery surface that made driving hazardous. According to Capt. Walter Anderson of the highway patrol, from 60 to 75 cars wound up in area ditches but no damage was reported.

Daytime temperatures this month were 29 on the first of February and 30 on the second and third. Night time lows have ranged from 5 degrees above zero during the early morning hours of Feb. 1 to 27 above zero early this morning.

Cloudy with little temperature change has been predicted for today and partly cloudy with little temperature change tonight. Partly cloudy and a little warmer is predicted for Friday.

Highs today are expected to be in the lower 30's and the lows tonight in the lower 20's.

Adventists Hold District Meeting Here Last Sunday

Seventh day Adventist churches in this area were represented at a meeting in the Thief River Falls church Sunday when instructions to church officers were given by T. I. Rush, treasurer of the Minnesota conference, Elder E. F. Finck, home mission and Sabbath school secretary; and C. Wayne Griffith, superintendent of church schools. Churches in this city, Middle River, Roseau, Williams and Fertile were represented at the meeting.

A Repeat Performance

The Rosser fans who had the good fortune of being able to find space in the arena this past three weeks ago for the Rosser-Pioneer contest were treated to a repeat performance when the two teams met in the Rosser ice on Saturday night, Feb. 6.

The two teams were the same, and it must be called a repeat performance. Besides having the same personnel, the two clubs are unbeaten in conference competition, with only one slot on their respective slates being their contact with each other.

The last week's play against the St. Paul Johnson team, the Prowlers loaded on 5 to 4 win over the Governors here Friday night, while on Saturday night the Rams marked up a 9 to 0 win over Johnson on the Rosser ice.

The Prowlers will be entering Saturday night's game in fine shape. For a few moments on Tuesday night it appeared that Dale Wernberg would become a casualty of the game when a hard check in the second period of the Hallock vs. Prowler game, and crumpled to the ice and it was feared that he had aggravated the injury to his left leg that caused him to be sidelined for the first contest, and be reported, after the game, that his leg did not give him any pain. Well it's no secret that Dale is a vital factor in the Prowlers' hopes for victory.

Never Over, Am

Anderson's record was in the newspaper recently and it was duly translated, testifying that he is a master sculptor of the province of Manitoba, had better watch his laurels.

On Monday afternoon, during the noon hour, Am was on Thief River Falls Lake of the Woods Jimmy Anderson caught a 13½-pound walleye pike to land the largest walleye that we can recall being caught in this neighborhood.

Jimmy was accompanied by Andy Bellgard on the trip. Jim added three walleyes to his string, while Lenny managed to catch a couple of fat perch.

Courtesy Hamilton Bank

The Prowler hockey squad, Manager Ellis Olson, and Coach Cecil Hamilton extend their appreciation to the Hamilton State bank, who, at four dollars a throw, provided the pucks for the games in the center.

The Rosser team defeated the U. S. Olympic squad, 7 to 3, but Sunday's are expected to give the Uncle quite a scare. This Cleary team is the club that defeated the powerful contingent from the 1959 world championships in Prague, Czechoslovakia, and is by the presence of several world class players, Murray Balfour, Carol Brunet, Gary Schmidt and Ron Gross. For tonight's game, Jim Lahren have added Gerry Wilson to their roster.

Attendance

Attendance spectators at the Rosser-Pioneer game between the Bemidji Lumberjacks and the Prowlers, and welcome visitors in town, were Mr. and Mrs. Francis Burns of Hawley.

Mr. Burns was making his first visit to the Rosser ice in years, and he was kept busy renewing acquaintances. Francis, who was a six-letter during his high school years, played with the Prowler cagers when they won in 1923, 24, and 25. And he was one of the best cagers in the district.

While here, Mr. and Mrs. Burns were the house guests of Supt. and Mrs. Irwin Mickelson.

The Rally of the Week

The Astrill Lidro curling rink—Cindy Kraz, Donovan, Dewey, and Astrill Lidro—retained its undefeated league competition at the Thief River Falls curling rink, but pressure is mounting greater.

Last Monday night, in a match against the Bunny rink, the Lidros entered the ninth end trailing by a 9 to 4 score. But, in that end, the Lidros, after witnessing the Bunny rink score a six over the league lead, Ave. But, believe it or not, it wasn't to be at least not on that Monday night, to the ninth end. Astrill Lidro, Donovan, Dewey, and Cindy, a total of 11 counters, to add to the house. Astrill's rink picked up four counters to total by 8 to 7. And on the tenth end, the Lidros tallied two to tie, and then won in an extra end. It was the rally of the week.

Prowler Six Tips Hallock 5 to 1 Tuesday

It was an erratic and unbalanced brand of hockey that the Thief River Falls Prowlers provided the fans in the Arena on Tuesday night as the two squads met in a Region Eight conference contest, with the Prowlers on the long end of a 5 to 1 score.

On Saturday night the Prowlers will make the 65-mile trip to Roseau for a return game against coach Oscar Almquist's Rosser Rams, and on Tuesday night of next week, the Rams will be the Prowlers and the Rams play, at 8 p.m. at the Arena. The Saturday night's tilt could decide the championship, as the two top rulings in the regional loop, and Roseau will be out to widen their lead over the Prowlers by two positions in the regional standings.

The first period of Tuesday night's game was a scoreless affair, with the Prowlers outplaying and outscoring the Hallock sextet in the initial play at only managing to gain a 2 to 1 lead on the scoreboard. Dale Wernberg, sparkplug of the Prowler attack, fired the first goal of the night at the 6:40 mark of the second period, and added the second goal at the 10:30 mark of the same period. Both goals were assisted by Ron Gross.

The play became ragged in the second period and unfortunately Paul Boland and Myln Anderson were handed 2 minutes each for misconduct penalties. Late in the period, with Hallock short-handed, Archie Schneider loomed up the ice from the Prowler zone, carried behind the Hallock goal line left to right, and slammed in the Prowler's third goal of the game, assisted by Gary Hansen.

In the final period, with the Prowlers outscoring the Rams by a 13 to 2 margin, the locals added two more goals to their total, Dale Wernberg adding his second goal of the night at the 5:56 mark, and Holmes picking up a rebound off the boards by Schneider to add the final to beat Hansen from close in scoring at 9:30.

In a well-played preliminary game, Bemidji's Lumberjacks and Coach Ron Almquist's sporting 4 pairs of goals and Tony Poole adding two goals, defeating the Hallock "B" team, 3 to 1.

Prowlers (5) — Goal, Jerry Poole; defense, Bruce Olson, Bobby Stordahl; forwards, Dale Wernberg, Ron Gross, Archie Schneider, Paul Boland, Myln Anderson. Prowlers P 2 3 5

Third period scoring: Wernberg, Gross, Schneider, Wernberg, Schneider, Hansen. Penalties: Boland, Anderson, Hallock H 0 0 0.

Prowler Mat Men Take Grand Forks Central 28 to 26

To Face Greenbeck Here Saturday Afternoon in High School Gymnasium

Coach Charles DeCuney's Prowler wrestling squad scored a two-point, 28 to 26, win over the Tuesday night at the Grand Forks Central squad in a match held at Grand Forks on Tuesday night, in the second meeting of the season between the two squads. The matches will begin at 1:30 p.m. Coach DeCuney announced that parents of the wrestlers may obtain free admission to the matches.

Following the varsity match, at about 2:30 p.m., twenty-two of the Prowler 6th and ninth graders will engage in a series of wrestling matches with the Grand Forks Central squad. The matches, too, will be admitted free.

The local squad, coached by Ron Almquist, will engage in a series of matches with the Bemidji 6th state tourney on Monday. In Bemidji's district competition, the local Midgets were runners up to the district champion Roseau squad.

Social Security Man Here Tuesday

A representative of the Grand Forks district office of the Social Security Administration will be in Thief River Falls at the city Auditorium Tuesday, Feb. 9, it was announced today.

Individuals who have questions regarding social security or who wish to file claims may contact him on that date.

The representative will be at the Fire Hall, on Wednesday, Feb. 10, at 9 a.m.

Newfolden Cagers Split Even in Two Games Last Week

Defeat Roseau 52 to 41, and Lose to Badgers Soars Saturday 58-52

Coach Jack Junker's Newfolden basketball squad, conference champions of district 32, broke even in the two basketball games played last week, defeating Roseau by a 52 to 41 score, and dropping a 58 to 52 decision to the conference leading Badgers Saturday night. Coach Junker's Engelrud, the hustling high-scoring forward, led the scorers in both games, tossing in a 20 point night against the Roseau Rams, and rolling up 21 points against Baudette.

On the Newfolden vs. Baudette tilt on Saturday night the Nighties played a strong first period to take a 11 to 10 lead. And Newfolden increased their lead to 28 to 24 at the half, increased the margin of the second period, but the Bears with Wayne Smith leading the scoring, managed that deficit to take a 32 to 28 lead at the intermission.

With their guards, Smith and Jerry Hanson, hitting the hoop consistently, the Bears in the third period, Baudette managed to outscore the local squad by a score of 18 to 12, and the margin proved to be the margin of victory.

Junker showed a fast moving team that moved the ball well, and scored freely from the free throw circle.

Newfolden will host the Middle River Skippers on the Newfolden court on Tuesday night, Feb. 9. Middle River, on a pair of last second free throws by Morgan Hoest, edged out Newfolden 46 to 45 in a previous game played on the Newfolden court.

The golden anniversary of any organization is usually noted with ceremony and celebration. The Red River Valley Winter Shows is recognized as the oldest and a continuous drive in 11 counties for funds to erect, rebuild, and re-design the Lum Park and Red Valley Winter Shows.

During the 50 year history, the Red River Valley Winter Shows has actually changed homes three different times. Three different buildings were built immediately after World War I, but are now obsolete as to kind and by a fire. The present Memorial building and the nature of the new Winter Shows must have the advantage of the next four to five decades of farming in the Red River Valley.

The "golden anniversary year" show leads off on Monday, Feb. 22, with a forum that looks to the future—"Profit Opportunities for Agriculture". The forum is developed for the sole purpose of providing knowledge and to foster greater understanding among all citizens who are concerned about Northwestern Minnesota agriculture as a water shed area and as a market area.

A short course on soils and fertilizers on the 22 and day on Tuesday, February 23 National Livestock Festival, also scheduled on the program.

Calving Ice Palace Day is planned for Wednesday, February 24 The Ice Palace will be erected in the Lum Park and the "Feeding Belle Sorby" to Red Cattle" will be presented and discussed.

The Minnesota Dairy Industries Committee is bringing Princess King to the Winter Shows and will have a display of dairy products, and an evening dance is planned on Friday, February 26.

A horse exhibit, also scheduled the Central High School saddle horse, will be presented as a feature again this year on Thursday, February 25 and Friday, February 26.

Outstanding Valley farmers and businessmen are being nominated in the 11 Red River Valley counties and will be honored at a banquet on Thursday, February 25 at 7 p.m.

More than 400 4-H members and FFA members will show livestock, participate in livestock and crops judging contests, and study at the Dean Hoglin Clinic and Judging Contest, Friday, February 26. Plenty details about these boys and girls are top farm youth representing their communities.

A party show, featuring kiddie acts, is planned for Friday night, and is scheduled for the last day's evening, February 25, at 7 o'clock.

A livestock sale listing "top performance" beef and dairy cattle, sheep, and swine, is set for Thursday and Friday, February 25 and 26.

Dairy Farmers have a full day planned on Thursday, February 25, with William Pfaff, Jr., Thief River Falls, as the headline speaker.

Area Power Firms Stage Hobby Show

Second Annual Event in Grand Forks Feb. 5-7

The second annual Area Products Show, sponsored by electric power suppliers in the area, will be held in Grand Forks Friday, February 5, Saturday, February 6, and Sunday, February 7. Exhibits of area manufactured products and hobby displays served by area power suppliers will be featured in the show, which will be open from 1 to 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday and from 1 to 6 p.m. Sunday.

The show is the result of the combined efforts of Northern States Power company, Otter Tail Power company, Red River Valley Power Cooperative, Inc. which will present displays of the products called into being by the industrial development activities of the firms. Manufacturers of area members and industrial potential of the area served by the power suppliers are expected.

Also featured is an agricultural display and a display of the advancement of the second annual winner for agricultural leadership.

Young Men Urged to Enlist in Navy

Mayor Gren Proclaims Period from Feb. 1 to 24

Mayor Orin Green of Thief River Falls recently proclaimed the period from Age Navy Day to Feb. 24 as Navy Day.

The proclamation urges young men to join the U. S. Navy's "Special Great Northern Campaign" organized from this city's recruiting station at Grand Forks, and the entire company of men will train together at San Diego, California, and will be the first all-Navy recruit company program "Join Together—Serve Together".

Recruits there men will be the seniors in the U. S. Navy in Fargo-Moorhead. Upon completion of recruit training, all Great Northern recruits will receive their choice of granted leave before assignment to special schools or to one of the Navy's ships or stations for their first assignment.

Chief Recruiter urges all young men between the ages of 17 to 20 years to contact him at the Municipal Building in Thief River Falls or the recruiting station on the Great Northern Company.

1,617 Arrested in '59 Hunting Season

140 Arrests for Big Game Violations in Minnesota

Hunting seasons are always a big time for game conservation officers and 1959 was no exception according to the annual report issued by Commissioner Johnson.

Reaching back over last fall's records Johnson indicated that, during the 1959 season, 1,617 persons were arrested for violations of conservation laws.

The nature of these arrests is particularly interesting," explained Johnson. "For example, there were 140 arrests for big game violations. Of these, 49 were for shooting deer from a motor vehicle, 621 involving the transportation of illegal deer, and several thousand others for shining and 56 concerned the illegal taking of moose.

"Fines and penalties imposed for the numbers accomplished 283 years, and 23 involving fishing laws, and 23 involving trapping laws. Also arrested for a variety of other offenses ranging from trespassing to drunkenness, hunting and driving infractions," concluded Johnson.

Railroad locomotives today pull heavier loads than ever before. Yet they are lighter and more powerful and strong; long-lasting rolled alloy steels are in their construction.

Cobalt is used in many alloys to improve their high strength, corrosion resisting properties and resistance to heat.

Talent Festival Is Set for Winter Shows February 23

High School-age Youth Invited to Compete at Festival in Crookston

A popular event at the Red River Valley Winter Shows at Crookston is the Talent Festival, which will be held on Tuesday, February 23, this year.

Talent Festival events at the Winter Shows board of managers and Festival Committee have been announced and will include all talent numbers, with the exception of vocal solos, which have been eliminated from the contest.

Any high school-age youth may enter the contest, and all entries must be in before noon on Tuesday, February 23. Entries may be made by writing to the Crookston Junior Chamber of Commerce. The festival will be open to the evening program, which will be held at 8 o'clock in Central high school.

Formal rehearsals for those who are entered, along with the Queen Contest and Chore Boys, in "The Earth Is Mine," Technicolor movie to be shown at the Falls Theatre next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Editorials . . .

"All recognize the vital necessity of having modern school plants, well-qualified and adequately compensated teachers, and of using the best possible teaching techniques and curricula. We cannot be complacent about educating our youth. But the route to better-trained minds is not through the swift administration of a Federal hypodermic or sustained financial tranfusion. The educational process, essentially a local and personal responsibility, cannot be made to leap ahead by crash, centralized governmental action."

—President Eisenhower

Resisting A Trend

The question as to whether Nixon's settlement of the steel strike will be good or bad is still being hotly debated. These are the kind of arguments that will be settled only as we learn the results by actual experience. If the steel workers, with their pay increases and fringe benefits, will now submit to reasonable changes in working rules that will enable management to increase man-hour productivity, the inflationary effect within the industry may be negligible.

The settlement could be most inflationary in its effect upon bargaining in other wage disputes that are still pending. At this time the steel strike settlement must be looked upon as a victory for the steel workers. The shut-down was costly to the industry as well as to the workers, and when the industry was forced by government intervention to yield to most of the demands of the union, it recovered no tangible rewards to offset the costs of its expensive attempt to hold the line.

With this settlement as an example of what might be expected if they also made an attempt to hold the line, there now is little incentive for any industry to resist the demands of organized labor. About all we can hope for now is that the workers themselves will become sufficiently inflation-conscious, and sufficiently aware of the threat of wide-scale unemployment as lower-cost foreign made products take our markets away from us, to be reasonable in their demands and resist the trends that are dangerous for all of us.

Winter Shows Building

There no doubt is a need for a new building to house the Winter Shows at Crookston, and we have no quarrel with those who believe this need should be met by the contributions of those who are interested, directly or indirectly in the show's continued operations. The Winter Shows have served a good purpose over a period of many years.

We have supported the Winter Shows in the past and have encouraged community participation and reasonable contributions of tax dollars for our county's share of the cost of some of the activities in which our community has had a special interest. We have the feeling that up to this time we have been neighborly and we think we now have a neighborly approach to the problem of financing the proposed new structure. Keeping in mind the good admonition that we should do unto others as we would have others do unto us, we have looked upon this proposal as we believe the people of Crookston should properly look upon any program that serves them well but which is conducted in community facilities that are located elsewhere.

We have an interest in the success of the Winter Shows and should contribute a fair share toward the cost of maintaining the Winter Shows program. But Crookston has a special interest in the Winter Shows, and a special responsibility, just as Thief River Falls has a special interest in Northwest Dairy Day and a special responsibility.

Polk county institutions, including Crookston, support the Dairy Day program, just as Pennington county and Thief River Falls support the Winter Shows. That is a good neighborly arrangement that should not be disturbed. But we do not feel that Crookston should be asked to pay for an all-purpose building in Thief River Falls to provide better facilities for Dairy Day. We believe that providing such facilities is primarily a Thief River Falls responsibility, and that the primary responsibility for providing adequate facilities for the Winter Shows rests with Crookston.

The financing program as it is being presented does not indicate that Crookston is willing to assume its fair share of this responsibility. According to the Crookston Times the new building would be of great value to the Crookston community by providing facilities for such things as "an auto show, home show, a sportsmen's show, international grain show, livestock auctions, exhibits and demonstrations by implement dealers and manufacturers, curling." The Times editorial concludes that "Every added event held during the off-season would attract more people and more business to our city and increase its attraction for outsiders." For a building that will serve all of these community needs, Crookston certainly should contribute much more than $60,000.

We agree with the Crookston Times that the proposed $450,000 building would be very worthwhile for Crookston, and we will assure our good neighbors at Crookston that if such a building is made available for the Winter Shows we will still do all we can to make the Winter Shows successful. But under the circumstances, as we see it, providing the facilities is a Crookston problem.

The Stern Taskmaster

We think it was Emerson who urged us to "Succeed by enthusiasm rather than be driven by necessity."

Dr. Clarence Long, a Johns Hopkins economist, probably would agree that enthusiasm is an important factor in individual success but he has more confidence in the effectiveness of necessity in the solution of our collective problems.

At a recent meeting of the American Economic Association in Washington he read an interesting paper based on a study of "the inter-relationship of unemployment, productivity and inflation." His investigations reveal that inflation "slows down or halts" when unemployment increases. He maintains that we have had our biggest spurts in productivity in periods of considerable unemployment.

There are three reasons for this, he says. An available supply of labor that is eager to work encourages expansion of industry. Employment insecurity encourages increased production per man hour. And stiff competition, along with declining sales, has the "pencil sharpening effect" on management that results in more efficient operations.

Commenting on the Dr. Long study the Baltimore Sun observes:

"Like so much good scientific work, Dr. Long's paper simply confirms a number of things that everybody knows — things embodied in such common expressions as the "spur of necessity" and "necessity is the mother of invention."

"Necessity is the key word. In the harsh history of the human race, necessity has been the great goad. The question today is what goad may be substituted when necessity loses its sharpness, as indeed it has most of the time throughout most of the western world? Communism has found one answer. Communism substitutes compulsion for freedom. What's the answer where freedom reigns? we'd like to know."

We all know from experience that it is easier to be thrifty when we are concerned about our ability to meet the payment on that note that will soon be due. In such matters most of us do a pretty fair job of facing our individual problems realistically. Sometimes we are forced by necessity to wear the old overcoat another year even though it is showing signs of wear and has long been out of style.

In our public affairs, our government operations at all levels, the pressures of necessity are not so direct, and their effect as a sobering influence forces itself upon us more gradually. But eventually necessity gains the upper hand and sound practices prevail over folly and waste.

"Necessity is a stern taskmaster. Those who are wise will learn its rules by observing the experience of others. Learning that way is not too painful and observance of a few simple rules is generally rewarding.

In the management of our public affairs it appears that we are going to learn the lessons the hard way.

The U.S. Note to Cuba

(New York Times)

"The American note to the Cuban Government protesting against the way in which American property is being seized was merited and, if anything, overdue. It is to be hoped that the Cuban authorities will not misinterpret this note, as there is obvious danger of doing.

"The protest is not against the Cuban agrarian reform, which is a matter for the Cuban Government as a sovereign power to carry out. The law of last June is, in fact, similar in most respects to many modern land reform measures.

"One trouble is that the Cuban Agrarian Reform Institute and those working for it are not carrying out the terms of their own law. It is a fact, as the American note says, that land, equipment and cattle are being seized without court orders and often without taking inventories and giving receipts. Even allowing for the fact that the law is just getting under way and that it must be administered by completely inexperienced men, the abuses should still be recognized and corrected. This concerns Cuban property owners even more than it does Americans.

"The United States protests against the compensation features of the agrarian law are on less firm ground, although there is basis for complaint. The reform we imposed on Japan at the end of World War II, for instance, provided for compensation by non-negotiable 24-year bonds at 3½ per cent interest. The Cuban compensation is to be 20-year bonds at 4½ per cent. However, in Japan the bonds were duly issued and the interest is being met. In Cuba no bonds have yet showed up. Moreover, while the procedure of using the low tax evaluations of land for the compensation is not unusual, it so happens that most American firms—in the sugar and cattle businesses, for instance—paid taxes on much higher evaluations than they had to.

"In other words, it is to the injustices, the delays and the bungling of the revolutionary laws that the American note was directed, not to the right of Cuba to have a revolution.

Borrowed Nonsense . . .

An old lady went to a tombstone cutter's office to order a stone for her husband's grave. After explaining that she wanted no frills, just a small stone, she told him "put the words, To My Husband, in a suitable place."

Upon delivery, to her consternation, she saw the words:

"To My Husband, In A Suitable Place."

Looking Backward

1920—FORTY YEARS AGO

The Union Block, adjoining the Evelyn Hotel and housing the TRF Times plant, was completely destroyed by fire, with a loss of nearly $150,000. The two story building was only six years old. —The council authorized Mayor John Bratrud to appoint a police matron on a trial basis.—E. M. Stanton was reelected president of the Commercial club.

1930—THIRTY YEARS AGO

The Woman's club turned over to the park board $1,088 in accumulated funds to be used for swimming pool improvements.—The TRF Co op creamery churned 501,000 pounds of butter in 1929, J. C. Holte, manager, reported.—F. A. Rinkel attended a meeting of Chevrolet dealers in Minneapolis.

1940—TWENTY YEARS AGO

A group of local farmers entertained TRF businessmen at dinner in the C&C rooms.—Orvis Oien is the new proprietor of Wiener's Sandwich Shop.—The city council discussed the feasibility of building a road across the old millyard.—Dr. and Mrs. Edward Bratrud returned from a six weeks Florida vacation.

1950—TEN YEARS AGO

Bill LaFave was elected to serve a second term as president of the Civic & Commerce assn.—Pouring of concrete for the piers and abutments of the First st. bridge will be completed shortly, City Engineer Douglas Stewart announced.—The boards of St. Luke's and Mercy hospitals arranged with a firm of consultants for a survey of hospital needs in this community.—The Prior Electric company, owner of stores in Roseau and Barnesville, bought the business of the Danielson Electric company in this city.—Fred Copp, resident of this community since 1892, died at the age of 84.

Mrs. B. A. Hanson

Final Rites Held for Clarence Lexvold

Funeral services were held on Jan. 19 from the Granite Falls Lutheran church for Clarence B Lexvold, who died Jan. 17 in the Granite Falls hospital.

He was born Aug 27, 1890 in Nicollet county, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Lexvold. He moved with his parents to Stony Run township when he was three years old. He moved from the farm to Granite Falls in 1931 and lived there until his death. His marriage to Agnes Tjosvold took place March 19, 1919. Two children were born to this union. They are Mrs. Clayton (Carmen) Carlson and Robert Lexvold, both of Granite Falls. Mr. Lexvold was a salesman for the Webb Publishing company, and was a member of the Granite Falls Lutheran church. In addition to his wife and children, he is survived by three grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Dr. J. O. Carlson, Joe Peterson, Emil Wolf, Selmer Anderson, Earl Anderson and Bernt Minsaas. The Rev. John R. Bjorge officiated and burial was made in the Hillcrest cemetery. The Hamre Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Lexvold for many years has been the agent for "The Farmer" in Marshall county and has a host of friends at Gatzke, Holt and Middle River. He also came up occasionally with friends for deer hunting season.

The American Legion auxiliary meeting will be Monday evening, Feb. 8, at 8 o'clock in the home economics room at the high school. Mrs. Mylan Abrahamson will present the program on Americanism. Each member is asked to bring an eligible guest to this meeting and all eligible ladies are invited to attend. Hostesses will be Mesdames G. Curtiss, W. Nelson M. Abrahamson, and Eddy Johnson.

STEP OUT IN IT

Get the quiet proof of Chevrolet's superior performance on the road—No other car in the low-priced three can match the borne-on-the-wind sensation you get from a ride in the 1960 Chevrolet. But that's not surprising when you consider to what lengths Chevy has gone to provide for your comfort at no extra cost to you. As you drive, count the ways Chevrolet has been thoughtful:

Supple Full Coil suspension—Coil springs at all four wheels melt bumps as no other suspension can. Taking the punch out of rough roads is their only function—they don't have to anchor the rear axle.

Butyl rubber body mounts—Thicker, newly designed body mounts further insulate you from the road.

Body by Fisher—Only Chevy in its field offers the polish and craftsmanship of Body by Fisher.

Foam cushioned seats—Chevy offers foam cushioned seats in both front and rear in all series but one.

Safety-Girder frame—X-built and not merely X-braced, the Safety-Girder frame affords greater rigidity to minimize twisting and squeaks.

Hydraulic valve lifters—Oil hushed hydraulic valve lifters reduce engine noise to a whisper.

Cushioned steering shaft—A universal joint and cushioned coupling keep those annoying road tremors from the steering wheel.

Precision balanced wheels and tires—Here again Chevy has shown concern for your comfort by eliminating vibration in this vital area—tire life is longer, too.

Easy steering ratio—Chevy's high ratio Ball Race steering takes the work out of steering for you.

Superior weight distribution—Chevy rides better, handles better and stops better because the car's weight is more equally divided between the front and rear wheels.

Wide choice of power teams—Choose from 24 different power combinations to satisfy the itchiest driving foot—more than any other car.

Lake Bronson 'Stump Removal Bee' Lauded

A lake bed "stump bee" has removed a source of irritation and danger to fishermen at Lake Bronson state park and has won commendation for the volunteer workers from Karlstad and Kennedy, Game and Fish Director C. W. Bella.

The project, also a bring-your-own-lunch affair, was termed by Bella as an example of how communities can help themselves to get better recreational facilities by cooperating in a project of mutual benefit.

The lake is an artificial body of water with an irregular shoreline covering 327 acres in the Pelican state park.

Stumps have long been giving trouble to fishermen on one of the popular bays, and have damaged propellers of many small fishing motors.

The removal of the water in the lake for the installation of motorized control gates in the dam in the south branch of Two Rivers created the opportunity, and the Kittson County Sportsmen's Club headed by Alvin Hanson of Karlstad as president, recruited the volunteer workers.

The roots of the stumps were temporarily exposed, so that they could be cut and singling saws operated from the shore. Some 50 persons, Saturday afternoon, 30 January, completed the job.

Stump clean-up was completed in the following week by labor hired for the task by Charles Mc Kinley, Lake Bronson state park superintendent.

Because it has good resistance to corrosion and weathering, Monel nickel-copper alloy is used for electrical terminals on appliances which operate up to 1,200 degrees Fahrenheit.

School Safety Patrol Week Set

Governor Freeman Asks Observance Feb. 15-21

The more than 30,000 young men and women safety patrol boys and girls and their sponsors will be given recognition for their vital service during the annual observance of School Safety Patrol Week, February 15 through 21, Governor Orville L. Freeman declared this week.

The governor requested that local organizations, especially those which sponsor safety patrols, cooperate in carrying out the range vast programs and activities to "pay tribute to the boys and girls who so faithfully give of their time to serve the School Safety Patrol program."

In his proclamation, Governor Freeman pointed out that 30,000 young volunteers perform a vital public service in guarding their comrades from the hazards of traffic and other dangers.

"The youngsters carry out their assignments with no other reward than the satisfaction of a job well done in order to fulfill their assignments with great courage and loyalty."

"The school safety patrol program is a great example of what a good citizen can accomplish," Governor Freeman said. "If it were not for our children from the first day they attend school the program would not exist. Encouragement, instructions and to obey traffic regulations are taught to and learned from school age children."

"And that protection training is most effective, as evidenced by the outstanding safety record of the school patrol program. We have had this safety measure in Minnesota for 25 years now and in that time no fatal accident has been charged to these young safety workers. What other safety program has that perfect record?"

The boy who got a wrist watch for being graduated from high school now has a son who wears one to kindergarten.

4-H Club Week to Be Noted Mar. 5-12

450 Pennington Youth to Share in Observance

This is the first in a series of three articles on "Nationa al 4 H Club Week" by Milton Larson, Junior 4-H leader reporter.

Approximately 950 young people in this area will join in observing National 4 H Club Week from March 5 to 12. The local youths, 10 to 21 years of age, comprise the 4-H and Future Farmers of America who belong to some 90,000 clubs in rural, urban and suburban communities.

Nationally, 4-H Club Week will be highlighted in Washington, D. C., when 4-H delegates and members will present the annual 4-H Report to the Nation. The report will consist of stories, songs and pictures outstanding 4-H accomplishments and current projects that have attracted attention while they were in their state capital, report to Club Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, C. M. Ferguson, administrator of the federal extension service, and their congressmen and members of Congress on Capitol Hill.

Here everywhere will appear banners with the 250,000 adult volunteer leaders who guide 4-H work in communities throughout the nation. The slogan for the week is "Learning to Live." The basic purposes of 4-H club work are: To acquaint members and young people with opportunities available to them through 4-H club work; to help them in choosing projects that could be made in preserving our soil resources; to help them develop community service; and to inform the public about 4-H aims and methods.

Safety Chief Urges Periodic Eye Tests

It's a cruel fact that part or all of a group of licensed drivers will be involved in accidents in the next year. Safety officials are all set to consider the possibility that one of them is one of our drivers. Barry A. Jackson, state safety director, said.

In discussing a report of substandard vision among drivers, he asserted Minneapolis police officers checking 7,647 motorists found that one out of two persons driving a car which is no below 20-40 is the state's standard for driver licenses. Further he declared, it was found that 90 per cent of those with defective vision could have it corrected with proper kinds of corrective lenses.

It is most important that all drivers have good vision, Jackson said, adding a high speed, many motorists are overdriving their eyes. That is they cannot stop in the total distance they have available should an emergency arise. Jackson said that the safety division urges motorists to submit to the emergency test when they go to obtain their driver's license.

Gladys Liden helps T. R. Falls Summer Savers

"It's gratifying to see how many Thief River Falls people are taking advantage of the months between now and summer to build up vacation funds", Gladys Liden, savings officer at Thief River Falls said today. "Vacation time will be here before you know it", he added, "and the folks who've been saving this winter are the ones who'll avail themselves of the pleasures that doing all we can to help these people by adding a guaranteed interest, compounded every 6 months to their savings. We'd like to help you, to operate your vacation savings account."

FREE COIN BANKS

"We invite everyone to stop in at the bank and pick up a free coin bank just around the corner from the bank. No obligation at all. We're giving these colorful little banks away because we want to remind you that June is just over the corner, and that now is the time to start saving for summer vacation!"

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	I John	2	9-12
Monday	I John	4	20-21
Tuesday	Romans	12	9-10
Wednesday	Proverbs	17	17
Thursday	I Corinthians	16	13-14
Friday	John	10	9-10
Saturday	Psalms	86	13-16

A man's got to look after his brother. That's what Timmy said the other day, as he stood beside our baby. And I told him he was right. "You are so much stronger than this tiny, little creature," I said. "From now on, you've got a real responsibility!"

A man does have to look after his brother . . . especially when that brother is weak. But there are moments, too, when even the strongest man may need a brother!

In the eyes of the Church, all men are brothers, just as all men are equally beloved. As long as there is a church near you, you are not alone. You have only to open the door and walk in and you will be at one with your fellow man . . . and at home with your brothers.

Langen Offers Bill to Add Beet Acrea

Measure Would Larger Share to Domestic Grow

Congressman Don Short, Minot, Dakota, and Otto Langen, Minnesota, Friday introduced identical bills to increase the domestic sugar quota. The bills are of special interest to prospective beet producers in the Red River Valley.

Their proposals, which are two identical bills, would amend Section 202 of Sugar Act of 1948 so that at the end of this year, possibly for a permanent increase of 150,000 tons in sugar beet quota allotted to farmers in the domestic area. The increase in the mainland cane sugar area would be limited to a total of 55 per cent of the increased tonnages caused by increased population in the domestic area.

Under the existing act, there would automatic increase, which would to 65,000 tons per year at this time are apportioned on the basis of 55 and 45 per cent for domestic beet and cane per cent for foreign producers.

In a joint statement accompanying the introduction of their bill, the two congressmen, who together represent the state's beet producing area of the Red River Valley, said that the inequitable situation should not be allowed to overshadow the fact that the American farmer has a interest in the extension of the Sugar Act.

"Taken together," they said, "the sugar industry is a valuable asset to our federal treasury."

"The legislation which we have proposed not only provides a permanently increased quota to domestic beet farmers, but also affords to them and the domestic cane producers protection from the inroads caused by post-war conditions.

"Some other bills which have been introduffed this session provide for the repeal of the Sugar Act. We believe, however, that the need for the legislation and the increase in domestic production in the large volume of correspondence which we have received from both old and new growers in the Red River Valley."

Demonstration of the Dale Carnegie Course Here Feb. 16

Public Invited to Attend Meeting Scheduled in High School Cafeteria

The world-famous Dale Carnegie course is coming to Thief River Falls, and a demonstration will be given Feb. 16.

"We believe that the Lions sponsorship of this adult education program is a genuine community service," said Lion Norman Peterson, "Businessmen, professional men, office workers, housewives, office executives—practically everyone—every adult will benefit from this course."

It was announced by Peterson, that the Dale Carnegie course's free demonstration is to be held in the high school cafeteria on Thursday, Feb. 16, at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited and there is no cost or obligation to attend. Coffee and cookies will be served at the close of the meeting.

The purpose of the demonstration meeting, according to Peterson, is to acquaint visitors with the Dale Carnegie course in effective speaking, human relations, and leadership training. Some of the features of the evening will be a demonstration of memory training, and a short talk on self development, by Dale Carnegie.

The course is conducted by members of the Lions club and their friends for the sole purpose of assisting the course into this area, Peterson said.

The Dale Carnegie Courses began in 1912 in New York City. Today Dale Carnegie classes are taught in over 1000 cities in America and in 31 foreign cities.

Barbara Johnston Roger Janssen Wed In Crookston

Nuptial vows were exchanged recently in Crookston by Miss Barbara Jane Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Johnston, formerly of Brooks, and Roger Janssen, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Janssen of Crookston.

The ceremony took place at the First Presbyterian church and was officiated by Rev. Stanley Johnson. Mrs. Duane Fisher was at the organ playing the nuptial music.

For her wedding the bride chose a ballerina length gown of white satin, fashioned with a full skirt, drop waist with a back bow and three-quarter length sleeves. A white feathered hat held her short veil in place and she carried a colonial bouquet of white feathered carnations and baby pink roses.

Miss JoAnne Westman of Crookston, maid of honor, wore a gown of red organdy over satin complemented with a red feathered hat. She carried a bouquet of white mums and her pearl earrings were a gift of the bride.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was Charles Anderson of Crookston with Jim Doda of Crookston serving as usher.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Johnston chose a blue crepe dress with matching accessories, while the bridegroom's mother was attired in a powder blue dress with matching accessories. Their corsages were of pink and white feathered carnations. The bridegroom's grandmother was also presented with a corsage of white carnations.

Approximately 85 relatives and friends attended the reception in the church parlors following the ceremony. Mrs. Lloyd Davis, aunt of the bride, poured while Miss Norgaard, aunt of the bridegroom, cut and served the wedding cake. Marlys Johnston, sister of the bride, was in charge of the guest book. Ruth Vallen, Mrs. Elwood Hill and Carolyn Forseth were at the gift table with Janet Hill, cousin of the bridegroom, serving at the bridal table. Others assisting were Mrs. Mervin Hyde of Brooks, Mrs. Ray Marquardt, and Mrs. Norman Erickson of Crookston.

Following a honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. Janssen are making their home in Crookston, where they are employed.

Kay Wik, St Hilaire, has been nominated by the band as its choice to reign as Carrie, and Marlene Elg of Goodridge has been nominated in the contest by the WRA club.

The week began Saturday, with Paul and his legendary sweetheart Carrie being crowned today.

Local Man's Eye Is Injured in Mishap

John Johnson, Rt. 4, Hit by Car Early Saturday

A rural Thief River Falls man sustained a severe eye injury early Saturday morning when he was struck by a car as he crossed Third st. near the S&L store.

John Johnson, rt. 4, was crossing Third from north to south near LaBree av. when he was struck by an eastbound car driven by David J. Forkenbrock, city. According to police, Johnson stepped from behind two westbound cars that had been waiting for the traffic light to change and was struck by Forkenbrock who proceeded through the intersection when the light changed. The mishap occurred about 12:12 a.m Saturday.

Johnson was given out-patient treatment at Northwestern hospital and transferred to Crookston for treatment of a cut on the cornea of his eye, caused by broken glass.

Chief Elton Cummings said the case is still under investigation.

Shirley Oski Is Member of Choir In Phoenix, Ariz.

Miss Shirley Oski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs A. W. Oski of rural Thief River Falls, recently was auditioned and accepted as a soprano with the Arizona Symphonic Choir in Phoenix. The group is now preparing Brahm's "Requiem" for presentation in the spring.

Shirley has been working in Phoenix as secretary with Lane Title & Trust company since December 1959.

Strontium-90 Levels in State Milk Below Maximum Permitted

Investigations by the Minnesota department of health of Strontium-90 levels in milk produced in the state during the six month period from May 1, 1959, to October 31, 1959, reveal an average concentration of 14.3 micromicrocuries per liter in 28 samples taken at six sampling stations.

This level represents only about 14 per cent of the maximum permissible level for lifetime exposure, according to Dr. Robert N. Barr, executive officer of the state health department.

The average concentration of Strontium-90 in 35 milk samples collected during the first eight months of this program was 14.4 micromicrocuries per liter, essentially the same concentration as that for the most recent tests. Since June 1959, the concentration of Strontium-90 has steadily decreased. Strontium-90 levels in milk produced in the upper midwest are generally higher than the national averages reported by the U.S. Public Health Service. The latter have shown the same decreasing trend in recent months.

All of the individual samples collected in Minnesota have been well within the permissible maximum of 100 micromicrocuries per liter, a figure set by the National Committee on Radiation Protection and Measurement. The range and average of the readings also compare generally with those reported by the U.S. Public Health Service in recent months.

In September 1958, the average of the state samples was 18.9, compared to the national average of 8.4 micromicrocuries per liter. In April, 1959, the national average reached 9.1, compared to 12.6 in Minnesota. In September, the most recent month for which data is available on both state and national averages, the Minnesota average is 10.6, and the national average is 6.0.

The levels in the 28 milk samples in Minnesota in the period May October, 1959, ranged from a low of 5.4 micromicrocuries per liter to a high of 32.4. Dr Barr points out that the high reading, taken in June 1959, was still far below the maximum permissible level for lifetime exposure.

A micromicrocurie is the radiation equivalent of one millionth of one millionth of a gram of radium and a liter is just slightly more than one quart. The units of measurement are the same as those used by the U.S. Public Health Service in its milk surveillance program. Milk samples are now collected at Brainerd, Duluth, Minneapolis, Rochester, Thief River Falls and Worthington. These sites were selected to give as wide a geographical coverage as possible, as well as to cover the major population areas of the state.

All levels of Strontium-90 found in milk samples in Minnesota to date have been well within presently accepted maximum permissible concentrations for that isotope. However, from the start of the program there have been consistent variations between levels found at the various sampling locations of as much as twofold at a given time. A more intensive study of the various phases of the environment to find a possible explanation for this phenomenon is now being conducted in the Brainerd milk shed cooperatively by the state health department and the Institute of Agriculture of the University of Minnesota. The U.S. Public Health Service has tentatively agreed to support the continuation and expansion of this program in the near future.

Thomas W. Anton Dies At Parents Home Sunday

Thomas Wayne Anton, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Anton, died suddenly Sunday evening, Feb. 7, at the home of his parents in rural Thief River Falls. He was 20 years of age.

Funeral services will be held Thursday, Feb. 11, at 2 p.m. at St. John's Lutheran church with Rev. A. C. Seltz officiating. The body will lie in state at Sinding funeral home from Tuesday evening until 11 a.m. Thursday and at the church one hour before time of services. A complete obituary will be published in the next issue of the Times.

Minneapolis Farm Forum Set March 1

Russell Garst, Host to Khrushchev, Will Speak

Roswell Garst, the Iowa farmer who Soviet Premier Khrushchev wanted most to see next to President Eisenhower when he visited the United States, will speak at the 1960 Minneapolis Farm Forum on March 1 at the Radisson Hotel.

Allen S. Jing, general chairman of the Farm Forum, announced Garst will speak on "The Agricultural Prospects Before Us in the '60's."

Maurice H. Stans, director of the Bureau of the Budget, a native of Minnesota and a noted African big game hunter, will be the opening day luncheon speaker on February 29. He will discuss the federal budget and steps being taken to halt inflation.

The two-day forum, the 14th sponsored by the Minneapolis Area Chamber of Commerce and promoted by its agriculture committee, is expected to draw 1,200 farmers, businessmen and labor leaders from the Upper Midwest. The theme of the forum is "Building Markets for Agricultural Products."

Garst, internationally known Iowa farmer since Khrushchev's visit to his farm at Coon Rapids last summer, has been engaged in the production of hybrid seed corn since 1930.

Army Engineers Office in St. Paul to Get New Chief

Colonel William B. Strandberg is being assigned as district engineer for the Army Corps of Engineers at St. Paul, effective in August 1960, it was announced in Washington today.

According to Colonel Harry O. Fischer, division engineer of the Corps' North Central Division in Chicago, Colonel Strandberg will succeed Colonel Desloge Brown, the St. Paul district engineer since August 1957, who is being assigned as chief, Installations, G-4, 3rd Army, Fort McPherson, Georgia. Colonel Strandberg is presently assigned as deputy engineer inspector general, Army Corps of Engineers, Washington, D. C.

Colonel Strandberg is 44 years old and was born in Minneapolis. He was graduated from the U. S. Military Academy, West Point, in 1937, when he was commissioned in the Army Corps of Engineers.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor Times:

As a supporter of Freeman and his administration, I wish to express my sincere thanks to the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce for sponsoring the Governor's Breakfast. Also to Radio station KTRF and to the Thief River Falls Times for their excellent news coverage, and to all the people of Thief River Falls and surrounding area for their participation in making the event the tremendous success that it turned out to be.

Thanking you also for permitting me to express my gratitude through the medium of your paper.

700,000 Protected by State Job Insurance

The number of nonfarm workers in Minnesota insured against unemployment under the state employment security law approached the 700,000 mark during 1959 Frank T. Starkey, commissioner, Minnesota department of employment security announced today.

An estimated 694,000 employees working for approximately 42,000 employers would be eligible for unemployment benefits, should they become jobless through no fault of their own and otherwise qualify, Starkey indicated. This amounts to three out of every four nonfarm workers in the state.

One new coverage group was added during 1959 when the city of St Paul elected, effective last October 7, to cover approximately 3,000 municipal workers under the insurance program, Starkey pointed out.

"Unemployment insurance under the state employment security law is now bringing freedom from fear of unemployment to 75 per cent of Minnesota's nonfarm labor force," Starkey said. "These insured workers can pursue their careers secure in the knowledge that should they become unemployed through no fault of their own, they will be eligible for this financial assist to tide them over while seeking another job. Like many other forms of insurance, it goes a long way towards holding a family together when unemployment strikes."

During 1959, an estimated 95,000 unemployed workers received payments under the insurance program. During the same period, the department's 33 state employment service offices found nearly 175,000 jobs for people looking for work, Starkey said.

Not covered by the employment insurance law as of January 1 were an estimated 37,000 people comprising employees of small employers in the state's villages (establishments having fewer than four employees and doing business communities of less than 10,000 population). Another uninsured group of about 74,000 included employees of local governmental units, coverage for which requires an election by the administrative authority, such as city councils and county boards. Another segment not protected under the state administered program includes 45,000 employees in charitable, religious or nonprofit organizations.

Under provisions of the state law, a worker who becomes jobless and whose employer is required to pay UC taxes, can qualify for cash benefits provided he meets the law's requirements. He must be unemployed through no fault of his own; must register for work with the state employment service; be available for and able to work and must not have refused a suitable job offer. The amount of his weekly benefit check will depend on his earnings during a 12-month period. In 1959, the average weekly payment amounted to $27.71.

The claimant may be eligible for benefits for a period ranging from 18 to 26 weeks. Average duration last year was 12.3 weeks.

"During 1959," Starkey pointed out "an estimated 22,200 out of 91,000 claimants drawing benefits exhausted them. In other words about 72,800 unemployed, or 77 per cent returned to jobs before exhausting their benefits."

Nor. Chevrolet Co. Remodeling Plant

Falls Concrete Supply Also Adds Improvements

Interior remodeling of the Northern Chevrolet, Inc., showrooms and parts department was started last week by the Ranum Construction Co.

The automobile firm is extending its parts department into a section of the floor area formerly used for office space. The farm machinery parts have been moved downstairs in the building and the space formerly used for machinery parts will be partly occupied by new office enclosures.

When complete, the remodeling will provide more showroom space as well as a larger parts department, according to Northern Chevrolet officials.

Improvements are also being made at Falls Concrete Supply, Inc., where a roof is being put over a part of the yard to provide shelter for men working outside the plant proper, according to Curtiss Nelson, a partner in the firm.

Chamber Setting up a Community Events Calendar

Dr. George B. Martin, vice president in charge of the community services department of the Chamber of Commerce, today announced that the Chamber is once again establishing a Community Events calendar in the Chamber office.

The purpose will be to serve as a clearing house for all the many activities such as athletic, church and civic activities.

Dr. Martin urged all persons to call the Chamber office, MU 1-3721, before setting any dates to insure that there are no conflicting events already planned.

Kennedy Renamed Head of Trainmen

William P. Kennedy, 67, who first saw train service in Grand Forks 50 years ago, Thursday was reelected president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen at the union's national convention in Cleveland, Ohio.

He was named despite a challenge by an insurgent group led by the union's general secretary-treasurer, William J. Weil, 51, as the climax to the month-long convention.

The vote was 641 for Kennedy to 464 for Weil. A third candidate for president, L. B. Winfield, Memphis, Tenn., received nine votes.

Local Man Aids in Nabbing Robbers

Arvid Wedul Helps Seize Two Suspects at Fargo

Arvid (Louie) Wedul, a student at the North Dakota Agricultural college in Fargo, was one of three college students who cornered and disarmed two robbery suspects who are being questioned in the robbery and beating of a taxi driver.

Held by Fargo police are Charles Masley, 18, Duluth, and Brian Enge, 18, Bismarck. A third youth was picked up later for questioning. No charges have been filed.

The taxi driver, Roger Vraa, said he picked up the suspects early Sunday morning, Feb. 7, and drove them to the NDAC campus where he was struck over the head with a sawed off rifle and ordered to turn over his wallet containing $8. The assailants then fled on foot.

Loren Larson, 22, Ambrose, N. D., who was preparing for bed at 2:30 Sunday morning, noticed two suspicious men in the fraternity parking lot, shouted at them and, when they ran, called to Wedul and Dan Anderson of Underwood, N. D. The trio chased the two men for two blocks before cornering them in another parking lot. Wedul suffered a slight cut on his hand when he took a knife from one of the men.

Larson said that he, Wedul and Anderson "didn't know what we were getting into. We thought they were pranksters."

Government Affairs Unit of Chamber Sets up Course of Action

Ken Onken, vice president in charge of the governmental affairs department of the Chamber of Commerce, today announced that four new committees are being organized by the Chamber dealing with governmental affairs. The first of these will deal with congressional action; the second with state legislation and the third with local government. The fourth committee will be a letter writing brigade called "Effective Citizenship."

Each of the first three committees will study issues related to legislation or ordinances that are either pending or that should be initiated. The conclusions of the committees will then be submitted to the board of directors to determine official policy as related to the Chamber itself.

The role that the Effective Citizenship committee will serve will be two-fold: each member of the Chamber will receive a written brief outlining the legislation or ordinances that are pending. Attached to this brief will be the official policy of the Chamber. The Chamber members will be asked to study the issues and write individual letters to the elected representatives expressing their own thoughts. A list of officials will be included.

Mr. Onken pointed out that all elected representatives have been very receptive to individual letters and have repeatedly mentioned that they weigh these more seriously than they do contrived and duplicated communications and or tabulated returns from "glorified" poll-type organizations.

Nor. Woodwork Company Draws Business to TRF

Post office building at Bemidji; Mandan hgh school at Mandan, N. D.;

The Minnewaukan elementary school at Minnewaukan, Minn.;

Library at Moorhead State college at Moorhead;

First Methodist church at Redwood Falls, Minn.

This is an imposing list of buildings spread over a large area and offers convincing proof that the products of the Thief River Falls plant measure up to high standards. Products for the buildings listed above must be completed by June 30. Many of our local buildings, including schools, churches, our post office and the hospital, have wood products in one form or another that were manufactured in the local plant.

When the company was formed in 1920 the original brick building was erected, 50 ft. wide and 80 ft. long. The company started as a contracting organization and building construction as well as the manufacture of interior mill work was a part of the business. Over a period of time the company concentrated on millwork manufacturing and has expanded in this field.

From 1937 to 1939 additions were made to the original building which was extended back to the alley with a 25 ft. addition on the north side. The most recent expansion was in 1957 when another 25 ft. was built on the north side and the office extended and modernized.

Of the original organizers, Ed Rustad and E O Iverson remained active in the management over a period of many years. Mr. Rustad is still active as the company's estimator and he and Mrs. E. O. Iverson are directors of the present organization, owned by H. M. Hoel, Jr., Mr. Rustad, Mrs. Iverson and Ambrose Wysoski. Hoel is president and general manager and Wysoski is shop supervisor.

Mr. Hoel came into the picture in 1945 when he, with his father, bought a controlling interest in the business. Mrs. Hoel serves as the company's secretary and treasurer, Mr. Hoel, Sr., died in 1948.

Northern Woodwork is now well equipped for the type of products it manufactures. Because of the nature of its work, mass production methods can be applied only to a limited extent but the 14 employees work as a skilled and efficient team.

Practically all of the wood is shipped in from distant points and much plywood is now being used. Most of the birch comes from Quebec the oak from Kentucky and West Virginia, the Sitka spruce from Alaska and the redwood from California. One job recently finished for the Detroit Lakes high school required one carload of California redwood for the windows and window frames alone.

Northern Woodwork Co. is one of the manufacturing plants that contributes stability and balance to the economy of Thief River Falls.

NEED PRINTING? Ask the Times for quotations on any printing need. Prompt service.

BLUEPRINTS at the Northern Woodwork company are made on this new machine which is operated by Cy Christianson, detailer and biller of the company. Blueprints as wide as 30 inches can be made by the machine in a few minutes and, on rush jobs, it can also be used for making bid copies. Christianson makes up drawings, job descriptions and plans and also works with E. J. Rustad as a designer.

FINAL touches to a model church pew were made by Clarence Hesse at the Northern Woodwork company plant in Thief River Falls last week in preparation for the company's exhibit at the area products show in the Grand Forks armory Feb. 5-7. The table at left and other finished articles in the background were also taken to the show where 60 exhibitors displayed their products.

LATEST addition to the shop equipment at the Northern Woodwork company is this 48 inch sander shown being used by Neal Paulson as he worked on some of the fine cabinetwork the company produces for distribution throughout the area. Present orders being filled include fine cabinetwork for schools at Bemidji, Grand Rapids, and Moorhead; the county courthouse at Devils Lake and at the Grand Forks air base. The firm has 14 employes.

January '60 Was Much Warmer than in 1959

Compared to the weather during January of 1959, the past month has been warmer, both during the day and night time.

Compared to the average high of 3.1 degrees for the month last year, the 1960 average high was 14.48 degrees. Night time lows in 1959 averaged —11.5 in comparison to this year's —4.36, and precipitation last year totaled 3 inches in comparison to the 1960 total of 7.5 inches of snow. Traces of snow were also recorded during the past month.

A look at the summary for the month in 1959 shows that the warmest reading was 30 and the lowest was —32. Three days, the mercury was able to rise only to —15 and the coldest daytime reading was a —16.

This year, below-zero readings were recorded on only two days, a —8 on the third and a —4 on the fifth compared to 7 daytime readings below zero in 1959. Night time readings this year were also more moderate with below-zero readings reported only 20 nights compared to 27 last year.

Here is a summary of January 1960 temperatures and precipitation:

Foods Plentiful During February

Pork, Eggs, Fryer Chickens Are Now in Good Supply

The wide variety of foods plentiful on local markets should assure good eating during February.

In fact if you're looking for a ready made food shopping list for good meals at low cost you'll find it in the U S Department of Agriculture's February list of plentiful foods.

Good buys for the main dish include pork, eggs, fryer chickens and dry beans, according to Mrs. Eleanor Loomis, extension consumer marketing agent at the University of Minnesota. These foods provide the makings for many low cost delicious meals. Such meals might feature bacon and eggs, baked beans ham or ham salad sandwiches pork loin roast or chicken with sweet potatoes Mrs Loomis suggests.

Fresh vegetables abundant this month include several with high vitamin content Cabbage—especially the new green cabbage coming from Florida, Texas and California—is a good choice for vitamin C, as well as for crispness, color and flavor Sweet potatoes and new carrots are both high in vitamin A. Shoppers who like flavorful foods can depend on plenty of onions at favorable prices.

Oranges, grapefruit, raisins, cranberries and cranberry products are the fruits in largest supply. Oranges and orange-products particularly deserve headlines this month. The crop of early, mid season and navel oranges is estimated at three per cent larger than last season and 12 per cent above average Stocks of frozen orange juice concentrate also are large.

Strandquist, Karlstad Men Face Liquor Charge

Charges against two Minnesota men of contributing to the delinquency of a minor were reduced to open bottle charges by Police Magistrate David Kessler in Grand Forks Friday.

Merrel Stromberg, 21, of Strandquist, and Garry Johnson, 22, Karlstad, who had entered not guilty pleas to the delinquency charges Thursday, did likewise to the open bottle charge Friday and a preliminary hearing on the latter charge was set for Saturday.

Janice Westman, one of two 17 year old Newfolden girls who were with the men when they were arrested in Grand Forks Wednesday night, pleaded guilty to a charge of liquor in possession of a minor and was fined $30. Her companion, Linda Holmes, had paid a similar fine Thursday.

Detroit Lakes to Install Voting Machines in 1960

Northrop Quintet Trips Washington

Indians Win 37 to 19 to Make It Four in a Row

Grade School Basketball League [standings illegible]

The powerful and high scoring Northrop Indians marked up their fourth straight win in grade school basketball league play when they defeated the Washington Wildcats, 37 to 19, in a game played on the Washington court Thursday afternoon.

The Indians moved into a 9 to 0 lead in the first period with Jon Looker and Dennis Hanson scoring 5 and 4 points, respectively Washington, led by Tommy Johnson and Bobby Brodin, rallied for 11 points in the second quarter and trailed the Indians by a 17 to 11 score at the intermission.

In the second half, with Billy Weigelt scoring three field goals in the third quarter, and with rangy Hanson clearing the boards, Northrop outpointed the ever trying Wildcats, 20 to 8, to record a 37 to 19 triumph.

Hanson, the Northrop center, scoring in every quarter, looped in nine field goals for 18 points to be the game's high scorer. Blond Tommy Johnson led the Wildcats with 7 points.

Northrop will travel to Knox next Wednesday, Feb. 10, for the last meeting of the year between the East side and North side schools.

Prowler Six Defeats Roseau 2-1 Saturday

Gene Sack's Prowlers earned first place in the Region Eight hockey conference standings on Saturday night when, after 3:24 of a "sudden death" overtime period, Dale Wennberg, on a neat maneuver that carried past the defense, moved in close to beat goalie Dick Roth and send the tie-breaking goal into the east net to give the Prowlers a 2 to 1 win over the defending state champion Rams in a game played at Roseau.

As a result of their memorable win on Saturday, and which was witnessed by a capacity crowd of 2700 fans, the Prowlers will be the number one team in the regional tournament pairings. The sub-regional tourney will be played at Warroad on Feb. 15 and 16, and the regional tournament will be played at Roseau on Feb. 18 and 19.

Not since the regional tournament finals in 1956, when the Prowlers defeated the Roseau team, 4 to 2, had the locals succeeded in scoring a win over the Rams. Saturday night's victory broke a nine-game string of wins that the Rams had recorded over the Prowlers during the 1956-57, 57-58, and 58-59 seasons.

The two teams, rated as the state's best, played Saturday night's game in the same matchless style that the two clubs exhibited here several weeks ago, when they battled to a 3 to 3 tie.

After a scoreless first period, the Prowlers chalked up the game's opening tally when Wennberg, getting a centering-out pass from Arlan Hjelle, who flipped the puck to his centerman from off to the right of the east goal, gathered in the puck and, from six feet out, beat all-state goalie Roth with a shot that found the left side of the cage uncovered. The goal was scored at the 1:12 mark of the period.

That 1 to 0 Prowler lead held up until the final seconds of the third period when the desperate Rams, taking advantage of the Prowlers' cautious tactics, intercepted a pass in center ice, with Don Ross gaining possession of the puck. Ross rushed the puck into the Prowler zone, and then left a drop pass for Dave Backlund, and Backlund's shot, a ten-footer, turned on the red light above the east goal. The game-tieing goal came at the 11:45 mark.

The Prowlers, who appeared surprisingly strong in the overtime period, made several scoring threats before Wennberg "lit the lamp" to send the Prowler fans home with a cherished win over a strong Roseau squad. The Wennberg-Hjelle combination nearly ended the game a few moments earlier on a neatly-executed play, but Wennberg's shot just whistled past the goal-post.

The entire Prowler squad turned in a magnificent performance, being well conditioned to play the Rams on better than even terms on the spacious Roseau ice sheet. The Prowlers' second line of Larry Poole-Wes Halvorson-Jim Wegge was very staunch on defense, back checking strongly.

The Roseau 'B' team defeated coach George Schlieff's Prowler 'B' team, 3 to 1, in a well played preliminary tilt.

Crookston Edges Prowlers 47-45

The Crookston Pirates defeated the Prowlers, 47 to 45, in a district and Northwest conference basketball game played here Friday night. The Pirates, holding a 41 to 29 lead entering the final period of play, were forced to resort to semi-stall tactics to hold off the rallying Prowlers, who made a desperate effort, scoring six points in the final minute of the game, to overcome the point deficit.

The Prowlers will play the Climax Vikings at Climax Friday, Feb. 12. On Tuesday, Feb. 16, coach Al Coen will bring his Halstad Pirates from district 30 here for a game against the Prowlers.

Friday night's game was won by Crookston from the free throw line, with the Pirates notching 17 points on gift shots, while the Prowlers added by 9 points on free throws. The Prowlers were called for 23 personal fouls, while Crookston was tagged with 14 personals and one techinical foul.

The Prowlers, holding a 16 to 9 edge at the end of the first period, and trailing by two points, 25 to 23 at the intermission, moved to within one point of the Pirates in the opening minute of the third period, 26 to 25. Crookston racked up ten consecutive points on four field goals and a pair of free throws, to gain a 36 to 25 lead. Dale Johnson scored three of the Pirate field goals, getting a pair on fast breaks that found the frail Crookston guard driving in for lay-up shots into the west basket.

With two minutes of the game remaining, Crookston held a "comfortable" ten-point lead, 46 to 36, and were playing a control style of game. Ron Hanson scored a free throw, and then followed with a right handed hook shot, paring the Pirate lead to seven points with 1:30 to play. Alden Hermodson marked up a free throw. Gary Anderson scored a pair of Prowler free throws, and Hanson tipped in a rebound. And with 18 seconds to play, Don Ulferts looped in a shot, and the Prowlers trailed by two, 47 to 45. Crookston controlled the ball the final seconds to gain the win.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

An Assist?

Perhaps St. Paul Johnson's hockey coach, amiable Rube Gustafson, is entitled to an assist in the Prowlers 2 to 1 win over the Roseau Rams on Saturday night.

Said Gustafson, when interviewed by the St. Paul Pioneer Press following Johnson's two-game sortie into the north country and during which the Governors were beaten, 8 to 4, by the Prowlers, and 9 to 0, by Roseau: "Both are good teams. But it looks like Roseau the way they played against us. They are big, strong, and fast. They catch the puck in flight a foot off the ice, bat it down and go in without missing a stride. That's how they were playing against us."

His comments on Thief River Falls is that the Prowlers are "pretty good, but Roseau won't have any trouble with them if they play like they did against us." He did agree that Dale Wennberg, who scored six goals against Johnson is "real fast, and he changes direction well."

The Prowlers read these comments.

On second thought, we don't believe that Gustafson rates an "assist" for these words. The Prowlers defeated the Rams on merit.

Well Done, Midgets

The V.F.W. Midgets returned to town late Sunday afternoon from their expedition to St. Paul and the Winter Carnival and participation in the state Midget hockey tournament. And the locals did real well in tournament play.

On Saturday morning, in a first round game, the local squad, coached by Morris Etteland and Paul Bedard, defeated a St. Paul team, 2 to 1. In a semi-finals game on Saturday afternoon, the locals, on a Roseau goal scored in the first period, dropped a 1 to 0 decision to the Ninth district champion Roseau club.

In a couple of years or so we expect to see a number of these Midgets moving up into the ranks of the Prowler hockey squad. It will be interesting to watch the progress of such forwards as Elroy Frolland, Don Mathieu, Wayne Loeffler, Bobby Stordahl, Bruce Olson, Dennis Sullivan and Bob Loeffler; and such defensemen as Pat Munt, Jim Langevin, Larry Joppru, Chuck Olson, and Pat Fischer. Not forgetting the goalies, John Hellquist and Dave Erickson.

Mary Lind: Skier

Coach Dave Lawrence called in ten of the nation's top-ranked women skiers six months ago for intensive drill and preparation for the Olympic games. Included in this select group of feminine skiers was Mary Lind, a native of Thief River Falls.

While Miss Lind did not survive the final eliminations, which pared the Olympic squad to six members, she did receive much favorable publicity. Mary, a daughter of the John Linds, was born here in town, and lived here until a dozen years ago when the family moved to New Mexico.

A couple of weeks ago, in an article in "Sports Illustrated", Mary was mentioned, and her photograph embellished the article. And this past week, "Life" magazine has an article on the nation's women Olympic skiers, and Mary is included in a color picture of one of the team members doing some "trick" skiing.

The Best Ever

We have been interested in grade school basketball, boy and man, since back in the days when, in the fifth grade in Northrop, we were a substitute on the Northrop team that defeated the Knox, 7 to 4, in the first grade school basketball championship game played here. If our memory is right, Mark Olson scored all the points for the Northrops.

But we believe that this year's edition of the Northrop basketball team is the best ever. Coach Phil Beadle's squad is running rough-shod over their opponents. We have watched the boys in a couple of their games, and the basketball talents that they exhibit are remarkable. At the forwards, coach Beadle has Tommy Cummings and Jon Looker, at center is Dennis Hanson, and at the guards are Bill Weigelt and Gary Hanway.

Dennis Hanson is a brother of former Prowler Phil Hanson, and present Prowler center, Ron Hanson. And he, according to coach Beadle, is further advanced in basketball technique than Phil and Ronnie were as sixth graders. He has tremendous potential. But great as Dennis is as a grade school player, he does not overshadow his team-mates by much. It's quite a ball club.

Defeats Academy Team from E. G. Forks 47-29

Coach Joe Mrkonich's Prowler 'B' team led all the way as they defeated the Sacred Heart 'B' team, 47 to 29, in a basketball game played at East Grand Forks on Saturday night. Don Ulferts scored five field goals in the second quarter to give the locals a big lift as they moved into a 23 to 13 margin at the intermission.

TRF Quint Takes Sacred Heart

Superb accuracy from the free throw line, converting twenty-two out of twenty-eight free throw tries, plus a strong third period of play in which they outpointed the Eagles, 16 to 11, gave coach Hartley Story's basketball Prowlers a 54 to 50 decision over Sacred Heart in a game played at East Grand Forks on Saturday night.

An indication of the closeness of the game can be judged from the fact that score was tied, or the lead alternated, on sixteen occasions during the first three periods. Midway in the third quarter, the Prowlers, from a 36 to 36 score, moved into a 41 to 36 lead, and a 45 to 40 lead entering the final period.

Six free throw points, by Ron Hanson, Darrel Nelson and Don Ulferts, plus Ulferts' highly-arched field goal, gave the Prowlers a 53 to 44 lead with three minutes to play. But the ever trying Eagles on field goals by Dan Neppel, Dick Fontaine, and Dale Neppel pared the the Prowler margin to three points, 53 to 50, with a minute to play. Steve Embury then converted on a free throw to close out the game's scoring and give the Prowlers a well-earned 54 to 50 win.

Ron Hanson, who had a fine percentage from the free throw line in marking up eight points in ten tries, was the game's high point player with twenty points. Hanson was very effective on offense as his six field goals included rebound tip-ins, hook shots from just off to the side of the basket, and a couple of outside shots. Sacred Heart's fine guard, Dick Fontaine, led the scoring for the losers, getting 18 points. Twelve of Fontaine's points were tallied in the first half, with the playmaking guard showing excellent drive on his breaks in to the west basket. Bob Pearson reached double figures for the Prowlers, having four field goals and "five for five" from the free throw line for 13 points.

Handicap Singles Bowling Tourney to Start Sunday

Tournament to Conclude on Family Bowl Alleys Sunday, February 28th

Al Brunelle, proprietor of the Family Bowl lanes here, announced that a three game handicap singles tournament will be bowled over his ten lane set up on consecutive Sundays starting Feb. 14th, continuing on Feb 21st, and concluding on Feb. 28th.

The entry fee will be $6.00, of which $4.15 will be allotted to the prize fund, $1.35 to cover the bowling, and fifty cents to defray the tournament expense.

Bowlers may compete as often as they wish, paying the entry fee on each occasion, but will be eligible to collect prize money but once.

The handicap will be based on a 190 average, with the bowlers receiving 80% of the difference. Averages must be verified by the alley manager or the league secretary. Bowlers falsifying averages will be declared ineligible and forfeit their entry fee.

Bowlers wishing to compete in the tournament should file their registration with Brunelle at the Family Bowl.

Answer Questions on New GI Pension Laws

The Veterans Administration has selected the most pertinent questions from the thousands it has been receiving about the new pension law which becomes effective July 1, 1960. The appropriate answers are supplied. This is second in a series of five.

Q.—What are the changes in a veteran's income limits?

A.—Under the old law a veteran without dependents could not draw a pension if his annual income exceeded $1400. Under the new law he may receive some pension if his income is as high as $1800. Under the old law a veteran with dependents could not receive a pension if his annual income was more than $2700. Under the new system his annual income may be as much as $3000 and he still will be eligible for some pension.

Q.—What are the changes in methods to be used in computing income under the new system?

A.—Income received by a veteran or by his widow from any source, with few exceptions, will be considered as income under the new system. In cases where the veteran's spouse has a separate income the new law provides that all such income over $1200 per year shall be counted as the veteran's income, unless to do so would create a hardship.

Q.—What would constitute "hardship" in this instance?

A.—If the evidence shows that the entire income is needed for large and unusual family expenses — such as those incurred by serious illness or unusual expenses incurred for the education of children — counting all but $1200 of the spouse's income as the income of the veteran might be regarded as a hardship. Each case of this nature is considered on its own merits.

Q.—What income is specifically exempt by law?

A.—Eight categories of income are exempt from consideration in calculating the annual income to determine pension eligibility. They are:

1. Payments of the six months death gratuity by the Service Departments.
2. Donations from public or private relief or welfare organizations.
3. Payments of compensation or pension by the VA.
4. Government life insurance payments and payments of servicemen's indemnity.
5. Social Security lump sum death payments.
6. Payments to an individual under public or private retirement, annuity, endowment or similar plans equal to the amount he contributed thereto.
7. Proceeds of fire insurance policies.
8. In the case of widows or children of a deceased veteran there are excluded amounts equal to the amounts paid for settlement of the veteran's just debts, the expenses of his last illness, and the expenses of the veteran's burial less the amount reimbursed by the VA.

Q.—How does a veteran's estate become an eligibility factor under the new law?

A.—It is one of the need factors used in determining eligibility under the new system. It means that pensions will not be paid to veterans who have sizeable estates. (The estate of his wife and children will not be considered.) Those having quite a bit of property will not be eligible until they have used up some of their estate for living expense.

Q.—Does this mean that if a veteran owns a farm or an apartment house he will have to sell his property before he can be eligible to receive a pension?

A.—Not necessarily. It would depend upon the size and value of that property and many other factors. The VA has made no attempt to provide an absolute yardstick for measuring the corpus of an estate. Nor has the VA set a dollars and cents ceiling where the value of an estate will operate as a bar to pension entitlement. In each case consideration must be given to the type of property, the age of the claimant, his life expectancy, his state of health, the number of persons dependent on him for support, and his income from other sources. A veteran's dwelling is excluded from consideration as part of his estate. Each case will be judged individually on its own merit.

Q.—Does the rule regarding "corpus of estate" also apply to widows and children?

A.—Yes, the same as it does to veterans. (Where there is a widow and children the corpus of the widow's estate only will be considered. Where there is a child or children only, the corpus of the estate of the child or children will be considered.)

Farmers' Income Tax Due Feb. 15th

Returns Due Now Unless Tax Was Paid in January

Farmers who did not file an estimated federal income tax return for the year 1959 have until February 15 to file their final return, George O. Lethert, director of internal revenue for the St. Paul district said today.

He said farmers, who file an estimated return by January 15 and pay the tax due, have until April 15 to file a final income tax return and pay any balance of tax due. Otherwise, the law requires that they file their final income tax return and pay the full amount of their tax by February 15.

Mr. Lethert said this option is available to farmers only. The tax law defines a farmer as one who derives two-thirds or more of his gross income from farming.

He advised farmers that if they filed federal income tax returns last year, the necessary forms for 1959 have been mailed to them. For those who did not file, or who, for some other reason, did not receive forms in the mail, blank forms may be obtained from the nearest internal revenue office or from local post offices or banks.

Mr. Lethert reminded that everyone under age 65 who had a gross income (not net) of $600 or more during the past year must file a federal income tax return, whether or not any tax is owed.

He said taxpayers 65 or over before January 1, 1960 are not required to file unless their gross income was $1,200 or more in 1959.

Heart Disease Is No. 1 Death Cause

State Medical Group Reports on Prevalence

Heart disease should be a matter of concern to persons in every age group because it ranks as the Number One Killer in the United States, advises the Minnesota State Medical Association.

Deaths due to cardio vascular disease account for 53.9 per cent of the total. This represents a rise of almost 35 per cent since 1900.

In 1958, Minnesota ranked as 21st among the forty nine states in the number of deaths resulting from cardio vascular disease.

Arteriosclerosis or hardening of the arteries and arteriosclerotic heart disease account for 54.6 per cent, vascular lesions affecting the central nervous system 21.2 per cent, hypertension and hypertensive heart disease 10 per cent, myocardial degeneration 7.4 per cent and rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease 2.3 per cent.

A number of surveys indicate that the greater number of heart attacks occur among the men whose occupation or profession requires little or no physical activity.

Sports, running, lifting or moving a load account for a mere 1.9 per cent of the total. Most heart attacks are recorded during the winter months of December, January and February, and the least number during the later part of August and the first part of September.

Modern medical procedures combined with moderation in all phases of daily living now make it possible for nearly one-third or 32.4 per cent of all heart disease patients to recover without restriction of physical activities; 38.4 per cent require restriction only of activities which demand severe exertion and another 22.9 per cent are permitted to engage in moderate activity. Only 5.6 per cent of heart disease patients require marked restriction of activity and 8 of one per cent require complete bed rest.

Editorials . . .

"I should be very sorry to find myself on board a ship in which the voices of the cook and the loblolly boys counted for as much as those of the officers upon a question of steering, or reefing topsails; or where the "great heart" of the crew was called upon to settle the ship's course." —T. H. Huxley

Storage Costs

A large item in the government's price support program is the high cost of storage and a House subcommittee that is investigating the expendtiures for this purpose is turning up some interesting information. It has been revealed that a Kansas company has collected $1,838,111 since 1954 for grain storage in warehouses that it rented from the army for a total cost of $28,900. The company had spent $40,000 to recondition the buildings to make them suitable for grain storage.

This probably is not a typical example of how the tax dollars are being passed around in the payment of storage bills but it is reasonable to assume that it is only one of many examples of wasteful spending in this operation. And these horrible examples are used as very convincing arguments by those who seek to discredit the entire program of price supports.

The investigation should continue and a thorough check be made on all of the operators, big and little, that are on the receiving end of such storage checks, with the view of reducing storage costs. The more than a million dollars a day that we now are paying for storage probably could be cut substantially and still provide a liberal compensation for the services that are performed.

More Debts, Goody?

Governor Freeman thinks Minnesota is in excellent financial condition and that there is no reason for concern about the steadily increasing state debt. This debt is an investment, he maintains, and investments, presumably, make us richer. It is all very simple.

But it isn't quite so simple for the taxpayer. The taxpayer knows that public debt must be paid and will be paid by taxation, and the greater the debt the greater will be the burden of taxes. The Governor may be a great politician and he no doubt is a convincing speaker, but his reasoning on the benefits that come with being in debt wouldn't get him many votes as a candidate for the board of directors of a local creamery.

A Great Leader

France has survived another crisis, thanks to the able and courageous leadership of Charles de Gaulle. He won a splendid victory without bloodshed, a victory that may prove to be the base for a peaceful settlement of the difficult Algerian problem.

It is significant that de Gaulle approached this crisis calmly, and that in his appeals to the people of France, and to the rebellious French settlers in Algiers, he discussed the problems with which they were confronted frankly and with complete honesty.

In these appeals he remained steadfast to the promises he had made to the Africans of Algiers that in due time they would be given an opportunity to decide for themselves what kind of government they should have. The Moslems, unwilling to accept these promises as being made in good faith, have been in revolt. By his demonstration of good faith in dealing with the French settlers, de Gaulle may now have gained the confidence of the suspicious natives.

The people of Algiers may decide they prefer complete independence, but it is inconceivable that any French government could retain control of the country as a colony, against the wishes of the Algerians. The days of colonialism in Africa are numbered, and de Gaulle recognized that fact. He has proven himself to be a great leader. He may now emerge as one of the great men of France of all time.

Inventors At Work

Eggs are losing popularity as a food and the egg men are going to do something about it, reports the Wall Street Journal. Per capita consumption has dropped from 402 in 1945 to 354 in 1959 according to those who spend their time counting such things. In the meantime the hen has become a much more efficient producer, production per hen having bounced up from 152 eggs a year to around 200.

At a recent meeting of egg producers, processors, dealers and scientists in Chicago, more than 100 ideas on how to increase egg sales were considered and some new product ideas have already passed the "brainstorming stage," according to the Journal. Prospects are good for an "instant" cracker-like square that with a little piping-hot water will be converted into delicious scrambled eggs in 60 seconds.

Army officials, who still remember the dried eggs of war years, that were often served but seldom eaten and that tasted like anything but eggs, are enthusiastic about the possibilities for the new product achieved by an entirely new process.

Our guess is that the smart fellows will come up with some sound ideas and that out of the present depression the egg will emerge as a more important item of food. The industry is faced with a serious problem. Fortunately necessity is the mother of invention. The inventors are hard at work.

Our Merchant Marine

The maritime industry was told by an administration spokesman recently that there would be no increase in the subsidy to American shipping. Rear Admiral Walter C. Ford, retired navy officer and now Deputy Maritime Administrator, told the industry in effect that it should quit crying for more government aid; should take steps to get its own operations in order and become more competitive with the commerce of other nations.

Admiral Ford pointed out that nearly $300 million would be made available for ship building subsidies during the coming year and that for the period between 1958 and 1961 the government will have provided funds for the construction of 61 new ships, and that:

"Maritime, as a responsible segment of a responsible and solvent administration, knows that there is a limit to just how many dollars can go into its programs, and recognizes the rights and prerogatives of other claimants and other programs."

Our merchant marine is a good example of the impossible position we have gotten ourselves into in competition with the rest of the world. An American seaman, it has been said, and with considerable truth, is paid more than the captain of a foreign ship. Our government cannot continue to pay the losses on these operations indefinitely.

Twenty-five Years Old

Some call it Hoover Dam and some call it Boulder Dam, but regardless of what you call it, it is a great engineering achievement and folks in the Southwest agree unanimously that it has contributed much to the development of that part of the country. It has received special attention lately because is now 25 years old.

Twenty-five years ago they started storing waters of the Colorado river behind the 726-foot-high barrier, the highest dam in the Western Hemisphere. Lake Mead, which the dam created, extends up the river 115 miles and covers 158,000 acres of land.

The total cost of the dam is set at $175 million, and gross revenue from the operation totals $182,500,000. The New York Times which is the source of our information, does not reveal the net return, which may be a deficit figure.

Nevertheless the dam has been a tremendous factor in the development of the area it serves. As the Times reports:

"Reviewing the dam's first quarter-century, the Department of Interior gave this recapitulation:

"Water from Lake Mead has irrigated 750,000 acres of farmland producing crops valued at $2,250,000,000. Under terms of the Mexican water treaty 500,000 more acres below the border receive water.

"The Metropolitan Water District of Southern California delivers Colorado River water to 7,000,000 residents of the Los Angeles and San Diego areas.

"Hoover generators have produced 96,000,000,000 kwh. of hydroelectric energy for farms, homes, factories, and water pumping in the tri-state area. The present annual power output is about 6,000,000,000 kilowatt-hours."

Since the start of the Hoover Dam the government has extended such activities to other similar developments and they have become quite controversial, being generally opposed by those who see dangers in any government operations in competition with private business. It is interesting to know that the first of these developments was sponsored by a president who was greatly concerned about such possible danger.

But Hoover Dam, and many similar developments, probably would not have been attempted by private capital and they therefore can be justified as proper developments under a public works program. It would be desirable however, that such developments be self-liquidating, being paid for as much as possible by those who derive the benefits rather than by the general taxpayers. On the 25th anniversary of Hoover Dam, for instance, it would have been interesting to have more information on how much that operation has cost the general taxpayer, taking into consideration all of the costs.

Mrs. Willie Mostrom and Forrest of Gonvick came Friday to remind Mrs. Clifford Johnsrud of her birthday that day.

Last week I presented arguments in favor of strengthening the enforcement of our laws against drunken driving by providing chemical tests to be used to provide evidence on whether or not a driver is under the influence of intoxicating liquors.

"Implied Consent"

Laws in force in some states do this by providing for an "implied consent" to such tests. Under this provision, every one who applies for a driver's license gives his implied consent to the taking of such tests whenever circumstances warrant it. At present in Minnesota chemical tests are given and admitted at evidence only when the driver gives his specific consent at the time.

I believe we should have an "implied consent" law in Minnesota in order to enforce more effectively the law we now have which prohibits driving under the influence of liquor.

Competent Drivers

There are other factors that make for incompetent drivers. Physical handicaps, particularly deficient vision, are serious. Perhaps you read the recent release by the highway department showing that when voluntary tests of eyesight were given at a recent auto show, one out of ten had vision too poor to qualify as drivers. Many of these could have corrected this with proper eyeglasses, but the fact remains that they had not done so.

Periodic Tests for Drivers

This is one of the reasons why I advocate periodic tests for drivers. At present drivers' licenses must be renewed every four years but the renewal is granted without any new tests. I think it would be an effective safety measure to require tests for renewal, such tests to include knowledge of the law, performance in driving, and certain physical tests — of eyesight in particular.

Many licensed drivers in Minnesota have never taken a test of their skill in driving because they had been driving before the law requiring drivers' examinations went into effect. Many others, it seems, fail to keep up the laws on driving. Many have never taken the trouble to learn the demands on the driver that new highways and increased traffic impose.

Physical competence likewise changes with the years. Vision may deteriorate, so that a driver who could see well enough many years ago can no longer drive safely without new glasses.

For all these reason, I believe in periodic tests for drivers' license renewal. Yet this proposal seems to meet very effective opposition whenever it is presented in the legislature.

Public Opinion

If public opinion is to support periodic examination of drivers it means that the people will have to decide that highway safety is important enough to warrant the inconvenience of a test every few years. The people must recognize that driving skill is more important as the numbers of cars and congestion on our highways increase. The careless or incompetent driver is a much greater hazard today than he was 10 years ago, or even 20 years ago.

Ike Proposes Plan to Reduce Wheat Surplus

Tells Congress He Is Open, However, Other Suggestions

President Eisenhower presented the Democratic-controlled Congress Tuesday with an election year challenge to come up with something better than his plan to lower price supports and relax controls to solve the wheat surplus problem.

In a special message, he renewed his arguments for the administration formula.

But he said he will go along with anything constructive which Congress works out if it falls within three guidelines.

This was a break with the administration's past position. It has insisted that the wheat surplus problem be met by lowering price supports and eliminating controls. This approach is designed to discourage high-cost producers and to encourage greater use of the grain as a livestock feed.

This change in tone came after Republican leaders in Congress—presumably including Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the potential Republican presidential nominee — had urged that the administration back up from its insistence upon lower supports.

The three guidelines for meeting the wheat situation—which he President described as particularly acute—include:

1. That price-support levels be realistically related to whatever policy Congress chooses in respect to production control. Eisenhower said it must be recognized that the higher the support the more the farmer must be regimented.

2. That price support levels not be so high as to stimulate still more excessive production, reduce domestic markets, and increase the subsidies required to hold world markets.

3. That direct subsidy programs for crops in surplus be avoided; likewise that the chosen programs not invite harmful counter measures by friends or badly hurt other farmers in seeking to aid one group.

"Within these three guidelines, I am constantly ready to approve any one or a combination of any constructive proposals," Eisenhower said. "I will approve legislation which will eliminate production controls, or make them really effective, or allow the farmers themselves to choose between realistic alternatives."

Dist. Group Health Officers Elected

Vernon Stardig, Middle River, Named Chairman

Group Health Mutual and association members of district 8 met Tuesday in the Legion room in Thief River Falls.

The following members were elected to the district committee for the coming year: Vernon Stardig, Middle River; Ed. Skansgaard, Flom; Henry Natvick, Twin Valley; Merton Roley, Warren; Amos Thompson, Grygla; James Salveson, Goodridge; and James Jaeger, Plummer.

The following were elected officers for the coming year: Chairman, Vernon Stardig; vice chairman, Edward Skansgaard; and secretary-treasurer, Merton Roley.

Ernest Swanson, Goodridge, member of the board of directors, reported to the delegates and members on the increased financial stability which Group Health Mutual has been able to develop during this past year.

Arnold Lindquist, general manager, reported on the new "Golden Years" policy for people over 65 years of age.

Phil Paulson, Detroit Lakes area sales director, discussed what the member could do to help find qualified agents for Group Health Mutual. He presented a film strip on the value and use of life insurance.

The annual meeting of the organization will be held March 12 at the Nicollet Hotel in Minneapolis.

Chester Larson of Thief River Falls was nominated as a candidate for the supervisory committee, election to be held at the annual meeting.

Joint Meeting of our PTA Units Is Scheduled Feb. 22

Federal aid for education will be the subject of a panel discussion being arranged by the Thief River Falls Parent Teacher association council to be held at the Lincoln High School auditorium Monday evening, February 22, according to Ellsworth Jorgenson, president. The discussion group is being arranged by Mrs. Robert A. Bredeson.

February 22 is the regular meeting night for the high school PTA and the three grade school units will postpone their regular meetings, scheduled for next Monday evening, to the later date.

Young Republican Club Will Meet at Court House Feb. 15

Goodridge High School Teacher to Give Talk on Parliamentary Procedure

Miss Lois Yuzna of the Goodridge high school faculty will discuss parliamentary procedure at the February meeting of the Marshall-Pennington Young Republican club to be held next Monday, Feb. 15, in the meeting room of the court house in Thief River Falls, it was announced today by David M. Brown of Goodridge, chairman.

Plans will be made for delegates to attend the 9th district convention to be held at Crookston Saturday, Feb. 27. Members of committees from the local club to be appointed include convention rules and constitution, credentials, resolutions and nominating.

A permanent organization and slate of officers will be selected at the Crookston convention.

All those interested in the Republican party from this area are invited to attend Monday's meeting, said Brown.

County 4-H'ers to Observe 4-H Week

Annual Observance Set for Week of March 5-12

Local 4-H'ers, together with more than 2,254,000 other young people from throughout the nation, will observe National 4-H Club Week, March 5-12.

Pennington county's 4-H'ers will participate in the observance. Several clubs are planning window displays at business places. Others will have special club programs.

Theme of the Week is "Learn—Live—Serve—Through 4-H!"

There are many reasons for setting aside a special 4-H week, says County Agent Paul Stelmaschuk. The week offers a time when 4-H'ers can look at their past year's accomplishments and set new goals. Pennington county members completed 1100 projects in 1959.

The week also is a time when 4-H'ers interest other local youths in the work, acquaint more parents with 4-H and encourage youth-minded citizens to volunteer as local club leaders. Now enrolled in Pennington county 4-H clubs are 400 youths and 42 adult leaders.

Few Cases Heard in Municipal Court

Out-of-town Men Forfeit Bonds for Non-appearance

Another very light session of municipal court was held Monday before Judge H. O. Chommie. All cases were brought in by city police.

Paul James Bedard, city, pleaded guilty to going through a stop sign and was fined $15, suspended. Kenneth M. Grand, Roseau, forfeited $15 bond for running a stop sign.

Kenneth A. Peterson, Nisswa, Minn., forfeited $15 bond on a speeding charge, while Richard A. Parker, Tarzana, Calif., forfeited $10 bond for making an improper U turn.

Mrs. Ollie Christofferson, city, pleaded guilty to leaving the scene of a minor accident and was fined $25, of which $15 was suspended. On the additional charge of driving without a Minnesota drivers license she was fined $15, suspended.

Legion Auxiliary to Solicit for Crusade for Freedom Monday

Mrs. LeRoy Nabben, president of the American Legion auxiliary announced today that the unit will participate in the annual Crusade for Freedom fund drive in support of Radio Free Europe. The drive will be held in Thief River Falls Monday, Feb. 15.

Radio Free Europe is a private, non-profit American organization designed to send undistorted news and information to its target countries behind the Iron Curtain: Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria.

"By lending your active support to Radio Free Europe," Mrs. Nabben said, "you will be helping to maintain the strongest link 76 million captive people behind the Iron Curtain have with the free world."

All contributions to Crusade for Freedom in support of Radio Free Europen will be used to maintain 28 powerful transmitters and relay stations, located in West Germany and Portugal, which are used to broadcast programs on multiple frequencies to outwit Soviet jamming efforts.

President Eisenhower, one of the Crusade's founders and most active supporters, says, "I have long given the Crusade for Freedom my strong endorsement — I know the people who run it and perhaps most important its hard-hitting effectiveness as an independent American enterprise."

REA Meeting at Goodridge Feb. 18

Red Lake Electric Co-op. Arranges Area Session

Patrons of the Red Lake Electric Co-op were reminded today by Charles M. Kleven, manager of Red Lake Falls, that an area meeting will be held in the community hall at Goodridge Thursday evening, February 18, at 8 o'clock.

The program will include reports by the staff and the showing of motion pictures. There will be a registration for prizes, and a free lunch will be served at the close of the evening.

Similar meetings will be held at the Middle River town hall Monday evening, February 15, and at the school gymnasium in Viking Tuesday evening, both starting at 8 o'clock.

40 & 8 Wild Game Dinner on Sunday

A wild game dinner will be served to Legionnaires from throughout this area at the American Legion club in Thief River Falls next Sunday evening, February 14, starting at 7 o'clock, with the local 40 et 8 voiture serving as host, it was announced today by Clair C. Larson, chef de gare. Members of the Legion and their ladies, as well as of the Legion auxiliary, are invited to share in the dinner.

Boat Trailer Hits Auto Near Mentor and Injures Three

Members of Family at Mentor Hurt as Trailer Breaks Loose and Hits Car

Three members of a Mentor family were injured Sunday night, when a boat trailer-hitch broke sending a trailer carrying a pontoon boat crashing into their car a mile east of Mentor on Highway No. 2.

In fair condition in a Crookston hospital were William Christianson, 55, his wife, Ruth, 54, and their daughter, Mary Ann, 14, all of Mentor.

A report to the sheriff's office in Crookston said that the trailer, carrying the pontoon boat, broke loose from a car driven by Thomas Keenan, 54, Detroit Lakes, just as it was about to meet the Christianson car.

The trailer and pontoon veered across the highway, striking the Christianson car head-on. The car, trailer and boat were considered total losses, the sheriff's office was informed. Keenan's car was not damaged and he was not injured.

Legion Auxiliary Valentine Party at Fargo Hospital

The Ninth district American Legion auxiliary will hold its annual Valentine party for the patients at the Fargo Veterans hospital Sunday afternoon, Feb. 14. All units and posts are invited, and it is hoped that as many as possible will attend, said Mrs. M. R. Levorson, Ninth district secretary, who added that this has been an annual affair for over 25 years.

Lincoln Debaters 2d in Region Event

Local Team to Compete in State Tournament

As a result of having won second place in the regional debate tournament at Fertile Saturday, the Lincoln high school team, together with the Fertile team, first place winner, will compete in state tournament to be held in St. Paul Friday, February 19.

Ten teams competed in Saturday's event. Members of the Lincoln team, which is coached by John Johnson, are Karen Larson, Pamela Torkelson, Mark Larson and Charles Larson.

In individual debate competition, Pamela Torkelson tied for second place and Karen Larson placed third.

Bankers Meeting Planned for TRF Saturday, Feb. 13

Minnesota Bankers Assn. Arranges Nine-county Session at Legion Club

Officers of the Minnesota Bankers association have arranged a district meeting with bank executives from the nine-county area to be held in the American Legion club rooms in Thief River Falls Saturday, February 13, starting with registration at 9:30 a.m., and continuing until 3:30 in the afternoon, with lunch at 12:30.

Harold L. Hanson of Baudette, president of the state association, will conduct the meeting. Other MBA officials present will be George N. Reppe, Grand Meadow banker and vice president of the association; Kent S. Rogstad, Detroit Lakes banker and a member of the council of administration, the governing body from this area; and Kenneth A. Wales, executive secretary of the MBA.

J. J. Womack, president of the Union State bank of Thief River Falls, is in charge of local arrangements. This is the tenth of a series of 15 meetings to be held during January and February.

Dr. M. D. Starekow Is Lions Speaker

Offers Arguments Against Forand Health Measure

Dr. M. D. Starekow was the speaker at the Lions club luncheon Wednesday noon in the Elks club rooms. He presented arguments against the enactment by Congress of the Forand bill, designed to provide health care services to social security recipients.

Dr. Starekow joined with the great majority of the medical profession in charging that the bill marks another step in the trend toward socialism, and he termed it a political measure.

He asserted that under the present system all elements of the population, including welfare recipients, are being given excellent service and have a free choice of doctors.

The Forand bill, if enacted, said Dr. Starekow, would entail a sharp increase in social security levies, and would mean an end to voluntary health plans.

George Hale reminded the club members that a demonstration of the Dale Carnegie course in public speaking and salesmanship will be given at a meeting next Tuesday evening, Feb. 16, at 7:27 in the Lincoln high school cafeteria, and he added that the meeting is open to all interested persons.

Public Offices to Be Closed Friday

In observance of Lincoln's birthday Friday, February 12, the court house and city offices, as well as the Carnegie library, will remain closed all day Friday. Stores and banks, however, will be open as usual.

THE ONLY Boy Scout in the Pen Ro Shall district to receive the Eagle Scout award this year is Curtis Johnson of troop 60 in Thief River Falls. He is shown as the award was pinned on during the court of honor Feb. 8 by his mother, Mrs. Halbert Johnson, as his father looked on. Advancement awards were presented to 84 Scouts during the court of honor at Trinity Lutheran church.

Aeronautics Expert Tells 'U' Alumni about Rosemount Research

Nearly 50 members of the local University of Minnesota Alumni club and their friends shared in the annual banquet held Wednesday evening in the Elks club rooms. The program, over which Doug Tegtmeier presided, opened with a group of selections by the Lincoln high school boys quartet.

Guest speaker was Dr. John D. Akerman, head of the 'U' of M. aeronautical research laboratory at Rosemount, Minnesota, where 100 scientists are engaged in experiments under contract with the U. S. Air Force Air Research and Development Command.

Dr. Akerman stated that many of the experiments relate to the human machine, involving fatigue factors, effects of power dives in planes and tests relating to the various senses. He illustrated his remarks with charts and motion pictures.

Akerman, a native of Latvia and a member of the Russian Imperial Air Force in World War I, commented that the American people "shouldn't swallow all this bunk about Russian scientific superiority".

He also stated that he doesn't know what the space man can accomplish when he reaches the moon.

Accompanying Dr. Akerman to this city was Harlan White, field man for the alumni association.

Collections Lag in March of Dimes

$2,800 Received to Date, $1,000 Below 1959 Total

Reports on March of Dimes collections in the TRF business district are still lacking from about half of the solicitors, and four townships also are left to report, it was announced today by Mrs. Henry Bothman, chairman of the drive, which opened in January.

To date, approximately $2,800 has been collected which is $1,000 less than in the 1959 campaign.

Mrs. Bothman asked city solicitors to complete their assignments as quickly as possible and turn in their reports to Clair O'Hara city chairman. Townships, she added, may report to County Auditor C. W. Rodekuhr.

Lost River Viewers Met with District Officers Yesterday

At a called meeting of the Red Lake River Drainage and Conservancy district directors held at the court house Wednesday afternoon, tentative progress reports were made by the viewers of the Lost River project in Red Lake county and there was discussion of possibilities for re-examination of the proposed Ruffy Brook project in Clearwater county.

The U.S. Corps of Engineers was represented and went over construction plans with the viewers. No particular problem was before the board for determination, according to Stanley Mortenson, attorney for the Conservancy district, and no action was taken.

Evening Classes to Start Soon at Newfolden School

Home Economics, Business and Industrial Arts Are Courses to Be Offered

The board of education of the Newfolden school district has decided to offer adult night classes for people in the Newfolden area again this year. The courses will be offered in the fields of home economics, industrial arts and business education.

Nealda Erickson will teach a course titled "Decorative Crafts and What's New in Kitchen Appliances." This course will consist of teaching grain picture crafts and making colorful centerpieces and presentation of new small kichen appliances, their care, and the new thermostatic cooking. The course will begin Thursday, Feb. 18, and consist of four 3-hour classes and three 2-hour classes, with the closing date being March 31. At least ten registrants are required to have this course. There will be a nominal tuition fee. Persons interested in signing for the course are to contact Nealda Erickson or the school office.

Curtis Tonneson, business education instructor, will offer either typing or bookkeeping, depending on which course has the most interest. It is not possible to offer both these courses at once. In typing, the person can take either beginning or advanced typing. The bookkeeping course would be an introduction to bookkeeping.

Persons interested are to contact the school office or Mr. Tonneson at once by phone or mail to state their preference of these courses, and if enough people are interested in one of the courses, it will be set up in either case. The course would run for 12 nights, two hours each night over a 12 week period, unless the class should wish otherwise. A tuition fee of $5 would be charged plus the cost of book and materials. Organizational night would be Thursday, Feb. 18.

G. Edwin Mounger, industrial arts instructor, will offer cabinet making or woodworking again this year if enough adults are interested. The course would begin Thursday night, Feb. 18, at 7:30 p.m. and run weekly for 8 weeks, 2½ hours each night. There will be a $5 tuition fee plus the cost of materials. Persons interested are asked to contact Mr. Mounger or the school office at once so that materials needed in advance can be ordered. There will be a limit of 12 persons in the class.

Social Security Man Here Feb. 16

A representative of the Grand Forks district office of the Social Security administration will be in Thief River Falls at the city Auditorium Tuesday, Feb. 16, at 10 a.m. Individuals who have questions regarding social security or who wish to file claims may contact him on that date.

84 Boy Scouts Are Promoted Monday Night

Curtis Johnson Is Given Eagle Rank at Court of Honor

Awards were presented to 84 Boy Scouts at the annual court of honor in the Trinity Lutheran church parlors Monday evening, Feb. 8, which was attended by 300 Scouts, parents and friends.

Curtis Johnson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Halbert Johnson, 304 Arnold ave. N., was elevated to the Eagle Scout rank, the highest in the Scout program. Curtis was the only Scout in the Pen-Ro-Shall district to receive the award this year. Joseph Iverson, director of secondary education, made the presentation.

The court of honor was especially significant in that it marked the first 50 years of Scouting. Preceding the awards, a rededication ceremony marking the occasion was held with 12 adult leaders taking part.

Those who received second class awards were Robert McCrum, Bruce Olson, Stanley Peterson, Thomas Ekeren, Michael Gulbranson, Richard Stenberg, William Allison, Richard Mattson, Philip Kankel, Peder Furuseth, Mark Stromberg, James Bren, Thomas Johnson, Thomas Shetler, Merle Sampson, Roddy Carlson, Wayne Pound, Lynn Rambeck and Michael Anderson.

First class awards were made to Gerald Schuster, Barry Lee, Robert McCrum, Eugene Kauppila, Gregory Torgerson, Rolf Wangberg and Elroy Frolland.

Star awards were made to Michael Soeby, Jeffery Hoel, Brooks Mostue, Michael Dahlen, Richard Jensen, Donovan Erlandson, Ronald Ewing and Robert Ihle.

Those who received life awards were Bruce Gilbertson, Brian Mostue, Ronald Kvikstad, Roger Wilson and Larry Larson.

A bronze palm for earning five merit badges beyond the work required for the eagle scout award was made to James Sculthorp.

Music during the program was provided by four professional nursing students receiving rural in-service training at Northwestern hospital.

Train Dispatcher Addresses Rotary

Lloyd Lamp Speaks Monday; Officer Slate Proposed

Lloyd Lamp, dispatcher for the Soo Line railroad Winnipeg division, was the main speaker at the Monday noon meeting of the Rotary club Feb. 8.

Lamp was introduced by Robert J. Lund, program chairman, and told Rotarians some of the duties of a dispatcher including setting up priorities of trains, traffic controls and orders and safety measures. A question and answer period followed his talk.

Dr. Milo A. Mochal gave his classification talk at the Monday meeting and a list of officers for next year was proposed by the nominating committee.

Jarvis Prichard was nominated as president, Milton Schlechter as vice-president, L. L. Tygeson as secretary, and Jim Smillie as treasurer.

Nominated to fill vacancies on the board of directors were Robert Baker, Gordon Dow, Joseph Iverson and Stanley Peterson.

Eunice Swan Married to David Ulshafer Jan. 30

Baskets of white carnations and white gladioli graced the altar of the Evangelical Free church Saturday evening, Jan. 30, when Miss Eunice Claire Swan of Chicago became the bride of David O. Ulshafer, also of Chicago.

The bride is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Swan and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ulshafer, all of this city.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m. was the bride's father, Rev. Swan, assisted by Rev. Eldor Langager. Mr. Jan Arthur of Chicago was at the organ, playing the nuptial music and accompanying Dave Martin of Thief River Falls as he sang "Because" and "Take Our Lives and Let Them Be."

Entering on the arm of her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of bridal taffeta and lace, featuring a tight bodice with a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves, which came to a point at the hand. The bouffant skirt was accented with a panel of lace in the front and sequins dotted the bottom. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of sequins and pearls and she carried a bouquet of white roses and white carnations.

Miss Carolyn Swan of Thief River Falls served as her sister's maid of honor and was followed by Mrs. George Mourlas of Chicago, and Miss Kay Swan of Rice Lake, Wis. They were attired in floor length gowns of iridescent peacock and green taffeta in princess style with accenting bows down the back center panel. They wore matching bolero jackets with long sleeves, stand-up collars and rhinestone buttons, and white feathered hats. They carried bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Little Rebecca Martin of Thief River Falls, niece of the bridegroom, was dressed like the other attendants and carried a bouquet of white and pink carnations.

Keith Has-Ellison of San Diego, Calif., friend of the bridegroom, was best man, with Jim Nunes of Gridley, Calif., and Richard Thompson of Chicago, as groomsmen. Ushers were Noel Swan, Wesley Johnson, Wesley Christensen and Allen Torkelson. All the gentlemen of the bridal party wore black tuxedoes with white carnation boutonnieres.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Swan chose a beige dress with matching accessories, while Mrs. Ulshafer wore a blue print dress with matching accessories. Their corsages were of red roses and pink carnations.

Following the ceremony approximately 150 relatives and friends attended a reception in the church parlors. A four-tiered wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and bridegroom, centered the serving table. Miss Janice Thengvall of Chicago registered the guests and the Women's Missionary Society of the church served the lunch.

For going away the bride chose a beige brocade sheath dress trimmed in mink, with matching accessories and a corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Ulshafer is a graduate of Lincoln high school in Jersey City, New Jersey, and of the West Suburban Hospital school of nursing in Oak Park, Ill. She is presently employed as head nurse at West Suburban hospital in Oak Park. The bridegroom graduated from Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls in 1956, was employed for two years at the Thief River Falls Times and is now with the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company of Chicago.

Following a honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. Ulshafer are making their home at 6204 West Wabansia in Chicago.

Relatives and friends from Chicago; Rice Lake, Wis.; Minneapolis and Windom, Minn., and the surrounding Thief River Falls area attended the wedding.

Mrs. Duane Adam Is Feted At Bridal Shower

Mrs. Duane Adam, nee Beatrice Gehrls, was the honored guest at a miscellaneous bridal shower given at the home of Mrs. Harold P. Larson Friday evening, Feb. 5. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Wilbert Jablinske and Mrs. Lloyd Knutson.

The evening was spent in a social manner with the honored guest being presented with a corsage of kitchen utensils. Mrs. Adam was then presented with gifts from those attending.

Guests were Mrs. Ray Borgerson, Mrs. Douglas Olson, Mrs. Selmer Dimmen, Mrs. William Reed, Mrs. Gordon Relerson, Mrs. Leonard Hellquist, Mrs. Howard Lawrence, Mrs. Francis Loeffler, and Mrs. Albin Holten. Those unable to attend but who sent gifts were Mrs. Robert Fitzgerald, Mrs. Reid Stromberg and Mrs. Alrick Johnson.

Emil Hedlund Is Feted Feb. 3

A retirement party was held Wednesday evening, Feb. 3, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Hedlund in honor of Mr. Hedlund, who recently retired after 40 years of service with the Soo Line bridge and building department.

Games were played during the evening after which a pot luck lunch was served by the self invited guests. A decorated birthday cake depicting the retirement was made by Mrs. Werner Jacobson. Mr. Hedlund was presented with a gift of money from his friends.

Attending were Mrs. Esther Cedergren of Lancaster, Mrs. Jane Johnson of Bagley, Mr. and Mrs Art Hedlund, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Johnson, Fred Larson, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Berg, Mr. and Mrs Werner Jacobson of this city and Olaf Halvorson of Clearbrook.

Zehlian Group Meets At D. Stewart Home

The Zehlian group of the Thief River Falls Woman's club met at the home of Mrs. Douglas Stewart Thursday, Feb. 4

Following a short business meeting the ladies did clay modeling and oil painting. A lunch was served at the close by Mrs Stewart. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs Stan Mortenson Thursday, Feb 18.

Members attending were Mrs Harold Rasmussen, Mrs H Elofson, Mrs William Holmes, Mrs Rudolph Sagmoen, Mrs Stanley Mortenson and Mrs. Bill Eckstrand.

Dorothy Johnson, Gerald Wayne Wed Saturday

Nuptial vows were exchanged Saturday, Feb 6, in this city by Miss Dorothy Ann Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elno Johnson of this city, and Gerald Wayne, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wayne of Goodridge.

The ceremony took place at 9 a.m. at the home of the bride's parents and was officiated by Rev. Marvin Carlson.

For her wedding the bride chose a street length suit of brown with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations and red roses. Her necklace and earrings were a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Elaine Johnson of this city, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, wearing a rust brown suit with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations and yellow chrysanthemums.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was Rodney Wayne of Goodridge, his brother.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. A four-tiered wedding cake, topped with miniature wedding bells, centered the serving table.

The bride attended Lincoln high school and the bridegroom is a 1959 graduate of Goodridge high school. He is presently employed on the Percy Hagen farm. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne will be making their home on the Hagen farm.

DHIA Testing Gains in Popularity in Area

The DHIA testing program is gaining in popularity in this area. Twenty-five herds are being tested by supervisor George Janssen who services the Red Lake Pennington Dairy Herd Improvement Association. The 25 herds have 619 cows on test.

Janssen visits each farm in the association once a month and tests the milk morning and evening. He runs the butterfat test and figures the amount of butter fat for each cow for that month and also for the herd. "The amount of feed the cow eats is figured," states Janssen "to determine the profit made by that cow."

Calving dates, dates of breeding, number of days the cow is dry, ear tagging, and other information is also provided thru DHIA.

The most recent development in DHIA is electronic processing. Donald Walker, president of the local association, has used the electronic method for over one year. Walker says, "The new method gives additional information on a most accurate and prompt basis." The electronic method gives a feed index easily understood by the dairyman. Both over feeding and under feeding are determined by the electronic machine. Averages for the past 12 months appear on each monthly sheet rather than on one annual report.

State wide, 115 herds and 12,153 cows are on electronic processing, said Janssen. All herds are expected to be tested electronically in the future. Under the new method the DHIA supervisor still tests the milk and records the figures. These are sent to Iowa where the electronic machine does all the calculating. The reports are back with the dairy farmer in seven days.

All dairy farmers need to test their herds to find the profit making cows and the loafers or boarders. Interested persons are asked to contact the extension agents for information on DHIA testing or other lower cost testing programs.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor, the Times:

As a Pennington county farmer I would like to call attention to the Red River Valley Winter Shows building program. This program is under the direction of the board of managers whose 13 members are elected to the board as representatives of several cooperating farm organizations in northwestern Minnesota.

The plan is to build a new set of buildings near the campus of the Northwest School and Experiment station where the show originated 50 years ago. Before any building can take place it will be necessary to raise around $134,000 a year over a three-year period. It is expected that the farmers and businessmen in the 14-county area served by the show will pledge this money.

We in Pennington county will want to take our place in this movement because there is an important connection between these shows and the future of farming in this part of the state.

The relocation of the buildings on a 20-acre site outside the city of Crookston will do the following:

It will "spotlight" the crops and livestock from our farms. It will attract investment capital and industires which will process the food and fiber we raise. It will enable demonstrations of new scientific ideas and techniques to be introduced to a large number of people. It will provide needed room for effective FFA and 4-H club programs and encourage some of our top farm youth to remain in farming. It will provide space for woman's activities, for handling large crowds and for the parking of automobiles. The buildings will be adaptable for several events throughout the year promoting agriculture.

We must support our local programs too, of course, but at the same time these regional institutions, such as the Red River Valley Winter Shows, must have the cooperation from a large number of people in farming who will benefit whether they attend the shows or not. I suggest that all forward-looking farm people and businessmen in Pennington county take this opportunity to make a small investment in the future of farming in northwestern Minnesota by pledging support to the Red River Valley Winter Shows Building Fund.

Blind Student Is Given Paul Bunyan Title at Bemidji

Gene Bradfield of Pine River and Kelliher Girl Honored at Annual Fete

Beauty and courage are synonyms for royalty at the 1960 observance of the Bemidji State college Paul Bunyan Week which ends Saturday, Feb. 13.

Elected Paul Bunyan and Carrie McGinty, rulers of the BSC Beaver mid-winter celebration are Lloyd Eugene Bradfield, Pine River, and Gail Katherine Rogers, Kelliher.

The royal couple were crowned at a coronation ceremony Monday night by Russ Hatheway, Hackensack, and Margaret Brambrink, Blackduck, last year's Paul and Carrie.

The 1960 Paul Bunyan at BSC typifies courage because of the long, uphill fight Gene has contended with in order to make his dream of attending college a reality. In the 11th grade at Pine River high school he realized he would be blind.

From the time of his graduation in 1953 until entering college last fall, Gene adjusted himself to his new life by making use of his musical talents. He earned his way by leading a dance combo and leasing a dance hall in Nisswa.

In 1957 he went to Rochester, Michigan, for instruction in the care and use of a seeing eye dog and now Gene and his white German shepherd, Suzie, are a familiar sight on the BSC campus.

The Pine River man proved himself at college by earning a spot on the dean's list, college honor roll, during the fall quarter. Suzie accompanies him to class and Gene "takes notes" thru the use of a tape recorder. When in his room he plays his "notes" back as a method of memorization.

Booster Signs to Herald Business Changes in City

Dr. George Martin, vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, in charge of the community services department, today announced that a new public relations campaign is being initiated. Special signs will be displayed on all businesses undergoing expansion and marking any new business developments.

The first of these signs was installed in the Lein's Apparel Shop which is undergoing a remodeling and will shortly take the name of Larson's Style Center.

The sign read, "Progressing With Thief River Falls. Here's Another Business Booster. Congratulations from the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce."

ADVENTIST GROUP HOLDS HOME AND SCHOOL MEETING

The Home and School organization met Monday afternoon at the Seventh-day Adventist school for its monthly meeting. Discussion was led by the president, Mrs. S. E. Pollman, on projects the pupils will be making to display at the special meeting for the fathers March 14.

Subzero Weather Returns to Area

Low of 14 Below Zero Registered This Morning

After four days in the deep freeze, the weatherman holds out the promise of more pleasant temperatures with the prediction that the readings will moderate and that there will be no significant precipitation.

Temperatures since the early morning hours of Monday, Feb. 8, have ranged during the daylight hours from 15 Monday to 6 Wednesday. Night time readings were from —7 Monday morning to —14 early Thursday morning.

Despite the cold, northern Minnesota as well as the rest of the state has been fortunate to miss some of the worst weather this winter. Iowa, Wisconsin and other states from the midwest to the east coast have had the heaviest snowfall of the year and other sections of the nation have had floods and heavy rains.

The KTRF forecast calls for mostly cloudy and continued cool today through tomorrow with a high from zero to 10 above and lows tonight from zero to —15. Winds are expected to be from the north at 10 to 20 miles an hour but should diminish tonight.

Low Bid Accepted on Road Project in Clearwater Co.

Apparent low bids on slightly more than $5 million of highway construction have been received on seven regular trunk highway and two interstate highway projects, State Highway Commissioner L. P. Zimmerman announced today.

Work called for includes improvements on 72 miles of trunk highways, construction of a bridge, 1,012 feet long, and the demolition and removal of 207 buildings from highway rights of way.

The apparent low bidders and work involved include in this area: Clearwater county, T.H. 223—Grading, gravel base and plant-mixed bituminous surfacing of 7.6 miles, located between junction T.H. 92 and Leonard: C. L. Nelson & Co., Inc. of Brainerd, $123,349; lowest of 11 bids. Work is to start July 1 and is to be completed in 60 working days.

Grade A Milk

Grade A milk production in Minnesota jumped 61 per cent from 1951-58, according to a survey by agricultural economists at the University of Minnesota.

At the same time, total milk receipts went up only 28 per cent.

Economists found that of all grade A milk received in 1958, about 65 per cent was bottled or packaged. About a third went into surplus uses — tending to lower prices to producers.

By "surplus" the economists mean grade A milk diverted to manufacturing.

The economists conclude that Minnesota farmers need more out-of-state milk markets before any further increase in grade A milk will pay off. In 1958, for example, only 1.6 per cent of the total grade A milk receipts was sold in bulk for bottling or other grade A uses in other states.

It was also found that seasonal patterns of milk production work against Minnesota dairymen. Most surplus grade A milk from here is available in spring when out-of-state demand is lowest. When demand from other states goes up in summer and fall, Minnesota has a lower grade A surplus.

Most surplus grade A milk is in the eastern half of the state, the survey showed. Nearly 70 per cent of the grade A milk diverted to manufacturing was in southeastern plants and 20 per cent was in the northeast.

Minnesota had 181 grade A plants in 1958. Of these, 139 got all or part of their milk directly from farmers. The rest bought from other grade A plants.

About 51 per cent of the state's total grade A milk is received by plants serving the Twin Cities market. The entire southeastern section, which includes the Twin Cities, received about 75 per cent of the state's total fluid milk supply.

$30 Per Ewe

Each ewe should gross $30 this year—if your sheep flock is managed well.

Here are some hints on ways to make that income.

First, keep records. The county extension office has blanks. Use ear tags, so you can pick out ewe lambs for flock replacement from your best older ewes.

Second, take good care of the lambs. Start by disinfecting navels with 7 per cent iodine solution within an hour of birth. Then make sure the lambs start nursing. Wash the ewe's udder first with chlorine-water solution and check whether the ewe has milk and open teats. Help weak lambs nurse. It's best to "panel" ewes and newly-born lambs for two, three, or four days.

Paint-brand lambs and ewes to keep them paired up. And keep twin ewe lambs for flock replacement.

Dock the lambs at four to five days. Castrate them when two weeks old.

Creep-feed lambs born between January and mid March. They can be marketed from drylot at 90 to 120 days of age, at 80 to 100 pounds each. A good creep feed is 40 pounds whole oats, 40 pounds shelled corn or crushed barley or wheat, 10 pounds bran, and 10 pounds oil meal. Fifteen milligrams of antibiotic per pound of ration may help prevent death losses.

Creep fed lambs also need good legume hay, plenty of clean water, and a mineral supplement. Wean them at 12 weeks.

Late lambs can be marketed at four to five months at 90-95 pounds—with no feed other than pasture after grazing season starts. But make sure the pasture is good. Bluegrass is okay, for early season. A good mixture is two bushels of oats and five pounds dwarf Essex rape per acre. Rape also can be grazed after the oats crop is removed. Grass-legume mixtures are all right—if they're at least half grass. Rye seeded in July will fatten lambs in September and October and provide grazing the following spring.

The Library Corner

By Eleanor Olson

Members of the human race have been collectors since cave men began to hoard likely looking stones for axes and arrows. Attics, store rooms and little boys' pockets are all the direct offshoot of this age old desire to save things. As civilization took on refinements, so did collecting. People began to collect items because they were unique or interesting in themselves.

Such a collection is the one of buttons currently on display at Carnegie Library. It was started by Mrs. Martin Stenberg shortly after World War I and now contains buttons from many of the world's out-of-the-way places. Each has a story behind it as interesting as the button itself. Some are primitive while others are highly detailed, exquisite examples of artist-craftmanship developed through the centuries.

A Fiji Island button of tortoise shell inset with cat's eye shell was made perhaps by a native in front of a palm-frond hut, perhaps in a shop for export. The latter is probably true of the beautifully engraved, smoked silver button from Siam (the way it was made is a highly guarded secret, one the Siamese have used for hundreds of years).

A button given Mrs. Stenberg by Mr. F. S. Kelley came from France in 1918. Probably older yet, it is made of horn or bone with a single center hole and was attached by a knotted cord or thong; a means used long before two- or four-hole buttons were common.

Several elaborately engraved buttons from Naples illustrate button making as a highly skilled craft. One shows a graceful hand, set off by a ruffled lace wristlet, holding a perfect rose, all on an area smaller than a quarter.

Uniform buttons are prominent in the collection. One of the most valued is from a Canadian Mountie's red coat. These are so hard to acquire it's a wonder Mounties aren't more often victims of button snitchers.

Many a child's sweater would be more quickly buttoned if little "teddy bear, rabbit or duck buttons, called "goofies" by Australians, marched up their fronts.

Even Alaska is represented by a gold nugget button. It is a casting, a beautiful imitation of the real nuggets worn by prospectors who struck it rich in the Klondike.

Displayed along with Mrs Stenberg's collection are two copies of "Hobbies" magazine which have articles about buttons in them. The magazine itself deals with every hobby imaginable and will interest you if you like to collect things just for fun. When you find yourself near the library, stop in and examine this interesting display.

RAMBLER WINS COMPACT CAR ECONOMY TEST!

Rambler American tops nearest competitor by 6.67 miles per gallon in Pure Oil Economy Trials at Daytona

Once again Rambler proves it is America's Economy King! Under official NASCAR supervision, the Rambler American won over all other U.S. economy cars to sweep the Compact Car Class in the Pure Oil Economy Trials held at the Daytona International Speedway Public Proving Grounds, February 1-3.

But gasoline mileage is only one measure of Rambler economy. Rambler owners save, too, on lowest prices, lowest upkeep, and highest resale value.

Discover Rambler's all-around economy yourself. See your Rambler dealer today.

HERE ARE THE OFFICIAL PURE OIL ECONOMY TRIAL RESULTS

RAMBLER AMERICAN	51.281 Miles Per Gallon
FALCON	44.614 MPG	—Rambler gave 14.9% more mileage
VALIANT	41.801 MPG	—Rambler gave 22.7% more mileage
CORVAIR	39.882 MPG	—Rambler gave 28.6% more mileage
LARK	32.965 MPG	—Rambler gave 55.6% more mileage

IMPORTANT—All cars in the Pure Oil Economy Trials were driven by expert drivers and operated under ideal conditions. The winning Rambler American Custom was equipped with optional overdrive which is not available on most other cars in the Compact Car Class and averaged better than 25 miles per hour. No car owner should expect to approach in every day driving the mileage achieved in this test by Rambler or any of the other cars. However, the results prove again the superior economy that Rambler owners enjoy.

Prowler Six to Enter Playdown

The high school hockey teams in Region Eight will begin their playdowns with a sub-regional tournament at Warroad on Monday and Tuesday. Eight teams—Thief River Falls, Roseau, Warroad, Hallock, Baudette, Williams, Indus, and Red Lake Falls—are eligible for the Warroad tourney.

Monday night's pairings will find Thief River Falls, the Region's top-rated club, playing Red Lake Falls at 7:30 P.M. At 9:30 P.M., the Hallock Bears, the region's number four team, will play the Baudette Bears. The two winning teams will gain berths in the regional tournament that will be played at Roseau on Thursday and Friday, Feb. 18 and 19.

On Tuesday night at Warroad, with the face-off at 7:30 P.M., the defending regional and state champion Roseau Rams, the region's number two team, will play Indus. At 9:30 P.M., the Warroad Warriors, the region's number three team, will play the Williams Wolves. The two winners will join Monday night's winners in the regional at Roseau.

The team point-totals, as of Monday morning, Feb. 8, when the regional committee announced the sub-regional tournament pairings, were as follows: Thief River Falls, 17; Roseau, 13; Warroad, 10; Hallock, 6; Baudette, 2; Williams, 0; Indus, 0; and Red Lake Falls, 0. Several games remain to be played on the 1959-60 conference schedule, but the results of these games will not affect the tournament pairings.

Dale & Don Wennberg Lead at Lincoln High in Sports and Band

Twin brothers at Lincoln high school have provided spectators with a good share of the thrills and enthusiasm during both football and hockey games this year.

While brother Dale has been wearing the pads in both sports, Don has been leading the pep band which provides much of the color and excitement which fans expect at all games.

The Wennberg twins, seniors at Lincoln high, are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wennberg, Oakland Park rd.

Don, the musical member of the duo, is concertmaster of the orchestra, student director of the band, editor of the high school yearbook, a member of the student council and, last year, was the school's representative at Boys' State. He plays both the clarinet and oboe.

Dale, the athletic twin, has been a member of the track team and was co-captain and quarterback of the 1959 Prowler football team until sidelined late in the season with a knee injury.

It is in hockey, especially, that Dale shines. A member of the Prowler state consolation winning team of 1958-59, he scored three goals in the title winning tournament game in defeating Patrick Henry high school. He was named to the all state team for his play.

This year, as co-captain of the Prowler hockey team which leads in region eight play Dale has scored 30 goals and 22 assists for a total of 52 points in 16 games, including the two goals against Roseau which earned the Prowlers first place in the regional standings and dropped Roseau into second place.

Tournament spectators this year will be hearing a lot from Don and about Dale—the Wennberg twins who are doing more than their share to put Thief River Falls on the map.

Prowler 'B' Sextet Splits Two Games

Loses to Crookston and Defeats R. L. Falls 6-1

Coach George Schlieff's Prowler 'B' team, after dropping a 4 to 2 decision to a greatly-improved Crookston Pirates hockey team on Monday night rebounded to defeat the Red Lake Falls Eagles varsity squad, 6 to 1, here on Tuesday night. Leading the Prowler 'B's in their conquest of the Eagles was rightwing Tim Teal, who racked up three goals. Jim Ranum notched a pair of goals, and Tony Poole had a single. The lone Red Lake Falls goal was tallied by defenseman Bob Hince, who scored on a shot from the blue-line.

Prowler Freshmen Lose to Crookston

Local Quint Defeated Here Monday Night 37-27

Coach Ron Thompson's Crookston Central freshman basketball team, with center Jim Johnson scoring 15 points, defeated coach Dick Edlund's Prowler freshman 37 to 27 in a game played on the local court Monday evening. Paul Klungness led the Prowler scorers with 10 points.

The local 7th grade, 8th grade, and freshman teams will play teams from Fertile here on Saturday afternoon, with game time at 1:30 P.M.

Women Golfers Get London Bid

Women members of the Thief River Falls Golf Club have been invited to attend the DAKS Ladies International Golf Tournament to be held in London, England, next May. Mrs. Harold Rasmussen reports that due to a conflict of dates it is possible that local members will be unable to attend.

A Fond Farewell

Nine Prowler hockey players—co-captains Dale Wennberg and Arlan Hjelle, Archie Schneider, Wes Halvorson, Eddie Holmes, Don Waldera, Jim Wegge, Wayne Halvorson, and Tom Mehlhoff—will be making their final appearances before the home fans, and on the Arena ice, on Friday night when coach Gene Sack's squad meets the Warroad Warriors in the 1959-60 schedule finale.

This Prowler squad is a dedicated group of hockey players. Their record is fifteen wins, one tie, and one loss, which adds up to the finest record in state high school play. And that one loss to Grand Forks Central in the season opening game last December 2nd, by a 3 to 2 score, was avenged a couple of weeks ago when the Prowlers defeated the Redskins, 6 to 3, at Grand Forks.

This spring's graduation exercises will surely take a large chunk of talent out of Prowler hockey. And it will be strange to watch next season's practice drills and not see Dale and Archie and Arlan and Wes. These four boys joined the Prowler varsity squad back in 1956-57, so they are concluding four years of hockey for the blue-and-gold.

During the 1957-58 season, Eddie Holmes and Don Waldera moved up to the varsity squad; and last season, 1958-59, Jim Wegge, Wayne Halvorson, and Tom Mehlhoff joined the varsity.

So make it a date to be in the Arena rink on Friday night, and give Dale, Arlan, Archie, Eddie, Jim, Don, Wes, Wayne, and Tom a cheering farewell.

It is probable though that Wes Halvorson and Tom Mehlhoff will be missing on Friday night. Tom was stricken by the flu early in the week. And Wes became entangled in some classroom-attendance problems, and was given a six-day "sentence".

Family Bowl Tournament

Area bowlers should make note that Al Brunell's Family Bowl will sponsor a three game handicap bowling tournament to be rolled over the Family Bowl lanes on three successive Sundays, Feb. 14th, 21st, and 28th.

The first prize is $100, plus a trophy. This prize fund is based on an entry list of 200 bowlers.

And this tournament is not limited to men, for Al states that women bowlers may participate and bowl under the same rules that apply to men.

Miscellany

Among the 1,820 curlers who participated in the Manitoba bonspiel last week were several former States-Dominion hockey league players. Ken Little, who played a number of games with the local Thieves, is a member of highly rated Bruce Hudson rink. This rink is in competition this week for the Manitoba championship. Other former S D hockey players participating in the 'spiel were Jim Zarle and Don Skay. Zarle and Skay played their hockey with the Roseau Cloverleafs. . . Gerry James, who played first rate football for coach Bud Grant's Grey Cup champion Winnipeg Blue Bombers last fall, is playing major league hockey with the Toronto Maple Leafs of the National league. According to press reports, James is given the assignment to shadow such opposing players as Bernie Geoffrion of Montreal, Andy Bathgate of the New York Rangers and Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings. Commented James when queried about Detroit's Howe: "If you go for his fancy stickwork he'll leave you out in left field. Take him and stay with him. He can't go anywhere without his uniform." . . . Jim Johnson, the center on the Crookston freshman basketball team that played here Monday evening and defeated the local frosh, 37 to 27, is a son of Warren Johnson. Warren, in his college days was star center for the Hamline Pipers. Following graduation, Warren, was named basketball coach at Crookston high school. He is now a parole officer. His son, Jimmy, shows much promise and, the effects of fatherly coaching, for he is a strong rebounder and a fine scorer. His fifteen points on Monday evening provided the Crookston freshmen with their winning margin . . . The V F W is completing plans for an invitational hockey tournament, with Midget teams participating, to be held here on March 4 and 5. Eight teams will compete in the two day tourney at the Arena . . . Grand Forks Central's hockey coach, Sergio Gambucci, proved to be truer prophet than St. Paul Johnson's Rube Gustafson. Said Sergio, following the Prowlers' 6 to 3 win over his Redskins the other week, "I'd give the Prowlers a slight edge over the Roseau Rams."

St. Bernard's Six in Tie with Northrop

Score Saturday Was 2-2; Broncos Still Hold Lead

Grade School Hockey League

	W	L	T	Pts
St. Bernard's	6	2	1	13
Washington	5	2	2	12
Northrop	4	3	2	10
Knox	0	8	1	1

Results of Saturday's games: St. Bernard's 2, vs. Northrop 2; Washington 1, vs. Knox 0.

Schedule Saturday Feb. 13: St. Bernard's vs. Knox 9:00 A.M.; Northrop vs. Washington 10:00 A.M.

The grade school hockey league, playing its games at the Arena rink on Saturday mornings, continues to provide the fans with hotly-contested matches. The league race, with three weeks of scheduled play remaining before the championship playoffs, finds the St. Bernard's Broncos, coached by Dennis (Spanky) Sullivan, holding a one-point lead over the Washington Wildcats, 13 to 12. DelRay Offerdahl's Northrop Indians are solidly in third place with 10 points.

In last Saturday's games the Broncos and the Indians played to a 2 all tie. Washington barely edged by the luckless Knox Tigers winning by a 1 to 0 margin.

This week's feature game will find the Northrop squad meeting Washington, with the face-off slated for 10:00 A.M. The schedule, which was disrupted considerably when it was decided to forego league play at the Knox rink, finds the Northrop and Washington teams meeting six times during the season, and St. Bernard's playing Knox six times. St. Bernard's meets Washington and Northrop three times apiece, while Washington and Northrop play three games. The city championship, though, is decided by the playoffs that will take place in the Arena early in March.

State Farm Receipts Drop 7 Pct. Last Year

Minnesota farmers' total cash receipts in 1959 fell seven per cent from 1958, according to agricultural economist Elmer W. Learn at the University of Minnesota.

The drop totalled more than $100 million from the record 1958 level of $1.4 billion.

Poultry and hog producers took the bulk of the decrease. The drop resulted mainly from heavier livestock marketings, which in part reflected huge national supplies of feed grains.

Realized net farm income dropped even further than cash receipts. Present estimates show a decline of about 20 per cent from the 1958 record level of $556 million, Learn says. "Realized net farm income" is net income without adjusting for inventory changes.

Learn reports on the income situation in the current issue of "Minnesota Farm Business Notes," an Agricultural Extension Service publication. He based his estimates on data from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the State Federal Crop and Livestock Reporting service and the Minnesota office of the USDA Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

The drop would bring realized net income close to the lowest levels of the decade, reached in 1954-56.

Learn estimates 1959 cash income from crops to be down $38 million from last year's $393 million.

Crop production set a new record at 334 million bushels—in spite of drouth and the lowest average yield since 1955. Reason for the higher total production was expanded acreage. Partly because of high moisture corn average corn price for 1959 was below 1958.

Meanwhile soybean acreage declined by more than a fourth, and cash receipts from soybeans dropped sharply.

Farmers marketed 15 per cent more hogs in 1959 than in 1958 but average prices dropped 28 per cent. As a result, cash receipts from hogs totalled $212 million. That was about $46 million below 1958, and about equal to the 1955-57 average.

Minnesota in 1959 became the nation's leading turkey state, with a 28 per cent increase in birds. The 13½ million birds raised in 1959 brought in a record volume of turkey receipts—$47 million. While prices averaged below 1958 levels, prices in the heavy marketing period of October-December were above a year earlier.

Egg producers in 1959 had their worst year since World War II. First, production for the state decreased a bit, while production for the nation as a whole went up. Average prices fell below 23 cents per dozen, lowest since 1941. Cash receipts dropped 25 per cent, from $90 million in 1958 to $67 in 1959.

Sales of cattle and calves continued to be the largest single source of gross income on Minnesota farms, accounting for 20 per cent of sales.

Direct government payments in Minnesota declined from $41.3 million in 1958 to $30 million in 1959. This, Learn says, resulted from ending the Soil Bank acreage reserve. That loss was only partly offset by an increase in Conservation Reserve payments.

Storage payments for Commodity Credit corporation grain resealed on farms amounted to $6.1 million in 1959 compared to $7.7 million in 1958.

Data on production expenses aren't available yet. But Learn says the U. S. index of prices paid for production items continued to rise, so production expenses will probably be up, too. However the rate of increase will probably be lower than it has been for several years.

Agriculture Dept. Reports on Costs of Grain Storage

Cost Ranges from Five Cents to More Than 21c Per Bushel, Report Shows

The direct cost to the nation's commercial warehouses of storing grain ranges from about 5 cents to more than 21 cents a bushel, according to a preliminary report on a U.S. Department of Agriculture survey of grain storage costs received at the Marshall county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office.

The survey was made in connection with plans for renegotiation of the uniform grain storage agreement, which contains the rates and other terms that govern the storage of price support grain in commercial warehouses, under either government loan or government ownership.

Average direct storage costs not including handling charges and indirect charges such as quality deterioration, shrinkage and return on capital investment, amount to 10.1 cents a bushel a year for county elevators, the survey shows. For terminal warehouses, it is 8.6 cents a bushel. The overall average for both types is 9.5 cents a bushel, direct operating cost to the warehouse for a year.

The ASC office explained that detailed checks were made of 132 country and terminal warehouses. The sample was then extended to reflect all the commercial storage facilities in the country.

Percentage of occupancy an important factor in per bushel storage costs, was high during the period for which the cost survey was made. About 80 per cent of all the storage space the warehouses had available for storing grain for others (grain not owned by the warehouse it self) was occupied.

Commenting on the preliminary survey findings, Secretary of Agriculture Benson termed grain storage "one of the most complex operating problems."

"With grain stocks so large," he said, "farmers must have space to hold their grain for orderly marketing and to take advantage of price support financing. The department must have space to house its own surplus price support stocks. Private industry must also be in position to store its holdings.

"The storage job has been handled very well in recent years, in contrast to the serious shortage problems of some past periods. We intend to make any adjustments which may be found necessary to insure a continuance of sound operations."

More Durum Wheat Seeding Is Asked

Surplus Reported to Be Rapidly Disappearing

Americans, for the second year in a row, are eating their way through reserve stocks of durum at an ever faster pace with the result that manufacturers fear a serious shortage of durum from which macaroni products are made.

Announcing a second annual campaign to urge more northwest farmers to raise durum wheat, Henry Putnam, executive secretary of the Northwest Crop Improvement association, points out that consumption of macaroni products rose to 7.5 pounds per person during 1959.

"While consumption of macaroni products was rising," Putnam said, "total production of durum wheat declined by 700,000 bushels in the 1959 crop year. At the same time the number of carryover bushels dropped from 21,000,000 in 1958 to 11,000,000 bushels in 1959.

"What the macaroni industry requires for its needs is a 40,000,000 bushel durum crop in 1960," Putnam said. "That would be nearly double last year's production."

The durum shortage is a product of the rust epidemic of the early 1950's. Since that time, however, new rust resistant varieties have been developed. Two of those varieties, Langdon and Ramsey, have successfully resisted rust attacks.

Answer Questions on New GI Pension Laws

(Veterans and their beneficiaries now receiving Veterans Administration pensions must decide whether to continue receiving benefits under the old pension law or change over to the new pension system which becomes law July 1, 1960. VA compiled questions compare the two laws. This is third in a series of five.)

Q. In order to compare the new pension system with the present one what is the amount of pension a single veteran may receive now?

A. At present any World War I, II or Korean conflict veteran if he is single and drawing a pension receives $66.15 a month unless he is 65 years of age or older, or has been on the pension rolls 10 years, in which event he draws $78.75. Those who become blind or so helpless as to require the regular aid and attendance of another person, receive $135.45 per month.

Q. Now what will single veterans receive under the new system after July 1, 1960?

A. The new system is planned to relate the amount of pension paid to the need of the pensioner. Thus a veteran without dependents may receive a pension of $85 a month if his annual income is not more than $600, $70 a month if his income is above $600 but not more than $1200, and $40 a month if his income is more than $1200 but not more than $1800. If his annual income is more than $1800 he receives nothing.

Q. What pension does a veteran with dependents receive at present?

A. He receives the same amount of pension as the single veteran receives. His only advantage is that he may continue to draw the pension if he has an annual income as high as $2700, whereas the single veteran cannot draw a pension if his annual income is more than $1400.

Q. How will the veterans with dependents fare under the new system?

A. A veteran with one dependent may receive $90 a month if his annual income is not more than $1000; $75 a month if his annual income is more than $1000 but not more than $2000, and $45 a month if his annual income is more than $2000 but not more than $3000. If his annual income is more than $3000, he receives nothing.

Q. What about the veteran with more than one dependent?

A. A veteran with two dependents may receive monthly pension payments of $95, $75 and $45 in the same three income ranges noted above. A veteran with three or more dependents may receive monthly payments of $100, $75 and $45 in those income ranges.

Q. What will the new system do for veterans who require regular aid and attendance?

A. Under the new law all pensions will be increased $70 a month for veterans who require regular aid and attendance.

Q. If I am receiving a pension at present but I think it will be to my advantage to transfer to the new system next July 1, what should I do?

A. When the VA sends you all the information necessary for you to determine which system will be best for you they will also enclose a form for you to fill out indicating your decision to transfer from the old system to the new. You will receive this form about March 1, well in advance of the deadline, next July 1. You may delay exercising your option to change systems, and you may make the change any time in the future. But once you change to the new system, you cannot return to the old system again.

Q. If I am not now on the pension rolls because I am not eligible under the present pension law, but I will become eligible under the new system, what should I do?

A. You may get the necessary assistance and application from any VA office and apply for a pension. A VA contact representative will be glad to help you.

Pony Variety Show at Winter Shows

Clarence Grindeland, TRF, to Show Quarter-horses

A pony variety show will be staged at the Red River Valley Winter Shows, Crookston, Thursday evening, February 25 at 7 o'clock in the livestock sales pavilion of the Winter Shows buildings.

Master of ceremonies will be Vernon Skadvedt of Crookston. Appearing on the program will be the Crookston municipal band under the direction of T. W. Dixon. The champion ponies at the show will be presented by Al Becker of Fargo, judge of the show.

An Arabian stunt horse will be put through the paces by Carl Sondrol of Cummings, N. D. An act of quarter-horse capers will be presented by Clarence Grindeland of Thief River Falls.

The show will wind up with square dancing numbers presented by members of the Red River Valley Square Dancers of Nielsville and Crookston.

Those who enforce the law should set the example of obedience.

Editorials . . .

"Well, as to education, the newspapers are correct; I never went to school more than six months in my life. . . . I can say this, that among my earliest recollections I remember how, when a mere child, I used to get irritated when anybody talked to me in a way I could not understand. I don't think I ever got angry at anything else in my life. But that always disturbed my temper, and has ever since. I can remember going to my little bedroom, after hearing the neighbors talk of an evening with my father, and spending no small part of the night walking up and down, and trying to make out what was the exact meaning of some of their, to me, dark sayings. I could not sleep, though I often tried to, when I got on such a hunt after an idea, until I had caught it; and when I thought I had got it, I was not satisfied until I had repeated it over and over, until I put it in language plain enough, as I thought, for any boy I knew to comprehend. This was a kind of passion with me, and it has stuck by me; for I am never easy now, when I am handling a thought, till I have bounded it north, and bounded it south, and bounded it east and bounded it west."

—Abraham Lincoln, from a letter written in 1860.

Keep On Trying

During the war our government lend-leased $10 billion worth of weapons and other supplies to Russia, and when the war ended we sent them a bill for $2.6 billion, estimated to be the value of the civilian goods not destroyed in the fighting. After two rounds of negotiations the Soviet Union offered to settle at not more than $300 million. That was in 1952.

In recent negotiations the Russians have demanded trade concessions in exchange for any settlement. They have been informed that the lend-lease account must be settled on its own merits. In the meantime Russia continues to exact reparations from such impoverished countries as Austria and Poland.

The prospect for any good coming out of the Summit meetings and the visiting back and forth is not bright, but it probably is better that we keep on trying.

The Test of Time

A New York senator has proposed that the likenesses of President Eisenhower and former President Franklin D. Roosevelt be added to the Mount Rushmore National Monument in South Dakota. South Dakota officials do not take kindly to the idea. State historian Will G. Robinson's reaction was, "In my opinion there are more faces on the mountain already than there should be."

Governor Ralph Herseth was quoted at greater length. He said, "History evaluates the statesmanship and greatness of a man and his leadership. The Eisenhower record is incomplete. Full assessment is premature. The President's popularity at the polls has been demonstrated, but this does not assure us that his administration will measure up" by the long term standards of greatness.

We will go along with the thinking of our South Dakota neighbors. We are not capable at this time of judging fairly the public records of either Franklin D. Roosevelt or Dwight Eisenhower. It is natural for us to view those records with emotional bias and, as we see it, at least a hundred years should lapse after any outstanding citizen has died before public monuments are erected to his memory. The test of time is slow but with time there is less likelihood of error.

Kennedy and Wheat

Senator John Kennedy told a Jamestown, North Dakota, audience last week that milling wheat should be supported at a higher price level than is low quality wheat that is fit only for animal feed. Senator Kennedy is right, and we are sure his Jamestown community audience liked what he said.

But it is only fair to point out that what Mr. Kennedy said has been said many times before in the areas that produce high quality, milling wheat. In the areas that do not grow high quality, milling wheat, the growers feel differently about such a proposal. For them wheat is wheat, even though it is a poor grade of chicken feed, and they want their share of the government's price support dollors regardless.

In this argument the growers of the quality wheat are outnumbered. The government's price support program for wheat has failed largely because it has encouraged the growing of chicken-feed wheat in states that never grew wheat before and that cannot grow wheat of milling quality.

It is not likely that Senator Kennedy will repeat in Indiana and Kentucky what he told the North Dakota wheat growers in his speech at Jamestown.

The Doctor Shortage

A recent survey by U.S. World News and World Report points up the need for more doctors of medicine in our country. According to their figures our schools are now graduating 7,400 physicians each year and it is estimated that in order to just keep the present balance there should be 11,000 graduated each year from now until 1975.

This report takes into consideration only our own needs here at home. If the need in the backward countries of the world were taken into consideration our production of physicians might well be doubled and trebled. The opportunities for service throughout the world are practically limitless.

This failure to produce enough physicians to supply even our own needs is not pleasant to contemplate. The taxpayers of Minnesota, for instance, have put millions of dollars into expanded facilities at the University medical school. The university hospital has become a tremendous laboratory for the training of doctors, but the production of doctors at that medical school has not increased over a period of many years. During the war years production was stepped up, proving that production could be stepped up, but when the special need ended the production was cut back to the old figure.

Recent reports indicate that this year's enrollment is up a little again and that is encouraging, but the record is not good for what we like to look upon as our great state university and raises a reasonable doubt as to whether we have been getting a fair return on the millions of dollars we, as taxpayers, have paid out for expansion.

The Revolution Is Here

Minnesota ranked first in butter production again last year with an official total of 322 million pounds, within 4 million pounds of the 1941 record. Wisconsin was next with 278 million and Iowa third with 171 million.

Nationally, 1,329,000,000 pounds of butter were produced and margarine production went up to 1,611,400,000 pounds. Per capita consumption of margarine was 9.2 pounds and butter 8.3 pounds. On the bright side, the huge butter surplus of a few years ago has now been disposed of and supply and demand are close enough together to justify the hope that better days could be coming to the dairy industry. If the industry would now bestir itself in the interests of orderly marketing, a gradual price increase might be realized.

Here in our corner of the state, where dairying is still the most dependable source of income, good progress has been made at the production level. Fewer farmers milk cows but the fewer herds are larger and the average production per cow is steadily increasing. We have fewer but better herds and the trend at the farm level is healthy.

But while we have made good progress in reducing our on-the-farm production costs, our manufacturing costs are still high compared to the manufacturing costs in southern Minnesota and Wisconsin. In a recent issue of Farm Busiess Notes, published by the University of Minnesota Extension Service, a study of Minnesota's creameries by Victor Amann and Fred Koller, reveals the extent of the trend toward larger and more efficient operations.

In the past 20 years the number of creameries in the state has dropped from 871 to 460, but in 1938 only 108 of the 874 creameries had a volume of more than 500,000 lbs. of fat while last year 209 of the state's 460 creameries were over the 500,000 pound mark. For our area as a whole, Professer Koller has pointed out, small and inefficient manufacturing operations are costing our producers several cents a pound and duplications of hauling services are also adding needlessly to the producers' costs.

There are some things about the trends toward fewer but larger units that are not good. The objections based on sentimental reasons are especailly appealing. Departing from practices that have been a part of the established order for generations are sometimes unpleasant and it is especially difficult for older people to adjust themselves to new methods.

Youth however is willing to try new ways and so changes do come — but gradually, and perhaps that is well. Dairying in this area is now in the process of revolution. The changes are coming late, but they are coming, and in a few years our dairy operations, at both the producing and processing levels, will be as advanced as they are in the best dairy centers of the state.

Borrowed Nonsense . . .

The boss returned in a good humor from lunch and called the whole staff in to listen to a couple of jokes he'd picked up. Everybody but one girl laughed uproariously.

"What's the matter?" grumbled the boss. "Haven't you got any sense of humor?"

"I don't have to laugh," said the girl. "I'm leaving Friday anyhow."

YOUR SENATOR REPORTS

from the Desk of SENATOR
HUBERT H. HUMPHREY

A Senator's Job—These reports to you are usually devoted to the specific issues facing Congress and the nation. But I think you deserve at least one general report on the work of your United States Senator. The duties of a Senator are many and varied. He must work for the efficient operation of our government. He must understand as fully as possible the great problems of our times. He is responsible for the welfare and safety of our nation. Much of my work is channeled into four important Senate committees — Agriculture and Forestry, Foreign Relations, Government Operation and Small Business.

Work for Minnesota—A basic obligation of a Senator's job is service to the citizens of his home state. My work for the people of Minnesota continues undiminished. My office is your office.

Letters and Visitors — More than 800 letters come into this office every day, and 75 per cent of them come from Minnesotans. My staff and I answer every one of these letters, and we give first attention to the ones from our state. This mail has increased almost 50 per cent in the past two years. My office also enjoys hundreds of visits every week from Minnesotans, either as individuals or as members of farm delegations and other groups. I try to talk to every one of them, even for a moment. Such visits help me understand what is going on back home. And I know that we can help these Minnesotans understand what is going on here in Washington.

Help for Home—One of my big jobs is to work on the requests of Minnesotans who need help. The federal government is a huge and complicated system, and is too often bureaucratic and unfeeling. Sometimes an individual citizen can not get results on a problem, so he calls on me. Here are two examples:

Last June, a 53 year old Minnesota veteran wrote that he was sick and hungry, and was receiving only $120 a month for a service connected disability. His back had been severely injured in World War II action and he had not been able to work since. I investigated, learned his story was true, contacted the Veterans Administration and helped raise his disability payments. He now has an income of $225 a month.

Another letter from our state told of the widow and six year old son of a Minnesotan, who died in Spain. The woman—a Spanish citizen—could not get into the United States. I introduced a special bill, it was approved by Congress and the woman and boy were able to join his family in Minnesota. The boy is now getting the American education his father wanted for him.

Your Government — There are hundreds of other cases. Not all have such happy endings, but I do my best on each one. And there are hundreds of proposals for bigger projects which affect thousands of Minnesotans. Many of my legislative efforts are first suggested in letters from home. All of the letters, visits, requests and proposals mean work—lots of hard work. That is my job. And I never forget that this is YOUR government.

High Milk Production Figures DON'T Just "Happen"

Years of painstaking breeding must be behind every cow if she is to have high milk production, high butterfat content and high profits. That's why good breeding is not expensive. And that's why the service of a bull like G 222 Yellow Creek could be the most economical improvement you've ever made in your herd.

"Yellow Creek's" daughters on test averaged 465 pounds of butterfat. Bred by the well known Guernsey breeder Oscar R. Weaver of Goshen, Ind., Yellow Creek has proven his ability to transmit proper type to his daughters.

And "Yellow Creek" is just one of the many profit making sires at CBC. Call your CBC technician. He'll help you pick a sire that's best for your herd and he'll show you how it's more economical to breed with CBC than use your own bull.

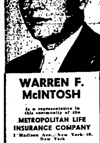
Water Resources to Be Discussed at RRV Winter Shows Feb. 22

An educational forum of high caliber has been arranged again on the subject of Water Resources of Agriculture and will be held on the opening day of the Red River Valley Winter Shows at Crookston Monday, February 22.

The meetings will be held at the Northwest School of Agriculture in the auditorium of Kiehle building. Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. and the day's program will get under way at 10 a.m., according to B. F. Youngquist, president of the Red River Valley Winter Shows and superintendent of the Northwest Experiment Station.



Some of the top experts of state and national reputation will be on hand to discuss the water resources for Northwestern Minnesota agriculture.

Dr. C. A. Van Doren will lead off the program with a report on the possibilities of land forming for the Red River Valley as it concerns water for agriculture. He will also report on what can be expected from the new USDA Agricultural Research Service Field Station activity in the Red River Valley area. Colonel Desloge Brown, district engineer of the St. Paul district Corps of Army Engineers, will discuss the subject "Agricultural Water and the Army Engineers." Recent federal legislation makes possible a more direct relationship between the army engineers and water resources as such affects agriculture.

State commissioner of conservation, George Selke, will be chairman of the afternoon session, which begins at 1:15 p.m. The first topic in the afternoon will be "Public Law 566—The Federal Flood Control and Prevention Act." This will be discussed by Harlon H. Backhaus, assistant state soil conservationist. A relatively new coordinative agency in the state of Minnesota is the Minnesota Water Resources Board. This will be discussed by G. E. Loughland, chairman.

All persons in Northwestern Minnesota who are interested in agricultural water as it concerns our practices of farming are invited to attend.

A Water Resources banquet will be held at 5:30 o'clock in the evening. Dr. William P. Martin, head of the soils department, Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota will be the toastmaster. At the banquet a thirty minute color film showing the development and operation of the first watershed in the Red River Valley will be shown to the audience. Farmers, businessmen and their wives are invited. William Siebens, executive secretary of the Soil Conservation Service, Bismarck, North Dakota, will comment on the film.

Urge Observance of 4-H Club Week

Week of March 6 to 12 Has Been Designated

Local 4-H clubs will observe National 4-H Club Week March 6-12 by emphasizing the 1960 theme, "Learn—Live—Serve thru 4-H." This theme reflects the high purpose of the organization and the broad concern of its leaders, said Milton Leiran, junior 4-H leader reporter.

The changing world places new demands upon the spirit and abilities of our people. Therefore, the opportunities offered to 4-H club members to grow in citizenship and in practical skills are especially valuable to them and to the nation.

There are at least two big advantages of local clubs observing National 4-H Club Week, said Leiran.

A.—The thousands of local 4-H clubs that carry on special activities and events in observance of National 4-H Club Week generate a very important and favorable impact on the public.

B.—A group effort in behalf of this worthy purpose can do much to improve the local club program and interest of the members and parents by stimulating their participation in some of the activities or events listed below or others that seem appropriate.

(1) Have special talks, demonstrations, movies and programs of all kinds to observe 4-H week.

(2) Have members distribute 4-H club posters to local business concerns and school.

(3) Plan for one or more window exhibits.

(4) Have copies of National 4-H News put in doctors' and dentists' waiting rooms, hospitals, barber shops and beauty shops.

(5) Check all phases of your own club's 4-H program to be sure progress is sound.

Princess Kay and Lew Conlon to Be at Winter Shows

Mrs. A. E. Sarver Will Conduct Cooking School Friday, February 26th

The Minnesota dairy industry committee of St. Paul headed by Lew Conlon, manager of the organization, will sponsor a series of activities at the 1960 Red River Valley Winter Shows, Crookston.

Princess Kay of the Milky Way, Betty Jax of Adams, Minnesota, will be arriving on Thursday afternoon, February 25 and will be a special guest at the Valley Farmers and Homemakers banquet. She will also make a number of appearances on Dairy Products Day scheduled for Friday, February 26. Dairy products will be promoted among the processors of dairy foods and supermarkets in the city of Crookston.

A special cooking school will be presented on Friday, February 26, featuring the use of dairy products. Mrs. A. E. Sarver (nee Marion Parbst) of Ada, well known former county home extension agent in northwestern Minnesota, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Parbst of TRF, will be the demonstrator. Also, the top winter shows demonstrator of the 4-H dairy demonstration contests will give a demonstration. The cooking school will be held at the Northwest School of Agriculture, in the auditorium of Kiehle building, beginning at 1:30 p.m.

Women are invited to attend the cooking school and the other events sponsored by the Minnesota dairy industry committee and the Red River Valley Winter Shows board of managers.

Marshall County Office Reminds Wool Growers

Chairman Edward A. Johnson of the Marshall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee today reminded wool growers that the marketing year for the purposes of the 1959 wool program will end March 31.

The wool program is conducted under the National Wool Act of 1954. Payments under the 1959 program will be made this summer when payment rates are determined on the basis of the national average price received by producers for shorn wool during the 1959 marketing year.

For a completed sale, Johnson said, title must have passed to the buyer, the wool must have been delivered to the buyer (either physically or through documents), and the last of the factors (price per pound, weight, yield, etc.) needed to determine the total purchase price must be available. If any condition concerning the sale is not settled by March 31, the sale will not be considered as complete.

Applications for payment under the 1958 program must be filed with the county ASC office not later than April 30, 1960.

Vehicle Safety Check Planned During May

Governor Orville L. Freeman today invited all Minnesota mayors of cities and villages of 2,500 population and over to take an active part in a national safety program planned for May, 1960.

The voluntary vehicle check safety lanes will be conducted, in the 31 states which do not now require periodic vehicle inspection, during May which has been designated as "Vehicle Safety" month in the official traffic safety program, "Blueprint for Safety." The mayors were invited by the governor to take the lead in setting up safety check lanes in their communities.

The governor pointed out that during the local programs in Minnesota last year, 6,340 out of 21,164 vehicles reported checked were deficient in one or more areas of the ten point vehicle check. The majority of the defects were in the lighting systems with front and rear brakes following.

"The national vehicle safety check for communities program is sponsored by the Auto Industries Highway Safety Committee and Look magazine with the cooperation of the Association of State and Provincial Safety Coordinators. Locally various safety councils, service organizations, automobile clubs and other groups sponsor the lanes.

Harry A. Sieben was named by the governor to coordinate the Minnesota program. Sieben is director of highway safety.

Sieben announced a meeting of state organization representatives would be held at 10 a.m. February 24 in the New Highway Building, St. Paul, to coordinate plans for promoting the check program in Minnesota. Auto dealers, insurance companies, industrial press, civic and service groups and safety council representatives will be on hand to plan for doubling the number of vehicles checked. He said that local chairmen of the program in 1959 will describe how safety check lanes were established at the community level.

State Women's Clubs Plan for Arbor Day

One hundred per cent participation by Minnesota public and private schools in Arbor Day ceremonies is the 1960 goal of the Minnesota Federation of Women's clubs, it was announced today by Mrs. L. F. Johnson, Willmar, conservation chairman of the MFWC.

The more than 100 individual Federation Clubs in Minnesota will organize Arbor Day and Conservation Week committees who will contact every private and public school in Minnesota and urge school authorities to conduct an Arbor Day ceremony and plant a tree Friday, May 6, 1960.

"More active participation of Minnesota's schools in Arbor Day observance is an important and necessary objective for the conservation committees of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs," Mrs. L. F. Johnson, conservation chairman of the MFWC said "and we welcome the active cooperation of the Minnesota Department of Conservation in reaching this objective."

Dr. George A. Selke, conservation commissioner has pledged the full cooperation of the department in helping schools to formulate plans for Arbor Day observance and to work closely with the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs to attain their goal.

Dr. Selke said the 1957 Legislature designated the first Friday in May as Arbor Day and permitted all public schools of the state to conduct appropriate exercises commemorating the history and tradition of Arbor Day observance. Selke also said the department of conservation under this law was charged with encouraging the observance of Arbor Day in public schools of Minnesota.

The Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs through their conservation committee have made arrangements with the division of forestry to supply schools, wishing to observe Arbor Day, with tree seedlings for planting. Full instructions on how schools may obtain the seedlings and suggestions for Arbor Day observance will be circulated to all Minnesota schools some time in February.

All green thumb addicts are invited to attend the special program arranged for members of garden clubs throughout the Red River Valley area which will be held during Red River Valley Winter Shows week.

The garden day program will be held on Thursday, February 25 in the central high school auditorium at Crookston. Registration will begin at 10 a.m. and the program will get under way at 10:30 o'clock. Harold Hefforde of Crookston, a member of the Winter Shows board of managers will extend a welcome to the visitors. "What a Judge Looks For at a Flower Show" will be discussed by Donald Hoag of the department of horticulture, North Dakota Agricultural college, Fargo.

In the afternoon the program will begin at 1:15 and open with a greeting for garden club members from Mrs. Clifford I. Olson. Halstad. E. M. Hunt, secretary of the Minnesota Horticultural Society, St. Paul will speak on gardening in northern Minnesota. "Inside Russia" is the subject to be presented by LeRoy M. Field, an instructor at the Northwest School of Agriculture. He studied in Europe last summer and visited Russia. The afternoon program will close with a coffee hour.

Presiding at the Garden Day programs will be B. C. Beresford, horticulturist at the Northwest Experiment Station, Crookston.

An invitation is extended to all garden club members and other interested persons in the area to attend the meetings. You are invited as guests of the Northwest Experiment Station and Red River Valley Winter Shows board of managers.

Ask Credentials from Govt. Agents

Social Security Man Issues Public Warning

Sometimes private individuals are contacted by a person who represents himself to be an agent of either the federal or state government. Such an individual does so with the idea of selling something or gaining financial reward. If you as a private citizen are contacted by someone who purports to be a government agent and you have any doubt as to his official status, you should ask to see his credentials.

All Social Security field agents carry government identification cards. Occasionally social security beneficiaries are overpaid and are asked to make a refund to the federal government. A Social Security representative will always ask that this refund be made by check or money order payable to the Bureau of Old Age and Survivors Insurance.

If you are contacted by an individual who represents himself as a Social Security agent or any other government agent and does not furnish proper identification, please request his name, take down his automobile license number, and notify the office that he supposedly represents, said Walter Kistler, manager of the Grand Forks Social Security office.

Navy Recruiter Asks Enlistees for Special Company

Chief Doug Richardson, navy recruiter here, stated that the Navy is accepting applications for enlistment in the "Special Great Northern Company."

The special company, part of the Navy's program to "John Together—Train Together," will be sworn in Feb. 26 in Fargo. The men will go to San Diego, Calif. where they will train together.

"Only the best qualified men have the honor to take part in this special company," Chief Richardson said. He said the Navy is interested in men between 17 and 31. He said more information about the special Great Northern company is available at the U.S. Navy recruiting station in the Thief River Falls Auditorium.

Fish Houses to Be Removed by Feb. 28

Chief Game Warden Gives Reminder to Fishermen

Fish houses must be removed from the ice by February 28, warned Francis W. Johnson, chief game warden. All debris must be cleared away and not left on the ice.

Such items as tin cans, bottles, boxes, paper and garbage or debris of any description must not be left on the ice," emphasized Johnson.

Johnson also warned that "if the fishing houses are left on the ice after Feb. 28 they stand a chance of being burned down by wardens. Owners of these houses can be taken into court and subject to fines for failure to comply with this law."

THE KEY —and the OPEN DOOR

One of the disturbing discoveries of life is that the truth one man cherishes seems a mystery to another.

But is that surprising? We live in a world of doors and locks. To the man with the key a door opens. To another it remains closed.

Among the keys to spiritual truth is one called HUMILITY. It accounts for many of the millions who worship God every Sunday in the churches of our land.

An American President once said, "I have been driven many times to my knees by the knowledge that my own strength, and that of all around me, was insufficient for that day."

He ruled a nation divided. But neither Blue nor Gray ever questioned the humility of the man who signed his name, "A. Lincoln."

Not only the portal, but the Truth of God's House, is every Sunday an Open Door to humble men!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Winter Shows to Honor RV Farm Leaders

Recognition Dinner Is Scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 25

A banquet honoring sixteen Valley Farmers and Homemakers of 1960 will be held on Thursday, February 25, of Red River Valley Winter Shows week at Crookston. This honorary award and banquet is sponsored by the Red River Valley Development association.

The sixteen farmers and their wives have been selected by a county committee composed of agricultural leaders and businessmen from their respective counties. The group will be honored for their outstanding leadership to rural life, their capability of good farm management, and their concern for conservation of the basic resources of soil and water.

"Princess Kay" of the Milky Way, Betty Jax of Adams, Minnesota, will be a special guest at the banquet. L. H. (Lew) Conlon, manager of the Minnesota Dairy Industry Committee, St. Paul, will be master of ceremonies. Speaker for the honorary banquet will be Dr. Harold Macy, dean of the Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, and music will be presented by Mr. and Mrs. Carlin Berg, vocal soloists, former members of the Concordia college choir.

The entries of beef and dairy cattle in the Winter Shows livestock show are running about the same as last year but sheep and swine entries are up considerably. With the addition of the pony show, it all adds up to an interesting livestock show.

The public is reminded of the annual purebred livestock sale dates. Sheep and swine will go on sale Thursday, February 25; beef and dairy cattle will be sold on Friday, February 26. The sale on both days starts at 12:30 p.m.

Auctioneers are Willard and Bob Schnell from North Dakota and Montana.

Seek Test Plots in Marshall County

Dr. A. C. Caldwell, University of Minnesota professor of soils, has informed the Marshall county extension office of a specific type of phosphate fertilizer trial which the University would like to conduct in Marshall county.

The purpose of the trial will be to determine if completely water soluble phosphate fertilizers are superior to partly soluble materials when applied to small grains in the row.

"Choice of location is extremely important," say Mr. Caldwell. "The soil should be medium to heavy. The 1959 soil test should be from low to very low with an available phosphate under 10 pounds per acre. The field should not have been summer fallowed in 1959 and should be planned for wheat in 1960."

Dr. Caldwell also advises that "We will want to choose and sample the experimental area ourselves in order to assure maximum uniformity. We would, of course, prefer that these areas be as clean of weeds as possible." About ½ acre will be required for the test plot.

Dr. Caldwell also asks, "Would the farmer be willing to work with us in further sorting out the truth about differences in fertilizer phosphorous availability in small grain crops?"

Anyone interested in furnishing a test plot area for this experiment is asked to contact the Marshall county extension office, Warren, says Fred Heck, soil conservation agent.

In addition, Heck is seeking farmers who would care to conduct a simple fertilizer demonstration on their farms. This may be only an unfertilized area compared to an area of usual rate of application and an area of recommended application. The time and effort to do these simple, valuable demonstrations would be little extra effort over regular field operations.

PLUMMER FARMERS UNION TO MEET TUESDAY NIGHT

The Plummer Farmers Union will meet in the Plummer hall Tuesday, Feb. 16, at 8 p.m. The Juniors will put on the program and lunch will be served.

PLANS for the meeting of the Minnesota Bankers association in Thief River Falls were discussed during the registration period Saturday, Feb. 13, by Harold L. Hanson, left, of Baudette, president of the state association; J. J. Womack, center, president of the Union State bank, who was in charge of local arrangements, and George N. Reppe, right, vice-president of the association from Grand Meadow. The meeting, the 10th in a series of 15 during January and February, was concerned principally with public relations.

More Than 40 Bankers Attend Area Meeting in TRF on Saturday

The tenth in a series of 15 district meetings of bank executives from the nine-county northwest Minnesota area of the Minnesota Bankers association was held Saturday, Feb. 13, in the American Legion clubrooms.

According to J. J. Womack, president of the Union State bank, who was in charge of local arrangements, the meeting from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. was primarily concerned with public relations, promoting the services of banks and encouraging the building up of local deposits.

Harold L. Hanson of Baudette, president of the state association conducted the meeting, which attracted 42 bankers. Other MBA officials included George N. Reppe of Grand Meadow, vice-president of the association; Kent S. Rogstad of Detroit Lakes, a member of the council of administration; and Kenneth A. Wales, executive secretary.

Crookston Man Is Killed Thursday in T.H. 75 Crash

Edwin T. Schuler, Age 55, Dies in Collision with Truck North of Crookston

A Crookston man was killed late Thursday afternoon when his car sideswiped a grain truck loaded with five tons of oats nine miles north of Crookston near Euclid on Highway 75.

Killed instantly was Edwin T. Schuler, 55, a bricklayer.

The accident, which carried the state traffic toll to 57, compared with 64 a year ago, was the first Polk county traffic death since September and the first death on a Polk county state-patrolled highway in almost 1½ years.

Schuler was traveling south, towards Crookston, when the accident occurred. According to witness reports, he had passed two trucks and was passing the grain truck when another truck approached from the opposite direction.

Apparently he tried to turn in, striking the side of the truck, driven by Conrad Danielson, 39, Euclid. Danielson was unhurt.

The car careened into a ditch about 318 feet from the point of impact. The truck also went into the ditch but did not turn over.

Schuler was alone in the car.

Beadle in honor of George Washington's birthday.

Two Auto Mishaps Cause $455 Damage

Collisions Reported Thursday and Today

Two traffic mishaps were reported by city police today with estimated damages caused placed at $455.

The first of these occurred Thursday at 7:54 p.m. when Caryll O. Thompson, rt. 1, who was driving east on Third st. and making a left turn onto Davis av. struck a car driven by Frank M. Schmitz, city, who had stopped to allow traffic to pass before proceeding onto Third st.

Damage to the Thompson car was estimated at $85, to Schmitz', $20. Thompson was tagged for failure to yield the right-of-way.

A collision at the Fourth st.-LaBree intersection at 9:09 a.m. today resulted in about $350 damages to the owners involved. According to police, Douglas LeRoy Johnston, rt. 1, was driving east on Fourth st. when he struck a car driven north on LaBree by Nols O. Johnson, St. Hilaire.

Damage to the Johnston car was estimated at $250 to the front end while damage to the left side of the Johnson car was estimated at $100. Johnston was tagged with failure to yield the right of way.

Towns Along Soo Line to Observe 50th Anniversary

With the announcement last week of a 50th anniversary celebration to be held at Trail in 1960 indications are that the Soo Line territory from Oklee to Clearbrook will be celebrating this year.

Celebrations marking 50th anniversaries are now scheduled in Oklee, Trail, Gully, Gonvick and Clearbrook.

The first of these will be May 17 at Gully. Clearbrook will celebrate June 10-11, Trail June 24-25, Oklee July 2-3-4, Gonvick in September on a date yet to be announced.

All of these villages came into existence with the building of the Soo Line spur from Plummer to Superior, Wis., in 1910.

Elton Cummings, chief of police, will be guest speaker. Awards will be presented after the potluck dinner, which will be followed by a sleighride on the Bridgeman sled.

Signup under ASC Slightly Lower to Date

203 Producers Had Asked to Share in Program by Feb. 12

Patrick W. Culkins, manager of the Pennington county ASC office, stated today that sign up under the 1960 ASC is somewhat less than at this same period a year ago.

In his opinion, this does not mean fewer farmers intend to cooperate in the 1960 program but that the lack of requests for federal cost share undoubtedly was due to the fact that some farmers have not fully made up their mind as to what practices were most urgently needed on their farm in 1960.

As of the close of business Friday, February 12, 203 producers had signed cost share requests for participation in the program in 1960. Culkins stated that all farmers who intend to request federal cost share for soil and water conservation practices which they intend to carry out in 1960 are urged to visit the county office at their earliest convenience and sign up.

This will spread the county office work load more evenly and eliminate the last-minute rush in the preparation of documents necessary under the program.

Requests will be honored on a first come, first served basis and late signers' requests may not be approved due to budgetary limitations.

Unit for Retarded to Meet Thursday

Northwestern Group Has Adopted New Name

The Pennington Red Lake Association for Retarded Children will meet in the Woman's club room in the city Auditorium Thursday, Feb. 18, at 8 p.m.

The group, formerly known as the Northwestern Minnesota A.R.C., is now restricted in name to Pennington and Red Lake counties since some other counties formerly included have formed local associations of their own.

All members and other interested persons from outside the two county area are welcome to meet with this group in those cases where it is more convenient than meeting with their specified group.

Mr. and Mrs. James Winjum Jr. and daughter visited at the home of Mrs. Winjum's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Cook at Newfolden.

Council Expected to Act on 1960 Budget at Meeting Tuesday

Adoption of the 1960 budget by the city council is expected at the regular February meeting Tuesday evening Feb. 16 following a number of informal meetings between officials of the Teamsters' union and the council.

The final action, however, will probably not be reached without considerable discussion regarding pay raises for city employes who belong to the union. A request by the union for a 25¢ an hour increase in wages was met by the council with a counter offer of 1¢. Although other offers by both sides have been made, there has been no definite agreement.

Other matters for council action Feb. 16 include the opening of bids for switching gear to be installed at the power plant and for installing filter equipment at the water plant.

To Plan Hearing on Air Service in Capital March 1

Robert Wurst, city attorney, was notified Saturday by the Civil Aeronautics Board that a pre-hearing conference on North Central Airlines service will be held in Washington on Tuesday, March 1st. This conference will be held to arrange for the hearings that will be held at a later date, Mr. Wurst states.

Rescue Squad to Practice Again Wednesday Night

The next meeting of the civil defense rescue squad training course being conducted by Quentin Jones will be held Wednesday evening, February 17, at 7 o'clock in the assembly room in the basement of the city Auditorium.

Fred Mittelstadt, in charge of arrangements for the course, reported that about 25 men attended last Wednesday's session, at which the group made simulated rescues of persons from upstairs windows. Outdoor practice is planned when warmer weather arrives, he added.

Auxiliary Police School Scheduled 9 p.m. Wednesday

The regularly scheduled meeting of the Civil Defense Auxiliary Police School set for Wednesday, Feb. 17, in the court house meeting room will commence at 9 p.m. instead of the usual 8 o'clock. The later start was set to avoid conflict with the Elks Fathers and Sons banquet. The session will deal with public relations. George Hale, manager of Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. here, will be the principal speaker and will also show a short film.

FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED TO MORRIS MOGEN HOME

The fire department was summoned Friday to the Morris Mogen home at 204 So. Conley av., where dust in a hot air duct caught fire. Aside from smoke, there was no damage.

Public Is Invited to Dale Carnegie Meeting Tuesday

Demonstration Meeting Scheduled at 7:27 in High School Cafeteria

Sponsored by the Thief River Falls Lions club, a demonstration meeting of the widely known Dale Carnegie course in public speaking and salesmanship will be presented Tuesday evening, February 16, at 7:27 in the Lincoln high school cafeteria.

Lions President Norman Peterson stated that attendance is not restricted to club members, but that all interested local men and women are invited to attend without any cost or obligation. Coffee and cookies will be served at the close of the meeting.

The purpose of the demonstration meeting according to Peterson, is to acquaint visitors with Dale Carnegie methods in effective speaking, human relations, and leadership training. One of the features of the evening will be a demonstration of one of the memory-training techniques developed by Dale Carnegie.

Anyone desiring further information may contact George Hale, manager of Northwestern Bell Telephone company.

The members of three districts of the Red Lake Electric Cooperative have chosen directors to be voted on at the annual meeting in Thief River Falls on April 6. Those nominated are: District One, Jos. Brunelle, Crookston; District Four, Lars Larson, Oklee, and District Five, Millard Dailey, Red Lake Falls.

Committee to Make Study of United Appeal

Preliminary Plans Are Made at Meeting Thursday Evening

Steps were taken Thursday evening to explore the possibility of reorganizing the Community Chest method of fund solicitations in Pennington county by the adoption of a United Appeal program that has been successful of many communities.

Dr. James Disse, chairman of a Chamber of Commerce committee created for this purpose, called the meeting which was attended by G. A. Hale, Community Chest chairman; Robert E. Baker, Edward Hamerski, J. J. Womack, Robert Wurst and W. E. Dahlquist.

Following a general discussion and a report by Hale on the problems confronting the Community Chest, it was agreed that more information should be obtained on the United Fund program. Hale and Dahlquist were named as a subcommittee to obtain information on the experience with the United Fund in Grand Forks.

Baker, Wurst and Womack were authorized to arrange for a county-wide meeting to be held this spring at which time the problem of fund raising and the need for reorganization could be presented to representatives of all interested civic, employer, employee and farm organizations.

Subzero Mercury Readings Rise to 29 in TRF Sunday

This District Escapes Severe Snowstorm That Hit Southern States

Despite some rather cold weather, this section of the country can count itself fortunate when compared to other areas late last week. Parts of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania had snow ranging from six to 15 inches and one inch of snow fell in Virginia, Tennessee and the Carolinas before the storm moved on to the Atlantic seaboard where snow, sleet and rain fell.

The below zero temperatures of last week began moderating Saturday following five nights of cold temperatures ranging down as low as —14 recorded in the early morning hours Thursday. Sunday, under sunny skies, the temperature reached 29 after a night that got down to only -15.

The KTRF forecast calls for generally fair today becoming partly cloudy tonight and mostly cloudy tomorrow with scattered light snow tomorrow. Winds today will be from the southwest at from 15 to 25 miles an hour. High temperatures are expected to be in the 30's today and the lows tonight from 10 to 20 degrees above zero.

Those who have become weary of the winter weather may get a "boost" out of a review of last year's summary.

After the 15th of February, only 12 below-zero readings were recorded and only one of these was during daylight hours. The average high increased from 13.5 in February to 32.7 for March in 1959.

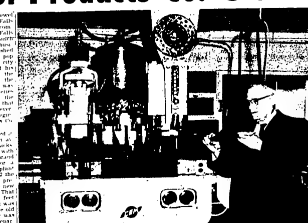
Elks Fathers and Sons Banquet Set

Annual Event to Be Held Wednesday in Club Rooms

Several hundred men and boys are expected to attend the annual Fathers and Sons banquet sponsored by the Thief River Falls Elks lodge and to be held in the club rooms Wednesday evening, February 17, at 6:30, it was announced today by Gordon Reierson, exalted ruler.

Orvis Olen will preside as toastmaster at the after-dinner program, which will include greetings in behalf of the fathers by Jon Metusalem, with the response for the sons by Don Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Stewart.

Movie cartoons and games will follow the program, and pop and candy will be provided for the youngsters.



Kiewel Products Co. Grows

The history of the Kiewel Products Co. of Thief River Falls is a story of growth. The company came to Thief River Falls early in the twenties as a branch of a dairy and soft drink business that had been established in Crookston. In 1925 the pop factory was moved to this city and Ben Kiewel established his home here as manager of the local operation. In 1933 the company's dairy operation was sold to Bridgeman Creameries and Ben Kiewel became the owner of the bottling plant that manufactures carbonated beverages. That really was the beginning of the Kiewel Products Co. as we know it today.

The old pop factory, located in the frame building on Main av. at the Great Northern tracks soon became identified with nationally known name brand products, and the need for a more adequate bottling plant gradually developed. In 1942 the operation was moved to its present location, occupying the new brick building on First st. That first building was only 50 feet wide and 75 feet deep but it was a long step forward from the old plant. In 1952 this building was lengthened by 50 feet in preparation for the addition of Canada Dry products to the company's franchised lines.

In 1957 a 25 foot extension was added on the west side, increasing the building to 75 feet

PRESIDENT and general manager of the Kiewel Products company is Ben Kiewel, who is shown as he inspected a bottle of one of the firm's beverages as it came from the bottling and capping machine in the background. The company has received many national citations for the quality of its products, for the past six years has received a Hires award for outstanding achievement and, last year, received a special award for quality perfection. The complete water processing system added in 1952 meets the highest requirements for uniformly high quality production.

Sharon Phillion Is Wed to Jerome Francis Lizotte

Nuptial vows were exchanged recently at Red Lake Falls by Miss Sharon Phillion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Phillion of Red Lake Falls and Jerome Francis Lizotte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Art Lizotte also of Red Lake Falls.

The double ring ceremony took place at the St. Joseph's Catholic church with Rev. Gerald Rosse officiating.

For the wedding the bride wore a floor length gown of Chantilly lace over taffeta. It featured a scoop neckline with re-embroidered with sequins and seed pearls. The bouffant skirt was accented with lace medallions in rows leading into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of matching lace and she carried a cascade bouquet of roses and stephanotis. Her pearl necklace was a gift of the bridegroom and she wore a pearl bracelet on the arm of her father.

Miss Mildred Phillion, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, followed by Miss Sue Jean Lizotte, sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaid. They wore gowns in red velvet fashioned identically to the bride's matching red velvet gowns and red velveteen gloves. Their pearl earrings were a gift of the bride and they carried colonial bouquets of fashioned carnations and holly.

Attending as bridegroom was Ronald Lizotte, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Norman Phillion, brother of the bride, and Raymond Lizotte, brother of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Lizotte is a graduate of Lafayette high school and has been recently employed at the Red Lake Falls Clinic. The bridegroom also attended Lafayette high school and is employed at Lizotte's Standard Service Station. They will be making their home in Brooks.

61 Pension Law to Take Effect July 1

Law Is Liberalized for WWII and Korea Widows

Pension eligibility requirements based on the war service of veterans are liberalized by a law which takes effect July 1.

Widows of veterans of World War I and II and the Korean conflict after June 30, 1960, Harold Vinall, acting manager of the Thief River VA Center, pointed out today.

He explained that at the present time pensions are granted only to widows of veterans of World War II and the Korean conflict only if the veteran had been definitely service-connected disability at the time of his death.

No such restriction is a present placed on the widows of veterans of deceased World War I veterans.

The new pension law, going into effect July 1, 1960, removes this restriction and grants widows and children of World War II and Korean veterans the same benefits now enjoyed by dependents in this regard, Mr. Vinall said.

It is expected that over 1,000 widows and children in the area will be affected. The new service connected benefits will be worth $1,017 monthly and the 13 months' entitlee of Minnesota.

Water Resources Are Winter Shows Topic

William J. Klein, vice president of Allis-Chalmers Machinery company, Milwaukee, Wis., has recently been added as a speaker to address the final session of the water resources forum to be held during the Red River Valley Winter Shows, Crookston. The forum will be held on Monday, February 22, at the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, in the Kiehle auditorium.

Mr. Klein is noted for his activity throughout the United States in the matter of watershed development and control. He will bring the audience up-to-date on what is happening on the national scene.

As announced previously, other speakers on the forum will be C. A. Van Doran, field station director of the USDA soil and water conservation research division, Morris; Col. Desloge Brown of the U.S. Army engineer district; Harlon H. Backhaus, assistant state soil conservationist for the state of Minnesota; and G. E. Loughland, state chairman of the Minnesota water resources board.

Serving as chairman for the forum will be George A. Selke, commissioner, state department of conservation, St. Paul; and Carl G. Ash, West Polk county agricultural agent, Crookston.

The banquet speaker will be Wm. Siebens, executive secretary of the North Dakota state soil conservation committee, Bismarck, N. Dak.

Beginning with registration at 9:30 a.m., the forenoon forum program will get under way at 10 o'clock. The afternoon program will begin at 1:15 o'clock. The public is invited.

Livestock Judges Named for Shows

Ralph Wayne of 'U' of M. to Judge Dairy Cattle

The judges for the purebred livestock show at the Red River Valley Winter Shows at Crookston have been engaged, according to William Strickler, president of the Red River Valley Livestock association.

'U' M. Charter Day, Morrill Tribute Set February 25

President J. L. Morrill to Be Honored at Program Preceding Retirement

President J. L. Morrill of the University of Minnesota, who will retire June 30, will be paid a farewell tribute on the University's 109th birthday observance, Thursday, February 25, a highlight of University of Minnesota Week, Feb. 21-27.

A commemorative drama of President Morrill's 15 years at the University's helm will be presented at the 11:30 a.m. Charter Day convocation in Northrop Memorial auditorium. Morrill has been head of the university since 1945 and formerly was president of the University of Wyoming.

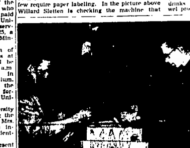
Lowell L. Manfull, University speech instructor, is writing the dance-drama production. Mrs. Manfull, University speech instructor, will direct the student-staff cast.

President Morrill will present the newly established alumni service awards for service to the University or to the University Alumni association, to six alumni at a luncheon at 12:45 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 25, in Coffman Memorial Union main ballroom. Recipients will be: George L. Faber, Chicago, area representative for King Midas Mills; Louis Gross, Minneapolis attorney; Sigurd Hagen, Cheshire, Conn., retired insurance agent; Francis (Pug) Lund, Minneapolis insurance man and former University All-American football player; Ben W. Palmer, Minneapolis attorney; and Clifford C. Sommer, president of the Security National Bank and Trust company, Owatonna.

Exhibits in Twin Cities, suburban and Duluth business windows throughout the week will tell the University's story of progress in education, research and service. Faculty and staff members will give talks to approximately 40 clubs and organizations throughout the state. The talks began in late January and are scheduled into March.

University Week is sponsored jointly by the Minnesota Junior Chamber of Commerce and the University of Minnesota Alumni association.

North Dakota Poll Favors Humphrey



"If the Democratic party is serious about winning the 1960 election, it will nominate Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota as its presidential candidate," said Charles W. Stickney, chairman of the seven state committee of Midwest Farmers for Humphrey, in St. Paul last week.

Stickney declared that the poll revealed Monday by Sen. Milton Young of North Dakota, showing that Sen. Humphrey would top Vice President Nixon by a 3 to 1 margin in that state substantiates other evidence of the trend towards the Minnesota senator.

LABELS are imprinted as a part of the bottle for most of the beverages manufactured at the Kiewel Products Co., but a few require paper labeling. In the picture above Willard Sletten is checking the machine that takes care of this operation. He is one of the 17 regular employees, this number being increased during the summer season when hot weather increases the demand for refreshing drinks. Eight delivery trucks distribute the Kiewel products throut northwestern Minnesota.

BOTTLES of Kiewel Products company beverages receive their final inspection by Tommy Cullen, left, and Clarence Sletten, before being put into cases ready for delivery throughout northwestern Minnesota. Using a device much like an egg candler, Cullen and Sletten check for any imperfections in bottles, labels and, most important of all, in the beverages themselves.

CLEANLINESS of containers is one of the important factors in producing quality beverages at the Kiewel Products company and the machine which insures clean, sterilized bottles is operated by Roger Dyrdal. Bottles which have been returned are pre-rinsed, soaked in a strong sterilizing solution for 15 minutes and rinsed again in water at 140 degrees before being put on the conveyor belt which carries them to the bottling machine.

Kiewel Products Company Grows Steadily in TRF

by 125 feet and last year a steel warehouse was added providing an additional storage space 46 feet by 18 feet. New bottling machinery was installed last year doubling the capacity of the plant and making possible a more efficient operation.

Besides the complete line of Canada Dry products the Kiewel Company now has franchise contracts for Pepsi Cola, Squirt, Nesbitt's Orange and Hires root beer.

When the Canada Dry franchise was secured in 1952 a complete new water processing system was added, meeting the highest requirements for uniformly high quality production. The company has received many national citations for the quality of its products. For each of the past six years it has received a Hires citation for "outstanding achievement" and last year received a "special award for quality perfection."

With its new bottling capacity the plant's production is about 50 bottles a minute and the equipment handles all sizes of bottles from the 6½ oz splits to the 28 oz fifths. There are seventeen employees regularly on the pay roll and during the rush hours extra help is hired for the longer shifts. Eight delivery trucks are used in the distribution of beverages throughout northwestern Minnesota.

Ben J. Kiewel is president and manager of the company, and his son, Frank, who is secretary and treasurer, is assistant manager and field man. Mrs. Edward Kiewel of Crookston is vice president.

The oldest in years of service, and according to the boss, the most valuable employe, is camera shy Russell Patten who started working for the company in 1932. He has been on the payroll since that time with the exception of the 1½ years he put in for Uncle Sam. In 1950 he moved up from assistant foreman to foreman and bottler.

Vending machines have become increasingly important in the sale of beverages Mr. Kiewel points out. The company now has about 150 vending machines selling Kiewel products throut the area, he states.

Few Thief River Falls organization have a better record of growth than the Kiewel Products Company and that record is a fine tribute to the leadership of Ben J. himself. The company is one of the many that contribute substantially to the stability of the economy of northwestern Minnesota.

Lakehead Pipeline Appointments

D. C. FLEMING — T. A. DRIESSEN

Mr. J. T. Stuart, Division Manager of the Lakehead Pipe Line Company, Inc., has announced the appointments of D. C. Fleming as District Superintendent and T. A. Driessen as Assistant District Superintendent of District 3 with headquarters in Bemidji. This District includes the section of the Lakehead Pipe Line from the Canadian Border near Neche, North Dakota, to Saxon, Wisconsin, and includes pumping stations at Viking, Clearbrook and Deer River, Minnesota, and at Superior and Saxon, Wisconsin.

Mr. Fleming, formerly Assistant Superintendent, transferred to the Lakehead Pipe Line Company in 1958 from the Interprovincial Pipe Line Company in Edmonton. His previous experience includes design and construction engineering, shipbuilding and oil field service.

Mr. Driessen, a graduate in both law and civil engineering from the University of Wisconsin in Madison, joined Lakehead Pipe Line Company, Inc., in 1953. His employment in the Engineering Department of the Company has included construction work at several of the Lakehead Pipe Line Company's stations.
